THE UNDERGRADUATE TEA.

The guests who came to the Undergraduate Tea last Friday were met at the very doors by an improvement personified by ushers directed to lead the visitors to the class studies where their respective hostesses awaited them. By this means the crush at the entrance was in great measure avoided.

The Senior Study Room was decorated with Japanese lanterns, pink roses and Southern holly. The star-pattern candle shades and plate doilies called forth much admiration from the guests, and were indeed in great demand as souvenirs. The Juniors served chocolate in their Study, where the class colors were represented by Christmas greens and tinsel. On the table were white carnations of home manufacture and charming effect. The Sophomores offered ices to their guests until half past four o'clock, after which the open fire had to serve as chief attraction. As the fire lighted up the tasteful brown and gold decorations most effectively, it may be assumed that the visitors were satisfied with the aesthetic treat in lieu of refreshment. The same shortage in the supplies brought distress to the Freshmen. Their study looked very attractive, too, with its festoon of red and white paper, red flowers and red candle shades.

Refreshments were also served in the faculty and alumnae rooms. The entrance hall with its open fire and pretty decorations always makes a good impression, but last Friday it showed to especial advantage because the crowd that usually collects there was not allowed to become too dense.

The receiving committee consisted of Mrs. Brewster, Miss Weeks, Miss Mabby, Marguerite Newland, '08, and Eleanor Curran, '08, chairman of the Tea Committee. Among the members of the faculty present were Professor Brewster, Professor Knapp, Dr. Brown, Dr. Eames, Miss Huttman and Miss Hirst.

ALUMNÆ REUNION.

The Christmas Reunion of the Barnard College Alumnae Association will be held in the form of a luncheon at the St. Denis Hotel, Broadway and Eleventh street, on Saturday, January 4, at 1:30. This is the first time the reunion has been held outside of Barnard and it is hoped that the members of the Alumnae Association will help to make it a success by coming in large numbers.

ELSIE TOTTEN BRADLEY,
Chairman.

DEUTSCHER KREIS LECTURE.

At 4 o'clock on Thursday, December 12, Professor Leonhard, Kaiser-Wilhelm Professor at Columbia, will speak on "The Position of Women in Rome" to the members of the Deutscher Kreis and their guests. The lecture will be held in room 115.

BASKETBALL.

The Varsity team played two scrub teams on Thursday, December 5, in the Thompson Gymnasium, in order that Mr. Fovel, the coach, might choose new players for the Varsity. When his decision has been made it will be published in the BULLETIN.

On Saturday morning at 11 o'clock the Freshmen defeated the Veltin School by a score of 12-6. The line-up was as follows:

VELTIN		BARNARD
M. Newell.....	Forward....	E. Leveridge
D. Mills		F. Randolph
G. Venner.....	Center....	L. Schoedler
A. Bottomley		V. Fueslein
N. Quackenbusch.	Guard.....	M. Conroy
B. Bruce		A. Weil

The first half was rather one-sided and not particularly interesting; the ball was up at the Barnard end most of the time, and the forwards took advantage of their chances. Frances Randolph made two beautiful baskets right at the outset, and one field goal. Ethel Leveridge made two foul goals and one from the field. The visiting team was somewhat handicapped by the fact that they played girls' rules for the first time; they made but two foul goals in this half. In the second half they became very much more energetic, and started off with two baskets, thrown by Dorothy Mills, in spite of Molly Conroy's good, steady guarding. Ethel Leveridge made a foul goal just before she was put in as guard in place of Amy Weil. Elsie Gleason, in the two minutes that she played forward, made a basket. When time was called, the score was 12-6—and this is the first time that Barnard has beaten the Veltin School.

The Varsity team will play Teachers College on Friday, December 13, at 5 o'clock, in the Thompson Gymnasium.

BULLETIN ELECTIONS.

At the regular monthly meeting of the managing board of the BULLETIN Ethel Ivimey, '09, and Mary Swenson, '09, were elected associate editors.

The resignation of Helen Cooley, '05, from the office of alumnae editor was read and accepted. Instead of electing her successor the board decided to try substituting for this office that of a corresponding editor who shall keep in touch with the heads of the various alumnae committees and thus obtain full and authentic news regularly. Agnes Miller, '08, was elected to this office.

1908 TEA TO 1909.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 4, the class of 1908 served tea to the class of 1909 in the senior study. The affair was decidedly informal and was enjoyed both by the guests and the hostesses. Professor Brewster paid a short visit to the study during the afternoon. The tea ended in a mutual serenading party.

ALUMNÆ NOTES.

At the regular November meeting of the Board of Directors of the Alumnae Association the following elections took place:

E. S. Potter, '06, to the Finance Committee; A. D. Brewster, '06, to the Statistics Committee. Members elected for the year ending 1908: E. G. Evans, '06, for the one-year term; P. Woodman, '07, for the two-year term; L. E. Peters, '04, for the three-year term. Mary Moën Brown, '04, was appointed to serve on the Committee on Undergraduate Athletics.

The full Christmas-Reunion Committee is as follows: E. L. Bradley, '02; E. R. Endicott, '00; E. C. Roberts, '01; A. C. Reilly, '05; J. Disbrow, '07.

At the regular meeting of the class of 1908 on Thursday, Elizabeth Fox was elected chairman of the committee to make arrangements for Tree Day. Gertrude Stein was elected chairman of the Undergraduate Play Committee and Adelaide Regua the other senior member. Marguerite Newland spoke on the subject of an Interclass Study, and Cornelia Flack was appointed to represent 1908 in making arrangements for such a study.

At the last regular meeting of the class of 1909 the financial report of the Junior Play was heard with attention, and its submission to the class was greeted by a prolonged cheer. The three principal items of this report read as follows: Received by the committee, $1,019.95; paid out, $240.33; reserve turned over to the class treasury, $779.62.

The second piece of important business was the election of Professor Brewster to honorary membership in the class. His name has not yet been accepted.

The attitude of the class toward the proposed institution of an Interclass Study is distinctly favorable.

The Junior residents of Brooks Hall have invited the rest of the class to a party to be given on the seventeenth.

At the regular class meeting of the class of 1910 on Thursday, December 5, Florence Rose was elected sophomore member of the Undergraduate Play Committee and the class pin was chosen.

The class voted a hearty support to the Undergraduate Study, the plans for which were explained by the president of the Undergraduate Association, Marguerite Newland.

On Thursday, at its regular meeting, the class of 1911 chose as its mascot the Indian, and as its motto, Reverence and Enthusiasm, which phrase Dr. Knapp will be asked to translate into Greek.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 11, 1907.

The introduction at Barnard of the point system for office-holding has been under discussion for several years, but has never actually been put into practice. For the benefit of those readers who are not familiar with the system we would explain it briefly as follows—where all officers are classified into two groups, major and minor, according to the responsibility and amount of work devolving upon each one. Some limit is set to the number of offices which any one student may hold—for instance, she may hold one major and one minor office, or three minor ones, or whatever number may be agreed upon. The effect of such regulation is to bring out latent talent; for it stands to reason—alas, have we not had sad experience?—that the tendency of all organizations is to pile work upon the shoulders of a very few girls who have had a chance to prove themselves capable. The result of such crowding is invariably unfortunate. It means overwork for the lucky (?) few, often inefficient administration as a consequence, and a rather natural jealousy on the part of many girls who are as much interested and probably as able as the workers, but who are forced to be idle because there is no place for them to work. That where there is no chance for anyone to have too much responsibility, there is a chance for everybody to have a little. One other benefit from the enforcement of the point system is noticeable, namely, that more interest is shown by individual girls in what they are doing: a natural state of affairs when one's interests are not too slight or too varied. One sometimes hears it said now that nobody wants to work on committees but freshmen, and they will soon get over it. While this comment may be extreme, there is surely some foundation for it. It is indeed gratifying that our delegates to the Vassar convention realized the need for a point system at their own college; and it is for the Undergraduate Association to make some definite legislation for its introduction and use next year.

Our attention has been called to the fact that no mention was made in the BULLETIN of the handsome clock presented to Brooks Hall by 1910. The gift was placed so quietly in the reception room of Brooks Hall that the event quite escaped general notice. We greatly regret that we were guilty of this oversight and present our apologies to the class.

The clock, made of mahogany to match the woodwork of the "Blue Room," is a typical "grandfather's" clock, and is of Tiffany manufacture. It was bought with the proceeds of the Freshman Show.

PERFORMANCES OF GERMAN CLASSICS.

A most commendable enterprise is being shown by the new director of the German Theater, Dr. Maurice Baumfeld, in preparing a number of really excellent performances of German classics. They are by no means to be the ordinary "Schülervorstellungen," although these served a very good purpose, but are to be carefully studied and elaborately staged and equal, probably, to the best that can be seen in Germany. The first performance is to be given on Tuesday evenings, to be repeated at least once at the following Saturday matinee. For the latter, the students' half-rate tickets are available.

More than fifty members of Course 5-6 have already signified their intention of attending the "Minna von Barnhelm" matinee on Saturday afternoon next, which will be followed at a later date by "Goetz von Berlichingen," and as the seats ($1.50 orchestra chairs at 75 cents for students) are to be reserved en bloc, a very pleasant Barnard "party" should result. Any others who may wish to secure seats for this or later dates have only to make it known to any of the German instructors, and a ticket entitling the holder to half rates for twelve performances will be provided.

Inasmuch as the helpfulness of these performances as an aid in the study of the drama is obvious, the Department believes that some little responsibility rests with the students as to the extension of Dr. Baumfeld's plan and the continuance of this special rate to members of the college.

Miss Virginia Potter, head of the Manhattan Trade School for Girls and Women, gave a very interesting lecture last week at a meeting of the Barnard section of the College Settlement Association. In her address Miss Potter brought out very clearly the advantages of the trained as compared to the untrained working woman. The untrained working girl is the "down-trodden" one; the trained girl becomes the aristocrat among working women.

The advantages of training are social, moral and pecuniary. The skilled working woman rises in the social scale as her usefulness and knowledge or intelligence increases; morally, she rises in almost perfect proportion as her wages increase and she finds herself less dependent on others, more and more able to live decently and comfortably on her own earnings. There are two means of raising the factory working women, Miss Potter said, education and the trades unions. The former is simpler, more direct, and has no evil side as has the trades union.

Miss Potter described the work of the Manhattan Trade School and showed how the courses given there meet the demand for more skilled workers. All the courses are condensed and concentrated, so that the students may in the shortest time possible get a working basis. Above all, they are taught how to use their tools—the needle, the sewing machine, the pastebrush, the scissors.

Miss Potter's address was the first of a series of sociological lectures to be given at Barnard under the auspices of the College Settlement Association. Next month Dr. Eliot, of the Hudson Guild, will speak.

SOCIETE FRANCAISE

A meeting of the Société Française was held recently to elect new members from the Freshman class.

Owing to Ray West's resignation from the office of secretary, Marion Montser was elected in her stead.
