SILVER BAY MEETING.

At a rally held on Wednesday, April 19, to arouse interest in the Student Conference at Silver Bay, Miss Louise Brooks, chairman of the Recreation Committee, gave a descriptive talk on the Conference, its purpose and the good times the girls have there.

Silver Bay is one of the most beautiful spots on Lake George, she said, with the mountains behind and the lake in front. There is a large hotel with the auditorium in an annex. Around the hotel and behind it up on the hillside are the cottages, "Apple Tree," "Forest Inn" and "Overlook," where the Barnard delegation was last summer. A new feature this year is to be tents for about two hundred down by the water, where the girls can take morning dips before breakfast. There are kodak pictures of all these lovely places hanging in the hall.

The daily programme of the conference is as follows: After breakfast come the Mission Study Classes, then the Bible Study Classes and General Student Conference in which there is free and helpful discussion on the part of the girls themselves on the best ways to run the different committees of the College Christian Associations. The morning closes with the big platform meeting in the auditorium, where one is always sure of hearing splendid speakers. None of the meetings are in the least compulsory, but, as Miss Brooks said, it is usually harder to keep girls away from them than to induce them to come. The afternoons are given over to recreation. There are basketball games and tennis matches—usually two or three college champions are there. Then there is boating, bathing, launch trips to Ticonderoga and elsewhere, drives and walks. One special afternoon is given over to college day, which Miss Brooks said was coming early this year. In the evening there is another platform address and the delegation meetings close the day.

Miss Brooks ended by telling a little of the purpose of the conference and what girls can and do get out of it. It is distinctly a religious gathering. There is no attempt made to get girls there under the delusion that the atmosphere is anything but religious. The spirit that comes from the fact that these seven hundred or more girls have come together for the purpose of learning how best they individually can further the Christian work in their colleges is deep, sane and inspiring.

Sophie Woodman '07 then added a few words on the special significance of the conference for Barnard, where students who have so little chance to know their own college mates during the year the privileges of daily companionship are great. The Christian Association is growing and strengthening wonderfully at Barnard, and that means that the college delegations to Silver Bay must increase in quantity and in quality each year.

On behalf of the Silver Bay Committee Agnes Miller '08 asked any girl who would like to go this summer, whether she expects to or not, to hand in her name stating the amount that she feels she can pay.

Refreshments were then served and all the girls had an opportunity to meet Miss Brooks and hear her say: "Of course you're coming to Silver Bay. You'll have the time of your life."

DEBATE WITH NORMAL COLLEGE.

The Barnard Union will debate with the Alpha Beta Gamma Literary Society of Normal College on Wednesday, April 25, at 4 P. M. in the auditorium of the Horace Mann School. The subject is "Municipal Ownership." Admission is by ticket, which may be obtained from Russell '06.

Y. W. C. A.

The regular semi-annual meeting of the Y. W. C. A. was held Thursday, April 19. Reports of committees were read, which show a most encouraging advance. Several new lines of policy were announced, such as the advisory committee and the proposed chapel committee. Notice was given of a special meeting to take place within the next two weeks for the adoption of a new constitution, as the executive committee has found the old constitution, adopted in 1901, inadequate to present needs. Further notice of the meeting will be posted in the hall.

SILVER BAY COMMITTEE.

All girls who are thinking of attending the Student Conference at Silver Bay this summer are requested to hand their names, with a statement of the amount of expense which they will personally defray, to the chairman of the Silver Bay Committee before May 1, if possible. Any who may be interested to have more information about the conference will receive it on application to any member of the committee.

AGNES MILLER, Chairman.

UNDERGRADUATE PLAY.

The sixth annual Undergraduate Play will be given in Brinckerhoff Theatre on the afternoon and evening of Friday, April 27, and the evening of Saturday, April 28. Tickets are now on sale, and may be obtained from any member of the committee, which is composed of the following girls: Marie-Louise Fontaine '06, Marjorie Brown '06, Evangeline Cole '07, Muriel Valentine '07, Agnes Miller '08, and Eva von Rar '09. Price, 75 cents for undergraduates and alumnae, $1.00 for outsiders. It is urged that all students try to make "The Critic" a success, especially as the proceeds are to go to the Dormitory Fund. The afternoon performance will begin at 2:30, and the evening at 8:15. After both evening performances there will be dancing.

UNDERGRADUATE ASSOCIATION.

At a special meeting of the Undergraduate Association, held on Wednesday, April 18, the report of the Field Day Committee was read and accepted as follows:

Art. I. Sec. 1. That the Dean be invited to be present and to speak in the theatre.

Sec. 2. That there be two other speakers in the theatre in honor of President Barnard.

Art. II. Sec. 1. That the program of Field Day be as follows:

1. Tennis; at the same time, broad and high jumping, throwing baskets and baseballs and basketball.

2. Baseball.

3. Races.

4. Tug of war.

The Association voted to buy the die for the Barnard seal from Messrs. Craven & Co., who are about to retire from business.

UNDERGRADUATE MEETING.

There will be a special meeting of the Undergraduate Association on Wednesday, April 25th, at 12:10 in the theatre.

By order of the President.

CLAIRETTE ARMSTRONG,
Secretary.

UNDERGRADUATE ELECTIONS.

The elections held on last Thursday and Friday for Undergraduate officers have resulted as follows:

Vice-President ..... Jean Disbrow '07
Treasurer ..... Elizabeth Fox '08
Secretary ..... Julia Goldberg '09

TEACHERS COLLEGE NOTES.

The Faculty of Teachers College has recommended and the University Council has approved the appointment of the following Teachers College fellows:

IN EDUCATION.

The free public lecture on Wednesday afternoon, April 25th, at 4 o'clock, will be given by Professor Mary Schenck Woolman, of Teachers College, on "The Work of Trade Schools for Girls."

"BARNARDESIA."

The performance of "Barnardesia" for the benefit of the temporary dormitory will be given on the evening of May 9, at 8:15 P. M. in Brinckerhoff Theatre. There will be dancing in the theatre, and refreshments served in the open air after the performance.

Tickets will cost two dollars, but every member of the college and the alumnae may secure one ticket for one dollar. Patrons and patronesses will be asked to subscribe at least ten dollars and will be presented with two tickets. All students and alumnae are urged to suggest to the committee the names of all such of their friends as would be likely to cooperate with and help them by being patrons.

EDITH SOMBORN,
Chairman of Committee.

BARNARD UNION DEBATING SECTION.

The Freshman debate, held Thursday, April 19, was one of the most spirited and interesting debates of the year. The subject was: Resolved, that a college life and education tend to unfit a woman for her social and domestic responsibilities. Lilian Closson and Helene Boas spoke on the affirmative; Leslie Connor and Edna Tompkins on the negative. The refutation was made by Lilian Closson and Leslie Connor. Prof. Brewster was the judge of the debate. The negative side was given first place. Although the arguments of both sides were occasionally slightly illogical, they were presented with a great deal of wit and humor. Tennyson's Princess seemed to be the chief authority for the pet arguments of both sides and the quotations and counter-quotations from it were extremely clever as well as amusing. The debate itself clearly showed that other subjects besides political ones can be discussed in an attractive and popular way.

WEDNESDAY, APRIL 25, 1906.

The changes in the constitution of the Barnard Union ought to be received with gratitude by its members. It goes without saying that the organization of the Union is often too complicated for comfort, so that any loop-hole for freedom is a pleasant innovation. Chief among the changes is the abolition of the graduate presidency, an office which, taking all its functions into account, should obviously never have been created. In the first place, the Union is largely composed, and almost entirely managed and controlled by its undergraduate members. While theoretically an organization for both alumnae and undergraduates, it is practically an almost distinctly student body. Why, then, should its principal office be usurped by an alumna? A second objection is that the choice of a girl to fill such an important office, while naturally limited to only a few candidates under the old régime, had to be cut down to almost nothing. The graduate president had to be not only a girl of brains and ability, but also was obliged to be within easy reach of college, and to have her time more or less at her own disposal. Alumnae with all these qualifications are not always very numerous. And in the third place, the chief work of managing business and overseeing matters in general fell into the hands of the undergraduate president, who was always at college, but who, after having attended to all her duties, was not rewarded by many even ordinary privileges. However, it is plain that the alumnae members should have adequate representation. To this effect the office of graduate vice-president has been created, and seems a desirable institution, especially as this officer, by being chairman of the executive committee, will give the alumnae a fair voice in important business.

The third change, that of dropping the office of second vice-president, is also very timely. This office was a complete sinecure; it had absolutely no duties attached to it except membership on the executive committee, which was not a very arduous one. To have one undergraduate vice-president, whose office is made responsible by chairmanship of the membership committee, will, together with the other proposed changes, vitally strengthen the organization of the Union by giving it more vigor, purpose and efficiency.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:

The class of 1909, and especially the Freshman basketball team, wishes me to thank the college for the hearty support given us at the time of the game with Veltin School. The presence of such a large number of upper classmen and their enthusiastic singing and cheering helped us, we are sure, to play a better game than we could otherwise have done; and we appreciate the support and the spirit in which it was given.

Sincerely,

EDNA A. TOMPKINS,
Corres. Sec. of 1909.

1908-1909 BASKETBALL.

The Sophomore-Freshmen game took place in the quadrangle last Thursday. It was by far the best played this year, in that the two teams were especially well matched and the playing throughout was decidedly clean.

The game at the beginning was rather slow, owing to the number of held-balls, but after a minute or two, both teams began to play rapidly. One foul goal was made for the Freshmen by Herlinda Smithers, and Florence Sammet scored from the field for the Sophomores, making the score 1-2 at the end of the first half.

During the first two minutes of the second half Herlinda Smithers made a goal from the field, making the score 3-2. A number of exciting passes were made on both sides, but good defensive work prevented scoring, until a field goal by Josephine Prah! once more changed the score in favor of the Sophomores (3-4). Then a foul goal by Herlinda Smithers tied the score, and another field goal brought the score to 6-4, just as the timekeeper called the game.

The winning team certainly deserved the victory, for with little opportunity to practice, they have made remarkable progress during the year. Their team, however, is much heavier than that of the Sophomores.

The spirit throughout the game was remarkably good. After the game the two teams cheered one another and sang college songs with a hearty good will very pleasant to see.

The line-up was as follows:

1908		1909
M. Maxon.....	Right Forward....	H. Smithers
F. Sammet.....	Left Forward....	A. Smithers
M. Wilson.....	Centre.....	J. Goldberg
M. Klein.....	Right Guard... {	E. Tompkins
J. Prah!.....	Left Guard.....	E. vom Baur
	Referee—	Agnes Ernst '07.

TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The drawings for the semi-finals of the Tennis Tournament have been made, and are as follows: Alice Haskell '06 vs. Louise Rapp '07; Clairette Armstrong '08 vs. Julia Tiffany '09. These matches will be played off next week, and the finals will be on Field Day.
