THE VARSITY SHOW.

The Varsity show completed a very successful week last Saturday evening. As the house was unusually well filled at every performance, the financial success was early assured. The cast, chorus, and orchestra understood each other perfectly and succeeded in giving a great deal of spirit to the songs and dialogues. The chorus girls were remarkable for the ease with which they transformed the movements of a "gym" drill into a feminine manifestation of emotion.

The grief of the heroine aroused nightly sympathy in her sisters in the audience. Who would not grieve at the heartless cruelty of such a parent as King Naughty who could sell his entire kingdom and thus separate his pink-cheeked daughter from her dashing hero? The king was so jovial though, that we couldn't censure him harshly. He and Mrs. Pinero sang "When the Shadows Flee" in such a tender falsetto that we forgave them all. For a "melting voice through mazes running" there was none like Mrs. Pinero.

We must not forget the lovely Genevieve who balanced daintily on one toe and defied the laws of gravitation once too often; nor Clyde, nor Skeesicks, nor M. Iasing Link, nor stylish Mary, who each and all contributed to the harmony of the whole.

UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION.

A special meeting of the Undergraduate Association was held on Thursday, March 17, to discuss the question of Field Day. The report of the committee, read by Helen Elting, '04, chairman, will be printed later.

BARNARD CLUB.

On Tuesday afternoons, from half past four to half past five, the Barnard Club of Whittier Hall will serve tea to their friends in the Green Room. Last week the Faculty was entertained, and the week before the Teachers College Club. The members of the Barnard Club will, however, be very pleased to see any of their friends who care to come on any Tuesday afternoon.

At a special meeting of the Class of 1907, held Tuesday, March 15, it was decided to postpone the play until Fall. The play will probably be given the latter part of November.

BIBLE CLASS NOTICE.

Owing to the visit of Mr. Hicks, the Bible Class in the Life of Christ will meet this week on Monday at 12:45 instead of Wednesday. The class will meet for the last time on Wednesday, March 30.

1905.

There will be an important meeting of the Class of 1905 on Monday, March 21, at 12:20 in room 139.

TEACHERS COLLEGE NOTES.

The popularity of education as a subject of advanced study is interestingly shown by the recently published list of students in the Columbia graduate schools, now the largest in the country. Although the 689 candidates for advanced degrees choose their major subjects from 37 different fields of investigation, 97, or about 14 per cent of the whole number, have chosen education, in Teachers College, thus making it the most popular major in the University. English, chosen by 92 students, is a close second; but none of the departments come near, except history, with 53, and philosophy and sociology, with 44 and 42, respectively.

Education is, however, not so popular as a minor subject, having been chosen by 39, or a little over 5 per cent. of the whole, and being surpassed in numbers by History, the most popular minor, with 82; economics, with 45; and Sociology, with 43; and closely followed by law, with 37.

The major subjects with which education has been combined as minor have been principally English, history, Germanic languages, Latin, psychology, and sociology, popular in the order named. Psychology has been the favorite minor subject with students whose major is in Education, it having been chosen by more than one-fourth of them; another one-fourth is about equally divided between English and sociology, while History has been chosen by almost as many. The other selections are widely distributed. Teachers College will recommend in June the conferring of some 30 advanced degrees.

The Associations of Teachers of History of the Middle States and Maryland, at the recent annual meeting in Philadelphia, elected Professor E. H. Castle, of the Department of History, Teachers College, Secretary-Treasurer, and appointed Professor Julius Sachs, of the Department of Secondary Education, as chairman of a committee which is to outline a course in history for grammar schools.

The Teachers College Alumni Association will be received by the officers of the Library which the Association maintains in the Speyer School of the College, on the evening of Saturday, March 26. There will be an address by Dr. James H. Canfield, Librarian of the University.

The Choral Club of the College announces a free public concert by the University Philharmonic Orchestra, on the evening of Friday, March 25, in the Auditorium of the Horace Mann School.

The annual meeting of the College class of 1906, set for the coming week, will elect editors and managers of a student newspaper, which will be inaugurated at the beginning of the next academic year.

On Friday afternoon, April 15, the Early Bird Club will give a tea in the biological laboratories. The committees for the arrangements were appointed as follows:

The Italian Society has indefinitely postponed the play which was announced in an earlier issue of the BULLETIN.

MR. H. W. HICKS AT CHAPEL.

The attention of the students is called to the change in the day for Chapel service from Tuesday to Wednesday in the week beginning March 21. The service will begin promptly at 12:25.

DEBATE.

The Class of English 9 will hold a debate on Wednesday, March 23, at 3:30, in Room 307 on the subject: "Resolved, That the victory of Japan over Russia would be beneficial to mankind."

The members of the Debating Club are invited to be present.

CHANGE IN BASKETBALL SCHEDULE.

During the week of March 21, basketball practice will be held on Wednesday at 3:30, instead of Thursday. It will then be decided whether the change will be permanent, or only for the one week.

Practice on Monday will continue as heretofore.

BARNARD COLLEGE,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, MARCH 21, 1904.

The decision of the Freshmen to postpone their play until the fall comes as a real disappointment to many upper classmen. Does this mean that we are not going to have any more Freshman plays? The giving of such a play is prompted by the desire to acknowledge the favors received from other classes and organizations, and until last year it was given for the College alone and was marked by a pleasant simplicity. There was no aim to be pretentious. Upper classmen appreciated the fact that it was a play given without the aid of a professional coach and that only the ingenuity and ability of the Freshmen showed in the production, and criticism was disarmed. That the class last year departed from the precedent was a cause for regret.

The reason for the postponement of the play calls attention to the crowding of events after Lent. This state of things happened last year and is likely to be repeated this year. It does seem as if some arrangement might be made by which there would be a more even distribution of plays during the year. For instance, there is no obvious reason why the Sophomores should not give their class play before Christmas. It has not yet been found feasible to give the Undergraduate Play earlier in the year—but has the matter had serious discussion? The fact that the Freshmen play has been postponed rather than some other play calls for consideration of this question—unless it means that there are to be no more Freshman plays. We are reluctant to think that.

It seems that a number of students do not know that books taken from the reading room Friday afternoon are due Saturday morning. It has recently happened that students have wanted to use books on Saturday, and have been unable to get them because they had been taken out the night before and not returned.

In some cases, when there is more than one copy of a book on the shelves, special permission may be obtained from the librarian to retain a volume longer than is customary, but otherwise it should be kept out only the one night.

Some students go to college Saturdays especially to use reference books or to engage them until Monday, and hence all books should be in their accustomed places as on other days.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Although we are glad to publish letters signed by their writers we are not responsible for the sentiments expressed. Unsigned letters will receive no attention.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

In a recent editorial in the BULLETIN on the custom of giving the Junior Ball in honor of the Seniors, it was stated that until recently the invitations to this affair always included the words "to meet the Senior Class," but that the Juniors of the last two years have not given the Ball for the Seniors and have even discussed the advisability of not inviting them.

As the Class of 1904 was the first to omit from their invitations the words "to meet the Senior Class," I wish to explain that this omission was due to a mistake which was discovered when it was too late to rectify it. The Juniors last year gave the Ball in honor of the Class of 1903, and the question of not inviting them was never raised.

JEAN H. LOOMIS, '04,
Chairman of the Junior Ball Committee.

C. S. M. A.

The Rev. Robert B. Kimber, Superintendent of the City Mission Society, will speak under the auspices of the C. S. M. A. on Monday, March 21, at 12:25 in Room 139. All students are invited.

LECTURE ON OBER-AMMERGAU.

On Wednesday, March 16, a stereopticon lecture on Ober-Ammergau was given by Dr. Bryan De F. Sheedy for the benefit of the Silver Bay fund. Dr. Sheedy took his hearers to Ober-Ammergau by way of the Atlantic Ocean, the Azores, Rome, Venice, Vienna and Munich. He told the tales of the cause of the production of the Passion Play, described the scenes, and related the story.

The money gained was $20. The Y. W. C. A. will give an entertainment during the first week in May, the proceeds to be used for the same purpose.
