DEUTSCHER KREIS PLAY.

The German play, "Er Muss Taub Sein," given by the Deutscher Kreis last Tuesday, November 17, was considered by all who saw it to be a success. The play was well managed and went off smoothly from beginning to end. The programs, pasted on the backs of little German flags, were very attractive. The cast was as follows:

Burhenne.....E. L. Levy
Frieda, Seine Tochter....Blanche F. Marks
Grüner.....M. F. Brown
Ebert, Burhenne's Diener. A. M. Rheinstein
Feldhüter.....C. I. Dorrian
Gärtner.....F. C. Beeckman

The parts were well taken and the acting was natural, notwithstanding the difficulty of performing a play written in a foreign language.

ACADEMIC CALENDAR.

At the meeting of the University Council, on November 17, the program for the academic year 1904-1905 was adopted. The fifth summer session will open on Wednesday, July 6, 1904, and will close on Wednesday, August 17. The 151st year will begin on Wednesday, September 28, 1904, and Commencement Day will be June 14, 1905.

The class of 1904 will hold a special meeting on Wednesday, November 25th, at 12:20, in room 204.

1903 MEETS.

SPECIAL CHAPEL SERVICES.

Y. W. C. A.

MEETING.

A regular meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held on Monday, November 16. Reports of the various committees were read, embodying the work done by the Association this fall in increasing its membership, forming Bible classes, arranging for prominent speakers to visit Barnard, and in other various ways. There was no new business.

RECEPTION.

The Y. W. C. A. received in Earl Hall last Wednesday. Mrs. Cushman, who is Chairman of the New York State Board Y. W. C. A. Committee; Mrs. Broadwell, and Miss Lewis, the New York State Traveling Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., were present. There was an unusually large attendance of Barnard students, and as many of the girls had met Miss Broadwell and Miss Lewis at Silver Bay last June, several amusing incidents of the conference were recalled. There is much amiable rivalry among the colleges at Silver Bay, and when Miss Broadwell wore the Blue and White of Barnard in preference to the Rose and Gray of Vassar, it was considered a triumph that would more than compensate for the points lost in relay races and running broad jumps. The informal chat turned upon college athletics, and it was agreed that with our new facilities for outdoor exercise there is every prospect for Barnard to shine in the intercollegiate contests of next year's convention.

ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGE ALUMNAE MEETING.

Saturday, November 14, the New York branch of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae met in the Barnard Theatre. Miss Leech, Professor of Greek at Vassar College, who is the head of the Chapter, gave a report of the annual meeting held at Milwaukee. After this, Professor Robinson entertained the audience by an illustrated lecture, which included views taken on his recent trip. Dean Gill was not at this meeting, but she attended the annual meeting at Milwaukee.

NEW YORK HISTORY CLUB.

There was a meeting of New York History Teachers Club held on November 13, in University Hall. Dr. Robinson delivered an illustrated lecture on "Some Common Things in Japan." About 25 members of the club were present.

BEAR ELECTIONS.

At the meeting of the Barnard Bear last Friday, the following new members were elected: Mrs. Caples, Helen Elting, Romola Lyon, Mildred Miller and Alida Van Slyck, '04; Anne Greene, '05, and Dorothy Brewster, '06. The next book to be discussed will be "The Ambassadors," by Henry James. It will be found on the Bear shelf.

AUTUMN MEETING OF C. S. A.

The autumn meeting of the Barnard Alumnae Chapter of the College Settlements Association was held last Thursday at Barnard. Lily Murray, '05, Student Elector, was in the chair. In response to a strong appeal and partly in recognition of the good work done by some of the sub-chapters it was decided that in place of the usual offerings at Thanksgiving and Christmas, Barnard should raise $50 to provide milk for the kindergarten in Ludlow street. Boxes to receive contributions will be placed in the class studies, or students who prefer may hand their contributions to any member of the Donation Committee, of which Edith Van Ingen, '04, is Chairman. After the business of the meeting was completed Miss Lockwood gave a short address.

Beginning with a reference to the hard condition of people who live in the more crowded districts of our city, Miss Lockwood called the attention of the audience to all that was being done to ameliorate this condition. Even back tenements are gradually becoming a thing of the past.

But the time has now come when we must look to the psychological issues involved in settlement work as the principal element. The settlement is in itself a small thing. It is merely a home in the district where it is located. Yet from these homes have come some of the main issues of our Society, and they in turn afford an opportunity to those who have high ideals of social life to bring them to those who have them not. Yet, it must not be thought that the poor are merely waiting for us. On the contrary, they are awakening to their opportunities for self help. For instance, Miss Lockwood said, we should be surprised if we knew the number of students of Columbia University who were residents of that part of the city known as down town.

The College Settlement is different from other settlements. It belongs to the Association which twice a year meets in Boston, Philadelphia, or New York. These meetings are attended by delegates from nearly all the Eastern colleges. There are three houses under the control of this Association—the house at 95 Rivington street, in New York; Denison House, in Boston, and a neighborhood house, in Philadelphia. In these houses the Association endeavors to keep up a high standard.

The work has now assumed an educational aspect. Scholarships and fellowships are granted to those who are willing to undertake scientific investigation, and the Association desires to find out how the colleges would feel toward altering its policy in this respect—whether as the means of the Association increase the colleges would favor the giving of more fellowships or the rais-

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 23, 1903.

The enthusiasm for basketball is noticeably less than it has been during the last two or three years. Basketball practice under the direction of a competent coach is kept up regularly twice each week, but the fifteen or twenty girls who are on hand each day are chiefly Freshmen; very few Seniors, Juniors, or even Sophomores have played at any time this fall.

It was thought at the beginning of the season, when the line game was substituted for the more violent game played last year, that a large number of students, physically unable to play when the men's rules were used, would avail themselves of the opportunity to play according to the women's rules. But there has been a marked decrease, instead of increase in the number of players from the more advanced classes.

Unless more Seniors, Juniors and Sophomores show an interest in basketball by regularly attending the practice it will be impossible to carry out the plans of the Athletic Association for inter-class games. As these have been looked forward to by some, and as they would undoubtedly be a pleasant and novel feature of the college year, every effort should be made to form class teams and to make these inter-class matches a reality.

We read in the city papers that typhoid is raging at some of our Eastern colleges. There is an epidemic at Barnard, but it is not typhoid. The fever which has recently seized upon some formerly healthy students of the college is clubs. Clubs of all kinds are being started daily; clubs, the names of which are catchwords, and of which the irrelevancy of purpose is equalled only by the irrelevancy of the membership requirements. Yet, one can hardly restrain a good natured smile at the notion of a Sentiment Club, entrance to which is conditional on at least one affaire de coeur, or a Ku Klux Klan whose members undertake to furnish fudge to the Mortarboard Editors.

MEETINGS OF EXAMINATION BOARD

The sessions of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland will be held on Friday and Saturday after Thanksgiving, in the Auditorium of Earl Hall. On Friday there will be morning, afternoon and evening meetings. The address of welcome will be delivered by President Butler at 10:30, after which the topic "The Elective System in Secondary Schools" will be discussed. The afternoon session begins at 2:30 o'clock. The topic of the afternoon, "The Length of the College Course," will then be presented by several college Presidents. In the evening President Ira Remsen, of Johns Hopkins, will deliver the Presidential address on "Some Unsolved Educational Problems." After this address the members of the Association and their guests will adjourn to the Barnard College buildings, where a reception is to be given to the delegates. At a meeting on Saturday morning at 10 o'clock, "Athletes in Their Mutual Relations to Schools and Colleges" will be the subject for discussion. The seventeenth annual convention will be brought to a close by the business meeting Saturday noon.

On the same days meetings of the Association of Teachers of Mathematics of the Middle States and Maryland will be held at Teachers College.

All of these meetings are open to students of the University.

Among those who will attend the convention are the following: Professors Fiske, Miller, Speranga, Carpenter and Woodhull; Dean Gill, Dr. Canfield, and Mr. Keppel. Professor H. L. Wilson, of Johns Hopkins University; President Warfield, of Lafayette College; President Taylor, of Vassar College; President Sharpless, of Haverford College; Brother Jerome, President of Manhattan College, and William Maxwell, City Superintendent of Schools, New York.

At the reception on Friday evening the following will receive: President Butler, President Remsen, Dean Gill, Professor Fiske, Dean and Mrs. Russel, Dean and Mrs. Hutton, and Dean and Mrs. Kirchwey. Mrs. Anderson and Mr. Brownell will receive for the trustees. The faculty of the University will be among the guests.

BACCALAUREATE SERMON.

ing of the standard of the houses in New York and Boston.

Though the educational work of the settlement houses is at present small compared with that done by the public schools, yet it is full of hope. The public schools cannot accommodate the children, and their work should be supplemented by that of the college settlements. The emigrant question adds another complication, the main problem being to Americanize these emigrants. To illustrate this need Miss Lockwood related an amusing anecdote of a woman living down town who took up the study of German under the impression that she was acquainting herself with the language of the country.

In conclusion Miss Lockwood said that while she acknowledged the necessity of scientific investigation she considered it justifiable only when the motive was great. Ordinarily, friends down town should be visited as friends up town are visited. And on behalf of the residents and their neighbors she thanked those who had been to the Rivington street house for the inspiration which an active interest always gives.

The Membership Committee consists of Kate Doty, '04, Chairman; Hope Purdon, '05; Edith Somborn, '06, and Muriel Valentine, '07. The membership roll has been increased to 49; from 1904, ten; from 1905, seventeen; from 1906, seven, and from 1907, fifteen.
