MEETING OF 1904.

At the regular class meeting of 1904 on Thursday, December 3, it was voted that the Class Entertainment Committee take charge of providing afternoon tea in the Senior study. The President appointed Margaret Stone and Helen Elting Senior members of the Undergraduate Tea Committee.

MEETING OF 1905.

At the regular monthly meeting of the class of 1905 on Thursday, December 3, the report of the Junior Ball Committee was read and accepted. The ball will be held in the Columbia gymnasium on Wednesday evening, February 3, 1904, and will open with a reception to the Seniors. Supper will be served in the officers' dining room. The patronesses will be the mothers of the seven members of the Junior Ball Committee: Mrs. Meyer, Mrs. Anderson, Mrs. Ehrich, Mrs. Fetretch, Mrs. Rheinstein, Mrs. Dorian and Mrs. Purdon, and Dean Gill, Mrs. A. A. Anderson, Mrs. George Haven Putnam, Mrs. Herbert Parsons and Mrs. F. G. Bryson.

It was decided to frame and hang the class picture in the Junior Study, and it is hoped that succeeding Junior classes will do the same.

Amy Hill, Chairman of the Entertainment Committee, announced that there would be a class party in January.

1906 NEWS.

The Sophomore show will be given to the Freshmen on Monday, December 7, at 4 o'clock, in Brinckerhoff Theatre. Upper classmen are invited to occupy the seats in the gallery.

1907.

At the regular December meeting of the class of 1907 the following were elected as the Executive Committee: Jennie Hilborn, Elsie Perkins, Catherine Reardon, Annie Goedkoop, and Kathleen Hurty. The class motto is "Facta vota exsequere audax."

UNDERGRADUATE TEA.

Cards for the Undergraduate Tea to be held on Friday, December 11, may be obtained from any member of the committee: Helen S. Elting, Chairman, and Margaret H. Stone, 1904; Alice O. Draper and Pamela W. Lyall, 1905; Julia H. Freed and Adelaide Hart, 1906; Marjorie Garrison and Millicent Perkins, 1907.

JUNIOR SHOW.

A high class vaudeville show will be given by the Junior Class on Monday and Tuesday afternoons, December 14 and 15, at 3:30. All are invited to buy tickets.

SOUTHERN CLUB.

The regular social meeting of the Woman's Southern Club will be held Monday, December 7, 1903, at 4:30, in Earl Hall.

NEW EDITORS WANTED.

The BULLETIN would like to take on several more editors from the classes of 1906 and 1907. Any Sophomores or Freshmen to whom this work appeals will greatly increase their chances by a prompt response. Names of applicants for the Board may be handed to any one of the editors.

1901.

The luncheon of the class of 1901 on Saturday, December 5, at the St. James Hotel, was a very pleasant reunion. Twenty-six members of the class were present, and later went to the theatre to see William Gillette in "The Admirable Crichton."

1903 REUNION.

The class of 1903 held its second reunion on Saturday, November 28. In the early part of the afternoon, there was a business meeting, at which a new constitution to suit the present needs of the class was adopted. Following the business meeting was an hour of singing and impromptu theatricals.

EARLY BIRD CLUB.

At meetings of the Early Bird Club during the past week a constitution was adopted, a plan of action outlined and officers elected. The officers are the following: President, May Parker, '04; Vice-president, Miss Dederer, '01; Secretary, Mildred Farmer, '05, and Treasurer, Marguerite Smith, '05. The Executive Committee consists of two members elected from the club, Katherine Doty, '04, and Abigail Talbot, '05, and upon motion of the founder of the Club, Hope Purdon, '05, Dean Gill and Professor Farrand were elected honorary members. It was decided that four social meetings be held during the year, a visit to the Museum or to the Aquarium early in January, a lecture, a visit to the Zoo, and a laboratory tea next term.

UNIVERSITY COUNCIL.

According to the agreement made with Columbia, it is stipulated that "whenever Barnard College shall maintain ten or more professors in its faculty, it shall be entitled to a representative in the Council additional to the Dean." Barnard has now fulfilled this condition, and at the meeting of the faculty on November 30, Professor James Harvey Robinson, of the Department of History, was elected the second representative.

BIBLE CLASS IN THE LIFE OF CHRIST.

As Dr. Janvier is to speak on Wednesday, December 9, at 12:30, Miss McCook's Bible Class will not meet until December 16. All girls who have not yet joined a Bible Class are most cordially invited to come next week, when a new division of the subject will be considered.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,
Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y

MONDAY, DECEMBER 7, 1903.

We regret to announce the resignation of Caroline Lexow, '04, from the Board of Editors of the BULLETIN. Elizabeth Tredwell, '07, has been elected Associate Editor.

We have been fortunate in securing an account of the Columbia Sophomore Show from the management. Tickets for the show are on sale in the BULLETIN office, and it is earnestly hoped that a large representation of the college may be present on Barnard Day.

It has been remarked this year that students are always in a great hurry to leave the class-room. The moment the bell rings the girls gather up their books, put the tops on their pens and make a general confusion, although the instructor may still be talking. Of course, some girls have to go to lectures at Teachers College, but they should sit near the door. Considering the fact that almost all the instructors are this year particularly careful to finish promptly, it would be, to say the least, more courteous to keep quiet until the lecture is over.

In the first issue of the BULLETIN, January 7, 1901, the following item is found:

"The Alumnæ Association has just given proof of the active interest it takes in Undergraduate affairs by appointing a committee of three to act in matters connected with Barnard athletics. This is an important and gratifying move on the part of the Alumnæ, and it is to be hoped that with the help of this committee athletics at college will continue to prosper."

The anticipated coöperation has not come about. Most of the undergraduates, in fact, do not even know of the existence of this committee. Moreover, it reported at the recent Alumnæ meeting that it had found no necessity for any activity.

Although the advice and influence of the Alumnæ Committee doubtless could have been of great value to the Athletic Association in more than one instance, yet the two organizations have not come into close relationship. If members of the committee were to keep informed on undergraduate matters and possibly communicate at regular intervals with officers of the Athletic Association, and if these officers would seek advice and help from the Alumnæ Committee, the latter would doubtless find necessity for its activity, and the students would derive considerable profit from the resulting coöperation.

Every college, in proportion as it grows in size and scope, develops new needs; so it is with Barnard. But there is this difference: we have had such a phenomenally rapid growth that, our needs having increased proportionately, our resources could not possibly be adequate to supply them, despite many liberal gifts. And so we find that, whereas in other women's colleges of importance, the gymnasium and dormitories are integral parts of their organization, we have neither the one nor the other.

Since basketball and lawn tennis furnish opportunities for physical development during at least a portion of the year, we do not look upon a gymnasium as our prime want, though second only to the urgent need for a college dormitory.

It is not necessary to give reasons why this is the great lack in our organization. Everyone interested knows it to be a fact.

Our excuse for mentioning this matter again this week is that we wish to keep it constantly uppermost. Moreover the students, alumnæ, and everyone connected with Barnard College can do their share toward the desired end by keeping the subject constantly alive, so that all who might possibly be disposed to help the cause of woman's education may know how strongly each and everyone of us feels that we must have a dormitory, and that we must have it at once.

SOCIETA ITALIANA.

At a recent meeting of the Societa Italiana the following officers were elected: President, Alice Rheinstein; Vice-president, Jean Egleston; Secretary, Blanche Reitlinger; Treasurer, Carrie Kaplan. The committee appointed to get up the constitution is as follows: Kate Doty, Chairman; Nora Lichten, Helena Fischer.

COLUMBIA SOPHOMORE SHOW.

The annual Columbia Soph. show will be held at Carnegie Lyceum next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday evenings, and Saturday afternoon. The piece chosen for production this year is "The Sword of Damocles," a roaring farce in three acts, by Hennequin, the well-known French writer, author of the celebrated comedy "Pink Dominoes." The play has been adapted for the English and American stage by Arthur Shirley, the eminent English playwright, and it has everywhere met with great success, running over 1,000 nights in London, and playing to magnificent business in America, Europe and even Australia.

Besides having an excellent play, the best talent in the class has been secured. Many trials have been held in order to select the best possible material, and it appears as if this year's performance would be as successful as any ever given. The committee is greatly to be congratulated in having obtained for coach Mr. R. O. Jenkins, of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. Mr. Jenkins has long been connected with Columbia theatricals, and it is a well-known fact that when he directs a show, it is sure to be well-rehearsed.

The characters in the play include many types of life, and are all interesting and consistent studies. Who will not sympathize with poor old Sam Selwyn, when he has been "off the matrimonial line?" Who will not hold his breath when his wife discovers his supposed villainy? Who will not follow with evergrowing interest the misfortunes of Fred Bellamy and his sweetheart Lottie? Who will not almost split their sides laughing at old Bosco Blithers, "and his pot-hooks and hangers?" Who can help loving Grace Selwyn and her brave captain of the "Fighting 55th," and who, oh, who can ever forget Dibbs, the crafty, mischievous, fresh, innocent-looking boy in buttons and Tilly, the pert and pretty parlor maid? Selwyn, you know, has, on the departure of his wife and daughter to Montclair, gone out on a terrible "bat," and while feeling particularly gay has lost his —, but that will all be known on Wednesday night.

Another feature of the performances will be the Columbia Philharmonic Orchestra, which has been practicing for the event for weeks, and which will be sure to give excellent selections before the play and between the acts.

Saturday matinee will be Barnard Day, and the management hopes Barnard will run out in full force.

The cast is as follows:

Sam Selwyn	F. Fackenthal
Fred Bellamy	K. S. Webb
Capt. Kattskill	R. Macbeth
Bosc. Withers	E. Scott
Dibbs	R. M. Richter
Mrs. Selwyn	M. C. Hasell
Grace	K. Bulkeley
Lottie Withers	H. King
Tilly	C. A. Stewart

The entire action takes place in the drawing room of Mr. Selwyn's residence in New York, and covers a period of about four hours.

SENIOR THESES

Seniors are reminded that their thesis subjects are due by the fifteenth of this month. These subjects must be made out on blanks, which can be obtained in the office of the Secretary.
