ATHLETIC NEWS.

At a meeting of the Athletic Association on Monday, October 5, the Association adopted important measures for the regulation of tennis and basketball. It was agreed that the Barnard basketball teams restrict themselves entirely to the women's rules until February 1, 1904. Only inter-class match games are to be played; there will be no games with outside teams. The class team winning the greatest number of games in one year will receive the Dean's Cup.

Arrangements were agreed upon by which the Teachers' College coach will coach the Barnard teams, and in return, the use of the Barnard basketball fields is granted to Teachers' College two afternoons of each week, after 4:30.

Only members of the Athletic Association are permitted the use of the tennis courts and balls. Balls may be obtained in the Telephone Room. Students are requested to return all balls when they finish playing. The court on Clairmont Avenue will be kept in repair by the Association until further notice is given.

After the adoption of the above regulations, the resignation of Jean Eggleston, 1904, as chairman of the tennis executive committee, was accepted, and Edith Handy, 1905, was unanimously elected to the office. It was voted to postpone the election of the fifth members of the Basketball and Tennis Executive Committees until the next meeting.

The dues for membership in the Association were reduced to seventy-five cents for the entire year.

All students wishing to join the Association will please put their names in Edith Handy's locker, number 142, Junior Study.

TENNIS ENTRIES.

The entries for the tennis tournament are as follows: From the class of 1904—Jean D. Eggleston, Bessie Swan, Louise E. Peters, Edith Van Ingen, May A. Parker, Jessie B. Adams, Mary Frothingham. From the class of 1905—Helen W. Cooley, Abigail Tallentire, Margie E. Hoffman, Edith B. Hand, A. D. Greene, A. F. Fisher, Edith B. Hatch, Marguerite Smith, Cecil I. Dorn, Elsie Ehrich. From the class of 1906—Lillian Howard, Lillian Wiesner, E. E. Ford, N. M. Price, Edith Somborn, B. Enthau, Rose Erstine, Irma Seligman, Blanche Marks, M. I. Fontaine. From the class of 1907—Katharine S. Rapp, Margaret Merrin.

VOLUNTEERS WANTED.

The Philanthropic Committee of the Y. W. C. A. has posted notices in the studies of what girls can give one hour a week, according to the patients at St. Luke's. Those who will do work of this kind are requested to sign the notices or send their names to Annette Wick, '04, chairman.

MORTARBOARD NOTICE.

The Mortarboard is the year book of Barnard College published by the Junior Class. The editors of the 1905 Mortarboard are already at work. Students are urged to subscribe, both for their own sakes and in order to make the book a success. Early subscriptions will be particularly welcome. Last year there was a large call for copies of the 1904 issue after the book appeared, and a second order had to be sent to the printer. This extra trouble to the editors can be avoided by prompt subscriptions.

COLLEGE SETTLEMENT NOTICE.

The College Settlement work at 95 Livingston Street makes a very strong appeal to Barnard students, not only because it is philanthropic and near at hand, but also because it gives us a very convenient opportunity for paying a debt to less fortunate New Yorkers. We are receiving very much intellectually and socially from New York, and we surely ought to feel eager to make some return for all that we are enjoying.

The Barnard Chapter is now organized for the year. The Vice-Electors are as follows: From 1904, Helena Fischer and Elsie Bushong; from 1905, Abby Leland and Alice Smith; from 1906, Blanche Marks and Nina Price; from 1907, Helen Perry and Muriel Valentine. The chairmen of the various standing committees are Kate Doty, Membership; Margaret Stone, Settlement Visitation; Edith Van Ingen, Special Donations. Each and every one of us will be glad to give information concerning the work of the Chapter in general, or the work of her particular department. We hope for a very prosperous year, and ask the hearty co-operation of all the students.

The Chapter will give a tea to the College and all the friends of the Settlement in the Theatre, on Tuesday, October 27, from 4 to 6.

LILY S. MURRAY,
Undergraduate Elector.

"DEUTSCHER KREIS."

There was a meeting of the "Deutscher Kreis" on Tuesday, October 6. The following officers were elected: President, Kate Doty, '04; Vice-President, Blanche Reitlinger, '05; Secretary, Edwina Levy, '05; Treasurer, Grace Farrelly, '05; fifth member of Executive Committee, Ruth Reeder, '05.

There will be a meeting in Room 204 on Tuesday, October 13, at 12:30, for the purpose of electing new members and for considering the giving of plays, etc. All those wishing to join should please put their names in the Secretary's locker before Tuesday.

UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION.

There will be a meeting of the Undergraduate Association this week. Notices of the day and the hour of this meeting will be found on the bulletin boards in the studies.

1905 ENTERTAINS 1907.

On Monday afternoon, October 5, the Juniors entertained the Freshmen in a unique and amusing way. The entertainment took the form of a circus from which none of the essential features were missing. Of course there was an opening parade, and great interest was manifested in the circus company as it passed along. The monkey and the elephant received especial attention.

Around the walls of the theatre were the "side shows"—wonderful monstrosities in the form of dwarf, giant, and fat woman. After the audience had seen these strange freaks of nature, they took seats around the ring that formed the arena of the circus. Then the riding master announced the different members of the company who came out in turn to astonish and amuse the spectators. Mlle. Floranyo, with her Arabian steed; Mlle. Salerina Fletcherova, the snake charmer; Signora Thononta, from Paraguay, with her wonderful parrot, and Miss Eleanor, the tight-rope walker, performed daring feats, and Samus Hoyner, the strong man, exhibited marvellous strength. The exhibition of Phyllis, the elephant, revealed an intelligence that was actually human. The countryman's attempts to ride Phyllis were ludicrous, but unsuccessful. Among the musical specialties were a cant walk and song by Mlle. Floranyo and the countryman; an illustrated song by "Young Black Joe," and the chicken song, by two remarkable chickens.

Throughout the exhibitions the clown carrying his little pink animal received much attention.

Between the events Sigur Reinstein's band of noted soloists furnished pleasing and appropriate music. This band showed the results of patient and careful training.

There were the usual circus refreshments of peanuts, gingerbread, and pink lemonade.

After the exhibitions were over the audience had an opportunity to meet the artists of the company. General dancing followed.

BARNARD BEAR MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Barnard Bear on Monday, October 14, in the Bulletin Room, at 4:30. All members are particularly requested to be present, as an election of officers will take place. This is the most important meeting of the year.

C. S. M. A.

At a meeting of the C. S. M. A. on Thursday, October 8, 1903, it was decided that as a body the C. S. M. A. should not join the Y. W. C. A. mission-study class. The work for the year is the collection of items of missionary interest in a scrap-book.

Y. W. C. A.

A few books, the nucleus of a future Y. W. C. A. library are in the book-case in the Bulletin Room. Students are cordially invited to read the books, provided they do not take them from the Bulletin Room.

BARNARD BULLETIN,
BARNARD COLLEGE,
Broadway & 119th Street. COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1903.

In a recent speech President Butler said that with South Field purchased and the erection of dormitories begun the student life at Columbia would develop as never before, that, in fact, a new period in the history of the college seemed about to open. These words are more to us than a mere statement, in the truth of which we rejoice. We see an analogy, an analogy only partially pertinent, to be sure, but suggestive. Milbank Quadrangle is ours, of this we are gratefully conscious, but to set against Hartley Hall we have not as yet so much as a definite hope. Our old Fiske has become a mere memory to the upper class girl, the present sophomore and freshman has but a second-hand knowledge of what once was so important a factor in our college life. The Teachers' College Dormitory does well enough as a make shift, and it behooves us to be thankful that such a place exists to which we may go in our need, yet it is too large, too cosmopolitan, too varied in its interests in any sense to supply a centre about which the life of the college may circle.

A limit may be drawn as to the opinion of our patrons regarding the lack of dormitory life by running over the entrance statistics of the last seven years. The registration of the freshman class in 1897, 1898, 1899, 1900, and 1901—the last five years of the existence of the Fiske Hall Dormitory—was 38, 45, 54, 81, and 98, respectively. These figures show a yearly increase of 7, 9, 27, and 19. Last year's registration fell to 92 and this year we have 100. Such figures utter their own protest. Nor is it to be wondered at that parents prefer to send their girls where a well-rounded college life is within their reach:

If, however, as a contemporary magazine, referring to this lack of dormitory advantages at Barnard, says, "the students are principally mature women who can afford to forego the social intercourse which plays a large part in shaping the ideals of the college woman elsewhere," no more need be said. But we know that this is not so. The mature woman is here as in other colleges, distinctly the exception, and the social intercourse and common ideals which accompany dormitory life we can no longer afford to forego.

The letter in this issue asking that more care be taken of the college bulletin boards deserves notice. It is true that most of us have been exasperated at times by discovering that we have overlooked a notice until too late to do any good, simply because it was lost among old papers which should have been taken down and thrown away. Moreover, it is impossible to print the announcements in the BULLETIN unless they are posted by Thursday or Friday of the week preceding the issue in which they should appear. Prompt posting of notices would insure a more general knowledge of meetings as well as greatly simplify the work of the editor who has this in charge.

The request of the committee in charge of the Students' Exchange, published in our last issue, is one that should receive prompt response from those students who wish to obtain such positions as the Exchange will be able to offer, or who may wish to dispose of articles of the kind solicited by the committee. The Exchange has already justified its existence by the work it has done this fall in the transfer of books. The difficulty which has been felt in the past of finding students who wanted to buy or sell books has been obviated, and those who have patronized the Exchange have realized its benefits. The committee in charge is eager to extend the scope of the work to meet the various needs of the students. It remains with the students to take advantage of the opportunities it offers. The Exchange is for them and must be supported by them. If there is a proper appreciation of these facts among the members of the college, the Students' Exchange can and must be a success.

fessor at Barnard. We find that we were misinformed, and that Dr. Gregory was the first woman professor.

Dr. Emily L. Gregory received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Cornell in 1881. Soon after this she went abroad, and studied at Marburg and at Berlin. In 1886, after she received the degree of Doctor of Philosophy from the University of Zürich, she returned to this country. From 1886-8 she held an appointment at Bryn Mawr. In 1889, she was induced to open a botanical laboratory in connection with Barnard, which, owing to inadequate laboratory room and insufficient funds, was a difficult task. She was the only woman on the teaching staff, and the only "Professor in Barnard College." Dr. Gregory died in 1897.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Though the BULLETIN is glad to publish letters signed by their writers, it is not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Unsigned letters will receive no attention.

To the Editors of THE BULLETIN:

Is there anyone in the college who has not suffered more or less inconvenience and loss of time because the notices posted on the class bulletin boards are not dated? Most of them simply say: At such an hour Room 139 (or elsewhere) to-day. Then these notices are allowed to accumulate and crowd the board so that one pays very little attention to any of them, because it is impossible to distinguish new from old or important from unimportant. Moreover, very few people stop to write out, or better print, notices in ink, but simply scribble them in pencil leaving them as inconspicuous and hard to read as possible. If everyone who puts notices on the boards would take a little pains to make them definite and easy to read, then put them up at least one day, and not more than two weeks ahead of time, and, finally, take them down when they have served their purpose, it would simplify matters considerably.
