Gift of $250,000 to Teacher's College

Teachers' College has received an anonymous gift of $250,000 for the erection and equipment of a building for the Department of Physical Education. The building will be more than a gymnasium; it will include exercise rooms and will be in the nature of a laboratory for the training of teachers of physical education, thereby establishing that department on the same basis as the other departments of the College. Several architects are at present preparing plans for the building, which will be erected on 120th street, between the Horace Mann School and Teachers' College. It will be five stories high, with a basement. The gymnasium proper will occupy the fourth and fifth floors. The third floor will be devoted to dressing rooms, the second floor to four large exercise halls, while the ground floor will contain the offices of the Department of Physical Education, as well as laboratories for study and experimentation in physiology and anatomy. There will also be rooms for the study of the eye, ear and throat, as well as a room for studying the treatment and correction of such diseases as spinal curvature. The basement and court will contain a swimming pool, bowling alley, appliances for hand ball, basketball, and similar games.

This building will be used primarily by the pupils of Horace Mann School, and by the women of the University.

French Reading

Miss Louise Laminske has kindly consented to give a reading to the members of the Société Française, at the regular social meeting on Monday, April 14th, at 4.30, in the Students' Parlor, Fiske Hall. All students interested in French, whether members of the society or not, are invited to attend.

Earl Hall Reception

At the reception at Earl Hall, next Friday afternoon, Student's Day, the following students will receive as Barnard College undergraduates: From 1902, Annie McKenny, Elizabeth Coddington, Martha Moore, and Janet McCook; from 1903, Anna Ware, May Harrison, Katherine Pool and Gertrude Clark; from 1904, Lucy Embury, Margaret Stone, Marguerite Applegate, and Jean Loomis; from 1905, Margie Hoffman, Beatrix Anderson, Irene Van Beuren, and Alice Draper.

Undergraduate Notice

On account of the resignation of Jean Stobo, 1904, from the treasurership of the Undergraduate Association, the Executive Committee has appointed Katherine Doty, 1904, to fill that office for the remainder of the year.

New Appointments

At the meeting of the Columbia Trustees last Friday, the following appointments recently made by the Barnard Trustees were approved: William Tenney Brewster, A.M., from instructor in Rhetoric to Adjunct Professor; Charles Knapp, Ph.D., from instructor in Classical Philology to Adjunct Professor, and Benjamin D. Woodward, Ph.D., from Adjunct Professor of the Romance Languages and Literatures to Professor.

Sophomore Play

The Class of 1904 will give a play entitled "Everybody's Friend," for all undergraduates and special students on Wednesday, April 16th, at 4 o'clock. The play will be repeated on Thursday afternoon, April 17th, and for this last performance an admission of fifty cents will be charged. The following students are in the cast: Lena Miller, Marguerite Applegate, Ida Lewis, Mary Frothingham, Jeanette Wick, Edith Granger, Helen Eking, Ellen Thomas, Helen Glenn, and Hilda Popper.

Tickets for April 17th are now on sale in the telephone room, or can be obtained from Margaret Claffy, 1904, and Theodora Curtis, 1904.

Undergraduate Notice

The Executive Committee has accepted with regret Miss Stobo's resignation of the office of undergraduate treasurer. Miss Stobo felt obliged to send in her resignation because of absence from college. The committee has appointed Miss Doty, Sophomore member, to act as temporary treasurer.

E. M. POOL,
Secretary.

Senior Notes

At the regular meeting of the Class of 1902 held on April 4th, it was decided that the Senior Dance be given on the evening of June 6th, and that the Senior Luncheon be held on Wednesday, June 4th. The Senior Luncheon Committee consists of May Budd, Malvina Peters, Elsa Alsberg, Wilma Pollak, and Edna Chapin.

There will be four members of each class who will assist in receiving at Earl Hall on Students' Day. In the Senior Class there will be Elizabeth Coddington, Martha Moore, Annie McKenny and Janet McCook.

The date for the trip with Mrs. Meyer up the Hudson will be Tuesday, June 3rd.

Teachers' Notice

Students desiring positions as teachers for the year 1902-1903, may apply to Miss C. de L. Berg, at the regular office hours of the Students' Aid Committee in the Alumnae Room.

Installation Program

On Thursday evening, April 17th, the first day of the installation ceremonies, President Butler will dine with his class, '82, at College Tavern, and will then go, accompanied by his class, directly to the Installation Dance.

On Friday, Students' Day, tea will be served in Earl Hall from 2.30 to 6 P. M. On this occasion the whole of Earl Hall, as well as the other buildings of the University, will be open to all visitors. For the concert on Friday evening, tickets of admission will not be required. The program will include numbers by all the musical club of Columbia, as well as individual members from the various college shows.

Tickets of admission will be required for the regular installation ceremonies on Saturday. Those who have reserved seats are advised to be at the Gymnasium at least half an hour before the specified time; those who have merely tickets of admission should be there an hour before.

The last feature of the ceremonies will be a dinner given by the alumni of Columbia to President Butler at Sherry's.

Changes in the Department of English

According to the announcement of the Department of English for 1902-1903, just issued, Miss Frances Campbell Berkeley, Barnard 1902, has been appointed assistant in English on the Barnard College Foundation. Miss Jeannette Bliss Gillespy, who has for two years been assistant in English, will next year go to Vassar College.

"Pinafore" by the Settlement Clubs

On Friday evening, April 4th, the Associated Clubs of the College Settlement gave a performance of "Pinafore," for the benefit of their country home—Mt. Ivy. As a whole, the performance was excellent. Dick Deadeye gave an amusing interpretation of his rôle, and Ralph Rackstraw gained the sympathies and approval of the audience. Josephine, the Captain's daughter, and Little Buttercup sang their parts without effort. The Admiral was duly dignified, and Capt. Corcoran acted well in his character of high-born disdain. The opera was prettily staged. The music of the College Settlement orchestra deserves special notice. After three rehearsals the orchestra made the whole affair successful through its perfect time and tune. The voices were good, and rendered the music perfectly. Another noticeable feature of the performance was the spontaneous pleasure the actors took in their parts, and the interest and goodwill that prevailed on all sides.

As comparatively few college students were able to attend the performance, it is thought that it may be repeated, by the original caste, in the college theater.

BARNARD COLLEGE,
COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, APRIL 14, 1902

Almost two hundred undergraduates of the College enjoyed the privilege of seeing Miss Shannon and Mr. Kelcey in "Her Lord and Master" on Saturday, April 5th. This was made possible through the kindness of Mr. Sanger and Mr. Fiske, managers of the Manhattan Theatre. The students extend to them their sincere thanks and cordial appreciation of the invitation.

The Athletic Association has long recognized the necessity of having the obstacles in our gymnasium properly padded to prevent accidents to the basketball players. And, although the necessary funds have been on hand for some time, the matter could not be attended to because the steam pipes, the chief obstacle in the room, were being constantly mended and disturbed.

Now, however, the Athletic Association is indebted to the authorities for having had the necessary paddings put up in the gymnasium. It seems a comparatively small matter, but is really important to all basketball players.

The news that the women of the University will at last have fitting opportunities for the use of a good gymnasium comes to us as a bit of news the more welcome because so unexpected. The gift of two hundred and fifty thousand dollars received by Teachers' College for the erection of a building for physical education and culture will, it is to be hoped, supply a great, if not the great defect in our own college system.

Because it has long been an admitted fact that physical development must necessarily accompany mental progress, practically every college of our standing in the United States has provided its students with some sort of a gymnasium. In fact, as far as we know, Barnard is the only large college which totally neglects the physical development of its students.

If physical health is necessary for the well-being of men, for the developing of their minds under the best conditions, surely it is necessary also, for women. Moreover, men have, in general, more and better opportunities for exercise than women. And our College, not being situated in the country as are most women's colleges, offers fewer opportunities for outdoor exercise.

In fact, so necessary have the authorities of most colleges found the use of a gymnasium, that work in it is made obligatory. At Barnard College, where the students lead two distinct lives, the home and the college, the conditions call especially for the establishment of proper gymnasium privileges.

If the new building to be erected will offer us the opportunity for proper exercise, it will be an especial boon to Barnard.

The members of the Staten Island Academy basketball team have been offended, it seems, at the attitude taken by the Athletic Association and the BULLETIN toward the umpire and referee of the games played with our Freshman team.

We wish to assure Miss White, the official, and her team, that absolutely no offense was intended, and the request that a different umpire be chosen for the second game was not in the least intended to imply that Miss White was unjust in her decision. It was simply a desire to have an umpire who would interpret the rules as they are usually interpreted.

Chapel Notices

Dr. William M. Grosvenor, a trustee of the College, will speak at chapel Tuesday, April 15th.

Dr. Henry M. Sanders, formerly pastor of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church, made the address at chapel on Tuesday, April 8th. Dr. Sanders took for his subject, "The Expulsive Power of a New Affection." He emphasized, by illustration and analysis, the superiority of positive over negative methods in religion.

Athletic Association

On Saturday morning, April 5th, the Staten Island Academy team defeated the Barnard Freshman team in the Gymnasium; the score was 6-4. The following Freshmen played: Center, Abigail Talbot; forwards, Annie Fisher and Cecil Dorrian; guards, Anna Reiley and Margie Hoffman. The game at first was rather slow, but grew faster at the end. Miss Reiley threw the field goal and Miss Dorrian the foul goal for the home team.

Unclaimed Articles

There are several unclaimed books, a fountain pen, and other articles in the cloak room. It is requested that the owners claim them as soon as possible.

Summer Session

The announcement of the third summer session of Columbia University has just been issued. The session is to open on July 7th and will continue until August 15th. An unusually wide and attractive choice of courses is offered.

Courses in chemistry are included for the first time, under Professor E. H. Miller, Dr. C. H. Jouet and Dr. V. J. Chambers, of the Columbia faculty. The department of education is well represented, as usual. Nine courses are offered under members of the regular Teachers' College faculty, upon the history of education, methods of teaching and school management and supervision. Courses in English will be given by Professor Odell, Professor Jackson, Mr. Brewster and Miss Gillespy. Courses in geography are also a new department; two courses are offered under Clara B. Kirchwey, teacher of geography in the Horace Mann School, and Professor Dodge.

The courses in manual training and nature study will be of special value to public school teachers. In the fine arts course Mr. Kellogg will give illustrated lectures in the history and interpretation of art, supplemented by visits to the art collections in the museums, under personal direction of Mr. Kellogg.

Courses are also offered in French, German, History, Latin, Mathematics, Philosophy, Physics, Psychology and Spanish.

General lectures will be given during the session on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Among the lecturers secured are Professors Egbert, Hallock, Jackson, Rees, and Trent, Dr. James H. Canfield and Dr. Keyser.

Considerable attention will, as usual, be given to manual training. Among the instructors will be Jessie Hubbell Bancroft, director of physical training in the public schools of Brooklyn; Dr. Savage, director of the Gymnasium; Gustav H. Bojus, instructor in the same, and Minnie Jacobs, teacher in the evening play centers of the New York public schools. Charles Holroyd will have charge of the swimming classes.

Glee Club

It is absolutely necessary for all those who belong to the Glee Club to be faithful in attendance at rehearsals. Members should realize that one hour a week is little enough to devote to practice. Moreover, the club particularly needs support at this early stage of its existence. It is impossible to make progress when the members do not come to the one weekly rehearsal and it cannot be too strongly impressed on each one that her presence distinctly counts. The Glee Club has been asked to play at several college affairs in the near future, but this cannot be done unless every individual member rises to the occasion and gives up a little time for preparation. All who can play the mandolin, guitar or violin are strongly urged to join and lend their aid to the success of the club.

Fiske Hall

On Saturday, April 19th, Fiske Hall will be open for inspection from 11 until 2 o'clock. The Dean requests all the Fiske Hall students to leave their doors unlocked from 12 to 12.30 o'clock, at which time she intends to take a party through the buildings.

Spanish Lecture

In place of the usual French lecture at Schermerhorn Hall, Commandant de Mestre y Amabile will speak in Spanish on "Cuba y los Estados Unidos," Thursday, April 17th.

Commandant de Mestre y Amabile is a Cuban; he was formerly commandant of a ship in the Spanish navy, but resigned his command in order to throw in his lot with his countrymen in the War of Cuban Independence in 1894. Later he resided in Paris, where, as representative of the Insurgent Party, he edited a Cuban newspaper. In the Spanish-American War he commanded a battery of artillery which cooperated with the United States forces in the battle of Santiago.

Meeting of the Barnard Botanical Club

On Friday, April 4th, the Barnard Botanical Club held a meeting at the house of the president, Mrs. Hepburn. Dr. Herbert M. Richards delivered an illustrated lecture on "The Flora of Java." Among the most interesting of the slides were those illustrative of secondary and adventitious roots. Slides were shown of the mangrove, which raises itself from the water by stilt-like roots; of the banyan, which has roots growing from its branches to support their weight, and of trees the roots of which are very woody and lie on the ground three feet in height and about a foot in thickness, in order to withstand the heavy winds. Though only half the year in Java is rainy, the atmosphere even of the dry season is humid, thus producing a luxurious vegetation.

After the flora of the island had been spoken of a few moments were given to showing some views of an ancient temple.

Course in Anthropology

The course in Anthropology has of late been somewhat changed. The students now taking that course spend the required time in the Museum of Natural History on Monday mornings and afternoons instead of the regular lectures at College as heretofore. Two trips have already been made there. The first time, the students took a general survey of the material in the building that they were to study. At the last visit they began their work in the ethnology of the American Indian. Next week they will continue and finish this part of their work.

Caps and Gowns

Miss Margaret E. Clark, 1902, will take orders for any who wish to rent caps, gowns, or hoods for the inauguration.
