DISCUSSION OF LAND PURCHASES.

A matter of great importance to Barnard College is now pending before the Board of Estimate and Apportionment of New York City. It is the possible extension of the park system to include the land between Claremont and River-2d Avenues running from 122d street down to 116th street.

The first hearing was held on Tuesday, Jan. 23, at 11:30 A. M. in the Council Chamber of the City Hall. Gen. Horace Porter spoke most urgently for the preservation of a suitable environment for Grant's Tomb, and for the saving to the city of the historic ground of the only battle fought on Manhattan Island—the battle of Harlem Heights. Milbank Quadrangle is a part of the famous buckwheat field in which the battle was fought, but it ran west, nearly, if not quite, to the river bank.

Pres. Butler spoke for the three corporations of Columbia University. Pres. Chas. Cuthbert Hall spoke for the Union Theological Seminary. Bishop Greer wrote an appeal in the name of the Protestant Episcopal interests of the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and St. Luke's Hospital. The President of the Scenic Association represented the general artistic advantage of the plan and Mr. John D. Crimmins spoke for the general city desire to make Morningside Heights worthy of the institutions now upon it, or soon to be so placed.

The sale of the two plots of ground on the south side of 119th street for immediate improvement has revealed the danger of postponing the decision longer. If two eleven story apartment houses were once erected upon any portion of this land, it would make a realization of the entire plan forever improbable, if not impossible. The next two weeks must determine whether we are to be hemmed in by a high line of apartment houses, or to become the west front of the University upon a public park. No student can possibly feel indifferent to the result.

TEACHERS' COLLEGE NOTES.

The Announcement of the College for 1906-07, now in preparation, will contain a new requirement designed to increase in efficiency the preparation of students for teaching in high schools. Such students at present, in addition to the general academic and professional work, specialize in one subject and the methods of presenting it. In the future, they will add similar specialization in an additional subject, or a new general course, giving a comprehensive survey of the conditions and problems of high school education.

The United Daughters of the Confederacy have founded an annual prize of $100 to be awarded to that student of Teachers' College who shall prepare the best essay on some topic connected with the activity of the South in the Civil War.

Under the direction of Professor Richards, of the Department of Manual Training, a number of evening trade classes have been established in connection with the Newsboys' Lodging House of the Children's Aid Society.

The Educational Museum of the College will display an exhibit of book bindings in connection with the meeting of the New York Library Club at the College in March.

Professor Woodhull, of the Department of Physical Science, has been elected President of the New York Science Teachers' Association; Mr. Hofer, of the Department of Music, President of the American Guild of Plays, for the purpose of emphasizing the value of play festivals in schools.

DEUTSCHER KREIS.

Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 13, at 4.10, there will be a social meeting of the Deutscher Kreis in the Alumnae Room. All members are cordially invited to be present.

Y. W. C. A.

The Christian Association has decided on an important step in advance. In a cabinet meeting held last week it was resolved to secure, if funds can be raised, a part-time Secretary who shall devote a certain amount of her time, beginning with the first of March, to developing the growing work of the Association, interesting students in the work, and in a general way bringing the College Association to closer touch with other like organizations in colleges and cities.

Another step, and, perhaps, a more important one, is the formation of an Advisory Committee composed of three Faculty and three Alumnae members. This committee will confer, periodically, with the Executive Committee of the Y. W. C. A. and shall be responsible for interesting faculty members and alumnae in the work of the college organization.

The Faculty members who have been asked to serve are: Miss Hirst, Dr. Braun, Mr. Hoadley. The Alumnae members: Marion Latham '03, Jean W. Miller, '03, Jean H. Loomis, '04. The members of this committee will serve for one year beginning with March 1, 1906.

THE NASHVILLE CONVENTION.

The "Nashville Committee" desires to announce the election of the following students to attend the Convention to be held in Nashville, Tenn., Feb. 28 to March 4, under the auspices of the Student Volunteer Movement: Sophie P. Woodman, '07, Agnes Miller and Marguerite Newland, '08, Edna Tompkins and May Ingalls, '09.

The committee wants to thank the girls in college for their contributions toward the necessary fund, which have amounted to over $20. Trustees and alumnae have given generously and it is hoped that the full amount ($250) will be raised before the day of departure.

Announcement is also made that there will be a large meeting held early in March for the benefit of the college, to which it is hoped that all the students and faculty will come to hear the reports of the delegates.

SOPHIE P. WOODMAN, '07, Chairman.

C. S. M. A.

A regular meeting of the C. S. M. A. will be held in Room 139, Barnard, on Thursday, February 15 at 12:10. A full attendance of members and of those interested in the work of the organization is desired, as reports of the delegates who attended the Convention in Cambridge will be heard. By order of the President,

FLORENCE M. STAFF.

JIU-JITSU.

On the evening of February 7 a demonstration of the famous jiu-jitsu throwing was given by six Japanese, recently brought over from Japan, at the University gymnasium. Dr. Mevlan, instructor in hygiene at Barnard, introduced the Japanese. Two of them illustrated various methods of hurling an enemy to the ground with the intention of killing him. The rapidity of action and strength of muscle and twist were marvellous; they were trained to avoid injury in falling, but the certainty of death to others was obvious. The art of fencing was also demonstrated; both hands are used in wielding the heavy wooden swords, and the aim is directed at the head or either side of the body. Rapidity of action is essential, and that, added to the peculiar language of the Japanese, made this special feat intensely interesting. The science of "tripping-up" an opponent was illustrated, showing the deep knowledge of center of gravity that the Japanese possess; often if a man is taken off his feet, he can gain the advantage by hurling his opponent on the ground, or by tripping him up in falling. The whole entertainment was most interesting, as well as instructive, and the gymnasium was crowded with both faculty and students of the University.

BARNARD UNION.

The subject of the Senior debate, Wednesday, February 7, was: Resolved, That New York should legislate in regard to the conditions of sweat shop labor. The affirmative was upheld by Alice Haskell, Senta Herrmann and Florence Foshay; the negative by Louise Blackburn, Marie-Louise Fontaine and Marjorie Brown. The judges, Miss Mann, former instructor in Argumentation at Vassar, Dr. Johnson and Mr. Pitkin, decided in favor of the negative. The affirmative had most of the points on its side but the negative presented its views more clearly and convincingly.

The Sophomore-Junior debate will be held Wednesday, February 14, at 3.10 in the theatre. Juliet Points, Mary Reardon and Agnes Ernst will represent the Junior Class and Jessie Houston, Helen Loeb and Agnes Miller, the Sophomore Class. The subject of the debate is: Resolved, That the form of government of the United States is more conducive to the general welfare of the people than the English form of government. The Sophomore speakers will uphold the affirmative and the Juniors the negative side.

There will be a business meeting of the Union for a few minutes before the debate on February 14. All members are requested to be present at 3 o'clock sharp, as the business to be transacted is very important, and a quorum is greatly desired.

A regular meeting of the class of 1907 was held on Thursday, February 8, in room 330. The reports were read and it was decided that the class should give an entertainment in the form of a cotillion to 1905 in April. Ten dollars was also pledged to the College Settlement Association.

1908.

At the regular monthly meeting held on Thursday, February 8, the following members of the sophomore class were elected to the Greek Games committee: Eleanor Hunsdon, chairman, Clairette Armstrong, Mary Maxon, Josephine Prahl, Florence Wolff, Jessie Houston, and Helmina Jeddell.

It was voted to have a class party on Thursday, February 15.

The Class of 1909 met on Thursday, February 8. The new Freshmen were welcomed into the Class with appropriate greetings, and it was voted that a tea should be given them on the afternoon of Thursday, February 15. The committee for the Freshman entertainment to the College was then elected. The members are: Eva vom Baur, chairman, Leslie Conner, Lee Alexander, Laura Turnbull, Jessie Levy, May Ingalls, Lillian Clossen and H. Swenson. It was voted that the Class of 1905 should be invited to attend the entertainment in March.

Olga Rilke was elected undergraduate sub-treasurer.

DEPARTMENT OF MUSIC—1905-6.

The course of weekly lectures in the auditorium of Earl Hall, on Wednesdays, at 4 P. M., will be continued by Daniel Gregory Mason, who will deliver six lectures on "The Problem of Romanticism," as follows:

- Feb. 14—The Romanticism of Schubert.
 - Feb. 21—The Romanticism of Schumann.
 - Feb. 28—The Romanticism of Mendelssohn.
 - March 7—The Romanticism of Chopin.
 - March 14—Modern Romantic Tendencies.
- These lectures will be illustrated throughout. Further announcement will be made concerning subsequent lectures.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 12, 1906.

The question of the purchase by the city of the land lying between Barnard and Riverside, and the consequent beautification of Barnard by the extension of Riverside Park almost to its very doors, cannot fail to be of interest to every student, confronted as she is with the alternative of having two or three ugly, eleven-story apartment houses as neighbors.

First of all, she must think of the aesthetic side of the case. To have the beautiful view of the river cut off by the stateliest of stately academic buildings would certainly be cause for sadness, though in such an event we might recognize the necessity of the step and be resigned to our fate. But to become resigned to apartment-houses, awkward brick skyscrapers staring at us, allowing just tantalizing glimpses of the river to be seen, is a little more difficult matter. Attractive surroundings certainly have the power to affect intellectual work, though indirectly, and we should all miss the refreshing sight of the restful blue river flowing past. Moreover, Barnard has so little opportunity to impress visitors by external attractions, situated in the heart of the city as it is, that it usually suffers in the judgment of those who make but a superficial survey, from comparison with more fortunate country colleges, whose opportunities for beautification and expansion are greater. Therefore, it behooves us not only to make all possible efforts to keep what advantages of this sort we have, but also to add to them to the full extent of our powers.

The question of privacy is another important consideration. Milbank Quadrangle is situated between the land in question and the Chemical buildings at Columbia. The vantage ground for spectators afforded by the windows of the Columbia building does away with a considerable share of our privacy, and the addition of a hundred or so alien lookers-on would, we fear, quite destroy what is left to us. Field Day is one of our most cherished traditions, and as such we like to enjoy it en famille, rather than in the public eye, but this would be impossible in the event of the contemplated buildings being erected.

These considerations must appeal to all of us who love the college, and must make us desire earnestly the purchase of the land by the city.

When we take into consideration the fact that the time is fast approaching for the debate between Normal College and Barnard, the present state of undergraduate enthusiasm over debating is not particularly encouraging. It may be that there is interest present, but some great occasion is necessary to bring it out; if, however, that is the state of affairs, it is certainly to be regretted. It would have been natural to suppose that the senior debate last Wednesday would have brought out a considerable audience, but such was not the case. The attendance was perhaps fair, but nothing more. Now in order that Barnard debating may be successful, that is, of service to debaters by gaining them experience and facility, and beneficial to the college as a whole by the acquisition and maintenance of both high standards for public speaking and able, forceful debaters, it is imperative that the efforts of the Union towards one of its most important functions, forensic activity, should receive the hearty support of every student in the college. Especially is this encouragement necessary if our debaters are to meet those of other colleges. It is an established fact that a speaker nearly always does his best before a well-filled house and with this in mind the college should come to the help of the debaters. It is hoped that the students will show that they realize their responsibility in this regard by being present in large numbers at the 1907-1908 debate on February 14.

HELP WANTED FOR SUMMER HOTELS.

For two years the United Fellowship of Good Samaritans, a fraternal organization of young people, has assisted students by finding positions for them in summer boarding-houses and hotels as porters, bell-boys, clerks, waiters, etc. In this way, over 125 students were enabled to earn over $12,000.

We are in touch this year with over 2,000 hotels, who will employ an army of about 50,000 helpers. Salaries range from $10 to $100 per month and board. "Tips" increase receipts materially, so the average student can clear at least $100 from a season's work.

This year no commission will be charged as formerly for finding a position, as friends of the organization have provided for the expense. To protect us from the fickle-minded who might cause us needless expense, and to meet part of the actual cost of investigating references, etc., a registration fee of twenty-five (25) cents will be charged.

As proprietors begin to engage their help directly after January 1st, your name should be registered at once. First come, first served. Of course, vacancies will occur the whole year, up to July 1st.

In your application give name, home address, present address, name of school, three references, position desired, and the date when you can commence work. Enclose twenty-five cents, silver or one-cent stamps. Write on one side of the paper only. Address the Supreme Advising Fellowman, Rev. W. G. Price, South Westerlo, N. Y.

LA SOCIETE FRANCAISE.

At the business meeting of "La Société Française" held on Wednesday, February 7, it was decided to give a play on February 23 for the entertainment of the college, as scheduled.
