INFORMAL MEET-FRIDAY. MAY 6TH

Those who were not present at the swimming meet last Friday, either in the pool or in the gallery, missed an afternoon of rare sport. It was an informal meet, the first half of which consisted of regulation swimming events. The last part was the one most enjoyed by everyone, however, for it was made up of novelty events. Bobbing for marshmallows; paddling in the tubs, a "potato race," and a highly amusing obstacle race at the finish were some of the features.

Miss Kahrs distinguished herself in the 20 yard dash by making it in less time than had ever been made in the pool before, while Miss Boas carried off first place in the meet through her excellent form swimming and diving.

BASEBALL T.C. Wins the Series

In the last game of the season played in our gymnasium on Thursday, May 5th, Barnard's baseball team met a decided defeat at the hands of their opponents, T.C. Through the whole time, Barnard did not seem to enter into the game from the batting and running standpoint. Her field work durmg the first part of the game was faulty and allowed the T.C. team to run up a high score which Barnard did not even approach. Toward the fourth inning, however, team spirit and a desire to show the T.C. rooters that they could do something after all, worked wonders in the field, and, from that time on T.C.'s onrush was somewhat checked. But a miracle could not be accomplished in two innings and the game ended with an appalling discrepancy between the total scores.

It was not entirely due to the team that Barnard lost the game and the series to T.C. a week ago last Thursday. Anyone present at the game witnessed the enthusiastic support which the T.C. rooters gave to their team both in numbers and in cheering. Why can't Barnard back up her teams in some more substantial fashion? To be sure, a small number of "fans" attend the games regularly and do their best to back the players, but it is only with the whole college behind them that the members of the team can do their best work.

SPANISH CLUB PRESENTS "QUE FELICIDAD"

On the afternoon of Friday, May 8, the Spanish Club presented a good Brinckerhoff audience with "Que Felicidad" in other than the titular sense. Senorita Dorado had trained her cast so scrupulously that their accents were comprehensible to even the baby Spanish class. A distinct Spanish atmosphere was achieved in costume, staging and acting. E. Claffin was one of the best lovers ever seen on the Barnard stage; and the performance of L. Morales was remarkable for clever makeup and fluent Spanish. Doris Craven's rendering of two Spanish dances, "Maldonado" and "Cuchacha" added greatly to the attractiveness of the production. Gertrude Mannis, chairman of the play, is to be congratulated on her success.

At the business meeting held on Thursday, May fifth, the members of Deutscher Kreis decided not to apply for a re-chartering of the club this spring. It was generally conceded a better policy to let it die until there should be a spontaneous demand for such an organization. Let us hope to see an enthusiastic revival of a new Deutscher Kreis next year.

ALUMNAE PARTY

Little money and many notices makes our space for news very limited these past few weeks. We can only mention some of the nice things that are happening about us. Thursday night the Alumnae had a party with John Jay and Brooks in the Theatre and from all accounts there should be more like it. Helen Carrol's play "Greater Love Hath No Man" that was given as a workshop play by Wigs and Cues a short time ago, was repeated with much improvement of plot. Brooks also repeated an exceptionally good stunt.

ECONOMIC DETERMINISM

The theory of economic determinism, having long since passed into the most cherished fastnesses of Barnard can't scarcely need be explained here. It is however, most pointedly to the point to suggest a practical application of the theory, which may have occured spontaneously to but few of its devotees. Interpreted in this harsh light, and quite without illusion, the history of the present shrinking sheet is pitiably suggestive of a rapid complete demolition. - An invisible hat of advertisements, having swallowed "Under the Clock" and a good part of the news, is descending, less picturesquely than might be desired, upon Miss Meyer's notices and A.A. news. The outlook is hopeless except to certain extraordinarily radical investigators. These, within the next few, and, it may be, otherwise occupied weeks, propose most diligently to comb the Senior Class for possible converts. Their platform, succinctly stated, is: "A Bulletin containing at least a caption." The party pledge will be a three years' subscription to Bulletin.

Editor of the Bulletin,

Barnard College, New York. Dear Madam,

This semester the Book Exchange was in its infancy and like all those of tender age must be excused on account of its youth. However, unlike most infants to six months, it recognizes and sincerely regrets all deficiencies.

The first misfortune lay in lack of advertisement. Undergrads, waiting for the elevator in Milbank basement, have pointed to the Exchange door and asked with a yawn, "What is that?"

In the second place books didn't arrive on time. You have to try to catalogue books and sell them at the same time to appreciate the difficulty. The Exchange would frantically advertise around the college for a Zadig or an Elementary Analysis or a Baldwin's Grammar, only to have some friend remember, "Oh! I think I have mine home in a trunk somewhere."

It is essential that books arrive on time. Now the books that you'll want to sell second-hand next year you'll have at the end of this year. It will be comforting to dispose of them after exams. In view of this the Exchange will be open to receive books at the end of this semester during the week of May 23rd, and at the beginning of next year from September 19-24, when you come back early to make out schedules.

Please bring your books on time! Sincerely yours,

Ruth Callan.

MEMORIAL DAY POPPY DRIVE

They may be obtained everywhere in the United States. The New York City Committee would appreciate it if Barnard girls would aid in selling the poppies on May 28, 29 or 30. If you can help in this work please notify Enid Mack, chairman of the Barnard Poppy Day Committee.
