College Settlement Notes

Miss May Johnson, 1903, will visit the College Settlement at 95 Rivington street, Saturday morning, April 12th, and will be glad to have any students accompany her who desire to do so. Those who wish to visit the Settlement at this time are requested to give their names to Miss Johnson in order that a place of meeting may be arranged.

Sophomore Play

The Sophomore Class will present a play at the College on Wednesday, April 16th, at 8 o'clock. Mr. Frank Johnson, Yale, 1903, who coached the Sophomore play given last year, has acted as coach for this play.

Undergraduate Tea

The undergraduate tea will take place next Friday afternoon. The arrangements will be practically identical with those of last time, as the use of studies and the additional space on the ground floor was largely conducive to success. Tea cards may be obtained from the committee which was given in the issue of last week, or in the telephone room.

Performance of "Pinafore"

On Friday evening, April 4th, the opera "Pinafore" was presented by the Associated Clubs of the College Settlement at Manhattan Lyceum on Fourth street.

Twelve clubs were represented on the committee which had charge of the entertainment and nearly all of these contributed performers.

It is hoped that enough money was raised to make certain improvements in the country place of the Settlements at Mt. Ivy. This play was a more ambitious undertaking than the Settlement has ever undertaken. As the clubs could produce no tenor, the part of Ralph was taken by an outsider. All the other parts were taken by club members, and the orchestra was under the direction of the College and University Settlement Music School, and was partly composed of its pupils.

Elections of 1903

At the regular monthly meeting of the Class of 1903 on Wednesday, April 3rd, election of officers for the year 1902-1903 resulted as follows: President, Miss Howard; Vice-President, Miss Miller; Secretary, Miss King; Treasurer, Miss Thompson; Historian, Miss Cahn. The election of the Executive Committee was postponed until next meeting.

"My Lord and Master"

A number of Barnard students, through the kindness of Mr. Fiske and Mr. Sanger, enjoyed the performance of "My Lord and Master" on Saturday afternoon.

Columbia Debate

The Freshman-Sophomore Debating Society has received an invitation for the seventeenth annual debate between the Philolexian Society and Barnard Literary Association of Columbia University at Earl Hall on April 9, 1902, at 8.15 P.M. For tickets, please apply to Miss May Parker, 1904.

Open Meeting of the Y. W. C. A.

On Monday, April 14th, the Christian Association will hold its regular annual meeting to hear the reports of the officers and chairmen of standing committees. This meeting will be held in Earl Hall and will be open to all students and instructors of Barnard.

Professor Loeb's Last Lecture

Professor Loeb, in his last lecture, treated "The Regeneration and Reversibility of the Process of Development."

First, Professor Loeb showed that in the lower animal classes the reversibility of the process of development could be produced by bringing them into contact with solid matter. The polyp is a good example of this, and can be restored to its original form by changing the contact. Growth stops when the organism has grown to a certain extent, but it may be reproduced by regeneration. This may be seen in the case of the human skin, which, when a piece is cut off, begins to grow together over the wound. There may be two explanations of this—first, the injury itself may cause the growth, and, second, it may be caused by the change of contact. The injury is not sufficient cause for regeneration. When the skin is cut, the elements at the edges of the cut are brought into contact with air. This changed contact starts the new growth. Thus it is natural to suppose that the variation in a regenerated organ results from the variation of contact.

But the question comes up, How can the changes of contact alter and start the phenomena of growth? This can be explained by the cellular action of the organism. It has been discovered that the phenomena of contact and lack of oxygen produce the same result. Growth can also be influenced by chemical agencies. In some animals growth can be accelerated or retarded. Substances produced in a body may influence the growth. There may be tissue regeneration, or regeneration of the whole organ, but only of certain organs. Yet it is not right to suppose that only the higher forms regenerate, for certain crustaceans regenerate their appendages. By comparing various animals the difference seems to be that in the higher forms of life the embryonic power is lost. So the phenomena of regeneration return to the question of embryonic and adult tissues.

1905 Elections

At the meeting of the Class of 1905 on Thursday, April 4th, the elections of class officers for the ensuing year were as follows: President, Miss Hutchinson; Vice-President, Miss Dorrian; Secretary, Miss Mott; Treasurer, Miss Hill. The election of the Executive Committee was postponed until the regular May meeting.

A special meeting will be called by the President to consider the business of a class song, a class luncheon, and an honorary member.

Undergraduate Play

Tickets for the undergraduate play are now on sale. They can be obtained from Miss Naumburg, '02, Miss Ware, '03, Miss Lyon, '04, Miss Nye, '05.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, APRIL 7, 1902

It has been stated that there will be no elementary Spanish course next year, but that a second-year course is to be offered. This is due to the fact that this Spanish course is given by a member of the French department, who is unable to give up more than three hours a week to the teaching of Spanish.

This matter is deplorable, especially when we consider that this is the first year that a Spanish course has been included in the college curriculum, and that the importance of that language in the United States is steadily increasing.

While we realize that money is needed to enable the College to increase the number of courses offered, yet we feel that it is hardly just that many of the students should be deprived of beginning the Spanish language next year, and that it would perhaps be more expedient for those now taking Spanish I. to read that language for a year, than that Seniors should lose the chance of beginning the language.

The students of Radcliffe College have recently celebrated the opening of their first residence building, Bertram Hall. The erection of this building was made possible by the efforts of the alumnae. Bertram Hall is the first of several college houses which Radcliffe hopes to be able to build in the near future. The Radcliffe students feel that the possession of this building opens a new chapter in their history and that the domestic and social life which they will thereby gain is hardly less valuable than their academic education.

This news from Radcliffe comes to us at a time when it strikes us most forcibly and brings home to us the urgent needs of our own College—for next year Barnard will have no dormitory.

It is strictly within the limits of accuracy to say that every student in Barnard felt a deep and personal sense of relief on learning that the Rockefeller fund, with the additional and unexpected sum of $100,000, has been actually secured. Our gratitude is due alike to Mr. Rockefeller, the practical well-wisher of the College, and to the generous donors who made his gift possible. The fact that Mr. Plimpton found it unnecessary to go beyond the limits of New York City in making up the canvass, and that a considerable percentage of the amount, in fact, almost $40,000, was contributed by persons connected with Barnard in some way, either as founders or trustees, or as friends or relatives of students, goes far to prove the intrinsic worth of the College as determined by personal knowledge.

General interest is now, of course, concerned with the uses to which the fund will be put. According to the conditions of the gift, Mr. Rockefeller's $250,000 and a certain specified portion of the remainder will be added to the previous endowment of $285,000 as a permanent endowment fund, for the founding of new professorships, the maintaining of old ones, and current expenses of the College, which last amount to about $100,000 annually. Comparatively few of the donors specified particular uses for their gifts. About $10,000 will constitute scholarship funds, and the rest will be expended at the discretion of the trustees.

Contrary to the expectation of many, perhaps, no immediate sign of newly acquired riches will be manifest; for, according to authorities, the fund cannot be employed in the furtherance of student interests, as such. What it will accomplish will be to place the College on a firm and unassailable financial basis, eliminate the necessity for frequent recourse to the generosity of friends for ordinary needs and increase the power and possibilities of Barnard among the colleges.

For Sale

One of the alumnae wishes to sell a good mandolin at reasonable price. Please inquire of Miss Alsberg, 1902.

Sophomore Freshman Debating Society

There will be a meeting of the Sophomore-Freshman Debating Society on Tuesday, April 8th, at 3.30. The subject of the debate is: "Resolved, That There Should Be No Prescribed Courses in a College Curriculum."

"Mortarboard" Notice

The editors of the "Mortarboard" request that all students who have ordered the year-book and have not as yet received their copies, will kindly call at the office at their earliest convenience.

Sophomore News

At a meeting of the Class of 1904 on Thursday, April 3rd, it was voted at the President should appoint a Sophomore Triumph Committee. A vote of thanks was tendered to Miss Van Ingen, for the three pictures she presented to the Sophomore study.

Miss Embury, Miss Stone, Miss Applegate, and Miss Loomis were chosen to receive at Earl Hall on Students' Day.

Miss Curtis and Miss Claffy were appointed as a committee to sell tickets for the second performance of the Sophomore play, which will be presented twice—the first time for the College, the second time for all who may purchase tickets.

Glee Club Notice

The Glee Club has been asked to join in the entertainment to be given by the Deutscher Kreis and La Société Française. The Glee Club has accepted, and arrangements are now proceeding between the committees of the various societies for the entertainment, which will take place on Monday, April 21st.

Meeting of American Philosophical Society

The first meeting of the American Philosophical Society took place on Tuesday, April 1st, at Columbia. The society was organized last fall for the purpose of interchange of opinion on matters of philosophical interest. Professor H. G. Lord was one of the twelve founders. At present the society includes 100 members, representatives of colleges stretching east from Chicago, and from Cambridge to Baltimore. The members from Columbia University are President Butler, Professors Hyslop, Cattel, Torrand, Lord, Messrs. Jones, Sheldon and Davis, and Prof. Thorndyke of Teachers' College.

At the meeting last Tuesday Mr. Sheldon read a paper on "The Content of the Negative Concept." Other questions discussed were "The Relation of Mind to Body," "The Philosophy of Religion and Ethics," and "The Theory of Knowledge and Ethics."

President Butler delivered an address of welcome, and later in the day President and Mrs. Butler gave a reception to the members of the society. The officers for next year are as follows: President, Prof. Alex. E. Ormond, of Princeton; Vice-President, Prof. Mielckjohn, of Brown University; Secretary and Treasurer, Prof. H. M. Gardiner, of Smith College.

Professor Lord acted as Chairman of the Entertainment Committee at this meeting.

Social Meeting of 1905

The Class of 1905 held its second social meeting last Tuesday afternoon in the Theater. The program consisted of singing and games, followed by refreshments.

New Courses

The following additional courses in the Department of Romance Languages are being arranged: In French, a course intended to give practice in speaking and writing on historical topics, and a new course in eighteenth century literature; in Italian, a cycle of three years has been planned, to contain a course in Italian literature of the sixteenth century; Italian literature of the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries exclusive of the "Divina Commedia" of Dante (which will be given by itself), and a course in modern Italian literature. This last, beginning with the works of Alfieri and continuing down to Carducci and D'Annunzio, will be offered for 1902-1903.

Changes have also been made in the History Department. Dr. Henry A. Sill, who has been appointed instructor at Columbia, will give two new alternating courses. The first deals with Greek history, starting with the Mycenaean Age, as conceived in the light of recent investigations, and continuing down to 168 B. C. The second course treats of the Roman Empire down to Justinian. These lectures will be open to Seniors only.

Another new member of the History Department will be James Wilford Garnel, now holding the "George William Curtis" fellowship at Columbia. He will have charge of a course dealing with medieval and modern history down to the peace of Westphalia.

After the first term Prof. J. Robinson will be on leave of absence while he makes a trip westward to California and Japan. His work in Renaissance history will be conducted by Miss Davison.

Dr. Van Dyke at Chapel
