THE SOPHOMORE PLAY

The class of 1910 presented the comedy "Next Door," by Eleanor Maude Crane, with much success last Friday and Saturday. The action of the play hinged on a number of amusing misunderstandings which led on to more and more, but which were eventually settled in the final scene of reconciliation.

The coaching of the play was excellent: there was plenty of "business," the men (and they really were masculine men) had learned to keep their voices low and not to mind their costumes. Mabel Palliser, as the enamored professor, played a rather difficult character-part very well, and Lilian Egleston was quite a heart-breaker. Harriet Fox, whose appearance and manner were those of the typical chaperon, added much to her part by her expression and gestures. Bertha Firebaugh's acting was even better than her make-up, and the make-up was good.

The High School of Commerce orchestra deserves especial praise. The members of the orchestra were well drilled and played with much spirit.

The play committee, consisting of Florence Rose, chairman; Grace Meier, Julia Wagner, Muriel Ivimey, Gladys Bonfils and Mabel Palliser and Hazel Woodhull, ex-officio, is justly entitled to congratulation upon the success of the play. The cast follows:

Professor Courtney Martin.....	M. B. Palliser
Will Webster.....	L. Egleston
George Chester.....	D. Kirchwey
Fred Harper.....	S. Silverman
Orange.....	B. Firebaugh
Betty Armstead.....	Grace Henderson
Mrs. Thornton.....	Harriet Fox
Alice Armstead.....	Mary Nammack
Kathleen Covington.....	Hazel Woodhull
Bobs.....	A Puppy

DEUTSCHER KREIS GERMAN

The second annual German of the Deutscher Kreis was held on Wednesday afternoon. The freshmen, in whose honor it was given were almost all there and numerous upper classmen were also present. The entertainment consisted first of the welcoming of the two members of the German faculty who appeared. While being introduced to a large number of Freshmen they were regaled with cider in the real German steins in possession of the Kreis. At about four o'clock the German proper commenced. This consisted of various figures such as matching partners with pretzels tied with many colored ribbons, carrying hold of canes stuck through a shoe and dancing with the person on the other end. The figures were entered into with great spirit and the ample refreshments provided were not forgotten. The comment ended late in the afternoon with the usual singing of college songs.

WOMAN'S INTERCOLLEGIATE ASSOCIATION FOR STUDENT GOVERNMENT

The annual meeting of the Woman's Intercollegiate Association for Student Government was held at Vassar from the first of November to the third. Mary R. Babbott, Vassar '08, was president; Clairette P. Armstrong, Barnard '08, vice-president and treasurer, and Lucia Sloan, Woman's College of Baltimore '08, secretary. The colleges represented at the meeting were as follows: Barnard College, Woman's College of Baltimore, Brown University, Bryn Mawr, Cornell University, Mt. Holyoke College, Randolph-Macon Woman's College, Simmons College, Swarthmore College, Vassar College, Wellesley College, Wells College and Wilson College. Each college sent as delegates the president of their undergraduate associations and one other elected from the junior classes, except in the case of Barnard and Baltimore, which had three delegates each. Marguerite Newland '08, Eleanor Gay '09 and Clairette Armstrong '08, went from Barnard.

The delegates reached Vassar Friday evening in time for dinner, after which the regular chapel service was held. Then a very pleasant concert was given.

The principal event of the Saturday morning session was the rendering of reports of their respective student government associations by the presidents. It was interesting to compare the different amounts of power possessed by the several associations. Barnard compared very favorably with the others.

There was a recess from about twelve to three for rest, the taking of pictures of the delegates, and a luncheon given by the Intercollegiate Association. At the second session the report of the executive board was given. The invitation of Mt. Holyoke College to hold the meeting there next year was accepted. Wells College was chosen as the one to elect the vice-president and Cornell to elect the secretary of the association for next year. Then the meeting was thrown open for informal discussion of any problem which had come up in the several associations.

At eight o'clock a reception was given to the delegates by Vassar.

Sunday was spent in various ways by the delegates—in visiting the numerous buildings and seeing the sights of Vassar generally. The delegates were all enthusiastic, not only over Vassar, where they were treated royally and received every possible kindness, but also over the success of the business part of the meeting.

BARNARD UNION LECTURE

The first Barnard Union lecture this fall will take place this afternoon at four o'clock, in the Brinckerhoff Theatre. Mr. Melville H. Cane will speak on "Nonsense Verse and Parody."

PRESIDENT BUTLER'S VISIT TO BROOKS HALL

President Butler made his first social visit to Brooks Hall a week ago to-day, that is Wednesday, the sixth of November, when Miss Weeks gave a dinner party in his honor. The other guests were Mrs. Butler, Professor and Mrs. William Tenney Brewster, Dr. Edward Delevan Perry, Dean of the faculty of Philosophy, Columbia University; Mrs. Perry, Miss Grace Hubbard, faculty member of the Hall Council, and Mr. George Plimpton, treasurer of Barnard College.

The residents of Brooks Hall gathered in the Blue-room and sang college songs until the guests arrived. Then the singing stopped and the guests of honor entered the dining room, followed by the students. At the close of dinner President Butler made a short address in which he congratulated Barnard on the "splendid addition to the college" of Brooks Hall, and impressed upon the resident students the fact that this year the standards of dormitory life will be laid, which future generations of students will follow. He spoke especially of the college traditions, such as the saying of Grace in Latin, which give a peculiar "academic touch" to college life. After emphasizing the responsibility which rests upon the present residents as the beginners of those customs, which will be perpetuated throughout the history of Barnard. President Butler ended his address by thanking his hostesses for the opportunity of dining in Brooks Hall so early in its history.

At the close of President Butler's speech, the party adjourned to the reception room and everyone was given an opportunity of meeting the guests. In this way a very pleasant hour was spent, at the end of which the visitors withdrew to Miss Weeks' parlors. It is to be hoped that the President of the University will annually dine at Brooks Hall, thus establishing a tradition for future presidents to follow.

1909 CLASS NEWS

At a regular monthly meeting of the class of 1909, on Thursday, November 7th, Ruth Childs was elected chairman of the Junior Ball committee, and Olga Rilke was elected sub-treasurer of the Undergraduate Association. It was voted to rescind the motion of the last meeting imposing a tax of fifty cents upon each member for representation in the Mortarboard.

WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 13, 1907

The Barnard Conference on Missions, under the auspices of the Y. W. C. A., is to be held this week, Saturday and Sunday. The program and list of speakers which have been announced give a partial idea of the value and inspiration which the meetings will bring to everyone who attends them. Some of the best known and most famous speakers on the subject of missions have been secured. But this is not all the value. It is an intercollegiate affair, and a wonderful opportunity is thus offered to us of meeting the splendid and earnest girls who will come to us from most of the women's colleges of the East, and of conferring with them about the problems of our work here in Barnard along the line of missions. And this opportunity is for every single girl in Barnard, for the conference is a college affair, and as such is meant for everyone, whether a member of the Y. W. C. A. or not. Every girl should show her college spirit in this matter, and support the conference by her presence, and her active interest.

TICKETS FOR "THE ROSE AND THE RING"

The committee in charge of "The Rose and the Ring" have decided to issue four hundred tickets for the performance on November the 16th, at 3 p. m., to the Y. W. C. A. delegates. Thirty of these will be kept for the delegates, four will be given to each member of the cast, two to each usher and one hundred will be given to the President of the Y. W. C. A. and to the President of the Undergraduate Association respectively, to be distributed by them according to their own discretion.

1908

At the regular class meeting of 1908, on Thursday, November 7th, it was decided to hold class song practice at 12:30 on the first and third Wednesdays of every month. Wednesday was also determined upon as the day for the senior teas to be given weekly from three to five, in the senior study.

The following girls were voted into the class: Mrs. Helen Loeb Kaufmann and the Misses Murtha, Stoll, Cook, Patten and Schramm.

Margaret Golde was elected sub-treasurer of the Undergraduate Association.

1910

At the regular class meeting of 1910, held on Thursday, November 7, the following committees were appointed: Class pin committee—Sulamith Silverman, chairman; Mary Nammack, Mabel Elder, Margery Egleston, Harriet Fox. Dance Committee—Mary Bailey, chairman; Edna Heller, Lilian Egleston, Ethel Lawrence, Marguerite Druding. Greek games committee—Dorothy Kirchwey, chairman; Mabel McCann, Christella MacMurray, Maude Emery, Elizabeth Nitchie.

BASKETBALL

The first basketball game of the season was played Thursday afternoon in the Thompson Gymnasium. 1909 was victorious over 1908 by a score of 14-7. The game was swift and lively and marked by good passing, some very fine basket-shooting and the usual amount of fouling due to the overstepping of two important black lines. The line-up was as follows:

1908	1909
J. Prah.....Forward....	H. Smithers
M. Maxon.....Forward....	A. Smithers
F. Sammet.....Center.....	J. Goldberg
M. Klein.....Center.....	A. Fransiole
F. Mastin.....Guard.....	H. Murch
P. Steinberg.....Guard....	A. Richardson

Miss Calhoun was referee.

In the first half Adelaide Smithers made two goals from the foul line and one from the field. Herlinda Smithers put the ball in the basket twice, the second time just an instant before the "time-up" whistle blew. Josephine Prah played a remarkably swift and lively game, keeping her guard very busy and making three foul goals and one from the field in the first half. The score then was 8-5.

In the second half, 1908's pluck seemed to dwindle and 1909's passing improved. Herlinda Smithers made two baskets, one of which she put in backhanded by a method known only to the Smithers. Adelaide Smithers earned two foul goals for 1909 which raised their score to 14.

Josephine was disabled, Hazel Woodhull, 1910, was put in her place, and Herlinda Smithers played guard, changing positions with Hortense Murch. The 1910 substitute played a plucky game for the few remaining minutes and made a basket for her sister class, thereby repaying the honor accorded her.

There was an unusually large audience from all four classes present, which helped

To the Editor of the BARNARD BULLETIN:

In an editorial of a few weeks back a plan was suggested for relieving the congestion around the pantry, at college parties. According to that idea, a whole line of girls were to be stationed in the hall to see that none but those who had been appointed, should enter the pantry. Such a scheme strikes me as rather cumbersome and also seems to be inadvisable because it would necessitate keeping so many girls out of the fun in the theatre.

I should think the whole matter could be arranged much more simply by merely keeping the doors leading to the theatre clear, by personally urging all the guests to remain in the theatre and by appointing definitely certain girls to serve. This method was tried at the Deutscher Kreis German on Wednesday last and I think the result was fairly successful. If any students could suggest other plans I feel sure that they would be useful to the college as a whole.

to even the interest in the game by enthusiastic, if not melodious singing and cheering.
