COLLEGE SETTLEMENT ASSOCIATION

Annual Meeting.

At the meeting of the Barnard Chapter of the College Settlement Association on Tuesday, April 28, there was no quorum. The resignation of Katharine Goodyear, Student-elect, was read, but the election of a successor was postponed.

Miss Lockwood, Graduate-elect, gave a report of the growth and possibilities of settlement work. Delegations from the sub-chapters of the Riverside School and the Morgan School were present and read reports for the year 1902-03.

Elections.

On Thursday, April 30, Lily Murray, '05, was chosen Student-elect by acclamation to fill out the term of Katharine Goodyear, and Grace Farrelly was unanimously elected secretary in her place.

OF INTEREST TO STUDENTS OF BOTANY.

During the past ten days Dr. Richards has taken several parties through the botanical gardens at Bronx Park. The excursion is worth while as a matter of general interest and the abundance of tropical plants is valuable as an illustration of the work done in the laboratories. There are fine examples of hydrophytic, xerophytic, and mesophytic adaptations, and simple experiments are made to show the quick response of sensitive plants and tendrils to external irritation. The palms, the cacti, and the ferns are of particular interest to students in Botany 51.

UNDERGRADUATE TEA.

The last Undergraduate Tea was held on Friday, May 1. Mrs. W. H. Carpenter received with the committee. Miss Gill was not able to be present. Comparatively speaking, there was a very small attendance, though this did not prevent the crowds collecting in the Theatre.

SOCIAL MEETING OF 1904.

A social meeting of the Class of 1904 was held on Tuesday, April 28. A very large number of the members were present and they practiced with great enthusiasm their new class songs. The two which seemed to be the most popular were, "There's a College on the Hilltop," and "We're the Unlucky Class." The entertainment provided by the committee followed, and the afternoon ended with dancing and with singing of class and college songs.

1903 MEETING.

There will be a meeting of 1903 this week to elect alumnae officers and vote on characteristics.

GREEK FESTIVAL.

The long expected Greek games took place Thursday, April 30, in the Theatre. The Sophomores attended in caps and gowns, the Freshmen wore yellow and white, and the contestants were in Greek costume, with bands of their class color—green for the Sophomores, yellow for the Freshmen. The gallery was filled with members of the upper classes and outside friends.

Before the games commenced the priestesses around the altar that was erected on the stage read the omens. Victory was predicted for 1905. Then poems: epic, tragic and lyric, written by Blanche Marks, Irma Seeligman, and Helen Frankfield, '06, and Sarah Hoyt, Amy Hill, Alice Rheinstein, and Florence Nye, '05, were read. Miss Gildersleeve, the judge, declared 1905 the winning class, and the ivy wreath for the best poem was awarded to Sarah Hoyt.

An archery contest followed. Five members of each class took part and Edith Sornborn won the contest for 1906. Next four from each class competed in high-jumping. Abigail Talbot won for 1905. The wrestling matches were then held on the stage.

There were nine pairs of contestants. The winners were: Alice Rheinstein, Edith Handy, Abigail Talbot, Marion Franklin, Beatrice Anderson and Sallie Fletcher from 1905, and Elizabeth Evans, Helen Frankfield and Elsie Steibritz from 1906.

Ivy wreaths were awarded to the victors in the jumping, archery and wrestling. Annie Fisher, '05, and Blanche Marks, '06, acted as judges.

A tug-of-war had been arranged between the members of both classes not talking part in any of the other contests, but the rope was too weak to stand the strain and broke before either side won.

At the close of the games May Newland, President of 1906, presented the banner made of blue and white and bearing the Greek word "Victory," to Emilie Hutchinson, President of 1905.

Both classes then partook of refreshments which consisted of grape juice and cakes with Greek letters on the frosting.

Between each event there were cheers and songs written for the occasion. There was so much enthusiasm shown that the Seniors and Juniors, who had watched the games from the balcony, assisted in cheering their favorite classes.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
BROADWAY & 117th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, MAY 4, 1903.

We publish in this issue a letter which represents an opinion expressed in the college many times during the past week. It is a matter of great regret to us that our last issue was not up to the standard which the BULLETIN should regularly maintain. The two omissions which occurred through the printing in the review of the play might better have occurred anywhere else than here. The first error was in the mention of Pamela and Miss Dodd; the reports of the two parts were run together. Of course Miss Dodd and not Pamela was the school-mistress referred to and the mention of the lively and mischievous impersonation of the part of Pamela did not appear at all. The second error was the omission of the committee and Mr. Sanger, to whom should fall a large share of the credit which is derived from the success of the play.

Moreover, the writer of the letter objects to the laudatory tone of the article. To this we answer that any just review of the play must be laudatory for the performance was not only decidedly beyond anything Barnard has done before, but has established a precedent which will be difficult to maintain and which challenges professional rather than amateur comparisons. When a really poor play is given the BULLETIN will agree to find fault in a way to satisfy the most censorious.

The BULLETIN desires nothing more than to express college sentiment and welcomes criticism when it fails of this end.

Two of the most pleasing features of the Greek Games which took place last Thursday were the good-natured rivalry that was shown by the contesting classes, and the general enthusiasm that pervaded the audience of upper classmen. Such an event is a novelty at Barnard, and it recommends itself by its power to stir class and college spirit.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Although we are glad to publish letters signed by their writers, we are not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Unsigned letters will receive no attention.

To the Editor of the BULLETIN:

To many in college the BULLETIN's notice of the "Manoeuvres of Jane" seems distinctly inadequate. In the first place, the only point of such a notice is to give some intelligent criticism of the actors and the management generally. Passing over the careless printing, which evidently accounts for the absence of a notice of the coach and one of the prominent actors, the main fault of this article is that it doesn't criticise at all. It is merely a string of panegyric phrases. Indeed, the BULLETIN seems to have adopted the position urged by a correspondent last year, namely, if you can't praise, don't say anything. After reading the article in question one would suppose the whole performance to have been on a level of uninteresting perfection. Now it seems to me that the Editors of the BULLETIN should try to reflect the most intelligent opinions of the college on college matters, not the rather extravagant praises we usually shower on our performances. And I for one object to a lot of generalities and unqualified praise as a review of the most important event of our college social life. It should be taken with more seriousness and discussed with more discrimination.

UNIVERSITY NEWS.

The Journal of Comparative Literature.

The second number of the new quarterly magazine, "The Journal of Comparative Literature," has just appeared. The contents are "The Relation to History," by Lewis Einstein; "Presciences at the Court of Charles I.," by J. B. Fletcher, Assistant Professor in Harvard University, and the second part of "Huguenot Thought in England, a Study of the Political Teachings of the Huguenots in England During the Seventeenth Century," by Ch. Bastide, Professor Agrège in the Lycee at Beauvais. The one article in this number which is written in German is the first part of "Summaries of Periodical Literature, 1902." This is written by Gustav Becker and deals with German magazines. This number also contains three book reviews, one of which is in Italian.

Philharmonic Concert.

The last concert of the season of the Philharmonic Society was given Thursday evening, April 30, in the Horace Mann Auditorium. Mr. Hinrichs conducted and the society was assisted by Miss Estelle Blumstein. The following was the program:

1. Overture, "La Dame Blanche," Boieldieu
2. Vocal Solo..... Miss Estelle Blumstein
3. Symphonie No. 1 C. Major.. Beethoven
Adagio Molto, Allegro con brio. Andante cantabile con moto. Menuetto, Allegro molto e vivace. Adagio, Allegro molto e vivace.
4. Largo (Violin Solo, Mr. Burns) Handel
5. Vocal Solo..... Miss Estelle Blumstein
6. English Horn (Solo, Mr. Burns). Balfe (from "Bohemian Girl").
7. Czardas, from "Coppelia"..... Delibes

Y. W. C. A. CONCERT.

A concert for the benefit of the Young Woman's Christian Association was given in the theatre last Thursday evening by a chorus of twenty from the choir of Saint Bartholomew's Church, assisted by Mrs. Horgan, contralto; Mr. Duffey, baritone; Mr. Schuetze, harpist; and Miss Strauss at the piano. The programme was as follows:

- Chorus.
Chorale, "Awake," "Die Meistersinger," Wagner
Song, (a) "Thy Beaming Eyes," McDowell
(b) "The Autumn Gale," Grieg
Mr. Duffey.
Harp solo, "Fantastic"..... Zabel
Mr. Schuetze.
Songs (a) "Per la Gloria"..... Bononcini
(b) Amarilli Caccini
Mrs. Horgan.
Spinning Song, "Flying Dutchman," Wagner
Mrs. Horgan and Chorus of Sopranos and Contralto.
Part Songs—(a) "Lo, How a Rose" .. Praetorius
(b) "Ye Banks and Braes"..... Macfarren
Chorus, unaccompanied.
Harp and Organ—(a) "The Swan"..... Saint Saens
(b) "Ave Maria"..... Bach-Gounod
Messrs. Schuetze and Warren.
Duet, "Doubt not Thy Father's Care"..... Elgar
Chorus, Sopranos and Contraltos.
Songs—(a) "O Let Night Speak of Me"..... Chadwick
Mr. Duffey.
Part Song, "Gypsy Life,"..... Schumann
Chorus.

The selections were all rendered with great accuracy and nicety of artistic appreciation. The part songs, "Lo How a Rose" and "Ye Banks and Braes," were perhaps the most finished performances of the evening. Special mention should also be made of the harp solo by Mr. Schuetze.
