PUBLIC COURSE IN FRENCH LECTURES.

A course of public lectures delivered in English on The French Drama of the 17th Century will be given on Saturdays at 11 A.M., beginning December 5, in Room 305 Schermerhorn Hall. The course will not be given unless at least 60 persons register for it, nor if the average attendance falls below 50. Persons desiring to attend must register in person with the Registrar of the University, who will issue to them a card of admission. No roll will be called, but every person attending will be required to sign a record book which will be kept in the lecture room.

The course will consist of fifteen lectures as follows:

- 1903
December 5th.—The Origins of French Tragedy
December 12th.—The French Drama before 1636.
December 19th.—The Triumph of Corneille: Significance of Le Cid.
1904
January 9th.—The Art of Corneille.
January 16th.—Tragi-Comedy and the decay of Corneille.
February 6th.—French Comedy before Molière.
February 13th.—The Formation of Molière's Genius.
February 20th.—A new division of Molière's Plays.
February 27th.—Molière as an Amuser.
March 5th.—Molière as a Fighter.
March 12th.—Le Misanthrope, or the Culmination of Molière's Art.
March 19th.—The Advent of Greek Influence with Racine.
March 26th.—Racine's Love Tragedies.
April 9th.—Athalie as the introducer of a new form of Drama.
April 16th.—Conclusion: The Influence of the French classical drama on the development of dramatic literature.
A syllabus will be printed later and a course of reading suggested. There will be no examination at the conclusion of the course. The lectures are open to the public without fee under the conditions stipulated above.

F. P. KEPPEL,
Secretary of the University.

DEBATING CLUB.

The subject for the debate next Friday, December 5, is: "Resolved, that a student should restrict her energies to not more than three college organizations, excluding the Undergraduate Association. The affirmative of the question will be taken by Haydock and Martha Hunt, '04. The negative by Hope Purdon, '05, and Florence McLane, '07.

BARNARD BOTANICAL CLUB.

ANNUAL MEETING.

The annual business meeting of the Barnard Botanical Club was held, November 21, at the home of the Secretary, Miss Brackett. Fourteen members were present.

Three resignations and six new members were reported making a total membership of 39. At the request of the President, Dr. Richards gave a short account of the work of the Department and stated that the money given to repair the books which had been left to the laboratory by Miss Dunn had been used to bind the volumes of Engler and Prauth's "Natürliche Pflanzen-Familien" relating to cryptogamic botany.

The club then proceeded to the discussion of new business. In view of the success of the lecture delivered last year by Dr. MacDougal it was decided to repeat the innovation. The Club therefore voted that Dr. Lloyd, of Teachers' College, be asked to give an illustrated lecture some time after the first of January—the exact date and place being left to the discretion of the Board of Directors with the restriction that it be held in a private house.

After a prolonged discussion the Club agreed to give a tea in the laboratories of the Botanical Department of Barnard during the late spring. The date was left open to be decided upon later by the Board of Directors.

For the customary field excursion it was voted to make a trip to the Bronx Gardens in May or June. The details were left to the directors.

The next business was the election of officers for this year. On motion of Dr. Richards the ticket prepared by the Nominating Committee was elected by a ballot of the Secretary. The officers are as follows: President, Miss Mary M. Brackett; first vice-president, Mrs. A. B. Hepburn; second vice-president, Miss Ada Watterson; secretary, May Parker, '04; and treasurer, Miss Bertha Dow. The Board of Directors consists of the following members: Mrs. S. Ely Jelliffe, Miss Emilie O. Long, Miss Alice M. Isaacs, Miss Linda Hanks, Mabel Denton, '04, and Helen Palliser, '05.

After the completion of this business the meeting adjourned and its members enjoyed the hospitality of Mrs. Brackett.

C. S. A. NOTICE.

The Visiting Committee of the Barnard Chapter of the College Settlement Association is arranging for a series of visits to 95 Rivington Street to be conducted by some member of the Committee. All who wish to visit the Settlement on Friday, December 4, will please meet Caroline Lexow, '04, in the Senior Study at 1:15 on that day.

SOCIETA ITALIANA.

There will be a meeting of Società Italiana on Monday, November 30, in Room 204, at 12:30.

WANTED SETTLEMENT WORKERS.

The sub-committee on co-operation of the University Advisory Committee on Social Settlements and Allied Work has been in correspondence with several New York social settlements in regard to the opportunities for work, both volunteer and paid, offered by them to Columbia students. The following summary is the result of this correspondence:

Children's House, 129 Chrystie Street. The headworker, Mr. David Willard, writes: "We do a large work with wayward boys. It consists of official investigation as required by the Courts and friendly help, which we offer voluntarily from philanthropic motives. The first part I attend to with official assistants, the second part is largely in the hands of volunteer workers. It consists in getting acquainted with the boys, seeing them at various places, if desirable, becoming their friend, and helping here in the social entertainments which we give for their uplifting and pleasure all through the winter. What I most want, are both young men and young women to help us out on our social evenings, to attend our parties, to meet our boys, to speak the friendly word, to give the social tone, to lend a hand at our candy pulls, at our small suppers, and at our general parties." The time required, "One night a week or one night every other week, or the hour here and there during the day for friendly visiting at a boy's home. We can use scraps and odds and ends of students' time and there does not have to be that regularity about it that there is about regular club or class work. It is, however, far more vital and interesting than either."

College Settlement, 95 Rivington Street. Headworker, Miss Williams. Wanted, club directors or assistants, a teacher in gymnastics for girls, occasional talkers to clubs of working-girls and clubs of working-boys and young men (almost any subject will appeal to them if presented in an interesting manner), vocal or instrumental musicians for evening parties (German songs particularly appreciated), directors of children's Saturday parties to Central Park, Natural History Museum, etc., investigators to work in connection with the Child Labor Committee, the work to consist of the compilation of statistics and some visiting in the homes.

East Side House Settlement, Seventy-sixth street and East River. Headworker, Mr. William H. Kelly. Wanted, teachers of classes in cooking, basketry, sewing and city history. A great many small girls of the neighborhood would like to form a dancing class if a teacher were forthcoming. Teachers in the gymnasium, both young men and women, are much needed. A general director of the gymnasium in the evenings would be offered remuneration.

Greenwich House, 26 Jones Street. Headworker, Mrs. Simkhovitch. Work

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1903.

Those students who have the will to be useful but who have hitherto not succeeded in finding a way are advised to read the report of the Committee on Social Settlement and Allied Work. Not only is such variety of work offered that practically no one is excluded on the ground of incapacity but, in many cases, it is expressly stated that hours will be made to suit the convenience of the workers. This report lays before us some splendid opportunities.

Y. W. C. A. NOTES.

Last week Miss Lewis, the New York State Traveling Secretary of the Y. W. C. A. met the chairman of the various committees of the Barnard Association and conferred with them about their work. A number of helpful and practical suggestions were given for increasing the membership and adding to the importance of the Association, as well as to enable it to do a greater amount of good work than it has done heretofore.

Miss Ruth Paxson, the National Students' Secretary of the Y. W. C. A., will visit Barnard on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November thirtieth, December first and second. On Monday Miss Paxson will conduct a prayer circle at 12:30 in room 213, and will give an address at 4:30 in the Theatre. From 10 o'clock until 12, on both Tuesday and Wednesday, Miss Paxson will devote herself to personal appointments with any student who may wish to see her. She will be present at the Earl Hall reception on Wednesday afternoon when all students may have the opportunity of meeting her socially.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Although we are glad to publish letters signed by their writers, we are not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Unsigned letters will receive no attention.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

I was sorry to hear that the question concerning the use of the tennis courts on Tuesday and Saturday afternoons was dropped before any decision was reached. It seemed to me not only very unwise but rather unjust also to leave such a thing unsettled.

There has evidently been a misunderstanding about the rights and privileges of the Athletic Association, and, unless that is cleared up now, in a few months a similar question will arise and the discussion will have to begin anew. So why not determine once and for all just what the Athletic Association is and how far its power reaches? If it has no longer the right to dispose of its tennis courts as it wishes, in the way it did heretofore when it was obliged to rent or borrow the land it used, then the whole purpose of the Association has been altered and it ought to be reorganized on a new basis. In such a case there must be radical changes, the most necessary of which would be the abolishing of the annual dues and the admitting of every regular student of Barnard College to the use of the courts and the basketball field.

Under the present circumstances it seems to me that the Association is bearing rather too many burdens. The members have practically the same duties and obligations as before while they have lost all their privileges.

Then why not decide whether it is best for the Association to keep its rights and continue to pay the tax, or dissolve the Association and allow the students to use the courts as they would the class-room laboratories or any other piece of college property?

ELSBETH KROEBER, 1903.

LA SOCIETE FRANCAISE.

There will be a social meeting of La Société Française on Thursday, December 3, at 4:30 in the Alumnae room to meet M. André Michel.

CLASSICAL CLUB.

On Friday afternoon, November 20th, a well attended meeting of the Classical Club of the University was held. Mr. Bigougiari read abstracts of three papers recently published in the Archiv für lateinische Lexicographie und Grammatik, on the history of the locative case in Latin, on que attached to monosyllabic prepositions, and on the historical infinitive in relative clauses. The papers were afterwards discussed by other members. The Club meets on the first and third Fridays of each month, at 4:30, in the Chapel of Earl Hall. Barnard Seniors who have had two years of College Latin and two years of College Greek are cordially invited to be present.

ural History Museum, etc., taking photographs of interesting and rapidly disappearing features of Greenwich Village under the direction of a resident, investigation of families of newsboys who made application for badges in June but did not apply in September, classifying those who received badges by age and grade and comparing with average age of each grade, writing history of 50 cases investigated last year by attendance officers, writing up cases disposed of in Childrens' Court for a few days in succession, singers, instrumental musicians, reciters, entertainers of any sort, teaching children good games to be played on the street. Any person gifted in directing children and young people in dramatics will be especially welcome.

Hartley House, 413 West Forty-sixth Street. Headworker, Miss Greene. Wanted, club directors, young men or women, a teacher of an English evening class, assistance in singing college or other songs, one or two evenings a month. During the winter there will be four or five dramatic entertainments in which help in rehearsals and costuming will be of great assistance.

Henry Street Settlement, 265 Henry Street; branch 312 East Seventy-eighth Street. Headworker, Miss Lillian D. Wald. To young men is offered gymnasium work and athletics, penny-provident bank, manual club work, glee-club, occasional investigation; to young women, basketball, dancing school, penny-provident bank, sewing school and other manual work.

Normal College Alumnae House, 446 East Seventy-second Street. Headworker, Dr. Jane E. Robbins. Wanted, directors for clubs and classes.

Richmond Hill House, 28 McDougall Street. Headworker, Mrs. Fitzgerald. Wanted, club directors, young men to teach and prepare older Italian men of the neighborhood for taking out their citizenship papers, young women to help with the social dancing class of grown boys and girls.

Speyer's School, 94 Lawrence Street. Directors, Mr. E. S. Whitin and Miss M. Finn. Leaders needed for boys' and girls' clubs.

Union Settlement, 237 East One Hundred and Fourth Street. The headworker, Mr. Gaylord S. White writes: "We should be able to offer to Columbia students work along the following lines: first, neighborhood investigation, especially among our Italian and colored neighbors. There are several lines of investigation that I should like to have taken up and the work could be done at odd times at the convenience of the workers. Second, club work for men, women and children, particularly a working-men's club. Third, friendly visiting in the neighborhood. Fourth, musical assistance and other help in providing entertainments. A man is wanted to take charge of the athletic club. It is a paid position.

University Settlement Society, 184 Eldridge Street. Headworker, Mr. Leroy Scott. Wanted, club directors, both young men and women. "We would also be glad to have a few young men to assist in the athletic work of this settlement, such as coaching basketball teams or helping train track teams."

West Side Neighborhood House, 501 West Fiftieth Street. Headworker, Mr. A. A. Hill. Wanted, volunteer club directors, also a paid teacher of dress making, a paid teacher of bent iron work for boys and, possibly, a paid teacher of carpentry.

Members of the sub-committee on co-operation. Professor Woodbridge, Mr. Richards. Mrs. Parsons (Barnard, R. 308. Office hour, Thursday, 2:30 to 3:30) will be glad to see any students desirous of further information.
