THE STONY WOLD SANITORIUM.

The Stony Wold Sanatorium, situated on Lake Kushaqua, near Paul Smiths, New York, is a place designed for working women, young girls and children suffering from incipient tuberculosis who cannot receive the proper care at their own homes. The organization became incorporated two years ago and has since purchased 1,200 acres, including the lake, in the Adirondacks. At present there is a large hall and one dormitory which will accommodate twenty-five. The children have been organized into a school conducted by some of the older patients, and the women spend their time walking, sewing or reading, and steadily improving in health.

As the support of each patient costs the Sanatorium two dollars a day, it is very necessary that auxiliary members should contribute money. Representatives of the association in New York City are now forming chapters, each of which will provide for one woman or child until she can recover her health. In Columbia University the wives of the faculty have organized a very active branch, under the leadership of Mrs. Munroe Smith, 635 West 115th Street, known as Auxiliary 16, which, though of recent growth, has already equipped a room and sent one girl to Lake Kushaqua, where she is now on the high road to recovery. Among the sub-divisions of this auxiliary is the Committee on Application, which undertakes personal investigation of the various cases submitted to its notice and endeavors to see that each protégée has the outfit necessary for her sojourn. For this reason any warm clothing fitted for charitable purposes would be welcomed by Mrs. Walter Mendelson, 159 West 74th Street, in the name of Stony Wold.

It has been suggested that if the Barnard students were interested in the subject they might form an annex to Auxiliary 16 which could elect delegates to confer with the Columbia chapter and aid in giving a suffering girl the advantages of out-door treatment. When we consider that there are 30,000 consumptives in New York, one-half of whom are curable, but at present have no chance, we can realize how much relief Stony Wold Association affords. For this great charity there will be an entertainment in the Horace Mann auditorium on March the first at 3:30, conducted by Miss Beatrice Hereford, Miss Shaw and Mr. Hans Kronold. Tickets may be had from Miss Knox for one or two dollars.

BIBLE STUDY.

All girls who have been unable to join a Bible class this year because of the pressure of college work, but who would like to spend one hour each week during Lent in systematic study of the life of Christ, are cordially invited to come next Wednesday at 12:45 to Room 407. The list of subjects will be posted on the bulletin board.

PRIZES FOR ECONOMIC ESSAYS.

The BULLETIN has been requested to print the following information in the interests of students who may wish to compete for these prizes:

In order to arouse an interest in the study of topics relating to commerce and industry, and to stimulate an examination of the value of college training for business men, a committee composed of Professor J. Laurence Laughlin, University of Chicago, Chairman; Professor J. B. Clark, Columbia University; Professor Henry C. Adams, University of Michigan; Horace White, Esq., New York City, and Hon. Carroll D. Wright, National Commissioner of Labor, have been enabled, through the generosity of Messrs. Hart, Schaffner and Marx, of Chicago, to offer four prizes for the best studies on any one of the following subjects:

1. The causes and extent of the recent industrial progress of Germany.
2. To what is the recent growth of American competition in the markets of Europe to be attributed?
3. The influence of industrial combinations upon the condition of the American laborer.
4. The economic advantages and disadvantages of present colonial possessions to the mother country.
5. The causes of the panic of 1893.
6. What forms of education should be advised for the elevation of wage-earners from a lower to a higher industrial status in the United States.
7. What method of education is best suited for men entering upon trade and commerce?

A first prize of One Thousand Dollars, and a second prize of Five Hundred Dollars, in cash, are offered for the best studies presented by Class A, composed exclusively of all persons who have received the bachelor's degree from an American college since 1893; and a first prize of Three Hundred Dollars, and a second prize of One Hundred and Fifty Dollars, in cash, are offered for the best studies presented by Class B, composed of persons who, at the time the papers are sent in, are undergraduates of any American college. No one in Class A may compete in Class B; but any one in Class B may compete in Class A. The Committee reserves to itself the right to award the two prizes of $1,000 and $500 to undergraduates, if the merits of the papers demand it.

The ownership of the copyright of successful studies will vest in the donors, and it is expected that, without precluding the use of these papers as thesis for higher degrees, they will cause them to be issued in some permanent form.

Competitors are advised that the studies should be thorough, expressed in good English, and not needlessly expanded. They should be inscribed with an assumed name, the year when the bachelor's degree was received, and the institution which conferred the degree, or in which he is studying, and accompanied by a sealed envelope giving the real name and address of the competitor. The papers should be sent on or before June 1, 1905, to J. Laurence Laughlin, Esq., University of Chicago, Box 145, Faculty Exchange, Chicago, Illinois.

THE BARNARD BEAR.

There will be a meeting of the Barnard Bear on Monday, February 22, at 3:30. The subject for discussion will be "The Ambassadors," by Henry James.

CHAPEL HOUR.

Hereafter Mr. Ward will commence playing at 12:20 promptly, and chapel exercises will begin at 12:25 instead of 12:30 P.M.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 15, 1904.

Among the most important factors in establishing a college atmosphere that is sure to leave its mark on every student, are the customs and traditions of the undergraduates.

We have as yet few customs which are of sufficiently long standing to be traditional; but, such as we have, it is of the greatest importance to continue and to hand down to future classes. The Junior Ball has been held annually ever since there has been an organized third year class at college; but in the past few years its character has entirely changed. There are many students here to-day who do not even know that the object of giving a Junior dance was to do honor to the Senior class. This was a fitting and dignified farewell from the girls who were soon to succeed the departing Seniors. In fact, the invitations always included the words "to meet the Senior Class," or something equivalent.

Recent classes not only did not give the Junior Ball in honor of the Seniors, but even seriously discussed the advisability of not inviting them. The tendency at present is for the annual dance to be given by the Juniors and for the Juniors. Accordingly, the Seniors have largely lost interest in the event.

All this is, of course, partly due to the rapid increase in the size of the classes, increasing the expenses and somewhat complicating the management. However, if the Junior Ball could be looked upon as an honor to the Seniors, with the Juniors as hostesses, the affair would again take on its time-honored atmosphere of inter-class good fellowship; and there is no doubt that the affair could be managed on different lines, so that the burden on the Juniors would be no heavier than at present.

Owing to circumstances which could not be foreseen it has been decided not to make any change in the management of the BULLETIN at present. The election of editor-in-chief for the coming year will therefore not go into effect until next September.

Chapel attendance has decreased fully fifty per cent. since last fall. This small attendance seems to be the rule whether the speaker is a member of the faculty whom Barnard students see and hear daily, or whether he is some prominent clergyman whom most people would gladly hear were the opportunity given them to do so with as little personal inconvenience as it is to us.

The majority of these clergymen are in charge of large city churches where their time is fully occupied, yet they willingly give up several hours of a busy day in order to speak to us for ten minutes.

It is humiliating to Dean Gill, and should be no less so to the girls, to have these speakers met by a handful of listeners. An appeal is therefore made to those who occasionally attend chapel to make an effort toward a more regular and frequent attendance if they wish Dean Gill to continue to secure for us such speakers as we have had for the past two weeks.

In order to facilitate the attendance of students by allowing more time for luncheon, the hour for chapel has been changed from 12:30 to 12:25.

1907 NOTE.

At the meeting of the class of 1907, two committees were appointed by the president; one for the class play, the other to compose another class yell. The play committee is as follows: Agnes Ernst, Marie Marrin, Muriel Valentine, Marie Frame, Elizabeth Rusk, Eileen Markley; Mary Rearden, Ethel Rosemon, Emma Burchenal and Helen Perry and Jean Dishrow, ex-officio.

THE NEW COLUMBIA MAGAZINE.

Last week appeared the first number of the new Columbia Monthly, which is the result of a combination of The Columbia Library Monthly and Morningside. In form it resembles the old Literary Monthly, except that the new magazine has a cover in colors and contains illustrations. This means discarding the attractive paper of the two old issues and we do not think the illustrations in this number good enough to make up for the change. The Columbia Monthly, says the editorial, "is to appeal to all classes of Columbia men," and the first number certainly offers a variety of material. There is an interesting opening article by President Butler on "Breadth;" an account of the "Student Days of Alexander Hamilton;" four poems; three stories; memories of "Lit" and "Morningside" by Frederic L. Luqueer and W. A. Bradley; the "Football Season at Columbia," by Mr. Morley; an editorial and extensive book reviews. Of the poems, "To a Roamer" and "To a Venetian Maiden" are unusually good. Of the stories, the most entertaining is "The Simpson Creels Tragedy."

As a whole The Columbia Monthly is a decided success. Perhaps the reader will find in it more of the old "Lit" than of the old "Morningside," but, of course, it is too soon to judge. The new magazine should indeed be one of "undivided interest and support."

Y. W. C. A.

At the devotional meetings of the Y. W. C. A. held on Thursdays, at 12:20 in Room 212, the subjects and leaders for the remainder of this month will be:

February 25.—"Christ's Measure of the Missionary Cause," Laura Parker, 1905.

DEBATING CLUB.

At the meeting of the Debating Club Friday, February 12, the subject for debate was: "Resolved, That President Roosevelt was justified in recognizing the Republic of Panama." The speakers for the affirmative were Virginia Taylor and Florence Hubbard; those for the negative, Florence Beeckman and Georgina Bennett.

WHITTIER HALL NEWS.

The Barnard Club seems already to have brought the students at Whittier Hall closer together. "Pit," fudge and chafing-dish parties have occupied several evenings. From the twenty-third to the thirtieth of January Miss Reed superintended the serving of chocolate in the club room every evening at quarter of ten. On February twelfth, from four to six in the afternoon, an "at home" is to be given to Dean Gill, Mrs. Farnsworth, Miss Daniell, Miss Marshall, and Miss Huntington, president of the Whittier Hall Association, in the Green Room by the members of the "Barnard Club." In the evening of February twenty-second, there is to be a masquerade party for all the occupants of Whittier Hall.
