BARNARD BEAR MEETING.

On Wednesday, April 8, the members of the Barnard Bear held an informal meeting in the BULLETIN ROOM. The subject for discussion was Henry James' "Wings of a Dove"; parts of it were read aloud, and a lively argument as to its merits and faults followed. Afterwards, although it was not one of the books assigned for reading, Mrs. Humprey Ward's, "Lady Rose's Daughter" was discussed. It was decided that the next, and last book to be read this term would be Sarah Jeannette Duncan Cotes', "Those Delightful Americans." This book will be found on the shelf in the BULLETIN ROOM, and all members of the Bear are requested to read it before the next meeting.

THE GREEK CONTEST.

On Thursday, April 16, the Greek tournament between the Sophomore and Freshman classes will be held. The events are to be a wrestling match, an archery contest, a jumping match, and lastly a tug of war for the non-contestants in the other events. There is also a prize to be awarded to the class which produces the best poem for the occasion. The gallery of the theatre will be open to all students who wish to witness the games.

ROOF GARDEN.

One of the trustees of Barnard has paid for the laying of a floor on top of Milbank Hall. Chairs and tables have already been taken to the roof so that students may have the full benefit of the roof garden as soon as possible. As there is no railing about that part of the roof which has been floored over students are requested to be particularly careful not to step beyond it as any carelessness in this respect would be likely to produce leakages in the roof.

THE SPEYER SCHOOL.

The Speyer School is a "Neighborhood School" located on Lawrence street, just off of Amsterdam avenue, six blocks north of Teacher's College and under its direct supervision. There is no public school in this immediate vicinity although the district is an unusually crowded one. The Speyer School is trying to give to the many street waifs and the factory girls, working in the neighboring ribbon factories, greater educational and social advantages. Already there are day classes in primary work for the younger children, sewing classes, etc. Mr. Burks, the acting principal of the school, is anxious that afternoon or evening classes be started in some sort of literary work. It is hoped that there may be some Barnard girls who are willing to give one afternoon, or one evening a week to this needed work. Any girls that are willing to assist may see Mr. Burks by appointment and arrange about hours.

NEW COLLEGE SONGS.

The following songs have recently been sung with great success by the Class of 1903. It is the suggestion of the Seniors that since these songs are suitable for college affairs they should be learned and used by all Barnard students. The first and second were written by Lucy Sherman and the third by Alice Bamberger.

I.

Tune: "There is a Tavern in the Town."
There is a college on Broadway, on Broadway,
And there we go most every day, every day,
To study hard and to frolic fast
Until our college days are past.

Chorus:

Oh, be merry and be jolly,
Do not shun a bit of folly,
For professors can devise enough of woe,
of woe.
So don't attempt to be a set of greasy grinds
And cultivate your wayward minds, wayward minds,
But sing and cheer with all your might
For Barnard and the blue and white.

Oh, Barnard College is the best, is the best.
It goes ahead of all the rest, all the rest.
For the hardest work and the greatest play
For students who are bright and gay.

II.

Tune: "Tommy Atkins."

Oh, the Freshmen they are green as grass
in spring,
But it doesn't take them very long to learn;
In Sophomore year they think they're quite
the thing
And cultivate a manner proud and stern.
But both agree in just one single thing,
For when they get together in a crowd,
If they get within your hearing
You will find they all are cheering
For Barnard, and they do it long and loud.

Chorus:

Oh, take us all together, we're a bright and
shining light,
We're the pride of all who know us, and we love the blue and white.
And from Seniors down to Freshmen, each and every one is glad.
To sing to Barnard College and to cheer the Undergrad.
Oh, the Junior Class responds to every
call;
They're the careless and the merry and the gay;
The Seniors think that they have learned it
all.
On everything they have a word to say,
But it doesn't matter what their classes are.
For when they get together in a crowd,
If they get within your hearing

REPORT OF THE CHAPTERS.

It will be remembered that the College Settlement Association is a large organization of which the Barnard Chapter forms but one of many branches. The colleges represented in the Association are Wellesley, Smith, Vassar, Bryn Mawr, Radcliffe, Wells, Packer, Cornell, Swarthmore, Elmira, Woman's College of Baltimore, Mount Holyoke, and Barnard. In addition to these branches there are non-collegiate and associate members. There are three settlements connected with the association: 95 Rivington street, New York; 433 Christian street, Philadelphia, and the Denison House, at 93 Tyler street, Boston. Graduates or special students who are interested in practical philanthropy will find a large and varied field in this work, in which there is almost no talent or special ability which cannot be turned to account. Applications for residence in the New York Settlement should be made to Miss E. S. Williams, 95 Rivington street; in Philadelphia Settlement to Miss Emily S. Richards, 5343 Magnolia street, Germantown, Pa.; at Denison House to Mrs. Dexter E. Wadsworth, Quincy, Mass. In the first two board will not exceed $6.00 a week, in the Boston Settlement it will not exceed $6.50.

The Electoral Board of the Association makes the following report for the year 1902:

In Wellesley there has been a falling off of subscriptions for the past year; three sub-chapters have been started by Wellesley graduates, two of which have become general chapters, while the third is affiliated with the Wellesley Alumnae Chapter. Early in the fall a tea was given to the Freshman Class by the Chapter where the class had the opportunity of meeting and hearing from the President of the Association and the Headworker of the Boston Settlement.

One hundred and thirty-seven dollars was raised by the annual doll show and candy sale, the proceeds of which were given to Denison House for the Children's Christmas. Two hundred dolls were divided between the Boston and Philadelphia Settlements. Much interest was aroused by the performance at the College of "Richelieu," by the Denison Dramatic Club of young men from Denison House. In addition there have been occasional "settlement trips" to acquaint girls with the house and the work.

The report from Smith is most encouraging. Both Alumnae and Undergraduate Electors bear witness to an increased and deepened interest in the Association among members of the College, and this result has been obtained in the face of many new calls on the students, including a special call to raise money for a college fund. Addresses have been made by the Electors, the Secretary of the Association and by Professor Emerick, of the College.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, APRIL 13, 1903

The perseverance of the basketball team under constant discouragement has at last been rewarded. The victory of Barnard over Adelphi on April fourth will go far toward wiping out the demoralizing effects of previous defeats. Ever since the first game in December the team has kept up a zealous enthusiasm and has showed in the long run a steady, if slow, improvement. Defeats of 8-7 by Adelphi, and 4-3 by Smith Alumnae were close to success. We hope that the gain of April fourth will be the precursor of a long line of victories.

Attention is called in this issue to the list of exchanges in the BULLETIN Room. We should like to say a few words to recommend the free use of the magazines and newspapers on file. It is the tendency of every college to regard its particular range of activities as more worth while, its distinguishing ideals as finer than those of other institutions. The argument frequently urged in favor of a city college is that this tendency is counteracted by the multitude of outside interests which press upon the attention of the students. This statement, however, contains but one side of the truth. In the average country college there is a more general representation of all sections of the nation than there is at Barnard, where the great majority of students come from the city or its suburbs. utB, however, we may feel toward the provincial spirit in general or the superiority of the city or country college, it is certain that this attitude of mind is nowhere more out of place than in centres of learning. The college should stand for breadth of interest. It should realize itself as but one branch of a great association of education. To this end any information furnished by the publications of other colleges and universities directly serves. We hope to increase our list of exchanges next year so that it will be representative of all the important eastern colleges, but the papers already on file might do much toward making realities of those institutions which to many of us are now but names.

COLLEGE MAGAZINES AND NEWSPAPERS.

The BULLETIN now receives quite a number of exchanges, and it is interesting to notice how college publications vary. These may be roughly divided into two classes, the literary magazines and the newspapers, but such a division is rather arbitrary, since many of the monthly magazines contain the news of the college world, and some few of the newspapers contain sketches or verse similar to what one finds in the magazines.

The Radcliffe Magazine differs from the other publications in that it is published only three times a year, in December, in March and in June. It contains stories, and poems, with a few essays, and it prints also the news of the alumnae and of the undergraduate activities. The Wellesley Magazine is published monthly, but its contents are of the same kind—stories, poems and essays. The Smith College Monthly differs from both the preceding, as it is conducted entirely by the Senior Class. In its Alumnae Department, in addition to the personal notices, there are short articles and sketches written by the graduates themselves. The Wells College Monthly includes the faculty and undergraduate notes with its literary numbers. The Mount Holyoke and The Normal College Echo each contain college news as well as essays and stories. The College Message, from Greensboro, N. C., is published only six times a year by the literary societies, but The White and Gold, from Mills College, California, is published monthly. The New Hampshire College Monthly is published by both men and women students, as is also The Mirror, of Ohio University. The Adelpian contains stores and verse, as well as the news, of both Adelphi College and its academy. The Inlander is the literary magazine of the students of Michigan University, and appears each month of the college year. Two magazines which are published semi-monthly are The University Cynic, of the University of Vermont, and The Boston University Beacon. The Idealist, "a magazine devoted to making its readers better," as it is stated on the cover, presents a contrast to the other magazines in its small square shape. It is published monthly at the Kee Mar College, Maryland. A magazine which is edited entirely by men is the St. Stephen's College Messenger, from Annandale on the Hudson. This publication contains more college news than literary articles.

Among the newspapers, there are several which are published weekly. These are The University Weekly News, from the University of Cincinnati; The Texan, from the University of Texas; The Kansas University Weekly; The Campus, from Allegheny College; The Lantern, from Ohio State University; The Butler Collegian, from Butler College, Indianapolis, and The Syracuse University Weekly. This latter is published in rather a magazine than a newspaper form, and is larger than most of the other weeklies. One bi-weekly newspaper is The Bucktelite, from Buchtel College, Ohio.

There are several daily papers received, and it is interesting to glance over these, and see what other students are doing from day to day. Among these papers are The Brown Herald, from Brown University; The Daily Californian, from University of California; The Daily Palo Alto, from Stanford University; The Daily Maroon, from University of Chicago; The Minnesota Daily, from University of Minnesota, and The Daily Nebraskan, from University of Nebraska.

The BULLETIN also has on file The Morningside, The Columbia Literary Monthly, and The Columbia Spectator, but these are too well known to our readers to need comment here.

University News

"AS YOU LIKE IT" AT SOUTH FIELD.

There will be an open air performance of "As You Like It" at South Field on Thursday, May 14, for the benefit of the Kindergarten of the University Settlement, under the management of Mrs. James H. Speyer, and under the personal direction of Mr. Ben Greet, of London. Mr. Greet is well known in England in connection with open air performances of Shakespeare. He has directed nearly 2,000 open air presentations, including performances at Oxford, Cambridge, and in Regent's Park, London. The part of Rosalind will be played by Miss Matthison, who has been appearing in the title role of "Every Man." Tickets will be $5.00. A few boxes will be built, but these have nearly all been taken. Tickets can be bought at the principal hotels and regular ticket offices. In case of rain the performance will take place on May 15.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

A Department of Physical Education has been organized for the whole University by the Board of Trustees under the direction of Dr. Thomas D. Wood. Dr. Wood will therefore have charge of the physical training at Columbia and Barnard, as well as in Teachers College. He will broaden the work to include a department for teachers of physical training in addition to the work among undergraduates.

NOTICE.

Circumstances have arisen which will therefore with having the students photographed on April 14. As soon as the date can be satisfactorily arranged it will be announced in the various classes and from the BULLETIN. All academic exercises will on as usual on April 14.

MEETING OF 1902.

There will be a meeting of 1902 on Monday, April 13, at 3:30 in the Alumnae Room.

CHAPEL NOTICE.

Dr. Wilfred Grenfell, a graduate of Oxford University, England, and the author of "Labrador, Its Physical Features and People," and "Vikings of To-day," will speak at Chapel on Friday, April 17, of his hospital work in Labrador and of his cruising among the deep sea fishermen.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

There will be a Silver Bay meeting on April 13 at 4:30 in Earl Hall. Reports from former delegates will be given. On April 16, at 12:30, in Room 204, the annual meeting for the election of officers will be held.

SMITH ALUMNAE LUNCHEON.

On April 4, at 1 o'clock, the Smith College Alumnae of New York held their eighth annual luncheon at the Manhattan Hotel. Dean Gill, '81, President of the New York Branch of Smith College Alumnae, presided. The speakers were President Woolley, of Holyoke College; Dean Emery, of Brown University, and Dean Tyler, of Smith College. About 150 Alumnae and guests were present.

BASKETBALL NEWS.

On Thursday, April 9, the Wadleigh High School team practised basketball in the Barnard gymnasium. In the first half they played against the Freshman team and were defeated by a score of 2 to 0. In the second half they were defeated by the Barnard Varsity team by a score of 16 to 0.

TENNIS.

Preparations for getting the tennis court ready for use have been begun. The court has been rolled and will be marked and in good condition for playing in a few days. Arrangements are being made for the spring tournament. Slips have been placed on the bulletin boards in the studies, on which all students desiring to compete in the tournament are requested to sign their names. The tournament will be conducted on the same plan as the contest of last fall, that is, the class champions will first be decided, and the four class champions will compete for the college championship. Efforts will be made to begin the tournament as soon as possible.

III.

Tune: "Clementine."

On a hilltop,

On a hilltop,

With the city far below,

By Hudson's waters,

Barnard's daughters

Ever come and ever go.

Chorus:

Sing her praises, Alma Mater,

Barnard College great in name,

Here's to glory, here's to honor,

Wealth, prosperity, and fame.

First as Freshmen,

Then as Sophomores,

Then as Juniors bright and gay,

Then as Seniors,

Staid and sober,

Then as old Alumnae they.

WEST FIELD.

The land recently purchased by Mrs. Anderson for Barnard has been placed at the disposal of the college men, who are carrying on the Boys' Club work at the Speyer School Settlement, for the use of the boys. Several prep-schools are also using the field to play their schedules there.
