REPORT OF THE DELEGATES TO NASHVILLE.

Instead of having an outside speaker for Chapel on Friday the Dean allowed the Y. W. C. A. to take charge of a meeting for the purpose of hearing the reports of the delegates to the Nashville Student Volunteer Conference.

After an opening hymn, Eleanor Holden thanked the Dean, who was present, for this opportunity and said that each of the delegates would tell of one phase of the convention. Jennie Wylie, '09, then outlined the trip down to Nashville and home again. A special train had been provided for delegates from the large Eastern colleges. The hospitality that they met with on their arrival was delightful. Visits were paid between meetings to Vanderbilt University and other points of interest, and on the return trip one day was spent at Mammoth Cave and another in Washington. Edna Tompkins, '09, spoke on the framework of the convention, giving an idea of the large meetings in the morning in the Ryman auditorium, which about 7,000 attended, and the smaller sectional afternoon meetings that dealt with educational, medical and evangelical missions. She spoke particularly of the interesting missionary exhibit, and also of the splendidly representative delegations which all the colleges had sent. May Ingalls, '09, gave the purpose of the convention with the motto "The Evangelization of the World in this Generation." Anyone in college who has heard those words, so often repeated at Silver Bay last Summer, knows what that side of the conference meant. Agnes Miller, '08, spoke on the lines of thought. She dwelt on two main points, the kind of workers needed and their equipment, educationally and spiritually, and the fields open to such workers, especially the work of the Y. M. and Y. W. C. A. among students in foreign lands and the work of laymen in the home field. Sophie Woodman, '07, concluded by summing up in a clear and helpful way the results of the convention for the individual and for the college.

The Dean added a few encouraging words that showed her interest, which means so much towards the furtherance of such work in college, and the meeting closed with another hymn.

BARNARD UNION.

BARNARD-NORMAL DEBATE.

The challenge to Normal College has been sent and accepted. The debate will take place on Wednesday, April 25. The subject of the debate, chosen by Barnard, will be: "Resolved, That New York City should seek a solution of its street railway problem through private ownership and operation." The choice of sides has not yet been made.

SENIOR-JUNIOR DEBATE.

The Senior-Junior debate, on the same subject as the Normal debate, will be held on March 28. The affirmative will be upheld by the Juniors: Evangeline Cole, Agnes Ernst and Juliet Points; the negative by the Seniors: Louisa Blackburne, Alice Haskell and Marjorie Brown. From these six girls the final champions to debate with Normal College will be chosen.

DEBATING SECTION.

On Wednesday, March 21, the debating section will meet in Room 139. The subject of the debate will be: "Resolved, That French and German courses should be prescribed in College." The speakers for the affirmative will be Edith Segum and Laura Turnbull, '09; the speakers for the negative will be Helen Hoyt and Leslie Conner, '09. Students of the college are cordially invited to be present.

1906.

The Junior dance committee has been elected as follows: May Newland, chairman; Eleanor Holden, Marie-Louise Fontaine, Senta Herrman and Cora Line Hall.

UNDERGRADUATE PLAY.

The cast of the Undergrad Play, "The Critic," has been selected as follows:

It is possible that there will be a few changes in the cast. Rehearsals will begin at once. All those in the cast should leave their time cards in Locker 71, Senior Study.

LENTEN BIBLE CLASS.

On the four following Mondays, in Room 139, from 12:15 until 1 o'clock, four special Lenten meetings of Miss McCook's Bible Class will be held, to which you are invited. It is hoped that many of the girls who do not feel that they can give the time for systematic Bible study throughout the college year, will come to these four meetings of the class.

The subjects will be:

March 19. "The Significance of Passion Week in the Life of Jesus."

March 26. "The Arrest of Jesus and the Ecclesiastical Trial, with Special Study of the Relation of Judas and Caiaphas to Jesus."

April 2. "The Civil Trial of Jesus, with Special Study of Pontius Pilate and King Herod."

April 9. "The Attitude of Jesus Towards Simon the Cyrenian, the Penitent Thief, the Roman Centurion, Joseph of Arimathea and Nicodemus."

COMMITTEE OF BARNARD Y. W. C. A.

ON BIBLE STUDY.

BASKET-BALL GAME.

A match game between 1907 and 1908 was played in the gymnasium on Wednesday, March 14, and resulted in victory for the juniors by the small score of 2:1. The line-up was:

1907.		1908.
Mary Reardon	} Forwards	Mary Maxon
Mabel Boote		Josephine Prahl
Agnes Ernst	} Centre	Florence Sammet
Fanny McLane		Maud Klein
Catherine Smith	} Guards	Marion Wilson

In the second half Amalie Althaus substituted in Fanny McLane's place.

The game was characterized by much roughness throughout, which, moreover, was not accompanied by any display of good playing. Fouls were made constantly, especially by 1907, and chance after chance of making goals was missed. The two that were made were thrown by Agnes Ernst and Mary Maxon, respectively.

JOINT BARNARD C. S. A. AND ALUMNAE FELLOWSHIP.

Three settlement Fellowships of $500 each for the year 1906-1907 have been established and a Fellowship for 1905-1906, not used, is also available for 1906-1907. The Fellowship may, at the discretion of the Committee on Award, be changed into Scholarships of $300.00.

The following Fellowships (or Scholarships) are open; a Joint College Settlement Association and Swarthmore Alumni Association Fellowship (or Scholarship) to former students of Swarthmore College; a Joint C. S. A. and Smith College Alumnae Association Fellowship (or Scholarship) open to former students of Smith College; a Joint C. S. A. and Barnard Alumnae Chapter of the C. S. A. Fellowship (or Scholarship) to former students of Barnard College; a Joint C. S. A. and Wellesley Alumnae Association Fellowship (or Scholarship) to former students of Wellesley College. Applicants should state for what Fellowship or Fellowships, Scholarship or Scholarships, they apply.

The object of the Fellowships is to open to well-qualified persons the opportunity afforded by Settlement life for investigation of social conditions. The object of the Scholarships is to give training in philanthropic and civic work.

No requirements are made beyond residence in a Settlement during the academic year and the pursuit of some clearly defined line of work, scientific or practical, under the general guidance of the undersigned committee and of the head worker of the settlement selected. Choice of residence should depend on opportunities for the work to be undertaken, but preference will be given to the College Settlement Association Settlements. The time may, with the approval of the committee in charge, be divided between Settlements.

Applications should be sent before June 1st, 1906, to Miss Lillian Brandt, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City. These should include all data that may be of use to the committee. Applicants should give age, some account of previous education, and state of work for which they are preparing. They should also describe as specifically as possible the topic or line of work they have in mind for their Fellowship year. Applications should be accompanied by credentials bearing on character, on ability, practical or scholarly, and on health. The basis of reward will be promise of future usefulness.

It will be regarded as a service if those to whom this notice comes will bring it to the attention of persons who might care to apply.

Professor Henry R. Seager,
Columbia University,
New York City.

C. S. M. A.

The C. S. M. A. is planning to do some plain sewing for the City Mission House, on Broome street, during Lent. It is hoped that many, whether members or not, will show their interest by coming on Monday afternoons after 3 o'clock to Miss Leland's apartment in "the Bryn Mawr" corner, One Hundred and Twenty-first street and Amsterdam avenue.

MEETING.

Miss Una M. Saunders, traveling secretary of the Students' Volunteer Movement, will address the college on Wednesday, March 21, at 12 o'clock, in Room 139. Those students who heard the report of the Nashville delegates last Friday in Chapel may be interested to hear more of the Student Volunteer work from Miss Saunders. She will also address the Mission Study Class on Thursday, March 22, at 12.10, in Room 213.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1906.

When the BULLETIN published a criticism of the Sophomore play, the board was overwhelmed with protests that such a "roast" had not been deserved; now that the Freshman show has also been criticised there are many cries that the BULLETIN comments were too favorable. We feel, therefore, as our purposes are so evidently misunderstood, that it would not be out of place to give some explanation of our methods and standard of criticism.

After most any performance, the actors are overwhelmed with congratulatory and usually superlative remarks. This was especially so in the case of the Sophomores, and thus the class was surprised that the BULLETIN criticism was not of similar character. Now we do not mean to say that the said criticism was all that could be desired; it was, perhaps, a little too professional in tone. But its main idea was quite sound. A play is given and it is natural to suppose that each girl tries to act her part well. The performance in all likelihood will not be a finished product, but it pretends to be, therefore more is expected, and a more critical attitude of the audience is the natural result. What BULLETIN criticisms try to do is to praise where praise is due, and to point out faults where it seems necessary. It is all an effort to raise the standard of acting. College girls can act, and there is no reason why a girl of good promise having been shown her faults cannot rectify them. Adverse criticism does not mean fault-finding; it is merely comment on apparent faults. As for the attitude of the BULLETIN toward "shows"—it is somewhat different. The time spent in preparation is usually short and some leniency is, therefore, necessary on that score. Besides, a "show" is a very unpretentious thing, and surely no one would dream of looking at it as critically as at a play. Vaudeville is not criticised as is the legitimate stage, and the "shows" here at college correspond really to the former. If the various "stunts" that the girls do are bright and are done pleasantly, it is all the most critical audience can demand.

The two kinds of performances are not in the same class; and neither are their criticisms.

To anyone who witnessed the junior-sophomore basket-ball game last Wednesday, it was quite apparent that interclass feeling was present to a very marked and not altogether pleasant degree. Aside from the playing itself, which need have no further comment than the passing remark that it was exceptionally ragged, the roughness which accompanied it was entirely unnecessary. Leaving out of account the facts that in any match between classes there must and ought to be friendly rivalry, and that overt disregard of rules often may occur in the heat of the game, it was evident during the whole game that neither side was inspired with anything like the right spirit of sportmanship, that is, to play purely for the sake of playing, with the desire always foremost that the better team shall win. If the attitude and conduct evidenced last week are the results of interclass matches at present, a new ideal of sport is badly needed by the participants.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

The Undergraduate Dormitory Committee wishes, through the BULLETIN, to make an appeal to the college. At the last regular meeting of the Undergraduate Association it was resolved that each member of the Association hold herself responsible for two dollars for the Dormitory Fund, to be paid to the committee at the earliest convenience. It was emphatically affirmed, in the course of the meeting that the Alumnae, who are in charge of the plans for the dormitory, needed the money just as quickly as it could be gotten, and it was hoped that this would induce the girls to pay up at once. That hope, however, was sadly deceived. The members of the Undergraduate Committee have been trying ever since to collect the money, but, in spite of their efforts, it comes in very slowly indeed. It is not just to the Alumnae, to whom we have pledged our word and who are doing their very best for us; it is not just to ourselves for it reflects back upon us that so much urging is needed for so trifling a proof of our love for the college. It is, then, urged upon every member of the Association, in loyalty to her word and to the college, to hand her money to the committee within this week in order that the whole sum may be turned in at once.

HELEN LOEB, 1908.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

On behalf of the Dormitory Committee of the Associate Alumnae of Barnard College, I wish to express to the undergraduates our thanks and appreciation of their offer of support and the interest they have shown thereby.

Since every girl, whether she would actually live in the Alumnae Dormitory or not, would, nevertheless, benefit by its influence on college life, we felt justified in asking for financial support from the students. Several rumors have come to our ears that some students do not contribute readily because they themselves do not expect to live in the dormitory. These girls do not seem to realize that dormitories are, perhaps, the most potent factor in college life and, therefore, of vast importance to every undergraduate, whether she be resident or not.

Another important consideration is the number of girls from distances which the dormitory will eventually attract, thus tending to increase the total number of students as well as to add new influences.

We know from experience how disagreeable it is to ask for money, but for the good of the cause we have undertaken the task and have succeeded in raising a considerable sum. Counting on a large subscription from undergraduates, we have pledged ourselves to raise $1,400 more by May 1.

We are thus able to proceed with negotiations for suitable apartments and the necessary alterations in them. Consequently, we hope to be able to announce shortly the location of the dormitory.

Throughout our work we have had the cordial support of the Board of Trustees, and now we are counting on and need the support of the students.

Yours very truly,
ELSA ALSBORG, Chairman.

DEPARTMENT OF PHYSICS.

The following course of lectures in Mathematical Physics will be given by Hendrik Antoon Lorentz, Professor of Mathematical Physics in the University of Leyden, Lecturer in Mathematical Physics in Columbia University, 1905-6:

THE THEORY OF ELECTRONS AND ITS APPLICATION TO THE PHENOMENA OF LIGHT AND RADIANT HEAT.

Friday, March 23, 4 to 6 p. m.; Saturday March 24, 10 to 12 a. m., and Friday, March 30, 4 to 6 p. m.—General Principles; Theory of Free Electrons.

Saturday, March 31, 10 to 12 a. m., and Friday April 6, 4 to 6 p. m.—Emission and Absorption of Heat.

Saturday, April 7, 10 to 12 a. m.; Wednesday April 11, 4 to 6 p. m., and Thursday, April 12, 4 to 6 p. m.—The Zeeman Effect; Propagation of Light in Ponderable Bodies.

Thursday, April 26, 4 to 6 p. m., and Friday April 27, 4 to 6 p. m.—Optical Phenomena in Moving Systems.

A knowledge of mathematics, including the elements of vector analysis, is presupposed in the above course.

The Lorentz lectures will be open, without charge to teachers and advanced students in physics.

Professor Joseph Larmor, of Cambridge, and Professor O. Lummer, of Breslau, have been invited to deliver the courses for 1906-7.

Any further details may be learned upon application to the Department of Physics.

F. P. KEPPEL,
Secretary of the University

PLANS FOR DORMITORY.

During the past week, the interior plans for permanent Barnard dormitory have been considered by the Dean and the architect. These are to be submitted to the Board of Trustees. It is hoped that definite plans will be a step toward realizing the dormitory more fully.

ERRENDA.

The Bulletin Board wishes to correct a mistake published in last week's issue. Anne Carroll was elected managing editor instead of Margaret Bailey. The printer's devil was responsible for another mistake. Edna Tompkins, '09, was elected to the associate board, and not, as it appeared, the managing board.
