

COLLEGE TO VOTE ON PRESENT A. A. POLICY

A. A. Referendum to Be Submitted January 17 and 18

By Frances Gedroice

The Athletic Association has before them for vote, one of the most vital problems of its history.

For seven years preceding the year 1924 Barnard had a varsity squad in all sports, which concentrated on 2 varsity games or meets with Teachers College. A varsity squad consists of approximately 12 in Basketball, 10 in Swimming and 8 in Tennis. These squads need a minimum time of 4 hours per week practice. Due to the fact that each sport can only have the hours from 4-6 (total of 19 hours a week) the number of class squads and games had to be limited in order that the comparatively few on varsity might practice. True enough that the few who were on the varsity squads got excellent practice but what was happening to the larger group of girls who had to sit on the side lines? It is true that out of the 10 hours possible for practices a squad of 12 girls received four hours while the remaining group of 985 girls in college received 6 hours. Is it any wonder that we sometimes had to struggle to get as many as one of the two class teams? Would you like to come and practice an actual 10 minutes twice a week, and then try to play in the 2 class games or practice 30 minutes twice a week and play in the 6 class games, odd-even, and all-star?

The present system is much more ideal. It gives every girl who comes out for a sport a chance to compete in a number of games. Then according to her ability she will be recognized on one of the odd-even teams. Finally she may make the all-star team. We can in this way handle a minimum of 72 girls a day in competition. It raises the standard of the first class teams, creating 24 instead of 6 first-ranking players. It also makes it possible for a girl to advance from a lower to a higher team. It promotes class spirit and relieves the girls from the strain

NEW REGULATION ON SENIOR SCHOLARSHIP

MANAGER URGES INTEREST IN BASEBALL

By Katherine Kridel

During the week beginning Monday, January 17, you register for next semester's work in Physical Education, but before doing so you should think seriously of what sports or sport interest you most.

Baseball is the only sport during the second semester which gives the classes points towards the all around inter-class athletic cup awarded annually to the class scoring the highest number of points. Practices for Seniors are on Mondays and Wednesdays at 4, and for Juniors on Tuesdays and Thursdays at 4.

We wish to impress upon the Sophomores and Freshmen that it is possible to take both Greek Games Athletics and baseball. During the month of February, underclassmen who are working for teams are required to take only one practice of baseball, Sophomores with the Seniors on Monday at 4, and Freshmen with the Juniors on Thursday at 4. At the same time with the requirements of regular gym they take only one period of Greek Games Athletics. Girls who expect to make a team and are not taking Greek Games Athletics are required to have two baseball periods a week. At the end of February the Physical Education department will post a list of Sophomores and Freshmen who are to be excused from taking regular gym during March. Two baseball practices and two Greek Games practices are then necessary each week.

Besides the usual two rounds of inter-class games, and odd Odd Even games there will be this year two Undergrad-Faculty games, which have in the past always afforded a great deal of interest and amusement to both players and spectators. As an innovation we are going to have an Undergrad-Physical Ed Faculty game.

The Class Managers appointed are:
1927, Evelyn Hoffman
1928, Evelyn Frank
1929, Mary Campbell
1930, Amelia Abele

If there are any questions please consult your class manager.

ALUMNAE COMMITTEE THANKS UNDERGRADS

The Alumnae Benefit Committee wishes to thank the undergraduates who gave such valuable assistance in putting on the Alumnae Show. They functioned, not only as ushers, but also as co-workers on costumes and properties, and on December 18 especially, spent the entire day as a pony express, supplying the embattled committee members with everything from safety pins and sandwiches to thumb-tacks, boulders and tee-pees.

WOODWORTH ADDRESSES PSYCHOLOGY CLUB

"It is better to keep the concept of 'instinct' and realize that it may be modified by experience than to throw the whole idea overboard as some psychologists advocate," said Professor Woodworth at the opening of the Psychology Club on Friday, January 7th. The word and the concept have sundry connotations. Even an educated person will say, "I instinctively took off my hat." But it must be realized that the concept cannot be treated alone; it is part of an organic system. If we throw over instinct, we must look to what we have left. The main question at issue is between habit and instinct acquired and native behavior. If instinct is discarded, all behavior would have to be classified as acquired. The nutritive or feeding habit is an argument against this theory. The problem needs to be further investigated by genetic study.

Another angle of the problem is the objection of the sociologists which should be taken into account. They accuse psychology of minimizing the influence of habit or the regularizing influence of social pressure. They cite fire and language as arguments against the criterion of universality which psychology demands for instinct. The uniformity of fire and language is not biological but a social heritage. Professor Woodworth agreed that the criterion was rather a clue to where the instinct might be located than a proof of an instinct.

Miss Ida Deck entertained the Club by playing Rachmaninoff's Barcarolle and Gliuka, Balakirew, The Lark.

OLD TEXT-BOOKS WANTED

The Book Exchange has several prospective buyers for second-hand text-books in current editions. If you have some that you will not need after mid-year examinations come to Miss Weeks' office, room 104, Barnard Hall, where you will find cards and instructions as to how to fill them out. Books may be sold now and delivery postponed until examinations are over.

That student feeling and opinions concerning the Nicaraguan policy of the United States should be brought to the attention of the Administration, was the unanimous decision of Representative Assembly at its regular meeting on Monday, January tenth.

The sequence of events to date were discussed, and the following resolution was introduced by Helen Robinson:

"Whereas: the intervention on the part of the United States in Nicaragua is a form of economic imperialism which is and should continue to be wholly opposed to the principles of the United States.

Be it resolved: that this Assembly request the National Student Federation of America to call the attention of the students of the country to this fact and urge that they communicate with their representatives and the Administration so that it may be made evident that we do not approve of what the government of the United States has done and is doing."

A discussion of the resolution showed very clearly that there was apparently no sympathy with the action taken by the present administration, and that the entire assembly agreed with the most recent statements made by Senator Borah after his consultation at the White House.

The entire matter was placed in the hands of Extra-mural Committee for further action.

A report from the Second Congress of the National Student Federation of America which was held at Ann Arbor, December 2, 3, 4, was given by Margaret Goodell. While this Congress sprang from the congress held last year at Princeton to consider the World Court Issue, its purpose this year was purely to consider academic problems.

Miss Goodell spoke of the broadening influence to be had from contacts with every type of college: Eastern Western coeducational and non-educational, small back-water colleges and the largest universities.

EDITORIALS

The action of Representative Assembly in sending a resolution to the National Student Federation which urges that body to protest the recent action of our national administration in Nicaragua is, we think, worthy of the commendation and support of the student body.

There are three phases of the situation which should interest the American student.

1) The sending of the American marines to Nicaragua. Semi official reports say that the purpose was to protect the American Nationals. Well and good! By such an act, however, we have barred the entry of arms and munitions intended for the liberal forces. And when one considers that Admiral Julian Latimer, commander of the American naval forces in Nicaragua waters, has been given the power to stop foodstuffs within his discretion and to establish neutral zones "where he sees fit", one wonders where are our policies of non-intervention and self determination for small nations of which we heard so much after and during the war.

2) The previous point might indicate that we were merely putting down a rebel government (a thing we have managed to do in the past, and successfully, shy the military non-intervention side of it). The facts of the situation are such that many people of authority, such as Senator Borah, Republican Chairman of the Committee on Foreign Relations, believes that the Diaz government is the revolutionary one and that Diaz is the pretender to the presidency. It is pointed out that his election by the Assembly is contrary to the Nicaragua constitution.

3) The fact that Mexico is in the background and is mentioned in our official report as supporting Sacasa in order to stir up trouble with the United States, is worthy of comment. There is the latent fear, evidently, that if such is the case, Mexican laws regarding petroleum will be applied to the detriment of American interests. This seems obviously the old cry of economic imperialism which has been our accursed policy so many times before "in our efforts to aid the downtrodden."

It is considerations such as these that should be taken into account and if you are a student with ideals (if that is possible) protests seem in order.

ALUMNAE PRESENTS PLAY

On the evening of December 18th, in the Horace Mann Auditorium, the Barnard Alumnae Association presented "Pokey," a slight but amusing skit, and a Mock Trial.

Never before has a Barnard presentation boasted so illustrious a cast as the Mock Trial. It included practically every Barnard celebrity, from Dean Gildersleeve as Judge, to Annie of the steam-table as Sweeper of the Courtroom. An unsuspected wealth of legal and histrionic ability was disclosed.

The accused was Miss Annie Meyer, suspected of making away with a most valuable green wastebasket. Her lawyer, Mrs. Mullan, defended her ably against the brilliant attack of District Attorney Lowther. As the case proceeded and the tension grew higher, Court Crier Knapp had great difficulty in quelling the excitement and hilarity of the audience.

The triumph of the evening was scored by Prof. Muller, in the role of our fiery Raphael. The realism, passion, and verve of his performance, joined to an astounding flow of Italo-Gallic-American volubility, constituted a masterly characterization.

The case looked black for Miss Meyer, until it was discovered that absent-minded Jurymen Brewster was limping strangely. Behold! The mysterious green wastebasket was firmly attached to his right foot!

ABSENCE AND LATENESS

All students who have been absent from or late in any class during this current half-year MAY file a list of the absences and latenesses AT THE OFFICE OF THE REGISTRAR BEFORE 12 O'CLOCK NOON ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1927.

PLEASE NOTE THAT WHILE THE FILING OF EXCUSES IS OPTIONAL WITH A STUDENT SHE IS ADVISED NOT TO OMIT TO DO SO. Failure to avail herself of the opportunity to explain her absences may give the impression that she has no adequate excuse.

A separate blank should be filed for every course in which the student has been absent or late and the report should cover every absence or lateness up to 5 P. M. on Tuesday, January 18, with the reasons therefor. If absence has been due to illness, a doctor's certificate may, at the option of the student, be attached.

Blanks may be obtained at the office of the Registrar BEGINNING WITH FRIDAY, JANUARY 14, at 9 A. M. Completed lists may be returned by mail, but they must be in the hands of the Registrar by NOON ON WEDNESDAY, JANUARY 19, 1927.

POSITIVELY NO LISTS WILL BE ACCEPTED AFTER THAT TIME.—A. E. H. Meyer, Registrar.

IMPORTANT NOTICE REGARDING DEFICIENCY EXAMINATIONS

APPLICATION BLANKS for these examinations can be obtained at the office of the Registrar between Monday, January 31, and Friday, February 4, inclusive. DEATH NOTICE

It is with very deep regret that the Administration announces the death of Eunice Veal, a member of the senior class, who was killed by a Long Island railroad train at Freeport, Long Island, on Thursday, December 30, 1926.

Miss Veal's record at Barnard has been an excellent one, full of promise for the future, and her death is a serious loss to the College.

and nervousness that accompanies a large game. Each team counts toward the final score of the class because we concentrate on the many rather than the few. This power of lower teams in the final scoring is illustrated in Basketball this year by the fact that 1929 will win the championship through 2nd, 3rd, and 4th teams though the first team of 1927 was undefeated. We all admit that good health is the most important thing in life and exercise is one means of attaining it and maintaining it. Are we to benefit as far as health is concerned by sitting on the side lines and cheering a Varsity?

It would be well to answer honestly to yourself before voting, the following questions as set forth in the policy in 1924:

1. Why do you want to change?
2. Is it a selfish motive?
3. Have you given the policy a fair trial?
4. Were 2 years a long enough time to try it?
5. What advance has been made and is it possible to continue it?
6. What is your aim for athletics at Barnard?

The trend of women's athletics of today is in the direction of intramural competition, or in other words, competition of the separate groups within the college. Shall we, Barnardites continue to be one of the leaders in this splendid work? We have made a tremendous step forward and let's hold our ground.

S. C. DISCUSSES INCREASE OF BLANKET TAX

The main subject which came up for discussion at the meeting of Student Council on January 6 was the proposed increase of the Blanket Tax. The Council said that this would be a very important step and would be carefully considered. If the tax were to be increased at all, it was felt that all future needs should be dealt with at the same time to forestall future increases. The possibility to arrange for a paid secretary to take over some of the routine duties of the secretary and treasurer of the Undergraduate Association was brought up. The Council recommended that the Committee on Barnacle Finances seriously consider any possible reductions in the sum which it had been stated was necessary to carry on Barnacle.

The Council voted to send a book to Madge Turner who is ill and has been forced to give up her work for a time.

Respectfully submitted,
Doris Goss,
Vice-President

Committees met to discuss such subjects as curriculum, student government, athletics and teaching conditions. These committees will continue their work through the year, making definite reports to their members from time to time.

Miss Goodell stressed the fact that Meiklejohn said that the purpose of a liberal education was to give an understanding of life in general and that a college could not be expected to give vocational training at the same time. Students who come to college for culture should direct their attention to obtaining book culture and not merely a suave manner. College ought not to be united by social ties or extra-curricular activities, but should be a community of learning.

Several of the other speakers mentioned experiments being made in junior and senior colleges. By this method, it would be possible for everyone to obtain the fundamentals of a college education, while senior colleges would be reserved for only those of the highest ability.

The committee on athletics presented a resolution which was adopted by the conference condemning the exorbitant salaries paid to coaches, and resolving that the salary of a coach should not exceed that of a full professor.

At the first meeting of the conference, messages from the student organizations of foreign countries were read to the Congress. The Executive Committee was instructed to proceed with the necessary formalities of joining the Confederation Nationale des Etudiants.
