MINING CONDITIONS IN COLORADO DESCRIBED

Labor Plan Is Partial Success

The situation in the Colorado coal mine and steel plant was described to a group of Economics students by Mr. Frank Palmer, editor of the "Colorado Labor Advocate," at 4 o'clock on April 1 in Room 104 Milbank Hall.

After a severe strike in 1913 and the so-called Colorado Massacre, Mr. Rockefeller, who owns most of the stock in these mines, organized the Rockefeller Plan for employee representation. This plan provides for small periodic conferences in each mine and general yearly conferences to be arranged. At these conferences there are an equal number of employees and managers. The plan of action is that the employers vote on the employees' demands, and the employees vote on the employers' proposals. As the miners were totally crushed, they had to accept the Plan. It was put into effect in the mines in 1915 and in the steel plant in 1916.

Organized labor immediately condemned the Plan for the following reasons: first, there is no equality, for instead of taking a majority vote on proposals, the workers merely have a chance to plead and beg for things; secondly, there is no effective representation, for if an employee representative has asked his manager for some improvement or change in a conference one day, there is a great chance that he may be discharged for "inefficiency" on the next day. As an example of how this plan works, Mr. Palmer cited a conference at which the employers said that the company was losing money and that they would have to reduce wages or close three of the mines. The miners knew that if the mines were closed a great number of them would be discharged, so they voted for a wage reduction. After the reduction had been forced upon the workers in this manner, said Mr. Palmer, almost all the newspapers printed articles stating that the Plan was a success since the employees had even voted to have their wages reduced.

The Russell Sage Foundation sent men to Colorado to investigate the Rockefeller Plan. They reported that it was a partial failure. Officials of the company and Mr. Rockefeller thought this was sacrilegious, declared Mr. Palmer. But to the workers this report implied that the Plan was a partial success. They re-examined more carefully the Plan. They found that the Plan, although it had not averted strikes, had been of some benefit; there are better houses for the miners, social and moral conditions have been improved. Under the Plan it is possible for employees to reach the manager in order to beg for what they want. Mr. Palmer's newspaper reviewed the above facts and asked Rockefeller to join with labor in sharing the task of industrial efficiency. Mr. Palmer and his colleagues are hoping for a compromise which will combine with the good points of the Rockefeller Plan; the

SOPHOMORES WIN AT TWENTY-SECOND ANNUAL GREEK GAMES

Final Score is 56 4-15 to 43 11-15

Barnard's twenty-second annual Greek Games took place on Saturday, April 4, in the gymnasium. They were dedicated this year to Pan. The games were unusually excellent both in plan and execution.

'28's entrance, opening with a race, told of the murder by the loser of the winner's child. It ended with a funeral dirge for the boy whose spirit had meanwhile been lured away by Pan.

The story of the Sophomore entrance was that of a child who had been stolen by the priests of Pan and of how he is found by his father only after Pan has made the boy mad. '27 had the greatest total number of points for entrance.

The priestesses then entered and made the invocation to Pan. This was followed by the 1927 challenge to 1928.

The Freshman dance continued the story of their entrance. The Sophomore dance acted an old love song piped by a shepherd in the noon day hush. In this event, '27 won the idea and execution of the dance; '28 was awarded first place for music and costumes. '27, however, won the event as a whole.

Helen Deutsch was the author of the winning lyric, which was entitled, "Old Threnody: To be sung at the rites of the dying god."

The contests in athletics followed. Mary Wood won first place in the hurdling for form. Margaret Goodell and Elizabeth Metzger tied for second place. Doris Goss was judged first in discus placement. Hannah Semmel was awarded first place for form in the discus throw. '27 won the hoop-rolling event for speed. In the chariot race for form, '27 won five points and '28 received two. The usual chariot race did not take place this year because of an accident to the Freshman chariot. The torch race was won by the Freshmen. The final score was: 1927—56 4-15 points; 1928—43 11-15 points.

The judges were as follows:
Entrance—

Mr. Jo Mierzliner, Mrs. Stanley Isaacs, Professor George O'Dell.

Costumes—
Mrs. Arline Bernstein, Miss Rhoda Hoff, Miss P. C. Wilson.

Music—
Miss Berta Elsmith, Miss Beatrice Mack, Professor Ernest De Wald.

Dance—
Mrs. C. Noyes, Miss Christine Dobbin, Miss Frances Boas.

Lyrics—
Mr. Clement Wood, Professor Brander Matthews, Professor John Erskine.

Athletics—
Miss Edna Carling, Miss Hazel Cubberly, Miss Marjorie Hillas, Miss Florence Stuart, Miss Mary Turk.

PROF. BARNES TO SPEAK AT FORUM LUNCHEON

Professor Harry Elmer Barnes of Smith College will speak on "War Responsibility and the Present European Situation" at a Forum Luncheon on Thursday, April 16. Professor Barnes has been very much interested in the question of the origin of the World War. His article assessing the blame for the World War in the Current History Magazine for May, 1924, has aroused a great deal of discussion.

effective representation which labor gets now only in collective bargaining.

GREEK AND LATIN PRIZES AWARDED

Recently three gentlemen interested in the study of Greek—Messrs. Romaine, Calvocoressi, and Gunari,—gave to Barnard College $65 to be used this year for special prizes for Sophomores and Freshmen for excellence in Greek. The Department of Greek and Latin has awarded the Freshman prize to Miss Siena Delahunt, and the Sophomore prize to Miss Evelyn Behrens.

M. KOMAROVSKY ELECTED TO JUNIOR MONTH

Edith Blumberg Is Alternate

The election of Mirra Komarovsky as the Barnard representative at Junior Month was announced at the Junior Class meeting on Tuesday, April 6. Edith Blumberg was elected alternate.

At Junior Month, twelve juniors from twelve of the eastern women's colleges spend the month of July in New York making a study of the field of modern social work. The Juniors hear lectures by authorities in social work, visit a great many institutions, such as courts, hospitals, and reformatories, and do actual case work with individual families.

Junior Month has become widely known during the last few years. Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Connecticut, Elmira, Goucher, Mount Holyoke, Radcliff, Smith, Swarthmore, Vassar, Wellesley, and Wells, send representatives. There have been so many applications from other colleges throughout the United States that similar months are going to be organized in the South and West.

DR. CLARK WINS INTERNATIONAL FELLOWSHIP Will Study at Copenhagen

The Committee on Award of the International Fellowships established by the undergraduates for next year met on April 2nd. The fellowship for a Barnard graduate wishing to study abroad was awarded to Dr. Jane Dewey Clark, of the Class of 1922. Since her graduation Dr. Clark has been working in the Research Laboratory of Physical Chemistry of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and studying physical chemistry and mathematics. Last Fall she completed the requirements for the Degree of Doctor of Philosophy and received an appointment as research assistant.

Dr. Clark desires to work next year in the Laboratory of Dr. Niels Bohr in the University of Copenhagen on the theory of atomic structure.

The scholarship to be awarded to a foreign student for a year in Barnard has been given to Miss Gunvor Margareta Maria Wilhelmina Stenberg of Helsingfors, Finland. Miss Stenberg was warmly recommended by the officers of the Finnish Federation of University Women. She is the daughter of a physician and has been studying at the University of Helsingfors, specializing in English and esthetics.

Excellent candidates were recommended also by officers of the Federations of University Women in Austria, Denmark, and Sweden, but the Committee felt that the Finnish candidate was the most promising of all.

SENORA DE PALENCIA WILL GIVE LECTURE

Senora de Palencia will give a lecture on Regional Spanish folklore, and the history of costume under the auspices of the Spanish Club on Monday, April 27th, at 4 o'clock.

COMMENT

Clarity

Bulletin has had its troubles during the past year. Criticism there has always been, and always will be. It is to be expected. The difficulty comes when criticism is brought to the attention of Bulletin indirectly. It is for this reason that we take the opportunity to make clear our attitude. We welcome criticisms and suggestions from faculty, students, and alumnae either personally or through the medium of the Forum Column. With such an understanding in advance there ought to be no difficulties of the same kind in the future.

In our opinion the purpose of Bulletin is to reflect student activities and to influence so far as possible the trend of those activities. Considered in this light the weekly news sheet is not, as the slogan of the then incipient Barnacle declared two years ago, "merely a bulletin," a journal of events. It is far more. It is a consciously unifying and directing force.

CALIFORNIA TO HAVE GREEK FESTIVAL

The University of Southern California is planning a Grecian festival after the manner of Barnard's Greek Games, for May 1. There will be Grecian games, chariot races, plays, folk lore, followed by a colorful Greek Ball.

OUTSIDE THE WALLS
A National Student Union

A national union of American colleges and university students, designed to promote better relations between themselves and closer co-operation with foreign students, is the aim of the National Student Federation of America, organized by seven western institutions on January 1st at the University of California.

The Federation is to be modelled after the European Student Union. The constitution adopted at Berkeley outlines its purposes: "To foster student cooperation, to encourage travel on the part of American college students, to provide for scholarships for American students to study abroad, to foster a spirit of friendship between students of the different nations, and to promote an interest in national affairs."

There are already almost 50,000 students included in this new organization, representing the enrollments of the University of California; University of Washington; University of Utah; Mills College, Oakland and Pomona College. Energetic plans are under way to expand the movement eastward and make it nationwide in scope. The University of Nevada is expected to join shortly.

Founding of the Federation was the result of a discussion last summer between Sir Bernard Pares of the University of London, and Honorary Treasurer of the English Student Union and a group of men from representative colleges, at the University of California.

The enthusiastic group of students who founded the Federation discussed many subjects. Among them were:

Proposed American college membership in the Confederation Internationale des Etudiants (the C. D. E. with headquarters in Paris). Such affiliation would give American students greater liberties and freedom in study and travel abroad, as well as opportunities to take advantage of the C. D. E. conducted educational tours to the great scientific and art centers of the Old World.

It was proposed that the National Executive Council of the Federation work out some way in which funds could be raised to establish scholarships for students of the member colleges to study either in some of the great American colleges which specialize in various lines, or to send students to Europe to study or to the Orient for research work.

Summer camps were suggested for annual meetings, at which some of the real purposes of the Federation could be successfully carried out, to wit, to promote relations between American university students; to discuss student problems; to affect student co-operation; to study national and international affairs of student import; to invite relations with foreign students; and to foster the exchange of students with the various member colleges.—From "The New Student."

Has New Cut System

A new cut system has been inaugurated at Williams College, whereby a student's cuts are limited by the grades he received in his courses the preceding semester. For an A or a B, a student may take five cuts; for a C, three cuts; two for a D; and one for an F during the succeeding semester.

PLAN OPEN CHALLENGE TENNIS TOURNAMENT

Beginning on April 14, there will be an open challenge Tennis tournament. All those entered are to be approximately graded and a participant may then challenge anyone in any of the four places immediately ahead of her. The ranking of both singles and doubles teams will be posted in the main corridor of Students'. The faculty have been invited to enter.

COLLEGE ELECTS ASSEMBLY MEMBERS

Representative Assembly elections from the college at large for next year were announced on Friday, April 3. The new members are: Gertrude Braun '27, Cora Du Bois '27, Virginia Lee '26, Eleanor Rich '28, Elizabeth Patterson '26, Renee Fulton '26, Margery Meyers '27, Sylvia Surut '26, Helen Robinson '27.

TATLOCK PRIZE EXAMINATION ANNOUNCED

The Examination for the Jean Willard Tatlock Memorial Prize in Latin will be held on Saturday, April 18, from 1:30 to 4:30 in Room 330, Barnard College. The examination consists entirely of translation at sight from Latin to English, and is open to all Barnard undergraduates. Candidates are requested to give their names to Professor Hirst or Miss Goodale.

SUMMER SCHOLARSHIP OFFERED

The Gloucester School of the Little Theatre, Gloucester, Massachusetts, is again offering two free scholarships to undergraduates of American schools and colleges for its sixth summer season, July and August, 1925.

The school has its own experimental theatre where weekly performances are given and offers courses in: Public Speaking, Pantomime, Acting, Stage Direction, Lighting, Scenery and Playwriting.

Among the thirty plays produced last season were: "The Book of Job"; "Gammer Gurton's Needle"; "Fluerette and Co."; "Essex Dane"; "Before Breakfast," Eugene O'Neill; "The Haiduc", Colin Clements; "Two Slatterns and a King", Edna Millay; "Fame and the Poet", Lord Dunsany; "The Man who Married a Dumb Wife", Anatole France and "The Two Virtues", Alfred Sutro.

The faculty will include: Mrs. Florence Evans of the Boston School of Public Speaking; Miss Florence Cunningham of the Theatre Colombier, Paris; Mlle. Mellor of the Dalcroze Institute, Geneva; Mr. Robert Henderson of the University of Michigan; Mr. Colin Clements of the Portmanteau Theatre and author of "Plays for a Folding Theatre" and "Plays for Pagans."

All communications concerning the scholarships should be addressed to: Miss Florence Cunningham, 112 Charles St., Boston, Massachusetts.

STUDENT COUNCIL MEETS

Wigs and Cues Rehearsals Arranged

Student Council, at its last meeting, gave permission to Wigs and Cues to hold rehearsals from three to six in the afternoon, since Mr. Hare, the coach is not free in the evenings. Rehearsals are to be arranged so that no one has to cut classes. There was discussion of the length of time generally necessary for rehearsals, and it was thought advisable to set a definite limit on the time given up to Senior Show rehearsing.

The Council approved the election by "Bulletin" staff of Edith Blumberg, '26, as editor for next year.

The installation ceremony for new officers will be held on Tuesday, April 14th. It was decided that the newly elected members of the Representative Assembly should take part this year, and plans will be made to include them.

Respectfully submitted,
M. I.

MISS BOSQUANET ENTERTAINED

Miss Gildersleeve entertained at tea on Friday, April 3, Miss Theodora Bosquanet who is Secretary of the International Federation of University Women of which Miss Gildersleeve is President. Miss Bosquanet is attending the convention of the Federation and is planning to visit several colleges in this country.

Miss Bosquanet was secretary to Henry James in the last years of his life and is author of a book entitled, "Henry James at Work."

MARGARET HATFIELD GOES TO RICHMOND

Margaret Hatfield has been chosen by Student Council to represent Barnard at a conference of the National League of Women Voters which is to be held at Richmond, Virginia, on April 12.

FACULTY ATTEND LUNCHEON

The second student faculty luncheon was held on Monday, April 6, under the auspices of Alice Millham. Professors Le Duc, Hubbard, Haller, Miss Robb, Weeks, and Miss Young, Mr. McDon and Mr. Peebles were guests of the students.

Greek Games have come and gone, undergraduate officers have been elected. With the passing of the Easter vacation a lull falls upon student activities. The catalogue for the year 1925-1926 reminds us that we may be here for other things besides athletics and student government. Perhaps this is the time of year when enthusiasm for study is keenest, and when plans for the future are under discussion most seriously.

DEAN EXPLAINS

ADMISSIONS

On April first, Miss Gildersleeve spoke to the Representative Assembly on the question of the basis of admission to Barnard. A committee, consisting of Elinor Curtis, Fern Yates, and Margaret Irish had been appointed to investigate the matter. The Dean, after they had talked to her, offered to talk to the assembly herself. Miss Gildersleeve stated that a girl applying for entrance is considered from the stand-point of health, personality, character, and scholarship. Blanks are filled out by the applicant and the principal of the school from which she comes, as indications of character and personality. Trouble often arises from the fact that the principal of a school sometimes reports unfavorably of a girl in a private communication to the college, and at the same time tell the girl and her parents that he has recommended her highly.

Students may enter on regents', college board, or comprehensive examinations, on Columbia university examinations or on school record and a psychological test. These psychological tests were devised to provide for students of good natural intelligence who may have received poor training at school. This applies particularly to schools in distant places. A girl, said Miss Gildersleeve, who came from Anaconda, Montana and did fairly well would be taken in before one who did only slightly better work, but came from a school of high scholastic standing. The administration wishes, for the sake of the New York girls, as well as those from a distance, to make the college as representative as possible of different sections of the country and of different nationalities.

During the time left for discussion, the Dean answered questions. One girl inquired whether any policy of discrimination against groups or races was in use. Miss Gildersleeve answered that no discrimination is practiced except when girls from outside New York are preferred to girls from high schools in and around New York. When asked whether colored girls do not apply for admission or are not accepted, Miss Gildersleeve said that they are admitted if they are exceptional students, and are willing to face the difficulties to be encountered.

Have you inspected your furs?
 Let us do it for you.

We make a specialty of Scientific Fur Storage. With these facts in mind then, the very small charge we make for storage is decidedly cheap insurance against moths, burglars and fire. Our charge, 2% of valuation. The telephone message or card "Send for my furs" will have our prompt attention.

During the Spring and Summer months the prices for Fur work, new garments as well as repairing and remodelling, are considerably lower than in the Fall.

It is ever our aim to associate our name and establishment with high class, prompt and courteous service so that you can safely recommend your friends to us for satisfaction and faithful work at all times.

Trusting to be favored with a visit from you and your friends when thinking of fur work.
