UNDERGRADUATE TEA.

Cards for the tea to take place on November 6, may be obtained from any of the committee or from Rose. The members of the committee in charge are: Lena Miller, Lizzette Metcalfe, '04; Emma Calhoun, Elsie Ehrich, '05; Helen Frankfeld, Blanche Marks, '06; Jean Disbrow, Muriel Valentine, '07.

The refreshments which are usually served upstairs at one large table in the hall are to be served at four small tables, one in each class study. The committee wish to have four or five girls in charge of each table, so those girls who are willing to be at the table in their own study will kindly hand their names to some member of the committee before Wednesday, November 4. It is hoped that as many as possible will offer to assist, so that each one will not have to remain very long on duty.

SOCIETE FRANCAISE.

The regular business meeting of the Societe Francaise will be held on Wednesday, November 4, at 12:30, in Room 204. The business before the meeting will be to receive the report of the Executive Committee, to vote upon new members, and to decide upon the form of the first social meeting.

All students who wish to resign from the society as well as those who desire to become new members are requested to send their names to Marjorie Bacon, '04, before November 4. Particular attention is called to that part of the notice which refers to old members intending to resign, as it is impossible to estimate quorums unless the exact membership of the society is known. Much of the difficulty which this organization has experienced in the past in its attempts to get together enough girls to make the business of a meeting legal will be removed if the membership roll is limited to those who show an active interest in the society. Any student is eligible to membership who is taking or has had French 2 or its equivalent.

MARJORIE K. BACON,
Chairman of Executive Committee.

NOTICE TO GERMAN STUDENTS.

On Saturday, November 14, at 10 A. M., there will be a performance of "Wilhelm Tell" at the Irving Place Theatre. Tickets are now on sale at 25, 50, 75 cents. It is hoped that members of the Deutscher Kreis will attend.

On Saturday, December 22, at 10 A. M., there will be a performance of Wallenstein's "Lager Lied von der Glocke."

THE BARNARD BEAR.

It is requested that the student who last spring removed the copy of Gilbert Parker's "Pierce and His People" from the "Bear" book shelf in the Bulletin Room return it immediately.

MILBANK QUADRANGLE FOR TEACHERS' COLLEGE.

Dean Gill has made arrangements with Miss March of Teachers' College by which the use of both the tennis courts and basketball fields on Milbank Quadrangle is given to Teachers' College on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons after half past one.

DEBATING CLUB.

At a meeting of the Debating Club held on Friday, October 23, the resignation of Josephine Paddock, '06, as Vice-President, was accepted, and Rosa Fried, '06, was unanimously elected in her stead. It was decided that an inter-class debating tournament take place, the prize to be a cup which will be held by the winning class for a year. All who wish to join the club are requested to put their names in locker 52, Senior Study.

After the completion of this business the question was debated: Is Mr. Corried justified in producing "Parsifal" in New York? Florence Beckman, '04, and Selma Hirsch, '04, supported the affirmative, and Mabel Denton, '04, and Rosa Fried, '06, the negative. The judgment of victory was awarded to the affirmative.

ASSOCIATE ALUMNÆ MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Associate Alumnae was held in the Theatre on Saturday morning, October 31, at 10:30. In the absence of the President, Miss Pullman, the Vice-President, Mrs. Henry Wise Miller, was in the chair. The annual reports of the officers and standing committees were heard with much interest.

The new officers elected, Vice-president, Recording Secretary and Director will be published in next week's issue.

The other officers of the Associate Alumnae are:

President, Miss Mary Stuart Pullman, '93.

Corresponding Secretary; Miss Janet Alexander McCook, '02.

Treasurer, Miss Jean Willard Tatlock, '95.
Alumnae Trustee, Mrs. Frank Gilbert Bryson, '04.

Directors, Miss Sara Straus, '00; Miss Madalene Heroy, '01; Miss Alice M. Keys, '03; Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, '99.

BULLETIN MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Board of Editors of the Bulletin on Monday, November 2, at 1 o'clock. As there is important business it is particularly requested that there be prompt and general attendance.

1905 NEWS.

The class of 1905 will have a regular business meeting on Thursday, at 12:30, in Room 139. The principal business is the election of the Junior Ball Committee, the Junior Show Committee, the Junior Undergraduate sub-treasurer, and the two Junior members of the Undergraduate Play Committee.

TENNIS SEMI-FINALS.

1905 WINS.

More interest and enthusiasm was shown at the semi-finals between Jean Egleston, '04, and Edith Handy, '05, than has been apparent at any of the other matches. Doubtless this was partly because both players had already been before the College as champions and were known to be evenly matched, but most of those who were on Milbank Quadrangle last Friday morning were drawn there by class loyalty. Class flags adorned the terrace and fence, and cheering and applause interrupted the players from time to time.

One of the most interesting features of the match was the contrast between the style of the players. Miss Egleston played a swift low game with continual placing, and seemed to be particularly at home near the back line. Miss Handy's game on the contrary was more of a net game, though her chief strength lay in the fact that she was at home in any part of the court and with any kind of ball.

During the first two sets it seemed as though she was playing on the defensive chiefly, for Miss Egleston pressed her hard by her brilliant playing of the corners and side-lines. Moreover some of the cleverest of Miss Handy's volleys were ill judged and consequently though winning a whole round of applause failed to make the points. Still her all round playing told in the end and the small green dog—the 1905 class mascot—was carried home in triumph. Edith Handy won two sets out of three with a score of 4-6; 6-3; and 6-3.

1906 WINS.

On the afternoon of the same day a crowd again gathered to watch the match between the Sophomore and Freshmen champions, Nina Price, 1906, and Katharine Rapp, 1907. The game, however, was not so closely contested as that between Juniors and Seniors; yet the long volleys were swift and the balls well placed. Miss Price, who won for 1906 by a score of 6-2, 6-1, was remarkably clever at returning difficult balls, and at placing them in the back corners where Miss Rapp seemed to be unable to get them.

A close and interesting match is looked for between Edith Handy, 1905, and Nina Price, 1906. This game will decide the College championship.

SCENERY COMMITTEE.

The following committee has been appointed to buy scenery for the stage in the Theatre: Blanche Marks, '06, chairman; Marjorie Bacon, '04; Nan Reiley, '05; and Juliet Points, '07. The amount in the treasury of the Undergraduate Association which is to be devoted to the purchase of scenery is $179.65.

NOTICE.

It is requested that the gate to Milbank Quadrangle be kept closed when girls are practising basketball on the outdoor fields.

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 2, 1903.

At its last meeting the Athletic Association voted to give up our basketball courts to Teachers' College for two afternoons each week, in return for which we were to have the services of their basketball coach. This arrangement we consider to be perfectly just.

Nothing however was said either by Barnard or Teachers' College in regard to giving up the use of our tennis courts, and nothing was further from the minds of the members of the Athletic Association. Nevertheless the authorities have, independently of the Athletic Association, seen fit to assign our tennis courts also to our neighbors exclusively for Tuesday and Saturday afternoons of every week.

In this matter we believe a very unwise course has been pursued. Here at Barnard we have no such gymnasium as has Teachers' College and consequently the great majority of us have no opportunity during the winter months to take any form of physical recreation whatsoever. Most of us therefore are dependent upon our tennis courts in the late fall and early spring for exercise. Even as it is now the courts have proved inadequate to the demand made on them. Is it not likely, then, that many students will be deprived partially and some entirely, of the use of these courts by this new arrangement which has now crowded the tennis playing into four days a week?

We have no doubt that when our Dean recognizes the fact that we cannot spare the courts at all, and that this is the general sentiment of the student body, she will see to it that the action of the authorities is reconsidered so that we may enjoy to the fullest extent the opportunities offered by our new Milbank Quadrangle.

In our issue of last week, the article on the Senior play began with the statement, "The Senior Class entertained the Freshmen." We learn that this statement would have been more exact if it had read, "The Senior Class entertained the undergraduates," for, although the play was given in honor of the Freshmen and they only were invited, a goodly number of students from the other classes were conspicuously present. The unwritten law used to be that no students were allowed in the Theatre except the members of the class which was entertaining and of that which was being entertained. It began to be felt that this rule was unnecessarily strict, so spectators from other classes have been allowed in the gallery. However, at several entertainments this fall, of which the Senior play has been given as an example, there have been so many spectators who remained after the play for the refreshments and dancing which followed that the entertainments have become undergraduate, rather than class, affairs. These receptions are given in the fall, so that each class can meet the Freshmen; but this purpose is to a great degree defeated when members from other classes monopolize a large part of the floor space, and keep themselves altogether more in evidence than the invited guests.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of THE BULLETIN:

We should like to say a few words in regard to the trouble over the tennis courts. The Athletic Association understood that it was to have the management of the tennis courts and basketball fields. With such an understanding and in return for the services of the coach, we willingly gave the right to the Teachers' College students to use the basketball fields twice a week. But now we find they have also the right to use the tennis courts exclusively twice a week. It seems to us, since many more play tennis than basketball, that we can ill afford to give the right. Often there are girls waiting to play tennis on these courts. Moreover, Teachers' College has a gymnasium; we have none. Under these conditions we earnestly hope this right given to Teachers' College to use our tennis courts may be withdrawn by whomsoever has power to do so. Signed:

trary to the wishes of the Athletic Association, indicates that the athletic field is not controlled by the Association, as has been generally supposed. The question naturally arises then can the Association limit the use of the courts and basketball ground to its members in Barnard? If the Association does not control the use of the athletic field, may those students of Barnard who are not members of the Association play there? This question requires discussion.

EMILIE J. HUTCHINSON, 1905.

To the Editors of THE BULLETIN:

There has been a great deal of interest excited over the news that the exclusive use of both tennis courts has been given to the students of Teachers' College on the afternoons of Tuesday and Saturday of each week. Arrangements had already been made to give Teachers' College the use of the basketball fields in return for the services of their coach. If this was not considered an adequate return for the services of the coach, the question of the tennis courts should have been brought up before the Athletic Association of Barnard. We had supposed this Association to have control over our athletic field but the matter of the tennis courts was never laid before it. Although our Athletic Association has reduced its dues partly because of the arrangement with Teachers' College about the basketball coach, it is probable that it would rather assume the expense of its own coach than be deprived of the use of the tennis courts for two days of each week.

EDITH GIFFORD VAN INGEN, 1904.

To the Editors of THE BULLETIN:

In regard to the recent action granting the tennis courts to Teachers' College on Saturday afternoons, I should like to say that for many girls, Saturday is the only time they have to play without interfering with their work. In many cases, these are not the girls who play basketball, and it seems hardly just to curtail their pleasure in the interest of basketball. For in return for the use of the courts, the basketball players have the services of the Teachers' College coach, while the tennis players get nothing. Therefore, this action seems unfair to them.
