THE BARNARD UNION.

The first meeting of the Barnard Union was held on Wednesday, October 12th, Miss Gildersleeve, the temporary chairman being in the chair. A temporary membership committee was appointed with the following members. Charlotte Morgan, '04, chairman; Ethel Pool, '03, Helen Cooley, '05, Faith Chipperfield, '06, and Juliet Points, '07. All Upper Classmen and Sophomores who are desirous of joining the Union will please give their names to Miss Cooley, Locker 19, Senior Study, in order that they may be considered by the Membership Committee. The meeting ratified the following constitution and by-laws:

ARTICLE I. NAME.

This organization shall be called the Barnard Union.

ARTICLE II. OBJECT.

The object of this society shall be to further among the students of Barnard College the development of literary and forensic activity, to foster among undergraduates and alumnae the spirit of loyalty to the college and the desire to extend its influence abroad.

ARTICLE III. MEMBERSHIP.

Section 1. Enumeration: There shall be three classes of membership, viz., (1) Active; (2) Associate; (3) Honorary.

Section 2. Eligibility: (1) All students in Barnard College, except Freshmen during the first half year, shall be eligible to active membership. (2) Graduates of Barnard College shall be eligible to associate membership. (3) The following shall be eligible to honorary membership: a. Officers of the University giving instruction at Barnard who are not alumnae. b. Officers of administration at Barnard who are not alumnae. c. Persons who may render distinguished services to Barnard College.

Section 3. Admission: Admission to membership shall take place in the following manner: (1) Members of the Bear and Debating Club shall be admitted without further election. (2) Nominations of other candidates for admission shall be made by writing by three members; these nominations shall be passed upon by the membership committee, which shall report to the society at the first regular meeting of each month those names which shall have been approved by a two-thirds ($\frac{2}{3}$) vote of the committee. The society shall then vote on these names separately by secret ballot. The negative vote of one-fourth of those voting shall suffice to reject a candidate for membership.

Section 4. Privileges of membership: (1) Active members shall have the privilege of voting except those who have dues. All active members shall have the privilege of holding office except as hereinafter limited. (2) Associate members shall have all the privileges of active members except as hereinafter provided. But only such associate members as hold office or serve on committees shall have the privilege of voting, except in the case of graduate officers. (3) Honorary members may serve on special committees, but shall not otherwise vote nor hold regular office in the society.

ARTICLE IV. OFFICERS.

Section 1. Enumeration: The officers shall be: (1) A graduate president, who shall be an associate member. (2) An undergraduate president, who shall be a senior. (3) A first vice-president, who shall be a junior. (4) A second vice-president, who shall be a sophomore. (5) A secretary, who shall be a junior. (6) A treasurer, who shall be a sophomore. (7) One graduate and one undergraduate editor. (8) The members of the executive committee.

SECTION 2. DUTIES.

(1) The graduate president shall preside at all meetings of the society. (2) The undergraduate president shall preside in the absence of the graduate president at all meetings of the society, and shall be chairman of the program and membership committees. (3) The first vice-president shall perform the duties of the president in the absence of the president. (4) The second vice-president shall perform the duties of the president in the absence of both president and first vice-president. (5) The secretary shall perform such duties as usually devolve upon such an office. She shall have charge of all records of the society, and at the conclusion of her term of office shall place in a safe or other place of safety a duplicate copy of the annals of the society. (6) The treasurer shall perform such duties as usually devolve upon such an officer. (7) The editors shall edit the publication of the society, and shall be members of the program committee.

ARTICLE V. COMMITTEES.

Section 1. Enumeration: There shall be the following committees: (1) Executive; (2) program; (3) membership.

Section 2. Constitution and duties: (1) The executive committee shall consist of the two presidents, the two vice-presidents, secretary, treasurer, and three members at large. This committee shall have the functions of a board of directors, and shall supervise and direct the general business of the society. (2) The program committee shall consist of the undergraduate president, the first vice-president, the two editors, the secretary and two members at large. This committee shall arrange the programs for all regular meetings. (3) The membership committee shall consist of two associate members, the undergraduate president, and two active members each from the senior, junior and sophomore classes. This committee shall receive nominations for mem-

UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION.

At a special meeting of the Undergraduate Association, held Thursday, October 13, the report of the executive committee, published in the last issue of the BULLETIN, was accepted without amendment. Elizabeth Evans, '06, secretary of the Undergraduate Association read the following letter from Miss Gill regarding student correspondence:

"My dear Miss Evans:

"Will you kindly announce to the students at the coming meeting on Thursday that it has become imperative to have their mail sent to their residences. It is not merely on account of the failure to have adequate provision for the care of such a large correspondence during the college session, but that the mail comes during vacations and after graduation, when the college address once becomes known. I would therefore ask that the college address never be given for student correspondence.

"Very sincerely yours,

"Dean."

JUNIORS ENTERTAIN FRESHMEN.

On Monday, October 10, the Class of 1906 entertained the Class of 1908 with "A Trip to Lunny Park and Screamland." As will readily be inferred from the title, the entertainment was a burlesque on the various Coney Island shows. From the banana and lemonade stands, where girls in paper caps and aprons served the guests with refreshments, to the Japanese room, where the tea and conversation were accompanied by the music of mandolins, every part of the show was a huge success. It was not long before the freshmen entered into the spirit of the thing, and began to enjoy themselves.

It was an advantage that the affair was held in the basement, where each separate side-show could have a booth to itself. The shooting was genuine enough, being done with blank cartridges, but the genius of the silhouette cutters and portrait painters might be questioned. The other shows, such as the magic ring and the carousels, as well as the grand finale, "Fire and Flames," were also entertaining imitations of the originals.

BARNARD CHORUS.

The Barnard Chorus had its first regular meeting last Tuesday, with a fairly good attendance. All new comers are welcome, and the management wishes that every girl who can sing—even if she has not a really fine voice—would feel it her personal duty to come. It is one of the ways in which we can show college spirit.

Next Tuesday plans for a musicale will be discussed.

CHAPEL NOTICE.

On Tuesday, October 18, the Rev. Chas. Cuthbert Hall will conduct chapel.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1904.

We wish to announce the following changes in the management of the BULLETIN: Anne D. Greene, '05, has been elected editor-in-chief to take the place of Emilie J. Hutchinson, '05, who has resigned from that position but who will still be connected with the paper as an associate editor. Emma S. Calhoun, '05, has been elected business manager, and Caroline Hall, '06, assistant business manager, to take the places left vacant by the resignations of Faith Chipperfield, '06, and Virginia Taylor, '06. Elizabeth Brautigam, '06, was elected to the board of managing editors, and Isabelle Mott, '05, was elected an associate editor.

Our new society, the Barnard Union, by its name suggests its purpose. As is the case with every non-resident college, Barnard has felt the need of a centralizing force. Heretofore, our separate interests have led us to form clubs to further worthy causes or to bind us more closely to our friends. To the individual students, such organizations may be profitable, but to our college as a whole, they are a decided disadvantage if not subordinate to something which represents us all. "College spirit" is an often misused term, standing for excess zeal along some useless line. In its higher sense, however, it expresses the soul of college life. All the loyalty, strength and courage that each of us possesses is due first to our Alma Mater.

Upon the political achievement of the Union will depend largely its literary activity. We learn from history that no country is able to produce a literature if it has no national life; whereas if the state has unity there generally grows up a representative literature. In the constitution of the Union there is provision made for a monthly BULLETIN supplement which will be devoted to poetry, stories and essays. Our Mortar-board and newspaper are more like records of events than publications of literary merit. But as the Union gains strength we hope for a greater development of literary activity.

We are all very grateful for the organ which has been presented to the college by Mr. Robert G. Ogden in the name of the firm of John Wanamaker. The organ fills an important place in our chapel service, and we thank the friends from whom it came.

SOUTHERN CLUB.

On Friday, October 21st, the Southern Club will give a tea at Earl Hall, from four until six o'clock, to entertain the new Southern members of the University.

LA SOCIETE FRANCAISE.

At a special meeting of La Société Française on Wednesday, October 12th, Josephine Paddock, '06, was elected Vice-President to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Hope Purdon.

BARNARD ALUMNÆ PLAY.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Associate Alumnae, held last spring, it was decided to give an alumnae play this year. It seemed best, however, in accordance with the recommendations of a committee appointed to consider the matter, to conduct the affair on new lines. The plan of the directors is to pay off, if possible, the debt incurred last year, and to make the play a social affair for the alumnae. The play chosen is "Trelawney of the Wells," by Pinero. There will be two performances, on December 2d and 3d, in the theatre, Brinckerhoff Hall, at two o'clock. Mr. Eugene Sanger will be the director.

Trials for parts will be held on October 17th and 18th, at half past two. The first rehearsal will take place on October 24th. In order to insure the success of the play, the cooperation of every member of the Association is necessary. It is hoped that a large number of alumnae will be present at the trials for parts. The price of tickets will be 75 cents for alumnae and undergraduates and $1.00 for all others.

bership and shall vote upon these, and then report to the society at the first regular meeting of each month.

ARTICLE VI. ELECTIONS.

Section 1. All nominations shall be by secret ballot, and those having the two highest numbers of votes shall be the nominees.

Section 2. All votes of the undergraduates for nominations shall be deposited in a box before some officer of the society between certain hours of a given day in some room of the college buildings.

Section 3. The names of the two nominees for each office shall be posted on the bulletin boards in each class study at least a week before the elections, and shall be printed in the BARNARD BULLETIN in the number preceding the elections.

Section 4. The voting for the election of the nominees shall be conducted in the same manner as the voting for nominations, and the candidate having the greater number of votes shall be elected.

Section 5. Nominations of officers shall be held during the first week in April.

Section 6. Elections of officers shall be held during the second week in April.

ARTICLE VII. AMENDMENTS.

Section 1. Amendments to this constitution shall be made in writing at a regular meeting and shall not be acted upon until the next regular meeting.

Section 2. Proposed amendments or additions to the constitution may be adopted only when at least one-half (1/2) of the active members of the society are present and when three-fourths (3/4) of those present concur.

Section 3. Voting on amendments shall be by standing vote.

ARTICLE VIII. PUBLICATIONS.

Section 1. This society shall publish in a monthly supplement of the BARNARD BULLETIN such literary contributions as seem fitting to the editors of the society and to the editors of the BARNARD BULLETIN.

BY-LAWS.

I. Time of meeting: This society shall meet on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month at 3:30 P.M. Special meetings ings may be held at the call of the undergraduate president on other Wednesdays at the request of ten members.

II. Place of meeting: The meetings of this society shall be held in Brinckerhoff Theatre.

III. All those who take part in the program shall wear academic costume.

IV. Dues: There shall be annual dues of one dollar, payable by active members only. Dues shall be payable by November 1st or within one month after election to membership.

V. A quorum shall consist of one-third (1/3) of the active members.

DEUTSCHER KREIS.

There will be an important business meeting of the Deutscher Kreis on Wednesday, October 19, at 12:20, in Room 213. The business of the meeting will be the amendment of the constitution and voting on new members.

SOCIETA ITALIANA.

Will all those who have studied or are studying Italian and wish to join the society, please drop their names in Locker 40, Senior study.

1907.

At a special meeting of 1907 held on Tuesday, October 11, it was decided to add a Corresponding Secretary to the list of officers. Mary Reardon was elected to the office. The Executive Committee elections were: Emma Lay, Irene Kohn, and Daisy Yale.
