M. He will be met upon the University grounds directly in front of the main entrance to the Library, by Professor William Henry Carpenter, Villard Professor of Germanic Philology and Secretary of the University Council, who will conduct the visiting party to the Library Building through the main entrance, where the officers of instruction will be presented in a body to the Prince. After a brief inspection of the grounds and buildings, Prince Henry will leave the University by the Class of 1882 Gate on 120th Street.

Officers of instruction are requested to assemble in Room 213 Library promptly at 10.45 o'clock, in academic costume. Dr. Rudolf Tombo, Jr., is designated to act as Marshal.

Academic exercises will be suspended on February 26th, from 10.30 to 12.30, and students in all departments of the University are requested to assemble in South Court, at 10.45 o'clock, in order to greet the Prince and his suite on their arrival at the University.

Officers of instruction who desire cards of admission to the rotunda of the Library for the ladies of their families may procure them upon application to the Secretary of the University.

Nicholas Murray Butler, LL.D.,

Y. W. C. A. Notice

To correct the statement made in the BULLETIN last week to the effect that the Church Students' Missionary Association was defraying the expense of the Barnard delegation to the Toronto Student Volunteer Conference, the Y. W. C. A. wishes to say that the expenses are being defrayed by the trustees and by members of the faculty, students and friends of the college who are interested in the movement and in the furthering of Christian interest here at Barnard.

UNA A. WINTERBURN,
Chairman Missionary Committee.

1905 Notice

The meeting of 1905 was postponed, as the questions to be put before the class have not yet been fully discussed by the commit-

French Society

There will be a social meeting of La Societe Francaise on Monday, February 25th, in the Students Parlor.

Kappa Alpha Theta Entertains

On Friday, February 14th, the Alpha Zeta Chapter of Kappa Alpha Theta entertained the college in the theatre. The stage was attractively decorated with palms, behind which the musicians were stationed.

Miss Beatrice Herford, who is so well known in New York, gave three of her most popular monologues: "Piazza Ladies," "The Shop Girl," and "An English Lady Packing Her Trunk." These were received very enthusiastically, and Miss Herford responded to the sustained applause by a fourth monologue, entitled, "A New England Seamstress."

After the entertainment refreshments were served.

1905 Game

The 1905 basketball team met the Emanon team of Mt. Vernon, on Tuesday, Feb. 18, at 2.30 P. M., in the Armory of the 11th Separate Company. The Freshmen were defeated, the score being, Emanon 12, Barnard '05, 3. It was a lively game and well played. There were no fouls called on either side. Miss Kroeber, '03, accompanied the players as umpire, and Miss Anderson, Miss Farmer, Miss Parker and Miss Pratt, all '05, went to support the team. The line up in the first half was: Center, Miss Fisher, captain; forwards, Miss Cooley and Miss Dorrian; guards, Miss Hoffman and Miss Reiley; in the second half: Center, Miss Talbot; forwards, Miss Fisher, captain, and Miss Dorrian; guards, Miss Hoffman and Miss Reiley.

After the game, the team was entertained at the home of Miss Myra Blake, who played center on the Mt. Vernon team.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 24, 1902.

College spirit and enthusiasm at Barnard seems to be dying out. When a social function is taking place everyone is present to enjoy the occasion, but when something that should be just as enjoyable is on hand, the entire student body has disappeared. Especially is this the case with athletics at college. The event which has called this sad fact into prominence is the recent game of the Freshman basketball team with the Emanon team at Mt. Vernon. A great body of four assembled and went to Mt. Vernon to encourage their representatives. Further than this, no one could be found to go as substitute in case anything should happen to any of the team. This seems rather a happy-go-lucky way of entering a match game. As may be seen in the columns of this issue, the Freshmen were beaten, and small wonder. For some time past there have not been ten players in the gymnasium on practise days. That means that the players line up sometimes three, seldom four, on a side, and struggle through a couple of hours of barely profitable work. On some days the few, who have appeared for practise, have waited vainly for enough to play even the semblance of a game, and have gone away disappointed. We realize the fact that the courses at Barnard are difficult and that studying takes up a great deal of time, but we cannot help noticing that the most enthusiastic and zealous among the basketball players have just as much work as many who plead lack of time.

We would like to urge the students to show a little more interest in athletics, or we fear that basketball will either become a farce or die out altogether.

As Dean Gill remarked to a few students after Chapel the other day, "it is rather a pity that we have no choir to sing at the bi-weekly noon services. Whatever appreciation of harmony and melody may exist among us, we apparently manage successfully to conceal on these occasions. Some of us sing when the hymn is familiar, or the spirit moves us; most of us do not sing at all, and a few of us sing in all good faith, but with striking disregard for time and key. The effect on our visitors must be painfully surprising, to say the least. Now that we have secured a list of Chapel speakers, showing such names as Bishop Potter, and Dr. Van Dyke, in mere pride and self-respect, we should organize a trained choir. A few hours a week spent by some of the volunteers of our much-heralded, but somewhat backward Glee Club, in practicing hymns could not fail to improve our singing, and to add materially to the pleasure and dignity of the Chapel services."

The editors of the BULLETIN take pleasure in announcing the election to the staff of Miss Miller, 1903.

The BULLETIN has found that it has a certain sum to spend for the benefit of the students of the college. This money is to be used for the purchase of books for required reading in the Junior and Senior courses. Therefore the editors request that members of the upper classes send in lists of their required reading so that the most useful books may be bought.

Victor Hugo Celebration

On Wednesday, February 26th, the anniversary of Victor Hugo's birthday, a celebration will be held by Teachers' College. The exercises are to take place at 3.30 in the auditorium of the Horace Mann School and will be open to the public—though seats will be reserved for students. Dr. Van Dyke, of Princeton, will be Chairman. Mr. Hamilton Mabie will make an address in English, and Professor Mabileau an address in French. Professor Mabileau, it may be noted, was invited to this country by Harvard University, and will lecture at Harvard, Columbia and other American Universities. Professor Cohen is to give readings from Victor Hugo poetry. The text of which will be printed on the programs, so that all will be able to follow the reading without difficulty.

Miss Hamilton Addresses Students

On Friday, February 21st, Miss Jean Hamilton, Travelling Secretary of the National League of Women Workers, addressed the students in Chapel. Miss Hamilton spoke of the work that college girls can do in the Working Girls' Clubs.

There are twenty-three of these clubs in New York. There are non-secretaries, self-supporting and self-governing.

Southern Club Notice

There will be an important meeting of the Southern Club on Monday, February 24th, at 4.30 in Room 204.

Correspondence

While we are glad to publish any correspondence that may be sent us, we are not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Those who wish their correspondence published anonymously, must attach their signature. Unsigned letters will receive no attention.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

The action of the new Literary Society in excluding Freshmen seems questionable. It is the custom in nearly all societies at Barnard to make membership depend on personal qualification rather than on class standing. This custom appears particularly just, as the number of irregular students in this college is unusually large, and it is quite possible for a student to take Junior or Senior work in one department, though, on account of a deficiency in some other line, she may be registered with the Freshmen class. Why not make membership to the Literary Society depend on standing in English, just as membership to the Société Française depends on standing in French? This would be practically to exclude Freshmen, but would have the advantage of avoiding individual cases of injustice.

L. E. P.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

The college social life has expressed itself in the organization of clubs in nearly all fields, but there is room for still more in at least one of these fields, and that is the musical.

Almost every other college except Barnard has a mandolin, guitar and violin club. In such a college as this, there is certainly material for a flourishing club of this nature. It is certain that there are a number of girls who would be glad to join a college mandolin club if one were organized. Several students have already signified their willingness to help in the formation of such a society. What is needed now, when the matter is brought before them, is the hearty response and coöperation of all those whose talent lies in this direction.

A mandolin club would not only be a pleasure to its members but also a financial saving at many college entertainments, for here the musical club would be able to take the place of hired musicians.

Students Aid Tea

The third in the series of Students' Aid Teas was given on Thursday, February 20th, in the theater, Brinckerhoff Hall.

Mrs. Charles R. Lowell, of the League for Political Education, spoke of the many different lines of work that are open for college women.

Mrs. Frederick Nathan, of the Consumers' League, told of the work done by the Social Secretary in the large department stores. This position must be filled by a tactful, patient, sympathetic woman, who is alive to the needs of the girls, not only in regard to their physical comfort in the store, but also in regard to their intellectual and moral life.

Miss Lillian Wald, head worker of the Nurses' Settlement, spoke of the work of a trained nurse and the great influence she may exert in a community.

All these talks were interesting and were very much enjoyed by those present.

The Constitution may be amended by a vote of two-thirds of the members present at a meeting, provided that notice of the proposed amendment has been given to the members one week before the meeting.

Notice

An important announcement concerning the Comparative Literary Society is posted on the bulletin board. "This society is a corporation founded under the laws of the State of New York for the purpose of deepening the understanding of what has already been accomplished in literature, and stimulating to higher literary production. It rests its entire work on the recognition of the unity of all literature, and affirms that the truths which literature interprets can become known only through the comparative study of supreme monuments. The Society is the first of its name in the United States. It is believed also to be the first in any country."

The President of this Society is Professor Charles Sprague Smith, who is well known in university and literary circles.

Professor Smith resided in Madrid in '78-'79 and in '93, and there visited places of chief importance in connection with literary and historical events. He will give a course of lecture on "The Drama of Spain as an Expression of the Life of the Spanish People," and also on "The Drama of the Golden Age of Spain."

Mr. Hamilton W. Mabie, the associate editor of the "Outlook," will give a course of lectures on American poetry.

Membership tickets admitting to all lectures, ten dollars.

Ticket admitting to any lecture, one dollar.

Ticket for single course, five dollars.
