Indian Missionary Addresses Chapel

There was an unusually large attendance at Chapel on Tuesday, when the Rev. Frank C. Wright led the services and sang. Mr. Wright has a very fine tenor voice and sang several hymns with sympathy and power.

His father was chief of the Choctaw tribe, and he was graduated from Union College. Mr. Wright gave an account of his field of work in Oklahoma Territory, and of the five civilized tribes, with their officers, laws and schools, copied after the Arkansas statutes, really forming a state within a state, whose members hope soon to be admitted to the citizenship of the United States.

He spoke of the work among the prisoners of war, of Geronimo's band and of the difficulty of reaching these men, because of the many different indifferent tribe languages which necessitated the use of interpreters and a sign-language. He then spoke of the practical outcome of missions, and of the human element in missionary service, giving a description of the funeral of an Indian girl, and of the picturesque baptism of an Indian chief, with its combination of Christian ceremonial and Indian custom. He also told of his many experiences in converting men, women and children in the missions, of the joy of spreading the Gospel, ending with an appeal for unselfishness in religious life.

After Chapel, Mr. Wright was entertained at luncheon in Fiske Hall by Dean Gill, Miss Knox, Prof. Clark and Dr. Findlay. Later he sang again for the students in Fiske Hall.

College Settlement Association Moves

The College Settlement Association, in which Barnard is actively interested through the Barnard Chapter, expects to move into new quarters on Ludlow street, corner of Houston, next January.

The new house was bought for $12,500 by three business men interested in the settlement work, and is rented from them at $1,000 per annum. A significant fact to those who understand east-side conditions is that Miss Myrta L. Jones, who has been a resident worker at the House, occupies the position of landlord. The music school, one of the most flourishing branches of the work, has united with the music school of the University Settlement at 31 Rivington street, and is doing excellently. The treasury of the Settlement is in a prosperous condition, owing partly to the good work accomplished in the thirty sub-Chapters existing last year, partly to a gift of $1,500, given by the Junior League, which is made up of society girls having Miss Harriman as president. This fund is the proceeds of an entertainment given last season by the organization.

Mr. Jacob Riis has given permission to the Settlement to print for distribution his story "The Kid Hangs up his Stocking," which so well portrays the conditions the Settlement aims to alleviate.

Freshman-Sophomore Debate

A regular meeting of the Sophomore-Freshman Debating Club will be held on Tuesday, Nov. 19, 1901, at 3.20, in Room 301 Milbank. There will be a debate on the subject, "Resolved: That higher education is desirable for American girls not entering professions." The affirmative side will be upheld by the Misses Beifeld and Denton, the negative by the Misses Parker and Lexow. Election of officers for the year 1901-02 will be held. All Freshmen who have signified their desire to become members of the club are cordially invited to be present.

Convention at Syracuse

At the fifteenth annual convention of the Association of Colleges and Preparatory Schools of the Middle States and Maryland, Professor James H. Robinson and Acting-President Nicholas Murray Butler will take active part. The convention is to be held at Syracuse University on Friday and Saturday, November 29th and 30th.

Professor Robinson will read a paper on "The Elective System and a Liberal Education."

As Secretary of the Association, Professor Butler will report on the work of the College Entrance Examination Board.

Undergraduate Association Meeting

The first regular Undergraduate meeting was held Wednesday, November 13th, at 4.30. The business transacted was as follows:

1. The reading of the reports. The principal article accepted was in the report of the Self-Government Committee, which was a request to Dean Gill: "That the system of posting marks be done away with, and that her marks be sent to each student after each series of examinations."

2. Miss Goodyear was elected as the freshman member of the Executive Committee.

3. A motion was passed that the Undergraduate Association recognize officially the Athletic Association and that the Athletic Association control all athletics in the college.

Prof. Mayo-Smith

Barnard, as part of Columbia, regrets the loss the university has sustained in the death of Professor Mayo-Smith.

Teachers' College Bulletin

The Teachers' College Bulletin appears this year in an enlarged form. The paper is devoted to the interests of Teachers' College, and confines itself rather strictly to the "working side" and the technicalities of college administration. The Bulletin is a weekly publication, published by the students. Mr. J. H. Atkinson is the editor.

This week's issue contains an article of considerable importance on the "Revision of the Regulations Governing the Awarding of Diplomas in Teachers' College."

For the benefit of students in Barnard, who are interested in courses in Teachers' College, we quote the following extracts relating to work leading to the Bachelor's Diploma:

Courses Leading to Bachelor's Diploma.

1. For teaching English, French, German, Greek, Latin, History, Mathematics, Biology, Geography, or Physical Science in Secondary Schools.

1. Candidates for admission to this course must have successfully completed the sophomore year in the Collegiate Course of Teachers College, or an equivalent course in an approved college or institution of equal academic rank. Students who present evidence of the satisfactory completion of a course of study in advance of the sophomore year in an approved college may be admitted to advanced standing in this course. Students of Columbia College and of Barnard College may become candidates for the Bachelor's Diploma under the general regulations of the Faculties concerned.

2. Students admitted to this course are required to designate at the time of registration the subject or subjects in which the Diploma is sought. A total credit of at least nine points prior to graduation in each diploma-subject (i. e., the equivalent of three hours per week during three years) is required of all candidates. Courses taken in any year of collegiate study may be credited towards this requirement, but the Dean is authorized to require, on the recommendation of the head of the department concerned, so much additional credit in subject matter as may be deemed necessary.

3. Students admitted to this course are also required to complete courses amounting in all to thirty points (fifteen points during each year of residence)—these courses to include Psychology A and Education 3 in the junior year, and in the senior year, Education 1, 2, and either Education 12, 13, 16, 17, 18, 19, 21, 23 or 25, according to the diploma-subject.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1901.

It seems to the Bulletin that it is a very unfortunate state of affairs when an important question is voted on in undergraduate meeting without first being discussed in its pros and cons, especially for the benefit of new students.

An example of what we mean was the accepting of the report of the Self-Government Committee, to the effect that a petition be submitted to the Dean requesting that marks shall not be posted, without a single word being spoken in favor of this proposition or in opposition to it. There certainly is, without doubt, a great deal to be said on both sides of this question. Marks, are unfortunately, an important matter in college, and the posting or non-posting of them involves principles not at first sight perhaps apparent, and is not the petty affair it might seem.

It is impossible for new students to judge sensibly or intelligently of such questions unless older girls bring them forward into discussion, so that both sides of the argument may be revealed.

We have heard lately a good deal in regard to college enthusiasm springing up at Barnard, but it is certainly in direct opposition to enthusiasm and even loyalty to allow important matters to be decided at undergraduate meetings on a passive vote.

The Bulletin urges that in the future meetings be characterized by more active and enthusiastic discussion.

Basketball Games

The Basketball Executive Committee has decided to arrange, if possible, a series of three inter-class games before playing outside matches.

Freshmen will play against Sophomores, Juniors against Seniors, and the two winning teams of these matches will play each other.

As the Freshman class will have a very good team this season, the committee has decided to arrange for some games at Barnard between its team and teams of preparatory schools.

The Freshman teams are not yet definitely picked, but temporarily they consist of: Miss Fisher, Miss Cooley, Miss Talbot, Miss Dorrian, Miss Reiley, Miss Parker, Miss Hoffman, Miss Schultz, Miss Lyall and Miss Hill.

Alumnæ Association

There was an attendance of sixty members at the recent regular meeting of the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College. It was voted by all present to incorporate the association. The Committee on Athletics, with its original members, consisting of Miss Reilly, Miss Sutven and Miss Hammerslough, Chairman, is to serve for two years as a standing committee, with the addition of Miss Baldwin and Miss Shaw, serving for one year each. New officers of the association were elected with Miss Louise Dunn as vice-president, and Miss Madeleine Heroy as new member of the executive committee. Miss Parsons was re-elected recording secretary.

Teachers' College Notes

Barnard students taking courses in Teachers' College are expected to consult the Students' Bulletin at Teachers' College, and to attend any special meeting of students called by Dean Russel. They are also requested to call frequently at the Teachers' College post office for mail, as according to the new regulations for degrees, beginning with Thursday, Nov. 14, seniors and graduates taking courses in methods will receive through the mail, assignments for practice teaching, and teachers' positions. Those interested in the changes in the Teachers' College degrees, and the abolishment of the secondary diplomas may secure the information they may desire from the Teachers' College Bulletin, a copy of which is in the Bulletin Room.

Dean Russel requests the seniors to arrange a time for meeting him, so that they may obtain knowledge of new conditions.

Notice

The business meeting of the Société Française has been postponed until Tuesday, November 19th, at 12.30.

Will all the old members please make an effort to be present in order to vote on the applicants for admission? The meeting is very important as the plan of work for the year cannot be settled until the new members have been elected.

Notice of Athletic Association

The dues for the Athletic Association for this term are seventy-five cents, payable at once to the treasurer, Miss Draper, '05.

Teachers' College Bulletin

complete the course prescribed for the diploma will also receive from Columbia University the degree of Bachelor of Science. Students of Columbia College or Barnard College, who complete the course as above prescribed, will receive the diploma at the same time they receive their bachelor's degree.

The New Athletic Association

All students interested in athletics at Barnard College have long desired a union of the Tennis and Basket-Ball Clubs into one organization. After a long delay caused by the difficulties of arranging financial matters satisfactorily for both clubs, the officers of the Tennis Club and the officers of the Basket-Ball Club have at length been able to draw up a constitution for an association which shall promote interest in college athletics.

At a meeting of the two clubs, the officers presented to the members of the clubs a constitution for their adoption.

This constitution was temporarily accepted, until the constitutions of athletic associations in other women's colleges could be examined. It reads as follows:

Section I.

Article 1. The name of this organization shall be the Barnard Athletic Association.

Art. 2. This Association shall have control of all athletics in Barnard College.

Art. 3. The object of this organization shall be to promote interest in athletics at Barnard College.

Art. 4. Any Barnard student or any alumna of Barnard, may become a member of the Association by paying the yearly dues.

Section II.—Officers.

Article 1. The officers of the Association shall be a president, a vice-president, a secretary, and a treasurer.

Article 1. The officers of the Association shall constitute a finance committee.

Art. 2. There shall be an executive committee for each branch of athletics.

Art. 3. Each of these executive committees shall consist of five members, one of whom shall be the president of the Association and two of whom shall be active members of the Association. In the case of the Basket-Ball Executive Committee, the captain of the first basket-ball team shall be one of the two active members of the committee.

Section IV.—Duties of Officers.

Article 1. The president shall call all meetings and preside at the same. She shall have the power to appoint all special committees. She shall be member ex-officio of all committees.

Section VI.—Dues and Fines.

Article 1. The dues for each year shall be decided by vote of the Association at the regular fall meeting.

Art. 2. A fine of twenty-five cents shall be imposed on each member who is absent from a regular meeting of the Association.

Section VII.—Elections.
