BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,

Broadway & 115th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y

MONDAY, APRIL 11, 1904.

Owing to the delay in the appearance of the Motarboard the eagerness with which it was greeted was even greater than usual. As usual however it has been a success, and, although as a whole not strikingly original, contains many clever hits. Noticeable features of the book are the great amount of space given to the economic and mathematics courses and the prominence of certain types of composition. Members of Nineteen-five seem to be especially at home in classic forms, while the apt parodying capacity of the class handles with facility authors as diverse as Shakespeare, Kipling, and Lewis Carroll. These parodies are, by the way, nearly all good, but good is scant praise to bestow on the delicious humor of the poem entitled Economics A. The wit is not, however, always so happy as it is in this instance, and in one or two cases we think it approaches perilously near the danger line. But the grinds which accompany the photographs of Nineteen-five girls are at the other extreme. In fact with a few exceptions they are impersonal and trite. It undoubtedly is a difficult task to find pointed and yet courteous hits for between fifty and a hundred girls, but this has always been the aim in regard to this part of the book and a well-aimed thrust is certainly more amusing and more acceptable than a colorless compliment which might apply to anyone.

TEACHERS COLLEGE NOTES.

The Horace Mann School has sent to the city of Bradford, England, an exhibit illustrative of the work of its pupils in fine art, household art and general handicraft, to be shown at the opening of the Art Gallery and Museum, recently erected as a memorial of Dr. Edmund Cartwright, whose invention of the wool combing machine and the power loom began the present prosperity of that city.

Among the coming events at the College which are of general interest are the following:

Tuesday, April 12th, the Junior Class will give an informal reception in honor of the Faculty and of the Senior Class.

Wednesday, April 13th, at 4:30 P.M., President Hall of Union Theological Seminary, will deliver a lecture in the College's free public course on Contemporary Educational Problems, on Religious Education from the Protestant Viewpoint. This lecture will be of especial interest in connection with the address of last week by Father McMillan on Religious Education from the Roman Catholic Viewpoint.

Thursday, April 14th, at 4:00 P.M., at the Speyer School, 94 Lawrence Street, there will be an "Hour of Song," for the benefit of the School Library.

On Thursday evening of the same week there will be held at Teachers College a meeting of the Round Table for the Study of Educational Problems, the topic of Music as an Art being discussed in an address by Professor John Quincy Adams, of Philadelphia, and illustrated with a series of folk songs by Mr. A. F. Burleigh. The program will be under the direction of Mr. W. H. Neidlinger, the composer.

Wednesday, April 20th, at 3:00 P.M., Dr. Henry D. Chapin will deliver in connection with the course in Hospital Economics a lecture on Premonitory Symptoms of Disease in Children.

On the 22nd. of April, at 8 P.M., in the Chapel of Teachers College, the Choral Club of the College will give as its final concert of the year a rendition of Pergolesi's "Stabat Mater," followed by songs by Schumann, Saint Saens, and by Mr. B. D. Allen, the organist of the College.

The College will be associated with the opening of the new Carnegie technical school at Pittsburg through an address by Dean Kussell, upon the Training of Teachers, Friday, May the 6th; and a lecture on Sunday, April the 8th, on Domestic Science by Professor Kinne, who will speak on the same subject before the Domestic

What in the world to give a friend?

Yours is wanted the New Haven Union says: "The best of what in the world to give a friend is found by SONGS OF ALL THE COLLEGES which is alike suitable for the collegian of the past, for the student of the present, and for the boy (or girl) with hopes; also for the music-loving sister and a fellow's best girl.

"All the new songs, all the old songs, and the songs popular at all the colleges; a welcome gift in any home any where."
