THE ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ALUMNÆ.

(From a circular issued by the A. C. A.)

The Association of Collegiate Alumnae was organized in 1882 to unite the college women of the country for practical educational work. It now has a membership of over 3,000 active members, grouped in twenty-three branches, extending from Massachusetts to California.

The extent and character of the work of the Association may be inferred from a glance at some of the committees. There is a general committee that interests itself in measures affecting education which are presented to the State legislatures and to the United States Congress. Full information is gathered and when it seems advisable, action is taken to further the best interests of education and to maintain or advance the standard of collegiate training. A Committee on Corporate Membership studies the growth and progress of colleges and universities both within and without the Association. A Committee on Collegiate Administration, composed of college trustees, concerns itself with problems of college management. A Committee on Finance and Publication has charge of the collection and publication of statistical and other educational information not otherwise available. A Committee on Child-study conducts work in the study of children, giving to members of the Association an opportunity of taking practical part in this important branch of the new educational movement. A special committee prepared the U. S. Government exhibit on the higher education of women, which was awarded a gold medal at the Paris Exposition.

The Association supports a fellowship for women of the value of $500 for advanced study abroad. The fellowship is awarded annually to the most desirable candidate among those who have presented testimonials and other evidences of ability to the committee in charge. A scholarship in German, providing for tuition and residence in the American Home School in Berlin, is offered to the Association annually by Mrs. Mary Lannister Willard and Frau Dr. Hempel. An annual contribution is made to the Association which maintains the American Woman's Table at the Zoological Station at Naples. That Association now offers a second prize of $1,000 for the best thesis presented by a woman on a scientific subject, embodying the results of her independent laboratory research in any part of the field covered by the biological, chemical and physical sciences.

Information on various phases of women's education is always in demand and difficult to obtain. The Association of Collegiate Alumnae is especially fitted to gather and present such information, and, considering this an important part of its work, it is now issuing in magazine form a series of publications devoted to the interests of its members.

The Association is divided into local branches, which take part in the work of the general association and also engage in work of their own, for the betterment of educational conditions in their own neighborhoods. To all its members the branches afford a pleasant social life, the advantages of which are greatly appreciated by college women, especially by those whose occupations take them from place to place.

The annual fee is one dollar for membership in the General Association, giving the right to receive all publications of the Association, and to take part in its work, attend annual meetings, etc. The fiscal year of the Association begins October 1, but new members sending dues after June 1, of a given year, are at once counted as members, with full rights and privileges for the time remaining before October 1, and for the full fiscal year following.

The business of the next regular meeting of the Class of 1905, to be held on Thursday, April 7, will be the election of officers for the Senior year. The members of the Class are requested to attend in cap and gown.

1907.

At a special meeting, held on Monday, March 28, the two class songs were chosen for the College Song Book. The first was "The Red Red Rose," and the second "Our Mascot."

All members of the class are urgently requested to be present at the regular April meeting. The officers for next year will be elected.

BULLETIN PRIZE.

The attention of students is called to the fact that the competition for the prize offered by the BULLETIN for the best college thesis closes on April 11.

NEW PHYSICS APPARATUS.

Thanks to the generosity of Mrs. Collord, the donor of Fiske Hall, the Department of Physics is to have next autumn an unusual equipment for the scientific study of sound. The apparatus gives very complete illustrations of the theory of the production of tone by means of wind and stringed instruments, vibrating rods and membranes. The collection includes accurately-adjusted tuning-forks for the range of audible sounds; a bellows-table provided with a key-board and valves for twelve organ-pipes, together with a great variety of pipes; a polychord having twelve strings whose tension and length can be varied; complete sets of resonators of various forms, and manometric-flame analyzers, so that any complex tone can be resolved into its components; apparatus for the synthesis of tones, for the study of the vibration of strings by means of the microscope, and for the determination of the velocity of sound under various conditions. This apparatus enables one to gain a very good knowledge of the application of the physical principles to musical instruments and harmony.

"MRS. WIGGS" AND "LOVEY MARY."

On Saturday evening, March 26, the Whittier Hall Self-Government Association presented "Mrs. Wiggs" and "Lovey Mary" according to the dramatic versions prepared by the Misses Leavens and their "loving friends." The plays were such a success that it has been decided to repeat the performance on April 7, at Whittier Hall, at 8 o'clock. Tickets at 25 cents each may be obtained from Virginia Taylor, '96, and at the Exchange.

SMITH COLLEGE ALUMNÆ PLAY.

The plays given by the Smith College Club of New York for the benefit of the Smith Students' Aid Society were a pronounced success both from a dramatic and financial standpoint. The performance of "Gringoire" is especially worthy of mention. The proceeds from the play amount to about $800.

THE BARNARD BEAR.

There will be a meeting of the Barnard Bear in the Bulletin Room on Wednesday, April 13, at 3:30. The subject for discussion will be "Cashel Byron's Profession," by Bernard Shaw.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 119th Street,

COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, APRIL 4, 1904.

The arrangement of the curriculum with no lectures during the noon hours has brought about the custom of arranging nearly all association and class meetings for half past twelve, and it is often hard to find an hour for which nothing is scheduled. After a meeting has once been arranged for, it is annoying if it must be postponed because of the lack of a quorum, as recently happened in the case of the Y. W. C. A. In two other instances, meetings of 1904 and the Athletic Association, quorums were obtained with difficulty after considerable waste of time.

There seems to be very little reason for this inactivity on the part of students other than sheer irresponsibility and forgetfulness. Care is usually taken to call meetings at a time when neither Chapel, Bible classes, nor other meetings should interfere. But though some few unavoidable conflicts may occur, there is little excuse for more than a few being away from meetings if every one feels it a personal duty, as she should, to attend.

The Field Day trophy which has been so generously given to the Undergraduate Association is of a simple but graceful and beautiful design. We are fortunate to have it on view so early, for it must prove a great incentive to students to compete in the proposed events in the hope of winning the cup for their own class.

The readers of the BULLETIN will find in this issue an account of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae. It is difficult to give an adequate idea of the work and aims of this Association in a short space, but we hope enough has been said to stimulate interest in it. The A. C. A. is the only national association of college women, and as such should receive the support of all collegiate alumnae.

The dilatoriness with which girls take their places in the class-room at the beginning of the hour has been very noticeable this year. Instead of getting ready for work, they linger outside in the hall until the last bell rings then wander slowly in to their seats. If the instructor has already begun his roll-call or his lecture the confusion that ensues as the late ones come straggling in is very disconcerting both to him and to those who are trying to listen to him. Indeed one professor has recently had cause to remind his class that his lecture commences at half-past one not at twenty-five minutes of two.

With the ringing of the first bell, the same confusion arises. The girls shut up their note-books, put away their fountain-pens, and get their belongings together. This disturbance must be disagreeable to the professor, and it is very annoying to those who are trying to hear him, to say nothing of its being not over-courteous.

This behavior shows a lack of consideration for others of which it is certain the girls need only to be reminded in order to avoid it in the future.

 As Mr. Morgan possesses one of the finest collections of its kind in existence, the second exhibit should draw an equally large attendance.
