Glasgow University Students' Representative Council.

The following notice has been received by the President of the Undergraduate Association:

The Ninth Jubilee of our University is to be celebrated this year. A series of fêtes to commemorate the occasion is being arranged, and we desire that in these celebrations we should be joined, as far as possible, by students from all the universities of the world.

We accordingly invite student delegates from your College to be our guests on the 12th, 13th, and 14th of June next.

Details of the arrangements will be forwarded later, but meanwhile permit us to hope that you may find it convenient to accept our invitation, and that we may be favored by an early reply.

For the Jubilee Celebrations Students' Committee.

JOHN MUIR,
President, S. R. C.
OWEN LLOYD JONES,
Secretary, S. R. C.

The University, Glasgow.

Will any regular students who are to be in England this summer, and who can attend the Jubilee, kindly hand their names to Miss Sanville?

The German Play.

"Englisch," a farce by Goerner, will be presented by the Deutscher Kreis, probably on May 2nd. The following students compose the cast: Miss Naumburg, '02; Miss Pollak, '02; Miss Alsberg, '02; Miss Rosenstein, '02; Miss Kroeber, '03; Miss Herzfeld, '03; Miss Wick, '04, and Miss Newman, '04.

Meeting of Social Science Club.

The Social Science Club of Columbia University held its regular bi-weekly meeting on Tuesday, April 2nd. Mr. Harold Hayes, '02, was elected to take the place of the former president, who had resigned his office. After the business of the meeting, Mr. W. D. P. Bliss, president of the Social Reform Union, spoke on "Strikes and Boycotts," from the workingman's point of view. He was followed by Mr. Hayes, who presented informally some aspects of the question from the employer's standpoint. The discussion was then made general.

The next meeting of the club is to be held in the Library on April 16th. All those who are interested in the subject of "Trades Unions" are cordially invited to attend. Membership in the club is open to all students of Columbia, Barnard, and Teachers' College. The only requirement for admission to the society is interest in social problems, and the dues of the club are but 25 cents a year.

G. M. PETERS,
Barnard Member of Executive Committee.

The Columbia Jester.

On Monday, April 1st, the initial number of the "Columbia Jester" made its appearance. The "Jester," as is needless to say, is a comic paper, which will hold in Columbia approximately the same position as "The Record" in Yale, and "The Lamoon" in Harvard. The subscription for the paper, which will appear twice a month, is $1.50 a year. The editor-in-chief, as the BULLETIN has before announced, is Mr. W. H. Grace, and the business manager, Mr. W. B. Shoemaker.

The Romance Lecture.

Under the course of Romance lectures given in the University, Mr. Brewster spoke Wednesday night, April 3rd, in 305 Shermerhorn, on "Portuguese Popular Poetry." Mr. Brewster explained the meagreness of Portuguese literature by the facts of the imitativeness and illiteracy of the people. Portugal possessed a very small reading public, and the great bulk of Portuguese poetry is preserved by word of mouth.

Portuguese literature is prose, verse, and nursery rhymes. The most extensive and interesting form is the romance, whose attributes are respect, courage, and love. The romance is characterized by rapid movement, gained by a sometimes excessive use of dialogue. The controlling motive is always sentiment.

The range of subjects is not large; the Portuguese writer would sacrifice substance for style regularly.

Besides the romance, Portuguese literature contains many love songs, hymns, and lyrics.

Mr. Brewster read a number of lyrics, some in the original, and others in translations. His subject next week will be certain distinguished poets who used the lyric form; "The Predecessors of Camoens."

Y. W. C. A. Nominations.

The Nominating Committee of the Y. W. C. A. is to consist of Miss Eaton, '01, chairman; Miss McCook, '02; Miss Harrison, '03; Miss Smith, '04, and Miss Wick, '04.

All nominations for president, vice-president, recording secretary, corresponding secretary and treasurer, must be handed in one week before the day of election. The president must be a member of either the Junior or the Sophomore Class.

The meeting for the election of officers will be held on Thursday, April 25th, at 12.30 o'clock.

The New Coach.

Mr. Cook, well known as one of the best basket-ball coaches and general athletes in the country, has consented to coach the Barnard Team on Wednesday afternoons.

Toy Symphony Concert.

There will be a concert given by the Toy Symphony Orchestra of Barnard College, in Brinckerhoff Theatre, on Saturday evening, April 13th, at 8.15 o'clock.

1903 Notes.

At the regular monthly meeting of the class, held on Monday, April 1st, class officers and "Mortarboard" editors for the Junior year were elected. Results are as follows: President, Anna Ware; vice-president, May Moën; secretary, Florence Cheesman; treasurer, Irma Stern; historian, Clare Howard. The "Mortarboard" editors will be: Clare Howard, editor-in-chief; Jean Miller, Ethel Pool, Helen King, Clara Gruening, Anita Cahn; Helen Rogers, business manager; Anna Ware and May Moën, members ex-officio. May Harrison, Jean Miller and Helen Rogers were elected to act as members of the Executive Committee, together with the four regular class officers.

E. M. Pool, Secretary.

Gift to the Biological Department.

Mrs. Henry F. Osborn, trustee of the College, has collected $1,300 to equip the Biological Department of Barnard College so as to enable it to carry on adequate work without the privileges of Columbia College laboratories. This new laboratory will be primarily for the use of women graduate students, who are not now admitted to the Columbia laboratories. Undergraduates will, however, profit by this equipment. Room 403 will probably be taken, and the equipment will be in readiness by next fall. The number of instructors in the department will be increased in consequence of the new work to be carried on.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, APRIL 8, 1901.

The Deutscher Kreis is about to give us more proof of its energetic and useful existence, in presenting, for the first time, a German play that will be open to the whole College. The play, "Englisch," by Goerner, a slight but characteristically charming farce, is to be simply presented. No great expense will be lavished on stage properties, but the Deutscher Kreis hopes by enthusiastic acting to make up for inelaborate setting, and to present a play that will compare, in some respects at least, with more elaborate productions of other organizations.

The severity of the winter weather, together with the depredations of troublesome street gamins, have resulted in putting the tennis court in such a condition as to make its name suggestive of irony. To get the court into shape for spring use the Tennis Club is in immediate need of funds. We, therefore, urge all Barnard students to give their hearty support to the Toy Symphony, which is undertaken for the benefit of the club, both by buying tickets and coming to the concert. Quite apart from the worthiness of the object, it may be remarked, the Symphony bids fair to be an amusing and attractive entertainment, and has the advantages of being informal and inexpensive.

The Basket-Ball Club and the College in general are to be congratulated on having secured the services of Mr. Cook as coach for the team.

Mr. Cook is well known as a coach of first rank. He has charge of the gymnasium of the School for Deaf Mutes, which has one of the best amateur teams in the country, and he has at one time or another helped train most of the winning teams in the East. Quite apart from recommendations such as these is the almost immediate improvement in Barnard's playing under Mr. Cook's direction. Any one watching practice last Wednesday afternoon must have been impressed by his cleverness and rapidity in handling the ball, and by the simplicity, yet efficiency, of his methods. Under Mr. Cook's directions it seems safe to say that Barnard is likely to turn out a fine team.

The first number of any paper is a difficult enterprise, as the editors of our very unpretentious BULLETIN may bear witness; and therefore do the editors realize the added difficulties attending the issuing of a comic publication. Nevertheless, we must confess that a feeling of disappointment has attended our inspection of the first number of the "Columbia Jester"; we thought, and still think, that in the words of a "Jester" editorial there is enough "art, wit, and humor inherent in the minds of Columbia students" to warrant something better than the somewhat ponderous display of jocularity that met the eyes of its expectant subscribers last Monday morning.

The illustrations were good, but the humor lacks much that its friends hope to see it possess in future. It fails particularly in fulfilling its purpose as a distinctively Columbia publication, and in expressing the humorous side of a purely college life. We confidently expect to see the future numbers fulfil the expectations aroused within us by the truly artistic cover of the paper and the commendable purpose that the editors have in view.

Smith-Bryn Mawr Alumnae Game.

On Saturday morning, March 30th, the Alumnae basket-ball teams of Smith and Bryn Mawr played a match game in the Lenox Lyceum. The game was open to the public, and a large audience was in attendance.

The teams played nine on a side—a reminiscence of the old-time woman's game—but followed in other respects the regular Spaulding rules. Scoring was made extremely difficult by the fact that the baskets had no screens behind them. In spite of this disadvantage Smith put up an exceedingly good game, scoring six points to Bryn Mawr's two. Both teams, and Bryn Mawr in particular, were weak in guarding. Smith had a slight advantage over her opponent in this respect, and managed to get in some very fine and steady team work. The game, on the whole, was well played and interesting. Barnard wishes to express its thanks for the kind invitation which was extended to its team.

Play Notes.

The Play Committee wishes to remind the students that the play will take place two weeks from the coming Friday and Saturday. Invitations will be ready next week.

Notice.

Messrs. Chouinard & Curtis, photographers, 434 Fifth avenue, have offered the Barnard girls special rates for their photographs, provided a club of fifteen at least be formed. Only two or three more are needed to make up the required number. Will any one desiring to see samples kindly call at Room 333 Fiske Hall any afternoon after 4.30 o'clock, or leave a note in letter box "W." in Milbank?

MARIE LOUISE WEHNCKE.

Notice.

The "Mortarboard" has the following "trade ads." to sell, with one-third discount on all photographs and a reduction on teachers' applications.

Business Manager, '02, "Mortarboard."

Basket-Ball Notes.

On account of the Sophomore play, which takes place on Wednesday, April 10th, Mr. Cook will coach the players on Monday, April 8th, instead. All players are urged to be present promptly at 3.45 o'clock, in the Gymnasium.

Amendment to the Constitution.

The following is in substance the amendment to the constitution of the Undergraduate Association that is to be voted on at the next meeting:

Any student taking no less than fifteen hours weekly of regular undergraduate work may, if she so desires, become a member of the Undergraduate Association, provided that she assumes all the responsibilities connected with the membership. Such a student may have all the privileges of regular membership, except that of holding office.

Notice.

Basket-ball practice will continue to be held regularly on Monday and Wednesday afternoons, and will not be suspended unless other arrangements have been made at least a week in advance, with the captain of the team.

Toy Symphony Orchestra.

The Toy Symphony Orchestra of Barnard College, Miss Marian Newcomb, conductor, will give a concert in the Theatre, Brinckerhoff Hall, on Saturday evening, April 13th, for the benefit of the Tennis Club. Admission 25 cents.

Additional Gift to Teachers' College.

Friends of Teachers' College have pledged themselves to give twelve thousand dollars a year toward maintaining the school that is to be founded by the recent gift of one hundred thousand dollars for that purpose.

The building for this model school will probably be erected on Amsterdam avenue and 124th or 125th street.

Alumnae Notes.

As there was no quorum at the meeting of the Alumnae held on Wednesday, April 3rd, it was impossible to transact any business. It was decided, however, that a meeting should be called in April, before the reception to be given to the Senior Class on the 24th of that month.

1901 Class Notes.

There will be a meeting of the Class of 1901 in Room 304 at 4.30 o'clock on Thursday, April 11th.

Undergraduate Notes.

There will be a very important meeting of the Undergraduate Association on Monday, April 16th, in Room 414, at 3:30 o'clock.

The matters to be discussed at this meeting are the proposed amendment to the constitution, the college pin, and the appointment of ushers for the Dean's inauguration. In addition the Executive Committee will suggest reopening the question of invitations to the College play.

It has been ascertained that students wishing to take books over night from the Barnard Reading Room may do so by leaving their names and a list of the desired books with Miss Sumner. The books will be placed in the telephone room for them. This fact will in a large measure do away with the annoyance that has been felt at the early closing of the Ella Weed Room.

The Executive Committee has suggested that the president appoint a committee to secure a large Barnard flag for the purposes of decoration.

The Executive Committee has appointed Miss Chapin, '02, Miss Barrick, '01, and Miss Rogers, '03, to act as a committee on invitations for the college play.

Columbia University in the City of New York.

Columbia University includes both a college and a university in the strict sense of the word. The college is Columbia College, founded in 1754 as King's College. The university consists of the Faculties of Law, Medicine, Philosophy, Political Science, Pure Science and Applied Science.

The point of contact between the college and university is the senior year of the college, during which year students in the college pursue their studies, with the consent of the college faculty, under one or more of the faculties of the university.

Barnard College, a college for women, is financially, a separate corporation; but educationally, is a part of the system of Columbia University.

Teachers College, a professional school for teachers, is also, financially, a separate corporation; and also educationally, a part of the system of Columbia University.

Each college and school is under the charge of its own faculty, except that the Schools of Mines, Chemistry, Engineering and Architecture are all under the charge of the Faculty of Applied Science.

For the care and advancement of the general interests of the university educational system, as a whole, a Council has been established, which is representative of all the corporations concerned.

I. THE COLLEGES.

Columbia College offers for men a course of four years, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for admission to the college must be at least fifteen years of age, and pass an examination on prescribed subjects, the particulars concerning which may be found in the annual Circular of Information.

Barnard College, founded in 1889, offers for women a course of four years, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Arts. Candidates for admission to the college must be at least fifteen years of age, and pass an examination on prescribed subjects, the particulars concerning which may be found in the annual Circular of Information.

II. THE UNIVERSITY.

In a technical sense, the Faculties of Law, Medicine, Philosophy, Political Science, Pure Science, and Applied Science, taken together constitute the university. These faculties offer advanced courses of study and investigation, respectively, in (a) private or municipal law, (b) medicine, (c) philosophy, philology, and letters, (d) history, economics, and public law (e) mathematics and natural science, and (f) applied science. Courses of study under all of these faculties are open to members of the senior class in Columbia College. Certain courses under the non-professional faculties are open to women who have taken the first degree. These courses lead, through the Bachelor's degree, to the university degrees of Master of Arts and Doctor of Philosophy. The degree of Master of Laws is also conferred for advanced work in law done under the Faculties of Law and Political Science together.

III. THE PROFESSIONAL SCHOOLS.

The Faculties of Law, Medicine, and Applied Science, conduct respectively the professional schools of Law, Medicine, Mines, Chemistry, Engineering, and Architecture, to which students are admitted as candidates for professional degrees on terms prescribed by the faculties concerned. The faculty of Teachers' College conducts professional courses for teachers, that lead to a diploma of the university.

1. The SCHOOL OF LAW, established in 1858, offers a course of three years, in the principles and practice of private and public law, leading to the degree of Bachelor of Laws.

2. The COLLEGE OF PHYSICIANS AND SURGEONS, founded in 1807, offers a course of four years, in the principles and practice of medicine and surgery, leading to the degree of Doctor of Medicine.

3. The SCHOOL OF MINES, established in 1864, offers courses of study, each of four years, leading to a professional degree, in mining engineering and in metallurgy.

4. The SCHOOLS OF CHEMISTRY, ENGINEERING, AND ARCHITECTURE, set off from the School of Mines in 1896, offer respectively, courses of study, each of four years, leading to an appropriate professional degree, in analytical and applied chemistry; in civil, sanitary, electrical, and mechanical engineering; and in architecture.

5. TEACHERS' COLLEGE, founded in 1888 and chartered in 1889, was included in the university system in 1898. It offers the following courses of study: (a) graduate courses leading to the higher diploma or to the secondary diploma; (b) professional courses, each of two years, leading to diplomas for teachers and supervisors in kindergartens or elementary schools, or for socialists in Domestic Art, Domestic Science, Fine Arts, and Manual Training; (c) a collegiate course of two years, which, if followed by a two years' professional course, leads to the degree of Bachelor of Science. Certain of its courses may be taken without extra charge by students of the university in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degrees of Bachelor of Arts, Master of Arts, and Doctor of Philosophy.
