DEGREE CONFERRED.

At the stated meeting of the University Council in the Trustees' Room at Columbia, on Tuesday, October 18, the honorary degree of LL.D. was conferred upon Hon. James Bryce, M.P. by Mr. Butler. Mr. Bryce was presented by Hon. Seth Low, who said

Mr. President: Of the men who have traced with sure instinct the movement of historic forces along the pathway of the centuries, few have surpassed the author of "The Holy Roman Empire." Of those who have made contemporary study of existing political institutions not their own, few have equaled and none have excelled the author of "The American Commonwealth." While Mr. Bryce has given to the world these two masterpieces, revealing thus his profound understanding at once of the past and of the present, he has found time not only to write other books that are distinctly interesting and instructive, but also to discharge for many years the active duties of a Professor of Civil Law at the ancient university of Oxford. In addition, he has served as a member of the British House of Commons in several successive Parliaments, and with so much distinction as to be invited to join Mr. Gladstone's government in the last Ministry formed by that giant among statesmen. Like his great chief, Mr. Bryce believes in liberty and is not afraid to trust it; but unlike his chief, Mr. Bryce was not obliged to learn this lesson slowly. From the beginning of his public life, and always, this has been a part of his political creed. This is one reason, at least, because he could do it sympathetically, that he has been able to make American institutions intelligible to his own countrymen, and to portray them with a master hand for our own understanding and enlightenment. Such a man might be honored with propriety by any university in the world, but there is peculiar fitness in inscribing his honored name on the roll of the Sons of Columbia University, because not only is this a representative American university, but, through its School of Political Science, it has also won international fame in the very fields which Mr. Bryce has made his own. Right welcome to the Barnard household headed by Hamilton and Jay, to whom the "Federalist" was mainly due, is the distinguished author of "The American Commonwealth."

In the honor, Sir, to present the Right Hon. James Bryce for the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in this University.

In conferring the degree President Butler said: Honorable James Bryce, Member of Parliament and Privy Councillor of His Majesty King Edward VII; Bachelor of Arts; Doctor of Civil Law in the University of Oxford, Doctor of Laws in the Universities of Edinburgh, Glasgow, Michi-

PROGRAM OF CELEBRATION.

Revised Order of Social Events—Festivities to Extend Over Eight Days.

Announcement was made yesterday by the Registrar of the following revised program for the celebration of the Sesquicentennial Anniversary:

Friday, Oct. 28—3 to 6 P.M.: Trustees' reception, inspection of buildings, and departmental exhibits, Morningside Heights. Alumni will not need admission cards for adult members of their families accompanying them to the reception. All students are welcome, and may secure admission by showing their matriculation cards.

9 P.M.: Students' dance in the University Gymnasium, illumination of the grove. Applications for admission should be made to Mr. N. W. Van Nostrand, Columbia University. Subscription $1.

Saturday, Oct. 29—2 P.M.: Football game, Yale vs. Columbia, at American League Park, 166th Street and Broadway. Applications for tickets should be addressed to J. G. Prall, Manager, 419 West 117th Street, New York, to whom checks should also be made payable. Price of reserved seats, $2 each.

Sunday, Oct. 30—3:30 P.M.: Service of praise and thanksgiving in the University Gymnasium; preacher, the Right Rev. William Croswell Doane, Bishop of Albany. If there is room, the public will be admitted after the academic procession—Trustees, official guests, officers, alumni and students—has passed into the Gymnasium.

Monday, Oct. 31—11 A.M.: Laying of the corner-stone of St. Paul's Chapel, the School of Mines Building, Hartley Hall and Livingston Hall. Trustees and University Council only. 3:30 P.M.: University Convocation in the Gymnasium, with commemorative oration by President Butler and the conferring of honorary degrees upon distinguished alumni. The limited space in the Gymnasium renders it necessary to restrict invitations to the convocation to the holders of degrees from the University.

On the afternoons of Sunday, Oct. 30, and Monday, Oct. 31, students may obtain admission to the campus by showing their matriculation cards, but the exercises in the Gym are intended primarily for the alumni.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 24, 1904.

Next Friday will begin the 150th Anniversary of the founding of Columbia University. Unlike Yale, Columbia will not call a congress of colleges, but will celebrate only with its Alumni and a few invited guests. The present undergraduates are studying the program, admiring the poster and wishing that they too had a part in the festivities. We must not be selfish, however. It is true that we will never see another such year; but still we daily have the opportunity of wandering through the halls and libraries with an air of ownership. We are the present owners and can afford to be generous. Some day, perhaps another generation of students will extend a similar courtesy to us, the old Alumni.

ALUMNAE MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College will be held on Saturday, Nov. 5, at 10:30 A.M., in the Theatre, Barnard College. The following officers will be elected: President, Corresponding Secretary, Treasurer and a member of the Board of Directors.

NOTICE.

Copies of the History of Columbia recently published, may be obtained by application to Isabelle Mott, 1905, Locker 58, Senior Study.

DEGREE CONFERRED.

gan and St. Andrews; Doctor of Political Science in the University of Buda-Pest and Doctor of Letters in the University of Cambridge and in Victoria University; Honorary Fellow of Trinity and Oriel Colleges; sometime Regius Professor of Civil Law at the University of Oxford; philosophic student of a great epoch in European history; sympathetic and skillful in the exposition of the political and social institutions of our land; liberal, far-seeing and constructive in the worlds of scholarship and of statesmanship alike, I gladly admit you to the degree of Doctor of Laws in this University and confer upon you all the rights and privileges that belong thereto—in token whereof I hand you this diploma.

MISS GILL'S PLANS.

Miss Gill presided at the meeting of Smith Alumnae on Saturday, October 22nd, and has been invited to the organization of Phi Beta Kappa in Smith. Next Wednesday the Dean will go to Boston to attend the inauguration of William Edwards Huntington, as President of Boston University.

ECONOMIC RESEARCH.

As the result of investigations regarding employment agencies, an Inter-Municipal Committee on Household Research has been formed. The Boston Association is the Woman's Educational and Industrial Union; in Philadelphia it is the Housekeeper's Alliance, and in New York, it is the New York Association on Household Research. The object of the Association is to examine into conditions after the method employed by the Consumers' League and other organizations in studying the work of women in factories and stores. These investigations represent a vast field of different interests, among which is the study of immigration, public laundries, bakeries and lodging houses for unemployed women. It is particularly desired that college graduates should give their attention to this subject, because in order to be successful the work must be conducted on a scientific basis.

BASKET-BALL.

Regular basket-ball practice was begun on Monday, Oct. 17th, and the playing was encouraging for the first day's work. About 10 or 12 freshmen were present and a number of upper classmen. All students desiring to play the game are urged to be on Milbank Quadrangle promptly at 3:30 on Mondays and Thursdays.

GYMNASIUM LOCKERS.

The forty-four lockers in the large room in the basement of Brinckertoff Hall have recently been assigned, first to members of the Athletic Association who play basket-ball, then to members who play tennis. Owing to the small number of lockers, it has been necessary to make arrangements so that three tennis players share the same locker.

Shower baths are now in working order in the locker room.

On Thursday, Oct. 20th, Miss Gill entertained the executive officers of Columbia, a few prominent women, college graduates and several authors, in honor of Mrs. Warren Cheney, Secretary of Appointments of the University of California.

TEACHERS COLLEGE NOTES.

A special gift has made possible the sending of a representative of the college to the St. Louis exposition, for the purpose of purchasing for the Teachers College Museum, portions of the educational exhibits of several European countries. The College Museum is at present showing an exhibit of illustrative material used in New York public kindergartens, and it announces, for the week beginning October 28th, an exhibit bearing upon religious education.

The Educational Museum of the college has added to its exhibits now open to the public, a collection of material, illustrative of the College's course in Anthropology. Primitive fire-making apparatus and types of stone implements constitute the greater part of the collection.
