Mr. Willard's Address at the College Settlement Association Reception.

On Saturday, March 2nd, the Barnard College Chapter, together with the sub-chapters, held its Annual College Settlement Association reception at the Settlement house.

The Barnard girls on the Reception Committee, with the aid of some of the members of the classes of the Settlement, showed many of their up-town acquaintances through the delightful old-fashioned house. Most of the guests were astonished at the handsome mahogany wainscoting, and fire-places, as well as at the cosy furnishings, ample library, and comfortable bedrooms of the head workers.

The guests were also taken across the street to a rather tumble-down frame building, the kindergarten and music school. Much interest was shown in the gymnastic class that was exercising there. One little infant prodigy, of six years, too, was calmly practising on the piano while visitors passed in and out.

After the inspection of the buildings, short addresses were held. Of these, that of Mr. Willard, a young man well-known for his work on the East Side, was the most important.

Mr. Willard, without any preliminary talking, started right in to tell the auditors a number of his personal experiences on the East Side. Some of these were amusing, others pathetic.

When Mr. Willard had finished telling his fascinating stories, tea, chocolate, and refreshments were served, while every one talked informally with the members of the association.

The French Play.

With the help of the coach, M. Le Sueur, the cast of the French play has been finally decided upon and read as follows:

LA VEUVE.

Leoneius.....	Mr. Boise
Noeancey.....	Mr. Hoguet
Baginnel.....	Mr. McKean
Gaetan.....	Mr. Hamilton
Joseph.....	Mr. Keeler
Kernoa.....	Mr. de Beaumont
La Countesse.....	Miss Spencer
Madame Palmer.....	Miss Rogers
Madame de Chateau-Lausac.....	Miss Stone
Albertine.....	Miss Johnson
Mademoiselle de Charentomidy.....	Miss Lyon
Amélie.....	Miss Hoguet

LES DEUX TIMIDES.

Thibaudier.....	Mr. Schuyler
Frémassin.....	Mr. de Beaumont
Garadon.....	Mr. Viète
Cécile.....	Miss Gruening
Nanette.....	Miss Fountan

The Barnard Seal.

At a meeting of the Undergraduate Association on Monday, March 4th, the question of the college pin was again brought up for discussion.

Many of the students liked the design in theory, but when they saw the sample pin, considered it too tasteless to be adopted for all time.

Consequently a vote was taken. As a result half of those present voted to keep the original idea, because they thought that the University colors ought to be part of the pin as well as the seal of the Barnard family. The other half of those present voted to have the simple Barnard seal without any added design. Miss Sanville made the casting vote in favor of the simple shield.

Madame Luchetti's Lecture.

Madame Luchetti, the widow of the former French consul at St. Thomas, gave a very entertaining reading to a small attendance in the theatre on Tuesday last. The selections were all short, and so well chosen that the interest of the audience did not for a moment flag. The first story read was the well known and pathetic description, "La Deniere Classe," by Alphonse Daudet. This was followed by "La Dame a l'Evantail Blanc," and two selections of a more humorous nature, "Mar Perroquet" and "La Nihiliste."

Silhouettes.

There was a novel entertainment provided for the members of the Deutscher Kreis at its meeting on Friday, March 1st.

Each girl was taken alone into a room, where the shadow of her profile was thrown on a sheet of paper on the wall. A member of the Entertainment Committee then drew a pencil outline of the shadow. All these profile drawings were then laid before the members for them to guess whose profile each drawing represented.

Much fun was created by the queer little characteristics by which alone the proper guesses could be made.

Miss Elliman, making the largest number of correct guesses, obtained the first prize, a very odd little "Stein." The second prize, a German play, fell to the lot of Miss Alsberg. And Miss Hall had to accept a nice, slick little pig, as her guesses were the poorest.

Each prize was presented with a pretty little German verse by one of the committee.

Women's Graduate Club.

President Seth Low will address the Women's Graduate Club on "The Graduates of Columbia University," at 4:30 o'clock, March 13th, Room 211 West Hall. All graduates are cordially invited to be present.

First Play Rehearsal.

The first rehearsal of "She Stoops to Conquer" was held on Tuesday, March 5th. For a first trial the students did very well in the rôles they presented.

Mr. Sanger is sure to make a success of the play, to judge by his sincere work thus far. The cast was chosen after open competition.

The cast selected by the coach, Mr. Sanger, and approved by the Play Committee, is as follows:

Young Marlowe.....	Miss Lyon
Hastings.....	Miss Earle
Miss Hardcastle.....	Miss Townsend
Miss Neville.....	Miss Bergen
Mr. Hardcastle.....	Miss McKenney
Mrs. Hardcastle.....	Miss Cahn
Sir Charles Marlowe.....	Miss Metcalf
Diggory.....	Miss E. Poole
Landlord.....	Miss E. Hunt
Maid.....	Miss Carll

The part of Tony Lumpkin has not yet been decided.

Smith Alumnae vs. Barnard.

On Monday, March 11th, at 4.15, the Barnard College basketball team will meet the Smith College alumnae team in the Barnard gymnasium in a friendly contest.

All members of the Basketball Club are invited to witness the game. If non-members wish to see the game, and there is room for them, they will be admitted on payment of twenty-five cents.

Syracuse vs. Barnard.

On Friday, March 15th, the Basketball Club will welcome the Syracuse team at Barnard.

In the evening the visitors will meet the members of the Basketball Club in the theatre. Then they will be the guests of the team for the night.

The following morning, the 16th, the match will be played in the gymnasium. After the game the teams will take luncheon together in Fiske Hall.

All members of the Basketball Club who intend to be present at the entertainment of the Syracuse team on Friday evening, March 15th, will be expected to notify one of the following before next week: Miss Totten, '02; Miss Wendt, '03; Miss Earle, '02.

Elsa Alsberg, President.

The Department of English wishes to obtain a complete list of Barnard students who are competent and willing to do tutoring in English. Students who wish to do such work are kindly requested to write to Mr. Brewster, stating the amount and the kind of work they desire, the charge per hour for their services, and their address.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, MARCH 11, 1901.

The editors have been requested to publish notices of the Teachers' College lectures that are open to Barnard students.

In so far as it is possible to find these out in time, as, for instance, when they are printed in circulars issued by Teachers' College, the editors will endeavor to print the notices of such meetings in the BULLETIN. But since the Teachers' College Bulletin is issued simultaneously with the Barnard paper, the desired news of lectures is often not easily had.

For this reason we invite all students to read the Teachers' College Bulletin and other university papers, which are always on hand in the BULLETIN office.

The new system of uniform college entrance examinations which is to go into effect in June, 1901, is a matter of the greatest interest, both as a practical issue to all students preparing for college, and as a development in educational work, to all persons interested in school and college work. It is the practical outcome of many years' discussion by the prominent educators of the country, and though the result is not in the least what the ordinary member of society assumes it to be, yet it is of far greater scientific interest, and is of practical value to college, school, and pupil.

First of all, let it be distinctly understood that it will in no manner or fashion oblige the colleges to change their entrance requirements. Each college can require examinations in as many subjects as it will, and can set as the passing mark as high a grade as it will. But in each subject or in each division of each subject, all candidates will have the same paper, and they will all be read and graded on the same basis. To each candidate the Examining Board will issue a certificate stating in what points he has been examined and what grade he has received, and this certificate the candidate will present to any college, where it will be accepted for what it is worth, according to the requirements of that college. For instance one college may require a candidate to pass 20 points and may set 40 per cent. as the passing mark. Another may require 15 points and 60 or 75 per cent. In one college the Latin examination may cover three authors besides grammar and composition, and count as three points—in another it may not include composition and so count two points, or may cover additional authors and count four points. The essential feature is that for each point the examination is the same, and that the certificate can be presented at any one of the colleges that enters into the arrangement and will be accepted for what it is worth; but the certificate itself only stands in lieu of certain specific examinations, not necessarily in lieu of the whole entrance examination. According to the circular of the committee, "The Board examines for college, but does not admit to college." The great advantage from the wider educational point of view is that it will tend to systematize school training and make it uniform, and that it will set an absolutely fair standard for measurement for the success of the schools and for the requirements of the colleges.

To the colleges, aside from the above, the special advantages are: the economy of administration, and secondarily, the better preparation that will be secured in the schools. At present all the large colleges are subjected to the great expense of holding their own examinations at different cities all over the country, and there is much duplication of labor and expense.

To the schools, the fact that the same line of preparation will be of service for all the colleges, and that teachers qualified to prepare for college can prepare for all and will not need any special experience in working for any one set of examinations. All college preparatory students can work in the same classes; it will merely be necessary for some to go farther than others in some of the subjects or to take certain additional subjects.

To the pupils, because at any preparatory school they can secure really good preparation for any of the colleges and need not decide what college they wish to attend till late in their school life. The certificate can be used in any of the colleges concerned for what it is worth, so that, in case of change of plans, no work will be lost.

The examinations will be held in June, 1901, as follows: In the Middle States in thirty-eight towns aside from five places in greater New York and two in Philadelphia. In the New England States in eighteen towns. In the Southern States in twenty-six towns. In the Western States in thirty-seven towns. Also in Honolulu, Havana, Montreal, Quebec and Toronto, Edinburgh, London, Paris, Berlin, Munich, Strasburg. This makes a total of 137 places.

The certificate of the Board is accepted as an equivalent for its own separate entrance examinations upon the same subjects by all the colleges and the scientific schools of the Middle States and Maryland, and by many of the colleges and scientific schools of New England, the South and the West.

Basket-Ball Notes.

The dues of 50 cents are payable at once to the Treasurer of the Basket-Ball Club, Miss Kroeber, '03, and prompt payment by members of the club will greatly facilitate the arrangements for the coming matches.

All members of the Basket-Ball Club are invited to be present to meet the University of Syracuse Basket-Ball Team, in the theatre, on Friday, March 15th, at 8 P. M.

Undergraduate Notes.

Photographs of plays given in College are to be taken only by Byron, 53 West Thirty-second street, and the plates to be deposited with the Dean.

Prices: 8 x 10, with five prints, $5.

8 x 10 duplicate copies, 40 cents each.

Amounting to approximately 50 cents apiece:

By order of Self-Government Committee.

The Board of Trustees has requested that the Undergraduate Teas shall be absolutely over and the room closed at 7 P. M.

At the last Undergraduate Association meeting a motion was passed that dancing at the teas shall not begin until 5.45 P. M.

Miss Walker requests that all non-resident students who intend to come in after 10 P. M. to pass the night at Fiske Hall, shall make arrangements with her beforehand. This does not apply in the case of students who arrange to go out to entertainments with resident students.

The girl in charge of the coat-room is engaged to stay until 6 o'clock only, therefore arrangements must be made with Miss Walker by any one who wish to make use of it after that time.

Columbia Won in Debate.

On Thursday evening, March 7th, Columbia won the debate against Cornell in Lenox Lyceum.

The debate was a very interesting and closely contested one. The teams were as follows: Cornell, R. S. Kent, 1902; S. S. Lowenthal, 1901; W. M. Wyvell, 1901, and G. P. Winters, 1902, as alternate; Columbia: C. A. Baker, 1902; E. A. Cardoza, 1902; B. M. L. Ernst, 1902, and A. G. Hays, 1902, as alternate.

French Lectures by Monsieur Deschamps

Monsieur Gaston Deschamps, one of the foremost critics of France, is to give a series of four lectures at Columbia during March.

M. Deschamps was invited to give the "Hyde Lectures" at Harvard this year, and this is the fortunate cause of bringing this distinguished reviewer and archaeologist to America, and of affording to us, too, at Columbia, the opportunity of hearing him.

The subject on which M. Deschamps, the literary critic of the Temps, will lecture, is "L'Histoire de la Presse en France pendant le 19<sup>ème</sup> siècle."

The lectures will be as follows:

1. Thursday, March 14th, at 3.30, "La Restauration (1814-1830)."
2. Saturday, March 16th, at 11.30, "Le Gouvernement de Juillet et la Dernière République (1830-1852)."
3. Monday, March 18th, at 3.30, "Le Second Empire et l'Assemblée Nationale (1852-1875)."
4. Thursday, March 21st, at 3.30, "La Presse sous la Constitution de 1875."

Each student may obtain one ticket for the lectures by applying in writing to the secretary of the University on or before March 4th.

Columbia University includes both a college and a university in the strict sense of the word. The college is Columbia College, founded in 1754 as King's College. The university consists of the Faculties of Law, Medicine, Philosophy, Political Science, Pure Science and Applied Science.

The point of contact between the college and university is the senior year of the college, during which year students in the college pursue their studies, with the consent of the college faculty under one or more of the faculties of the university.

Barnard College, a college for women, is financially a separate corporation; but educationally, is a part of the system of Columbia University.

Teachers College, a professional school for teachers, is also, financially, a separate corporation; and also educationally, a part of the system of Columbia University.

Each college and school is under the charge of its own faculty, except that the Schools of Mines, Chemistry, Engineering and Architecture are all under the charge of the Faculty of Applied Science.

For the care and advancement of the general interests of the university educational system, as a whole, a Council has been established, which is representative of all the corporations concerned.

I. THE COLLEGES.

Columbia College offers for men a course of four years, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for admission to the college must be at least fifteen years of age, and pass an examination on prescribed subjects, the particulars concerning which may be found in the annual Circular of Information.

Barnard College, founded in 1889, offers for women a course of four years, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for admission to the college must be at least fifteen years of age, and pass an examination on prescribed subjects, the particulars concerning which may be found in the annual Circular of Information.

II. THE UNIVERSITY.

In a technical sense, the Faculties of Law, Medicine, Philosophy, Political Science, Pure Science, and Applied Science, taken together constitute the university. These faculties offer advanced courses of study and investigation, respectively, in (a) private or municipal law, (b) medicine, (c) philosophy, philology, and letters, (d) history, economics, and public law (e) mathematics and natural science, and (f) applied science. Courses of study under all of these faculties are open to members of the senior class in Columbia College. Certain courses under the non-professional faculties are open to women who have taken the first degree. These courses lead, through the Bachelor's degree, to the university degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. The degree of Master of Laws is also conferred for advanced work in law done under the Faculties of Law and Political Science together.

III. THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS.

The Faculties of Law, Medicine, and Applied Science, conduct respectively the professional schools of Law, Medicine, Mines, Chemistry, Engineering, and Architecture, to which students are admitted as candidates for professional degrees on terms prescribed by the faculties concerned. The faculty of Teachers' College conducts professional courses for teachers, that lead to a diploma of the university.

1. The SCHOOL OF LAW, established in 1858, offers a course of three years, in the principles and practice of private and public law, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

2. The COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, founded in 1807, offers a course of four years, in the principles and practice of medicine and surgery, leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

3. The SCHOOL OF MINES, established in 1864, offers courses of study, each of four years, leading to a professional degree, in mining engineering and in metallurgy.

4. The SCHOOLS OF CHEMISTRY, ENGINEERING, AND ARCHITECTURE, set off from the School of Mines in 1896, offer respectively, courses of study, each of four years, leading to an appropriate professional degree, in analytical and applied chemistry; in civil, sanitary, electrical, and mechanical engineering; and in architecture.

5. TEACHERS' COLLEGE, founded in 1888 and chartered in 1889, was included in the university system in 1898. It offers the following courses of study: (a) graduate courses leading to the higher diploma or to the secondary diploma; (b) professional courses, each of two years, leading to diplomas for teachers and supervisors in kindergartens or elementary schools, or for specialists in Domestic Art, Domestic Science, Fine Arts, and Manual Training; (c) a collegiate course of two years, which, if followed by a two years' professional course, leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science. Certain of its courses may be taken without extra charge by students of the university in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy.
