ATHLETIC NEWS.

MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Athletic Association on Wednesday, October 21, at 12:20, in room 139. Special business to be transacted is the election of the fifth members of the tennis and basketball committees. The election of one member of each of these committees is held over from the spring meeting till fall, in order to give an opportunity for the election of freshmen to these offices.

BASKETBALL PRACTICE.

The basketball fields on Milbank Quadrangle are now ready for use. Regular practice has been arranged for Mondays and Wednesdays at 3:30. All interested in basketball are urged to be on hand to begin work on Monday, the nineteenth.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

Most of the preliminary matches of the tennis tournament have been played off, except in the Senior Class, where only two matches have been decided. These were won by May Parker by default and by Jean Eggleston. In 1905 five matches have been finished, the successful players being Abigail Talbot, who won by default, Marguerite Smith, Margie Hoffman, Edith Handy, and Helen Cooley. In 1906, matches were won by Nina Price, Edith Sombart, Elizabeth Bradford, Lillian Howard by default, and Eilian Wiesner by default. In the Freshman class Marie Marris won the only match, and now stands as the class champion.

TENNIS BALLS.

New balls have been purchased by the Athletic Association, have been marked and placed in the telephone room. Any one who takes the balls is requested to sign her name on a paper to be kept in the telephone room, together with the number of balls she takes. On return of the balls her name may be crossed off. This system is necessary in order to keep track of balls belonging to the Association.

RECEPTION OF DEAN GILL.

On Wednesday, October 13, Dean Gill entertained the four ladies who are accompanying the Moseley Commission—Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Bradford, Miss Gaskele and Miss Moseley—at an informal tea. A number of representative New York women were present.

DEAN GILL AT SMITH.

On Sunday, October 17, Dean Gill was the guest of the Western Massachusetts Association of Smith College Alumnae at their luncheon at Northampton.

DANCING CLASS.

A sufficient room is left in the theatre for a dancing class for pupils and teachers of the college. The class will be discontinued.

ELIZABETH McLEAN, '04.

The election of officers for the coming year was held and resulted as follows: President, Helen Erskine, 1904; Vice President, Margaret M. Stone, 1904; Treasurer, Charlotte Morgan, 1904; Secretary, Lily S. Murray, 1905. Professor Trent was unanimously re-elected Associate Vice President.

The new members admitted to the society are Selma Hirsch, 1904; Jane Hawes, 1904; Florence Hubbard, 1904, and Alice Haskell, 1906.

At the next meeting there will be a general discussion of "The Ambassadors," by Henry James, and "The Five Nations," by Rudyard Kipling. These books will be placed in the Bulletin Room as soon as possible, and will be for the use of the members of the Barnard Bear.

1905 MORTARBOARD.

The Mortarboard, though a Junior publication, represents the whole College for the year 1903-1904. In order that it shall be truly representative, every student who possesses any ability either in writing or drawing, should contribute to its success. The editors will be very glad to receive all contributions that may be handed in before December 1st. These contributions may be placed in locker 152 in the Junior study.

Section 2. The dues for the second term shall be 75 cents.

The Chairman of the Self-government Committee read the following report:

ARTICLE I.—The committee suggests that there be no noise in the hall during lecture hours, especially near the Reading Room; that students do not sit on the stairs; and that there be no talking in the Reading Room or in the Silent Study.

ARTICLE II.—Students must wear hats outside of the college buildings, except when going to and from the tennis courts, and must not cross the street without collars or with their sleeves rolled up.

ARTICLE III.—All lunches must be eaten in the lunch room.

ARTICLE IV.—Undergraduate china may be used by any association to which all regular students are eligible, provided permission be asked of some member of the Self-government Committee, and that such organization be responsible for all breakage of china.

ARTICLE V.—The work formerly undertaken by a Supervisory Play Committee is to be assumed by the Self-government Committee. The Play Committees of the various classes must submit a list of the students who propose to take part in the play and the Self-government Committee will decide whether the standing of such students warrants their taking part.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1903.

The way in which the college has responded to the tennis tournament is exceedingly gratifying. There have not only been a large number of entries but most of the players have been closely matched and the playing has been far better, on the whole, than it ever was before. Then the games have attracted considerable notice. Students have watched them from the benches and garden and the windows of the College have been lined with onlookers wherever the playing has been at all close. Notwithstanding this none of the inter-class matches have been played off. It is therefore fair to expect that in the finals we shall see even better tennis than we have yet had. Why not make the inter-class final a real and overwhelming success? If each class would turn out in good numbers to back its champion and would support her in good style we might have some healthy enthusiasm. We should certainly have much better tennis, for any one who plays knows what it means to have strong support.

We have been asked to call special attention to the notice of the new course on the history of art. It has been decided quite suddenly to give the course this year, and, as there has already been time lost, work must begin at once. Those who know anything of the fascination of the subject or the efficiency of the lecturer will not need to be told that it is an opportunity of which every one who can should avail herself. The tuition fee is $10.

It is interesting to connect the sudden decision to give this course with the Report of the Dean in which the lack of art courses is deplored. Most of our needs are quickly and adequately answered if they are brought to the attention of the proper authorities.

REPORT OF THE DEAN.

The report of Dean Gill for the year ending June 30, 1903, contains some notable features.

The point in regard to registration which has attracted particular attention is the increase in the number of students who transfer from other colleges. These students are drawn here largely by the superior departmental opportunities which the University affords for the attainment of a definite scholarly end.

The Scholarship Fund, intended to defray the expenses of non-competitive student scholarships, which has in the past been provided for from year to year by the personal solicitation of the Committee of the Trustees on Scholarships, has now reached $9,580. It is hoped that the desired amount of $40,000 will soon be obtained.

Two scholarships have recently been endowed by Joseph Pulitzer, Esq., in memory of his daughter. There are therefore three Lucille Pulitzer Scholarships to be awarded in successive years which can be held for three years and which collectively represent the income of $175,000.

But the gift of land from Mrs. Elizabeth Milbank Anderson so far exceeds all others in magnitude as to stand quite alone. No commercial rating of such a gift is possible.

The satisfaction of this need of land so imperative last year has left the demand for a dormitory at the head of the list of the present needs of Barnard. "This year's experience without a dormitory has proved, even more forcibly than we feared, how impossible it is to furnish suitable care for non-resident students without a college home. . . . The dormitory is essential as a safeguard to the health and social ideals of the increasing number of students from a distance, who are now anxious to share in the University privileges."

The necessity of a student's building with gymnasium and rest rooms is felt with increasing force. It is more and more apparent that the College must assume a greater responsibility for the physical condition of its students.

Some rounding out of the curriculum has been obtained by the extension of courses in the departments of philosophy, psychology, anthropology, and geology, but it is to be deplored that there is still no instruction in art subjects.

In conclusion Dean Gill refers to the difficulty of securing unity in the schedules of the students and suggests that there be a larger selection on the part of the Faculty, and less on the part of the student. The plan suggested by the Dean of Columbia College to place all prescribed courses in the first two years is recommended in that it would yield the advantages of a general culture and yet give two years for more intensive study in a chosen group of subjects.

C. S. M. A. NEWS.

Mr. Paddock will give a short address on the work of the Church Students' Missionary Association on Monday, October 19, at 12.30, in room 304. All members of the association are requested to be present.
