Dr. Butler Elected President

At the regular monthly meeting of the Trustees of Columbia University, held on Monday, January 6th, Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler was unanimously elected President of Columbia University.

The resignation of Frederic R. Coudert as Trustee of the University, on account of ill health, was accepted, and President Butler was elected a member of the Board of Trustees to succeed him.

The resignation of William H. H. Beebe as University Secretary was also accepted. He will be private secretary to Mayor Low. The Assistant Secretary, Frederick Keppel, Columbia '98, was chosen in his place.

The Board of Trustees elected William C. Schermerhorn for its chairman during this year, and John B. Pine for its clerk.

Dr. Butler graduated from Columbia College with the Class of '82, and received the degree of Ph.D. in 1884. In his student days he was active in almost all college affairs and was editor of "Spectator." Since 1885 he has taught Philosophy at Columbia, his courses being among the most popular. He has occupied responsible positions in various educational bodies, and is to-day known as one of the most earnest and successful promoters of education.

Barnard Edition of the "Hand-Book"

The first Barnard College edition of the "Columbia Students' Hand-Book" has just been issued by the Y. W. C. A. of Barnard. The Y. M. C. A. has for some time been publishing a hand-book at Columbia, and this year invited the coöperation of Barnard. The trim little blue booklet is most acceptable to all, containing as it does convenient schedules, information, and statistics.

This first attempt at a complete compilation of facts from an undergraduate point of view makes another step in the unity of the college life.

In detail, the "Hand-Book" contains the name, object, and important facts regarding all college publications, organizations, associations and clubs. Two pages are devoted to the Barnard College and Columbia University songs.

There is a full explanation of the religious organizations and of the purpose of Earl Hall, besides a clear and concise sketch of the history of the University, and statistics of attendance at the University. It gives also a list of libraries, places of interest about New York, and other matters of information acceptable to students.

Notice.

The Teachers' College announcement for 1902-1903 will be issued February 1.

Mr. Holmes Addresses Chapel

On Thursday, January 9, Mr. Holmes, of St. Peter's Church, addressed the students. Mr. Holmes spoke in the interests of the Pro-Cathedral work on the East Side. He told of the earnest efforts that are being put forth to give not only temporary aid to the people who are compelled to live in that district, but also permanent help by showing them practical ways of bettering their condition. In conclusion Mr. Holmes spoke of the need of workers, and described the field as one in which there was an especial need and opportunity for college women.

Notice

Within a few days the nature of the Undergraduate Play will be decided on, and all information concerning it will be put before the undergraduates. There will be an opportunity afforded to every girl to try for a part in the play. I wish to urge, now, in the beginning, that every girl in College will take an active interest in the play and will try for some part. Also I wish to impress upon the girls the importance of rehearsals. There must be no such carelessness in attendance upon them as was shown last year. Dates will be fixed for the rehearsals, and those who take part must be there. It is only fair to the trainer and to the committee, and is the only way in which a play can be properly prepared.

Edna Cara Chapin, '02,
Chairman of Committee.

French Society.

La Société Française held a social meeting Monday afternoon, January 6.

The notice in the Bulletin of last issue to the effect that business would be transacted at the meeting of the society, on Monday evening, January 15, was incorrect. The meeting will be purely social.

Junior Show

The Junior Class will give an entertainment in the Theatre on Monday, January 13th, 1902, at 4 o'clock. The thirteen numbers on the program will consist of comic songs, dances, skits, a short play, tableaux and illustrated jokes. Tickets of admission, at fifty cents apiece, may be purchased in the Junior Study, or from the following members of the committee. Miss Ware, Miss Moën, Miss Nones, Miss Bamberger, Miss Seguine, Miss Skinner, Miss Kaufmann, Miss King and Miss Howe. Women friends of the students will be welcomed.

The Student Volunteer Conference at Toronto

Once in every four years a student volunteer conference is held, to which every college is entitled to send delegates whose number shall be proportionate to the number of undergraduates enrolled. The conference is held at Toronto this year from the 26th of February until the 2nd of March. The special railroad rate allowed to delegates is about $15 to Toronto and back, and the city provides entertainment.

Barnard is entitled to send four delegates, and it seems as though a college which is a part of so large a university as Columbia ought to be represented at such a world conference as the one at Toronto will be.

From a practical standpoint, the presence of delegates from Barnard at the conference will help to advertise the College; this is not at all far-fetched, for at Northfield last summer many people had never even heard of Barnard.

Intellectually, such a conference has a broadening effect on the minds of delegates, as it brings them in touch with knowledge that can be gained in no other way, and enlarges their mental horizon.

Spiritually, Barnard cannot but be benefited by sending delegates to the Toronto conference, for it is only at such gatherings that the inspiration can be gained which overcomes all obstacles, and can raise our College to a higher plane of living.

Perhaps a few words as to what the student volunteer band really is might not come amiss. It is a band of earnest Christian students who have pledged themselves, God-willing, to carry the glad news of eternal life through Jesus Christ to the nations yet in darkness, and who have as their watchword, "The Evangelization of the World in This Generation."

Asking students to go as delegates to the convention does not imply that they must join the Student Volunteer Band, but it means that they will be brought in touch with the power that is changing the whole aspect of the world, and which is, as our late President said, "a potent influence in the development of law and the establishment of government."

Library Changes

The Library has long possessed a large number of rare volumes which have not been generally available. Therefore the turning of the President's former office into a bibliographical museum is an important innovation.

Until Dr. Canfield had recatalogued all the books, it was not known how many rare volumes were gathering dust in the cellar. All these will now be put on public exhibition.

Address all communications to
BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, JANUARY 13, 1902.

On behalf of the undergraduates of the College we wish to express our pleasure at the election of Dr. Butler to the Presidency of the University. Barnard students will gladly give him their support in anything in which their cooperation may be useful. We feel sure that President Butler will continue to work in the interests of the College. And, although when this issue appears nearly two weeks of the year will have been passed, yet we want to lose no more time before we wish our President a very "Happy New Year."

In the last issue of the BULLETIN was printed a notice by Professor Butler. It is evident that it has not yet been read by Barnard students, for it requests that the passageway between the loan-desk and the general reading room in the Library be not used generally by students going to and from lectures. We ask that all read this notice, for, although it is but a small matter, yet that makes it all the easier to comply with the President's request.

Notice

The editors of the BULLETIN urge students to try for positions on the editorial staff. The attention of the members of 1903 is especially called to this notice.

Debating Society.

The Freshman - Sophomore Debating Society held its meeting on Tuesday, January 7. The subject of the debate was: "Resolved That the Transportation of Anarchists From the United States Will Deter the Spread of Anarchy." Miss Farrelly and Miss Forman spoke in the affirmative, Miss Draper and Miss Bernays in the negative. Both sides were well contested; the affirmative had several good arguments, the negative was perhaps a trifle easier to uphold. The negative won. The subject for the next debate, "Resolved, That Co-Education Is Beneficial to Both Sexes," was chosen by vote from five submitted by the Executive Committee.

Trustees Hold Reception

The Trustees of Barnard College gave a reception to Ambassador and Mrs. Choate at Mr. Anderson's studio in the Bryant Park Building, on Monday, January 6th. Mrs. Choate was for some time chairman of the Board of Trustees of Barnard College.

Gifts to Columbia

One hundred thousand dollars has been anonymously given to the University. What disposition will be made of this gift has not been announced.

Adolph Lewissohn gave three thousand dollars for the purchase of a complete set of dissertations of candidates for the degree of Ph.D., in German universities.

F. C. Schermerhorn gave $350 for the completion of the Townsend Library of War Records.

Two hundred dollars were given by Charles F. Cox for the equipment of the Department of Mineralogy.

Notice

Mission Study Class, Wednesday, January 15th, 9 a. m., Room 135 Fiske. Subject: "Mackay of Uganda." Leader, Miss Louise Kimball.

Undergraduate Notice

There will be a special meeting of the Undergraduate Association on Thursday, January 16th, at 12.20, in the Treatre, for the purpose of considering the report of the Undergraduate Play Committee.

Bryn Mawr Raises Funds.

One of the remarkable signs of the energy of students of Bryn Mawr College is the manner in which they are aiding in raising the money necessary to procure the $200,000 promised by Mr. Rockefeller.

Each student has promised to give $10, and has undertaken to collect $25 more during the vacation from friends. This plan may realize probably about $14,000.

In addition the students are planning an entertainment on a large scale, to be opened to all the friends of the college. It will be held on some plan similar to that of the "May Day" fête, from which was collected $3,000.

Altogether the students alone have made over $15,000 to be given to the fund for the erection of a student building.

Fiske Hall Reception

The last Fiske Hall reception before Lent will take place on Thursday evening, January 16th. A musical program, to be followed by dancing, has been arranged.

Lost.

A Paulsen's "Philosophy." Finder will please return the book to Telephone Room.

Joint Meeting of Graduate Clubs.

The Columbia University Graduate Club, the Woman's Graduate Club and the Teachers' College Graduate Club will hold a joint meeting on Tuesday evening, January 14, at 8.30, in Room 315, Schermerhorn Hall.

The delegates to the recent meeting of the Federation of Graduate Clubs will make their report. Mr. U. B. Phillips, lately elected president of the Federation of Graduate Clubs, will address the meeting.

The Rt. Rev. Henry C. Potter will speak on "The Higher Mechanism for Social Betterment." Members of various clubs are invited to bring their friends.

"Morningside"

The last number of "The Morningside" is notable for the touch of lightness and brightness for which it always aims but does not always succeed in obtaining in such measure as in this issue of January 2nd.

Although there are three poems and four stories, the amount of reading is small when compared to the "Morningsides" of previous years. The "Sonnet" by Maisie Seville Shainwald is admirable in diction and in its picturing of two moods.

"The Coming of My Ideal" embodies the clever idea of a "would-be" author who is confronted by his ideal incarnated, who is unwilling to be as unreal as he has made her. The idea is well carried out, although we would have less of the preamble and more of the scene of actual interest.

"The Quest," verse by Clara E. Gruening, although perhaps a little below the level of her best work, has yet a cadence and a gradual rise to the final lines that is, to say the least, pleasing to eye and ear.

"Side Lights" scarcely does justice to the clever idea underlying the two bits of conversation.

"Even-Song for Jove" does not make any pretensions to grandeur or the like; it has succeeded in being humorous and pretty.

"The House on the Street," even if Anthony Dope does consist of three people, does not give us any triple interest. In fact it is intensely interesting, and what makes it most amusing is the fact that the story ends at the most exciting moment. One should hardly say the story ends because "Morningside" offers two suitable prizes for the correct continuation of the story.

Lecture on Chinese

The Trustees have announced that Herbert A. Giles, M.A., LL.D., has been appointed to deliver the first series of lectures in the new Chinese Department founded by General Horace Carpenter.

Dr. Giles is Professor of Chinese in Cambridge University, England. He was successively consul at Pagoda Island, Shanghai, Yamsui, and Ningi, from 1867 until his resignation from the Consular service in 1893. He has written numerous articles of note on China and the Chinese.

Teachers College has established a health department for the use of all its students. It will have facilities for the medical care of students without any expense to the latter.

Columbia's Calendar of Sports.

For January the following events in Columbia athletics have been decided:

January 15.—Track athletics; indoor novice games.

January 18.—Hockey. Columbia vs. Harvard, at St. Nicholas rink. Basketball, Columbia vs. Yale, at New Haven. Gymnastics exhibition with Haverford, at Haverford.

January 22.—Novice indoor track contests.

January 25.—Basketball, Columbia vs. Princeton, at Princeton.

January 29.—Novice indoor track contests.

1905 Notes

The Freshmen decided that their "class yell" savored too much of a funeral dirge, so they have composed another, namely:

"Hala-galu-galack-galivè.
