PEOPLE'S INSTITUTE ANNOUNCEMENT

The dramatic committee of the People's Institute have arranged for the production of various Shakesperian plays to be given at reduced rates for students and teachers. The performances, held at the New Amsterdam Theater, began on April 29 and will continue until May 11, inclusive. The repertoire for the second week, beginning on May 6, is as follows:

"Richelieu," Monday; "King Lear," Wednesday matinee; "Merchant of Venice," Tuesday and Wednesday; "Macbeth," Thursday and Friday.

It is said that Mr. Robert Mantell has been very successful in his interpretation of Shakesperian rôles, and all students should be glad to avail themselves of the opportunity of seeing Shakesperian plays at such low prices.

Special tickets may be obtained at the Exchange, which, when presented at the box office of the New Amsterdam Theater, entitle the bearer to purchase reserved seats at reduced prices.

TREE DAY

Tree Day is to be a new feature of the commencement season this year, Wednesday, June 5, being set apart for it. The class of 1907 feels that the tree exercises have always come as part of a rather overcrowded class day when there are so many outside friends that the ceremony is only half appreciated by anyone. In setting a separate time for the exercises this year they hope to make the matter a purely undergraduate affair, and to combine with the usual planting of the tree the customary farewell party to the college and a new ceremony—the step exercises.

The last feature, to be a success, must have the hearty support of the whole college. As planned now, the different classes are to take their respective places in the cloister with the Seniors and Juniors on opposite steps. There will be college and class songs. There will be a Steps orator, who will formally give over the steps to the Juniors.

The class hopes to give the whole college, including themselves, an enjoyable afternoon and also to start a pleasant custom.

SOPHIE P. WOODMAN,
Chairman Committee.

JUNIOR PARTY TO THE SENIORS

The class of 1908 entertained the class of 1907 on Monday, May 29, by an informal dance held in the theater. The Juniors attended—as well as dressed—like gentlemen serving their guests. It was a jolly informal affair, and all the seniors voted it a very enjoyable party.

AMERICAN ETHICAL UNION

On invitation of the New York Society for Ethical Culture, the annual meeting, May 9th-12th, 1907, will be held at the society building.

At the regular meeting of the class of 1908, held on May 1 and 2, the following class officers were elected:

President, Ellen O'Gorman; Vice-President, Mary Maxon; Secretary, Adelaide Regna; Treasurer, Freda Peck; Historian, Aminta Gomez-Casseres; Members of Executive Committee, Florence Ernst and Annie Turnbull; Entertainment Committee, Gertrude Stein, Chairman; Ada Muller, Hilda Wells, Mabel Peterson, Eleanor Curran, Margaret Golde.

1909 CLASS NEWS

The last regular class meeting for the year 1906-1907 was held Thursday, May 2. The principal business was the election of the assistant editors of the Mortarboard and the appointment of a committee for the class luncheon, to take place after college closes.

The Mortarboard staff consists of the following: Editor-in-Chief, Eva von Baur; Business Manager, Julia Goldberg; Assistant Editors, the Misses Wyeth, Closson, Kupper, Phillips, Swenson, Thompson and Logan. The committee appointed to take charge of the lunch includes the Misses Oppenheim, Schlesinger, Alexander, Armstrong, Wadsworth and Aron.

During the meeting Miss Wyeth gave the class a cordial invitation to attend a class party in honor of our next year's president, Miss Gay. The party will be from four until seven, Friday, May 10, at 244 Lexington avenue.

BARNARD UNION ELECTIONS

The results of the Barnard Union elections were as follows:

WEDNESDAY, MAY 8, 1907

Extraordinary as seem the regulations regarding the time schedule for 1907-08, they are certainly surpassed by the recent decrees concerning both payment for tuition and the date of Commencement Day next year. We are informed, with regard to the first case, that hereafter courses will cost us $5 a point. This arrangement, it is believed, will amount, for most students, to about an equivalent of the present round sum of $150, since everybody is supposed to take in the neighborhood of 30 points. And if possibly some one thirsts for 6 points (or is it $30 worth?) more of learning, so much the better for the university bank account—and doubtless for the student, too. Now we realize the heavy expense undergone annually by Columbia, and we have heard more than once with regret of the inadequacy of its endowment. Nevertheless, we doubt whether the new arrangement will not work evil as well as good. Especially at Barnard it is true beyond the shadow of contradiction that in almost every case the students who have the most sincere desire for study, who do the best work, who understand best and strive most earnestly to maintain the high standards of intellectuality and scholarship of which all the rest of us, too, are proud, are those students whose college life is financially a struggle for existence. We venture the statement that to the mind of every reader the names are immediately recalled of a dozen girls who under the new rules simply could not take all the work they might long for; work for which, moreover, they would, in most cases, be mentally, physically and legally entitled to. It seems rather hard and at the same time pretty ludicrous and unnatural to stop a student who wants to work. We prophesy that the great question next year will not be, as some have suggested, "Shall I buy $10 worth of history or $20 worth of Greek?" but "If I buy a respectable amount of tuition, where-withal shall I be clothed?"

The regulation which deals with the May Commencement Day furnishes cause for astonishment almost equal to that attendant on the aforesaid commercial principles. We hear that the custom, beginning with 1908, will be for the senior class of the University to be graduated at the end of May. The final examinations for prospective graduates will be held early in the month, and those for the three other classes during the first two weeks of June. The only reason thus far advanced for this radical change is the statement that hitherto the University procession on Commencement Day has been marred by the absence of a number of instructors who, taking advantage of the early closing of their college duties, have sensibly decamped from New York before hot weather. Hereafter this feature of college life will be preserved in its beautiful entity. We sincerely hope that this reason is not the only one, nor indeed the main one. Under the best of circumstances the seniors could scarcely enjoy the "life piled on life" necessitated for the last few weeks of college by the new rules. Nor does anybody suppose that the remaining three-quarters of the student body would be especially anxious to study at full blast two weeks in June in New York.

Such is the estimation, from the student point of view, of the new regulations. This is as much as any undergraduate knows about them. If there are better reasons for their passage we wish we knew them. We might feel better.

ANNUAL REPORT OF THE EXCHANGE

Last fall the Exchange came under the control of the Undergraduate Association and since then it has been successful in its aid to the students. The confectionery department has been well supplied with various eatables, notably candy and other articles, such as bookmarks, calendars, ties, pillow-covers, pennants and caps and gowns, have been readily sold. The sale of necessary college stationery has added to the general usefulness of the Exchange, and it is by this alone that the Exchange has made any profit, for the committee in charge believes it better to exact no commission for the sale of home articles. Thus both materially and financially it has been a success and a potent factor in helping the students, yet with no object of gain on its own part.

The work of the various committees has been most praiseworthy, for only at times of absolute necessity has a girl failed to be at her post, either because of illness or the misplacement of that precious article, the key.
