THE CONVENTION OF THE ASSOCIATION OF COLLEGIATE ALUMNÆ.

Over 200 members of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae, representing colleges in every part of the United States, and assembled for the twenty-third annual convention, November 3, 1904, were welcomed by Mrs. Philip H. Moore, of St. Louis, the President of the organization; by President Francis of the Exposition, and by Mrs. William Ireleare, of St. Louis, President of the local branch. Doctor C. M. Woodward, President of the St. Louis Board of Education, and Doctor W. J. McGee, Chief of the Department of Anthropology at the Exposition, also addressed the meeting.

The response to the greetings of Mrs. Moore and President Francis was made by Miss Florence M. Cushing, of Boston, First Vice-President of the Association. At the conclusion of the introductory meeting of the convention the members adjourned to the Lady Managers' building, where they were entertained by the Board of Lady Managers at a reception given in their honor. This session was the first one of four.

On Friday afternoon, November 4th, Mrs. Warren Cheny addressed the Association. "The Outlook for the Association" was the subject of an interesting talk by Miss Gill. Miss Wooley, President of Mt. Holyoke College, discussed "The Effect of College Training on Character." She said that the benefits conferred are greater adaptability, breadth of view, and self-control; that if one thing was to be feared more than another, it is the overdevelopment of this adaptability.

The order of procedure on Saturday was as follows: A general session in the morning at the Hall of Congresses was followed by a luncheon at the Missouri Building, given by the Kansas City and St. Louis branches. Applied Economics and Sociology were the general topics of the morning meeting. Among the prominent speakers were Dr. R. H. Jesse, President of the University of Missouri; Miss Marion Talbot, Chicago; Miss Caroline L. Hunt, University of Wisconsin; Edward T. Devine, President of the Charity Organization Society of New York City, and Mrs. Ellen H. Richards. The final business of the organization was completed in the afternoon by the Executive Committee.

ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION MEETING.

There will be a meeting of the Athletic Association on Monday, November 21st, at 12:20, in room 139, to consider the matter of flooding the tennis courts for skating.

TICKETS FOR ALUMNÆ PLAY.

Tickets for the Alumnae play are for sale by a committee consisting of Edith Handy, '05, chairman; Edwina Levy, '05; Virginia Taylor, '06; Kathleen Hurty, '07, and Elena Reonda, '08.

SOPHOMORE PLAY.

Last Friday and Saturday afternoons the class of 1907 presented Augustin Daly's "7-20-8, or, Casting the Boomerang," by the special permission of the executor of the playwright's estate. The plot concerns the working out of one of the hero's theories, that everyone at some point in his career indulges in a piece of folly which reacts upon him like the boomerang.

A. Ernst as Courtney Corliss, showed the careless, saucy grace of a venturesome youth, whose speeches were declaimed in an unsatisfactory way, but whose flirtatious manner was very fascinating. Responsive to the hero's charms was Florence, who was enabled by Irena Jellenik's talent to develop into a clever woman with power to outwit Courtney.

Protecting this pair of lovers was a well-knit background of Mr. and Mrs. Bargiss, Mr. and Mrs. Hollyhock, two professors and three servants. Mr. Bargiss presented a very jovial appearance, causing a good deal of mirth, in which he himself was too often disposed to join. Mrs. Bargiss was a very matronly woman with a tendency to exaggerate an already exaggerated rôle. In their power to provoke laughter the two professors had no equal. Their gestures, facial play and foreign accent brought down the house. Mr. and Mrs. Hollyhock were more like sisters than husband and wife. Mrs. Hollyhock was very sweet and attractive, but her husband is too susceptible to the masculine metamorphosis. Through the scene often, the servants, especially the maid, played their parts well.

The short time in which the play was produced is responsible for some defects in detail which were balanced by the artistic innovation of a thunderstorm.

The choice of plays of the Sophomore classes is usually very good, but the "Casting of the Boomerang" is above the average.

The committee must be congratulated on the laurels which their exertions have won them.

1906.

The election of the Junior Ball Committee was held at a special meeting of the Class of 1906 on Thursday, November 17th. The elections were as follows: May Newland, Chairman; Elizabeth Bradford, Marjorie F. Brown, Marie-Louise Fontaine and Edith Somborn.

COLUMBIA UNIVERSITY NEWS.

At the annual meeting of the College Entrance Examination Board held at Columbia University, President Nicholas Murray Butler was elected Chairman.

Among the examiners for 1905 are: French—Prof. Adolph Cohn, of Columbia. Mathematics—Prof. F. N. Cole, of Columbia.

At a recent meeting of the Board of Trustees of Barnard College, Mr. Silas B. Brownell, LL.D., was elected Chairman.

COLLEGE SETTLEMENT WORK.

An expedition from Columbia University, comprising parties from Barnard and Teachers College, on Saturday evening, November 5th, visited some of the social settlements on the East Side. The entire expedition, about sixty in all, dined first at Clinton Hall. This hall was built with the purpose of providing a place of amusement and recreation where the people of the East Side can find the most attractive surroundings and can procure the best of food at a very small cost. During the dinner, Miss Williams, from the College Settlement, spoke in behalf of Settlement work. Then Mr. Moses, Columbia, 1903, spoke of the Educational Alliance and its fine work in the most crowded city district of the world. The party then visited the building of the College Settlements on Rivington and Ludlow streets, and also the University Settlement, where Mr. Hamilton told of the work.

It is impossible here to give the gist of the remarks of any of these workers, or to record all that was seen that evening. One thing was shown decisively—that a single visit to the East Side can do more than many speeches to prove the scope and value of the Settlement work. Many opportunities will be given this winter for visits to the College Settlement, the University Settlement, and the Educational Alliance, as well. The girls are especially urged to make use of these opportunities, since the work undertaken by the Social Settlements, under the auspices of the colleges and universities of this country, is one in which every college-bred man or woman should feel a certain responsibility.

If any girls who would like to visit the East Side, will give their names to Miss Perry, '07, arrangements for a visit can be made at any time. Later the electors of the Barnard Chapter plan to have weekly expeditions, notices of which will be posted in the different studies. It is hoped that the Barnard girls will make an effort to understand this work and realize their individual responsibility in its success.

TENNIS FINALS.

An exciting tennis match was played on Friday by Edith Handy, '05, and Clarette Armstrong, '08, who competed for the college championship. After a close contest Miss Handy won, the score being 3-6, 6-4, 7-5.

The players were well matched, and it was uncertain until the very last game how the match would result. Miss Armstrong played a swift stroke and did some fine placing, but Miss Handy showed superior playing at the net. This is, perhaps, the most closely contested match that Barnard has yet seen.

The finals in doubles will probably be played this week.

BARNARD BULLETIN,

BARNARD COLLEGE,
Broadway & 119th Street, COLUMBIA UNIV., N. Y.

MONDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1904.

We wish to call the attention of every undergraduate to the Alumnae play, which is to be given on December 2d and 3d. Every effort has been made by the committee to make the performance a success. Their choice of a play—"Trelawney of the Wells"—is a good one, and they have been fortunate in securing a cast of girls who are well known for their ability on the amateur stage. With so much accomplished, the committee is eager to have the cooperation of the undergraduates. There are few matters of interest common to both undergraduates and alumnae, except in a general, abstract way. The two have seemed to be somewhat isolated. The Barnard Union, with its membership open to both graduates and undergraduates, is a step in the direction of bringing us in closer contact with those who have left college. Everyone feels that it is a movement in the right direction. Here, then, is an opportunity for the girls now in college to show their interest in the Alumnae organization by doing all they can to aid the efforts of the committee in charge. It is a chance for members of all classes to show their loyalty to Barnard, both in coming to the play themselves and in bringing as many others as possible.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICAL EDUCATION.

The new building in connection with Teachers College, called the Frederick Ferris Thompson Memorial Building, opened in September, 1904, provides physical training facilities for the women students of Teachers College and Barnard College, the pupils of the Horace Mann School, and the varied equipment for the theoretical and practical instruction of professional students in physical education. Classes will be formed for men and for women, and those who find it impossible to attend the regular classes may use the building in the evening.

The general lines of work are represented in the courses provided: those dealing with the foundations of education, such as general and educational psychology and child study, and the history and principles of education; the scientific courses in biology, physiology, hygiene, and the like; and the technical courses in applied anatomy and physiology, corrective exercises and gymnastics. Theory is constantly applied to practice, and the student has unusual opportunity to teach in the Speyer School.

All modern mechanical devices for comfort and health are at the service of the student. The building contains, besides office, lecture and class rooms, various laboratories, handball courts and bowling alleys; a swimming pool, four gymnasiums, rooms for corrective exercises, dressing rooms, shower baths, a fencing room, and a suite of rooms for photographic purposes.

C. S. M. A.

At a meeting of the C. S. M. A., on Wednesday, November 9th, Miss Grace Dodge was made an honorary member. The Barnard Chapter is entitled to send six delegates to the annual C. S. M. A. Convention, which will be held this year from the 6th to the 8th of December, at the Virginia Theological Seminary, Fairfax County, Virginia. Any member who would care to go is requested to inquire of Abby Leland, '05, for particulars.

EARLY BIRD CLUB.

The December event of the Early Bird Club will consist of a formal tea, to be given on the afternoon of the 9th. The following committees have been appointed:

Refreshment Committee—Martha Thompson, 1905, Chairman; Florence Bell, Ruth Stern, Virginia Ralph, Marie Gelbach.

Decoration Committee—Louise Johnston, 1905, Chairman; Helen Rogers, Anne Rae, Fannibelle Leland, Bertha Janes.

Invitation Committee—Eleanor Holden, 1906, Chairman; Elizabeth Post, Catharine Post.

Reception Committee—Helen Palliser, 1905, Chairman; Pauline Dederer, Rosa Fried.

Other events of the club will include a lecture on "Mendel's Law," to be given by Dr. Crampson on February 17th. In March, Prof. Farrand will speak to the Club, the subject to be announced later. Various excursions have also been proposed; one in January to the Aquarium, in April to the woods, and one to the seashore in May or June.

CORRESPONDENCE INVITED

ALUMNAE PLAY.

The attention of all students wishing to find work in tutoring, or other employment of similar nature, is called to the advertising method adopted by the Program Committee of the Alumnae Play. By this method, advertising space in the program issued for the Alumnae Play may be bought by any student wishing to advertise her name and her work, at prices ranging upward from one dollar. All those desiring further detailed information with regard to this matter should send their names, without delay, to the chairman of the committee, Mrs. George S. Hellman, 1901, at 309 West 80th street.

1908.

At a special meeting of the class of 1908, on Saturday, November 12th, the following elections took place:

For Undergraduate sub-Treasurer, Dorothea Eltzner.

For two additional members of the Class Executive Committee, Mrs. Jeldell and Florence Ernst.

For the Class Entertainment Committee, Margaret Yates, chairman; Helen Loeb, Alma Ash, Marjorie Eastman, and Emilie Gordon.

Helen Loeb was chosen captain of the Freshman basket-ball team.

DORMITORY NEWS.

On Friday evening, November 18th, a novel entertainment was held in Whittier Hall. Under the supervision of Dr. Helen Wilson, a miniature reproduction of the "Pike" at the St. Louis Exposition was constructed. Among the most successful of the side shows were the Indian Village, Chinatown, a "Chute the Chutes," the Mysteries of Asia, the Tyrolean Alps, and a circus. Ten cents admission was charged to the "Pike," with additional fees for each separate performance. The proceeds will be utilized for the benefit of the house.

CHAPEL.

On Tuesday, November 22d, Miss Janet A. McCook will conduct the chapel service.

DEUTSCHER KREIS.

On Wednesday afternoon, November 16th, the Deutscher Kreis held its first informal Kaffeeklatsch in the Alumnae room, decorated for the occasion with numerous violet-colored chrysanthemums. An unusually large attendance was present, including both undergraduates and the honorary members, Miss Perriam, Dr. Tombo and Dr. Braun. Dr. Tombo, present for the first time in his new capacity of honorary Vice-President, made some interesting remarks on the different systems of education now in vogue in France, Germany, England, and the United States, with special attention to the centralization or decentralization. As a whole, the meeting passed off well and successfully.

DEAN GILL'S TRIP.

Miss Gill has been attending the convention of the Association of Collegiate Alumnae at St. Louis. After the convention, Miss Gill visited the women of the University of Illinois. On Thursday, November 10th, the Central Illinois Branch of the Associate Collegiate Alumnae held a meeting at which Miss Gill was present, at the home of Mrs. T. A. Clark. On Friday the women of the Faculty, together with the Central Illinois Branch of the Association, gave a reception in the women's gymnasium, in honor of Miss Gill and Mrs. James, the wife of the President of the University.

There will be a very important meeting of the Italian Society on Monday at 12:30, in Room 320. All members are requested to attend.
