Sophomore Entertainment

On Friday, December 12th, the Sophomore class entertained the Freshmen by giving a variety show. The program was as follows:

I. Buster Brown Entertains His Mother's Friends with a Song.

Buster Brown E. Levy.

Mrs. Brown Anna C. Reiley

Mrs. Brown's Friends,

Helen Cooley, Pamela Lyall, Blanche

Reitlinger, Mildred Farmer, Evelyn

Goldsmith, Amelia L. Hill.

II. The Song behind the Screen.

Anna Lattershall.

III. The Humanum Organum.

Grace Farrelly.

IV. Absolutely Nothing (written by Cecil Dorrian and Florence Nye).

Dick C. J. Dorrian.

Dorothy Florence Nye

Maid Edith Handy

V. Mother Barnard's Picnic (written by Alice Smith).

Alice Smith.

VI. The Balcony Scene from Romeo and Juliet. By Cecil Darrian.

Romeo A. F. Fisher

Juliet Alice Draper

VII. The Chicken Song.

Laura Parlser, Elizabeth Boorman.

VIII. Two and — Another.

James Braithwaite A. C. Rieley

Waverly Edwards M. D. Lee

Richard Townsend A. F. Fisher

John Whittaker N. Schultz

Buttons P. Lyall

Elenor Rogers Florence Nye

Romeo and Juliet was the best number on the program. — The acting was good and the parody in itself extremely clever.

One of the most amusing features of the entertainment was the "Chicken Song."

"Two and — Another," a short play in three acts, was interesting both on account of having been written by a member of the class, and also because of its abrupt and unexpected ending, which reminded the audience strongly of "The Lady or the Tiger."

The performance was thoroughly original throughout and all the details of stage-management exceedingly smooth. The members of the committee in charge were Cecil Dorrian, chairman; Florence Nye, Mary Lee, Ethel Hendricks, and Emilie Hutchinson, ex-officio.

The Freshman appeared at the entertainment dressed in gowns of white and yellow, the colors of 1906.

La Societè Française.

A social meeting of La Societè Française was held on Tuesday, December 9. Evelyn Goldsmith read to the society "La Parure," by Guy de Maupassant. After the reading, tea was served.

Journal of Compative Literature

Professor Woodberry will edit a new magaizne, called the "Journal of Compative Literature." He will be aided by Professor Fletcher and Dr. Spingarn.

The journal will be published for the editors as a quarterly by McClure, Phillips & Co., of New York, beginning January 1, 1903. It will be devoted to the general field of international literature, in the present and the past, and will draw its contributions from the scholars of all lands. Its articles will be printed, as a rule, in the language in which they may be written, but the right is reserved to translate for convenience into either French or German. It will be made up of leading articles of a literary and scholarly type, followed by signed reviews of important works and abstracts of current periodical papers in its own sphere of interest. It will contain 96 pages and will be handsomely printed in large type on good paper.

Curtis Medal for Public Speaking

The annual competition in public speaking for which the Curtis Medal is awarded is now open. Juniors and Seniors in Columbia College are eligible, and the award is to be made by judges appointed by the President. The final competition is open to the public. The date has not yet been decided upon.

The subjects chosen are as follows: "George William Curtis," "General Grant," "The Growth of the Anti-Slavery Movement," "The State of New York," "The Influence of Emerson," "The Puritan Ideal," "New York in the Revolution," "The State and Education," "The Improvement of the Consular Service," "Lowell's Americanism."

Lecture by Oxford Professor

The following lecture will be delivered in room 309, Havemeyer Hall, on the afternoon of Tuesday, December 16, at 3:30. "The Contribution of Statistics to Political Economy," by Francis Y. Edgeworth, M. A., Professor of Political Economy in the University of Oxford. Professor Edgeworth is one of the leading political economists of Europe, and the editor of the "English Economics Journal."

Dormitory Notes

The students of Whittier Hall will give a dance on Friday evening, December 19. The committee in charge consists of Clara M. Applegate, '04; Helen Wilbur (Teachers College), Mary E. S. Colt, '03.

The Whittier Hall Orchestra will assist at a concert to be given Thursday evening, December 18, at 8:15 in the Horace Mann School Auditorium. Tickets can be secured from Clara Applegate, '04, Charlotte Fountain, '04, or Mary E. S. Colt, '03.

Christmas Gifts

The Christian Association and the College Settlement Association will combine this year in their Christmas gifts. Gifts may be handed to Edna Fry, '03; Margaret Stone, '04; Jean Egleston, '04; Edith Van Ingen, '04; Katharine Goodyear, '05; Elizabeth Boorman, '05; Edith Somborn, '06, and Elizabeth Donigan, '06. Dressed dolls, toys and money are equally acceptable. Donations have been received from ten cents up. It is hoped that each girl will do something for this cause.

Classical Club

The Classical Club held its regular meeting on December 5, at the home of Miss E. M. Coddington, A.M., '98. The meeting was purely of a social nature.

On October 24, the society met in College Hall and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: President, Professor H. Thurston Peck; vice-president, Professor M. L. Earle; secretary, Professor N. G. McCrea, and treasurer, Mr. A. Hoadley.

The purpose of the Classical Club is not generally understood and the privileges of the undergraduate classical students not generally realized by them. By the great increase in the number of graduate students in the departments of Greek and Latin during the past six years, the need of a Classical Club was strongly emphasized. Accordingly under the direction of the heads of the Classical Department, a meeting was held in December, 1901, which resulted in the forming of the club. Its object is declared to be "The maintenance and promotion of a sound and living interest in classical philology, including archaeology, among the members of Columbia University." Two meetings will be held in each month from November to April, inclusive, and one meeting in October and May. All graduate students enrolled in either of the classical departments will be entitled to membership, and members of the senior classes of Columbia and Barnard Colleges, who are pursuing a course of study in either of the departments, will be invited to attend all regular meetings. This privilege is heartily extended, and it is hoped that the senior students of either Greek or Latin will avail themselves of it and give the society their support.

Greek Club

At a meeting of the Greek Club held last week, Lucile Kohn, '03, was elected Proedros. The following girls were elected to membership: Elsbeth Kroeber, '03; Jean Miller, '03; Lucy Sherman, '03; Theodora Curtis, '04, and Jessie Hoyt, '04.

This year the club will read Herodotus, beginning with the first book. Bi-monthly meetings will be held on Tuesdays from 3:30 to 5:30.

ADDRESS OF CONTRIBUTORS IS

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, DECEMBER 15, 1902.

The fact that our last issue was almost a day late in being published, as well as the numerous typographical errors which it contained, was caused by an unfortunate accident to the press of the printer employed by the BULLETIN.

We are glad to notice that the Christian Association and the College Settlement Association have decided to adopt the plan of last year in uniting to dress dolls for Christmas. This arrangement will prevent any possible rivalry and will probably succeed in awakening more interest than either organization could hope to arouse alone.

A great many girls, it is to be hoped, will make some effort to help on this work by giving their time or money. The very fact that most students are unable to do much philanthropic work should make them welcome all the more heartily every opportunity of the kind.

Several of our student societies have lately had great difficulty in getting a quorum for their necessary meetings. This old and well-known trouble has appeared this year in an exaggerated form, with the result that much important business has been postponed and the works of the various organizations temporarily blocked.

The reasons for this state of things are so familiar that one tires of hearing them. It is indeed true that we are all very busy and that most of us are not resident students; but unquestionably one very potent factor in keeping girls away from meetings is mere disinclination to accept the responsibility which membership in any association entails. It is certainly unfair to become a member of a society and then to neglect to attend its meetings. It is the duty of every member to attend the meetings of the organization in which she is engaged.

Probably the explanation lies in the fact that many girls belong to a large number of societies and therefore are unable to work properly in any of them. Better results would be obtained if each girl would concentrate her interest in only a few branches of work, thus ensuring a vigorous and enthusiastic membership to every organization in Barnard.

The Health Problem

The attention of all who are interested in educational work is called to a course of lectures to be given under the auspices of the Charity Organization Society. The object of these lectures is to promulgate the doctrine that tuberculosis is a communicable, preventable and curable disease, and to suggest means and methods to be adopted for its prevention. These lectures will be of interest to any who recognize the teacher's responsibility with regard to health problems.

The dates and subjects of the lectures are as follows: Jan. 12, 8 p. m., "Social Aspects of the Warfare Against Tuberculosis," Edward T. Devine; February 9, 8 p. m., "Duties of the Government and the Individual in the Combat of Tuberculosis," Dr. S. A. Knopf; March 9, 8 p. m., "Tuberculosis and Children," Dr. A. Jacobi; March 30, 8 p. m., "Tuberculosis in Its Relation to Diseases of the Bones and Joints," Dr. Joseph D. Bryant; April 13, 8 p. m., E. S. Trudeau; May 11, 8 p. m., "The Duty of the Community," Mr. Robert Hunter. No admission will be charged.

Chapel

On Tuesday, December 9, Chapel service was conducted by Dr. Huntington, of Grace Church, who spoke on "The Doctrine of Christian Prayer." Dr. Huntington pointed out the difference between Christian prayer and prayer of religions other than Christianity. Moslem prayer involves fatalism; Buddhist prayer is based on a belief in pantheism; and neither fatalism nor pantheism is a teaching of Christianity. The four pillars of Christian prayer are the omnipresence of God, His omniscience, His omnipotence, and His loving kindness.

Correspondence

Although we are glad to publish letters signed by their writers, we are not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Unsigned letters will not be published.

To the Editors of the Bulletin.

We wish to mention to those in charge that the gymnasium has not received proper attention this year. It seems each time that we play basketball that the dust of ages has accumulated on the floor of the room. Considering that in a game of basketball each player is at least once stretched out on the ground, we think that that floor ought to be kept cleaner than any other.

If the room were swept every Tuesday and Thursday morning the players would be very grateful.

Associate Alumnae

On Friday, December 5, a meeting of the Reunion Committee was held. The Presidents of the Alumnae classes were invited to be present, and the business of the meeting to be present, and the business of the meeting was the consideration of a plan for the annual reunion of the association. This is to be held in the form of a luncheon to be given at Barnard on December 30. Each class which has a sufficient number of representatives present is to have a separate table. There will be music during the luncheon, and the classes of 1900 and 1901 have volunteered to close the entertainment with two short plays.

Debating Society

At the meeting of the Debating Club held Friday, December 12th, the following question was discussed: "Resolved, that President Butler's suggestion of a two year's course at Columbia should be adopted." Elizabeth McFean, '04, and Florence Hubbard, '04, upheld the affirmative and answered very successfully most of the objections Martha Hunt, '04, and Florence Lilienthal, '06, were able to produce. The affirmative won the debate. A new experiment of the Club's was speaking from the floor and this added much to the interest and liveliness of the meeting.

Chapel

On Friday, December 12, Chapel was conducted by Rev. George C. Lorrimer, of the Madison Avenue Baptist Church. Dr. Lorrimer's subject was "Sacrifice the Essential Spirit of Christianity."

Notice

Mrs. Herbert Parsons, '06, was appointed chairman of a committee to investigate ways and means of raising money for the college.

Official Notice

Inquiries for Summer Schol teachers are being received. Students who wish work of this kind should register with Miss Pratt, the Appointment Secretary, at once.

Y. W. C. A. Notice

A business meeting of the Christian Association will be held to-day at 12:30. As some important matters are to be decided, it is requested that all members attend.

Chess Club

An effort is being made to form a chess club. All who are interested are requested to give their names to Lilian Wiesner, '00.

Southern Club

There will be a social meeting of the Southern Club on Tuesday, December 16, at 4:30 in Earl Hall.

1901 Reunion

The Class of 1901 held a social meeting in the College on Saturday, December 13.

1903 Notes

The Class of 1903 will have a class party on Wednesday, December 17, at 3:30.

Meeting of 1904

The regular monthly meeting of the Class of 1904 took place Thursday, December 4th. The principal business before the meeting was the discussion of the details of the Junior ball. The report of the Junior Ball Committee was read by the chairman, Jean Loomis. The date of the ball has been set for February 11th. May Parker, chairman of the committee to devise means to meet the expenses of the Junior Ball then presented a report. It was decided not to give any entertainment.
