COLLEGE SETTLEMENTS ASSOCIATION.

A tea was given in the Theater on Friday, December 7, by the Barnard Chapter of the College Settlements Association in co-operation with the Students' Aid Committee of Barnard College.

Mrs. Florence Kelley of the Consumers' League spoke on the great national Child Labor movement. Mrs. Kelley said in part that the United States is still sixty years behind the United Kingdom and thirty years behind Germany in giving adequate protection to children of school age. There are still 60,000 illiterate children between the ages of 13 and 14 at work in the cotton fields in the South.

Mrs. Kelley also made a strong plea for the workers at Christmas time. Shoppers should buy early in December and early in the day, not in the evening, in order that this may be a time of peace on earth to the overworked employees in the stores. As a result of Mrs. Kelley's enthusiastic appeal on behalf of the Child Worker, the meeting endorsed a resolution saying that they approved of the law which forbids the employment of children after 7 p. m. and calling upon Dr. Darlington of the Board of Health to prosecute all violations of this law in mercantile establishments, whether discovered by his department or otherwise brought to his notice, and that a copy of this resolution be sent to Dr. Darlington immediately.

Mrs. Simkhovitch, of Greenwich House, spoke of the opportunities the Settlement offered to every college woman to share the larger life even though she was not making social work her profession.

Mrs. Williams of the New York College Settlement spoke of the great need for helpers in Club work and the possibilities of giving occasional help by means of musical or other social entertainment.

Miss Van Kleeck, the Smith College Fellow, spoke of her investigation of the working of the sixty-hour law for factory women in New York—of the numerous violations—of the lack of an adequate inspection force.

The most gratifying part of the meeting was the interest shown by a number of the Barnard students who pledged themselves as workers.

A cordial invitation is given to those students who were not present at the meeting to visit the New York Settlement House at Livingston street, and to give their interest and ability to those who cannot give active interest. Opportunity is given to give financial assistance. Partial membership $1.00. Full membership $5.00 annually. Miss Leslie Gardiner will gladly receive contributions.

The first biennial convention of the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States of America was held on Wednesday and Thursday of last week in the South Church on Madison avenue and Thirty-eighth street. The morning was given up to the reading of the Joint Committee's report by Miss Grace H. Dodge, the chairman, who presided at the session; the appointing of various committees, and the greetings from several members of the International Board and American Committee.

The delegates to the convention were the guests of the Joint Committee at lunch in the Park Avenue Hotel on both days.

Wednesday afternoon Rev. Mr. Stelzler of this city gave a talk on "Christian Cooperation in the Industrial World," and Mr. Robert E. Speer followed with another on "The Results of Higher Education Conserved for Christian Leadership." Mrs. Thomas S. Gladding spoke on the "Unique Responsibility of the American Associations to the World Work."

On account of the size of the convention the evening session was held in the Brick Church. The whole college missed a great deal in not hearing Rev. C. B. McAfee, D.D., of Brooklyn, and Mr. John R. Mott. A number of Barnard girls were present, however.

The morning and afternoon sessions on Thursday were open only to delegates. They were very interesting, as all the business was then transacted by which the International Board and the American Committee go out of existence to form the new national organization, the Young Women's Christian Association of the United States of America. Both associations have given up a great deal to make this union possible, and it is felt to be a great advance. Active—that is voting—membership in the new organization will be limited to members of Evangelical Churches. Barnard was already on this basis.

There were 395 voting delegates at the convention who came from nearly every State in the Union, some of the far Western States having a large representation. The delegates from Barnard were Sophie Woodman, '07, and Elizabeth Fox, '08.

Janet McCook, '02, was elected one of the thirty members who are to compose the new National Board.

BARNARD UNION.

The Barnard Union will hold its second open meeting on Wednesday, December 12, at 4 p. m. Dr. Shepherd will deliver a lecture on Things Hispanic, to be followed by an informal discussion and refreshments. Members and friends of the Union are cordially invited to be present.

THE STUDENTS' EXCHANGE.

On the afternoon of Monday, December 10, the Students' Exchange, which has been closed for a week, held a "Grand Opening" to mark its inauguration as a regular Undergraduate institution. Heretofore the Exchange has been an independent organization. By bringing it under the auspices of the Undergraduate Association, it is believed that the Exchange will become better systematized, better adapted to the needs and wants of the student body, more efficient in its service and wider in the scope of its activity.

The aim of the Exchange is twofold: it purposes to maintain a sufficient stock of articles in daily use at college, such as theme paper, writing paper, university cover paper, pencils, erasers, blotters, etc.; and secondly, it offers an opportunity to girls to sell home-made candies, second-hand books and also hand-made banners, pillow tops, flags and various hand-made trifles.

All prospective contributors will please take notice that all articles brought to the Exchange to be sold there are subject to the approval of the committee. Articles deemed too expensive or not well made will not be accepted by the committee.

There will be no tax levied on articles put on sale; if a contributor marks an article to sell at fifteen cents, say, it will be sold at that and the contributor will receive the same amount for it. In other words the Exchange is working for the benefit of the girls, not for itself. The money that the Exchange makes by selling its regular stock is all used to buy new stock with. If at the end of the year there is money in the Exchange treasury it will be handed over to the Undergraduate treasury.

The committee in charge of the Exchange consists of one representative from each class, each of whom is chairman of a sub-committee of four. Dorothea Eltzner is chairman of the whole. Juliet Points and Jean Disbrow are members ex-officio, F. May Ingalls is treasurer. The following girls form the committee:

1907—Emma Lay, chairman; Mary Reardon, Cora Bennett, Florence Gordon, Anne Carroll.

1908—Dorothea Eltzner, chairman; Ellen O'Gorman, Mary Maxon, Irma Alexander, Gertrude Stein.

1909—F. May Ingalls, chairman; Eunice Miller, Anna Holm, Edna Cassebeer.

1910—Miss Palliser, chairman; E. Nitche, Alice Firebaugh, Miss Nammack, Miss Thorne.

MANDOLIN CLUB.

At a recent meeting of the Mandolin Club, the following officers were elected: Fannie Moulton McLane '07, president, and Pauline Steinberg '08, secretary.

WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 12, 1906

The new lease of life which the French and German societies has taken on this year is both highly creditable to the organizations and very fortunate for the college. Formerly they amounted to comparatively little, although there never has been any reason why they should not have a distinct place of their own in the life of the college, and be recognized as something worth belonging to and caring about. Since October, however, both of them have been well conducted. The French society has entertained some distinguished guests, which all of us, members or not, must have been proud to have come to visit Barnard, while the Kreis acted very happily in deciding to entertain the new students at its first meeting. That it did this adequately is unquestioned. At its next meeting it is to have an eminent speaker, as announced in another column. Such doings as these add a very charming foreign element to our college life; and it is to be hoped that the improvement will be permanent in the case of each society.

UNIVERSITY CHORUS REHEARSALS BEGIN.

Professor Rubner, of the Department of Music, is arranging for a concert by the University Chorus in December or in the early part of January, at which choruses by Mozart, Schubert, Raff, Bartnyanski, and Massenet will be rendered. The University Chorus is in need of more voices, particularly men's voices and an urgent invitation is extended to all members of the university to participate in the coming concert. Special rehearsals will be held on Thursdays, beginning December 6, from 3 to 4 o'clock in the Auditorium of Earl Hall. For those who cannot attend at that hour supplementary rehearsals can be arranged, on the same days from 4 to 5 o'clock. It is hoped that a large and enthusiastic chorus will respond to this invitation.

DORMITORY TEA.

On Wednesday, December 5th, the Alumnae Committee on Hall of Residence and the resident Students entertained the faculty and the trustees at the Barnard Hall of Residence, 521 West 122d street. Miss Wheelock, '97, chairman of the Committee on Hall of Residence; Miss Buckingham, Resident Mistress; Anne Carroll '07, chairman of the House Committee; and Lucetta Johnson '07, chairman of the Entertainment Committee, received. The guests were served to tea by Alice Haskell '06, Mary Lipe '07 and Winifred Barrows '09. The other students escorted the guests through the dormitory to show them how comfortably the girls were settled, and how loyally the Alumnae have worked for the good of the Students.

GLEE CLUB.

The movement lately started by the Mandolin Club towards the formation of a college Glee Club has met with most gratifying, not to say unexpected, enthusiasm and support from the college. On Monday, December 3rd, the Glee Club was organized with a membership of over fifty. Julia Goldberg '09 was elected leader, Fannie M. McLane '07, manager, and Herlinda Smithers '09, member of the Entertainment Committee. It was voted that the dues should be 50 cents a year. Weekly practice will be held Mondays, from three to four; another hour will shortly be arranged for those who cannot come at this time.

The Y. W. C. A. library, which was formerly kept in the Bulletin Room, has been officially accepted by the college library. It will now be found on some of the shelves in the Philosophy bookcase.

UNDERGRADUATE PLAY COMMITTEE.

Following are the members of the Undergraduate Play Committee: From 1907, Anne Goldkoop, chairman, and Irene Kohn; from 1908, Marguerite Newland and Florence Wolff; from 1909, Eva vom Baur; and from 1910, Hazel Woodhull.

LETTER FROM PHILANTHROPIC COMMITTEE.

To the Editors of the BULLETIN:
The Philanthropic Committee of the Y. W. C. A. is trying to carry out two plans of work this Christmas. We intend to send magazines to an army post, and also to give a number of dolls to some Children's Hospital. We would be very grateful to any girl who will promise to dress us a doll, or will give us old magazines. Those who are interested may tell whichever member of the committee is a classmate of theirs, that they will help us,—and through us make happy some sick child, or homesick soldier.
