Barnard Writes From France.

The following is an extract from a letter received from Grace Banker, 1915, Chief Operator, Telephone Unit, U. S. Signal Corps, General Headquarters, American Expeditionary Force:

April 10, 1918.

We are all very happy in our work. Nothing matters, not even the rain (which is ever with us), for we have a piano. It is quite an elaborate affair—French make, of course, with fancy little gilt candelabra screwed into its sides. It was the finest we could get in the village. Sometimes it rattles a little, and once in a while carols off the key, but the poor thing works over time these days.

I think I told you that we live in a Y. W. C. A. Hostess House, about a mile and a half away from our work. We come home for lunch, too, so we have plenty of exercise.

One night we had a real United States Senator to dinner, and last night we had a most interesting time. One of my French professors of College days—Professor Muller—came to dinner with two of his associates. It was wonderful to think of being over here in France, and meeting someone with whom I could talk over the Barnard and Columbia of the past and present. I know one thing—I wouldn't be here if I hadn't had some good French courses at the University. One of the other French lieutenants had been a prisoner in Germany for six months before he managed to escape by way of Holland. I wish you could have heard him tell the story. It was very simply told, and for that reason the more impressive.

Posters!!

As there still seems to be some question in regard to posters, it may be well to make an announcement here of the general rules for displaying placards and notices about college.

All notices in regard to matters outside of Barnard College must first be approved by the Poster Committee. Notices concerning Barnard College activities may be posted at any time without first obtaining this approval. Nevertheless, the committee reserves the right to remove a poster which is for any reason objectionable.

Two cork bulletin boards for outside announcements are provided in the basement of Milbank on the wall at either side of the 120th Street door—and there only may they be displayed.

Second Call to Service.

Will the Canteen remain open during the summer vacation? It will—if a sufficient number of Undergraduates and Alumnae volunteer to work there. Girls are needed who will attend regularly any part of the time between June 1 and October 1. Send in your name to Miss Hirst or Alice Judson at once, with the tentative schedule of hours you can give.

Field Day.

Saturday, May 11, 1918, at 2 o'clock on the campus. If it rains, it will be held in the gym. The classes will meet in the studies at 1:45 and attend in a body as cheering squads. Everybody wear white skirt and middie with class ties. There will be track events, an obstacle race and a Faculty-Varsity baseball game. Come and bring your friends.

C. S. A. Report of the Drive.

The committee begs to make the following announcement of the finances on the drive for the money to support a summer camp at Mt. Ivy:

Faculty contribution	$ 56.00
Student contribution	221.50
From the Class of 1918.....	25.00
From the Class of 1921.....	5.00
From the War Relief Council..	10.00

Total

$317.50

Of the student contribution, there is still $15.00 which has not been collected. Such contributions can be left in Student mail or with Miss Scudder in the R. P. O. Office.

The committee thanks the College for the way in which it supported the drive, and thanks the faculty for the financial assistance and for the encouragement given to us by them.

Respectfully submitted,

EDITH H. BAUMANN,

Chairman.

The Race Is On!

Barnard's biggest chance for service is at hand. A Barnard Canteen and Repatriation Unit is going over to France. We Undergrads can't go. We're too young. But we can do the next best thing. We can help send our Barnard Unit.

The Class of 1918 as its final undergraduate act is heading the drive to send our unit over there. Its Senior Play is to be a benefit for the Alumnae Unit. 1918 is preparing delightful evenings for the College on May 31 and June 1—a presentation of "The Chinese Lantern" by Lawrence Housman, followed by dancing to the tunes of a real live military band. The new gymnasium will be the scene of action. For the first time in the history of mankind a "regular" dance will be held on its spacious floors. The adjoining terraces dotted with arm chairs ought to make it an ideal place for such an event.

So you—Undergraduates, Alumnae and Faculty—need make no sacrifice for Barnard's big drive. You are offered an evening's worth of fun for $1.00, plus the guarantee that your dollar will help send a Barnard worker to France. Only don't buy one ticket and think you've done your share. After you've bought your ticket your job begins. Your job is to sell tickets—ten, twenty of them—to all your friends. That's all that's up to you! The Seniors are doing the rest.

The ticket-selling race for the four classes is on! The "fares" are being rung up every noon. Freshmen! Sophomores! Juniors! Seniors! Are you keeping your $1,000 fund chairman busy ringing up new sales? Chairmen are:

1918—Dorothy Connor.

1919—Emily Young.

1920—Clarissa White.

1921—Maude Fisher.

Alumnae! Faculty! Everyone join hands now to make this the best and biggest thing Barnard has done yet.

Red Cross Notes.

The output of our Red Cross for last week was 3,280 surgical dressings and 38 knitted articles.

As the workroom is to close early next week everybody must bring in all wool.

This will be the last chance to pay your dues. Get square with the world before the year ends. The Red Cross needs your money and you need the knowledge that you have done your duty.

The Double Effect of Economy.

When an American citizen, instead of spending $100 for something he wants, denies himself and lends the money to the Government he performs a double service.

First, he furnishes the Government with $100 to use in the prosecution of the war.

Second, he has relieved to the extent of $100 the drain on our "goods and services"; that is, materials and labor. To make the article or articles he would have bought, or to manufacture others to take their place in the market, would require materials and labor. In addition, to get the article to him labor and freight space would be required. By doing without the article, he has left free a certain amount of material to be used for war purposes, a certain amount of labor to be used in the same way, and he has also relieved to a certain extent the transportation facilities of the country.

This may not be much in the individual case, but when hundreds of thousands and millions of Americans pursue this course it means millions and millions of dollars loaned the Government, tremendous quantities of material left for uses of the Nation in this war, millions of hours of labor free to do war work, and a vast amount of freight space free for national uses.

These sacrifices are easy to make; are small and trivial compared to the sacrifices that our soldiers and sailors make daily while they offer constantly their lives for their country, the greatest sacrifice of all.

U. S. Treasury Bulletin.

To the Editor of the Bulletin:

May I say a few words in reference to the editorial entitled "From Us to Us"? The editor objects to the Y. W. C. A. because one of its fundamental purposes, as expressed in its constitution, is "the spread of Christianity." Did the editor or anyone else ever hear of a worthy cause whose champions were not enthusiasts? The editor says that Barnard is opposed to propaganda, as though propaganda were the chief aim of the Y. W. C. A. If she wants to know anything about propaganda, let me refer her to the editorial columns of the "Bulletin" for the past few weeks. With fire-works and a great show of outraged feeling the editor declares that "freedom of discussion must exist." Of course it must! The Y. W. C. A. is as anxious to have it as anyone. Finally, as the "pièce de résistance," I take it, the editor compares us to the Germans. It is amusing, but hardly original. Whenever one disagrees with a person and has no argument handy, it is convenient to compare him to a German. I was interested to note that in the course of this discussion the opponents of the Y. W. C. A. modestly attributed to themselves a monopoly of intellect, democracy, and patriotism. We grant you the intellect—how could we help it after reading your editorials? In this discussion the slogan of the opponents of the Y. W. C. A. has been "unify", the slogan of the Y. W. has been "there is room for all." Which is the more German? The Y. W. is in the minority at Barnard. All we ask is the same tolerance which we accord to every other organization. Is this undemocratic? As for our patriotism, we will not reply, for we believe that patriotism is measured much more by deeds rather than by words.

In your zeal to be broad you have mistaken our conviction for bigotry, and have interpreted as snobbishness our earnest desire to carry on a relatively unpopular organization. There is a kind of broad-mindedness that degenerates into flabbiness. In trying to see every side of the question one may keep going around in a circle until one is so dizzy that it becomes impos-ible to progress an inch. I think Barnard is just now suffering from an acute attack of this gyritis.

IN THE COLLEGE WORLD.

Vassar.

Several interesting amendments to the Students' Association constitution have been laid before the undergraduate body. One of the main issues is the ratification of the new constitution of Christians' Association. Another is the adoption of a central finance committee, something like our own. Two other questions concern the honor system and the proctorless system.

Goucher.

The annual banquet given by the Juniors for the Seniors was a unique and successful attempt to cope with war-time economy. The banquet consisted of only one course—the last—which was served by underclassmen. None of the usual festivity and spirit of the banquet was abandoned, and $250 was saved for Belgian relief work.

Smith.

A new collection system for student organizations is to be inaugurated next year. There will be two canvasses only, for members and subscriptions. A mass meeting of students will be held at the beginning of the year, at which a representative of each organization will explain the work of her particular branch and distribute a short statement concerning its activities with the amount of the pledge.

In Students Hall the two board strips to the left of the Mortarboard Office are for large placards, while the large cork bulletin board to the right is intended for smaller notices. The two small bulletin boards on either side of the large one are reserved for the use of Student Council and Mortarboard.

In Milbank, Barnard College posters may be hung only on and below the railing, not on or below the pillars at either end of the railing, nor on the stairway bannister, nor on the pillars back in the hall. Here the posters should be securely tied to the railing.

No notices are to be hung anywhere about the building except on official bulletin boards.

All notices, after having been taken down, are held by the committee for a week in case the owner may wish to recover her poster. At the end of that time the placards are destroyed.

Nevertheless, from time to time there naturally accumulate a large number of posters, only one side of which is used, so that at almost any time a blank sheet of card is there for making a poster may be had there ing to H. C. Barton.

Final Victory Crushes T. C.

Barnard Nine Wins Series.

"Owing to the superb work of Carmody behind the bat, Stanbrough was considerably steadier than in the previous game. (Carmody.)

Stanbrough also showed remarkable brain and muscle co-ordination, which added to her speed on bases, brought in many of the runs and generally encouraged the team. (Stanbrough.)

Wegener showed the effects of capable coaching by Miss Burns and did not cross her feet once while guarding first base. (Wegener.)

Miss Burns made a great find in L. Eyre for second base. These quiet people, you know, have to be sought for! (Eyre.)

The third baseman played a remarkable game. Nieman caught all the balls that were meant for the fielder. (Nieman.)

Schmidt effectually caught all the balls near home plate—those both coming and going. (Schmidt.)

Barrington too played a heady game and skimmed by home plate so fast she was only touched out once. (Barrington.)

Everyone was delighted to see that Decker put into practice her new accomplishment and turned her toes to the rear while following a fly. (Decker.)

It is universally admitted that Keck is one of the best hitters and that it was not her fault that she did not reach first base oftener. (Keck.)

On the whole it was by far the steadiest and headiest played game of the season (Team.)"

The line-up was as follows:

Barnard.	T. C.
Stanbrough	Jagowski
	Pitcher
Carmody	O'Donnell
	Catcher
Wegener	Leonard
	First base
Lyle	Cooper
	Second base
Nieman	Cushman
	Third base
Schmidt	Schang
	Shortstop
A. Barrington	Lloyd
	Left field
Decker	Noble
	Right field
Keck	Van Sanford
	Center field

Substitutes — Van Sanford for O'Donnell. Rogers for Van Sanford.

Glee Club Elections.

A short meeting of the Glee Club was held last Tuesday noon for the election of officers. It was decided to have a party next Tuesday afternoon "just for ourselves." The officers elected were:

- President—Emily Dowling '20.
- Business Manager—Winifred Bostwick '20.
- Secretary—Mildred Kammerer '19.
- Treasurer—Isabel Smith '19.

The outgoing president wishes the Glee Club and the new officers all success for the coming year. Barnard has musical ability and these officers are going to prove it!

They Say That the Evens—

"Clever? Well, they had the cleverest stunts, hits, songs, the best eats. And, oh, such a peppy crowd! It was a wonderful party!"

These words of wisdom fell from the lips of a sage Senior. She was referring to the party '20 gave '18 Thursday in the theater. Also, she was thoroughly correct in the verdict she rendered.

Escorted by Soph sisters, the Seniors arrived at 4, and danced until Ruth Austin announced that the program would open with a number by no one less than Aline MacMahon, worthy President. Following her two clever selections came a Barnard gym class led by Miss Larson, alias G. Fricke, in true Larsonian manner. An entrancing rose ballet "abstruse," a picturesque terpsichore, "lilting Lambertson lyrics," by our own Beatrice Becker, and two truly lively dances by Agnes Marsh, prepared us for the hit of the entertainment. "The Spices of Life," two wits of the dark brown variety, were discovered to be Lucile Marsh and Alice Barrington. Their song, story and dance act hit many a noble Professor and Sophomore. Applause and refreshments came close upon the final curtain. Then dancing to the late dark hours of the twilight. For a well-planned and successfully-managed afternoon great credit is due to the Entertainment Committee, of which Alice Barrington is chairman.

College Attention!

We are all of us, Faculty and Undergrads, invited to a rip-roaring, booming, final A. A. Party. There will be stunts, dancing, speeches, food, and, most important of all, awarding of B's, class numerals and medals to the lucky winners of Field Day and other athletics. Each class must come and cheer her stars. Misses Dudley and George will speak. This Field Day party will be on May 15, the Wednesday following Field Day.

Save the Date!!

Press Club.

At the annual meeting of the Press Club, held on Tuesday, May 7, the following new members were admitted: Emilie Young '19, Felice Jarecky '20 and Ruth Ehrich '21. After unanimously electing Dorothy Goldsmith '19, president for next year, and Adele Alfke '19, secretary-treasurer, the meeting adjourned.

Women Asked to Knit Socks Instead of Sweaters.

The demand for wool socks at the present-time is still very great, according to the Woman's Bureau, and will continue to increase in proportion to the increase in the number of men enlisted in the Federal service.

From all parts of this country, as well as from overseas, comes the request for socks, and more socks. The life of a sock is a short one and since a pair of warm, woolen socks is the best preventative of "trench feet" one cannot make too many of them.

Just now there is little, if any, demand for sweaters and none for helmets and mufflers, but the sock will always be needed and in such quantities, it is said, as to stagger the imagination. Women who have confined themselves to knitting sweaters and other articles will do a real service by turning to knitting socks according to standard directions.

In fact, asserts the Director of the Woman's Bureau, too much emphasis cannot be laid upon the importance of the production of a large quantity of socks, both now and in the future.
