Tvy Ceremony

Hirsh Presides at Exercises And Gives Ivy Address

PLAQUE MARKS PLANTING SITE

Ivy Used by Graduation Class Brought from Sussex, England By Mrs. Seals

The danting of a piece of ivy for the gradu ing class, traditional ceremony of Serior Week, took place yesterday afternoon at the north end of Barnard Hall A bronze plaque, bearing on it the numerals of the class and the date of the ceremony, marks the place of

The my of the Class of 1936 was brought by Mrs. Mary Morris Seals, of the Barnard English Department, from the outside of a chapel in Boscham, Sussex. England, where the daughter of King Canute, the Dane, is said to

Diana Hirsh, former editor of Bulletin and Chairman of Ivy Ceremony, officiated at the planting, with Charlotte Haverly, Senior President, and Jane Essler, Chairman of Senior Week, assisting. Miss Hirsh said in part: "The ivy Few of us will travel such actual distances, but we can learn from the ivy this lesson of adaptability when, in stepping from sheltered academic world to world of economic reality, adjustments to acquire the tolerance, the understanding, the breadth of concept, which in a human reveals itself in successful membership in a new and strange com munity, as in the ivy it reveals itself in the success of transplanting."

"Let us so plan our lives, that in future wars, when as alumnae returned to Barnard we pause in reminiscent moment at this very spot, we can say, truth-

Charlotte Haverly addressed those asembled on the tradition of Ivy Day. Barnard Forever" and "The Sunset own dancing. Song." led by Ruth Wolin, '36, were oung by the graduates. Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve was the guest of the class at the ceremony.

Seniors Honored At Annual Banquet

Senior Banquet was held Thursday Sophomore skit, and the singing of "Auld Ling Syne."

The roll call revealed that more than exchanged dances with their friends. 16 of the class have become engaged or marr 1.

Diana Harsh, the hero, to circumvent Schaeffer. the "Sherriff." Dialogue consisted of stand.

Under induates were asked to leave wired with an amplifier. the roos during the traditional "mys-

Building Fund Committee Announces Year's Proceeds

The Undergraduate Building Fund Committee wishes to announce that the total balance to date amounts to $965.09. The contributions have been received from the following organizations:

1936 Senior Week	$200.00
A. A.	46.46
Bulletin	150.00
Classès	127.89
Clubs	240.74
Greek Games	50.00
Press Board	25.00
Quarterly	125.00
	$965.09

Ball and Tea Dance Held

Seniors Dance At Ball in Gym Last Saturday: Tea Dance Held in Brooks

The class of 1936 held its Senior Ball on Saturday evening, May 30, in the Barnard gymnasium. Guests of the class were: Miss Virginia C. Gildersleeve, which we plant here today has travelled Mr. and Mrs. Robert Herr, and Miss 3,000 miles and more across the ocean. Mabel Foote Weeks. Wes Oliver and his Vikings provided the music, and the dancing continued from 9 to three

The Ball was a formal supper dance. After the receiving line broke up, and must be made. We too should endeavor after all the seniors and their escorts had assembled, supper was served, at midnight. The dance numbers that the orchestra played before and after refreshments comprised the "Barnard Hit Parade," all being the favorites of the

Exhibition Waltz

Margaret Boney, '34, did an exhibition waltz and a tango, with a profesfully and unreservedly, 'We, too, have sional partner. Later in the evening, Esther Wasmund played Stardust as a gift of the class of 1936 to the school, trumpet solo. For the rest of the time, the guests amused themselves with their | Jane Eisler, as a contribution for a read-

> Clementine Walker was the Chairman of the Ball committee; she was assisted by Lucy Appleton, Dorothy Brauneck, Joan Kiesler, Mary Manley, and man of Senior Week.

190 Couples Attend

About one hundred and ninety couples attended the Ball, an almost unprecedented percentage of the graduattening at 7 o'clock in Hewitt Hall, ing class. A notebook had been posted featured by the traditional roll call, for the seniors to sign up in, and so all the tables were taken by groups that chose to be together. As usual, the girls fied by the distribution of majors, was

The seniors who were guests of the class were Alice Corneille, Charlotte The in presented by the Sophomore Haverly, and Jane Eisler. The juniors

The tables were decorated with ferns Funs on the names of Seniors. As each and flowers. The two terraces on the recognized, the girl whose north and south side of the gym were hame been distorted was asked to lit by Japanese lanterns, and the guests Chemistry, Government and mathedanced on the North terrace, which was matics were next in order of popularity,

The Senior Tea Dance, one of the sotries." inen, by candlelight, Seniors cial events of Senior Week, was held on together "Auld Lang Syne." Monday, June 1, from 4:30 to 7:00, in Mary Henderson was Chairman of the drawing-room of Brooks Hall. The the Senier Banquet Committee. Guests Dance was under the direction of Dorthe ciass were Amy Schaffer and othy Skene, Social Chairman of the class. Adele Hand, President and Senior The guests included Miss Weeks, Miss Gildersleeve, who "counseled with Charlotte Charlotte, McBride, Alice Corneille, Charlotte Itspective. Doris Wagonbauer headed Haverly, and Jane Eisler. Amy Schaef-Com: tee of Sophomore waitresses. fer, Frances Henderson, Margaret President of the Class of 1936. Corsag and favors were provided for Ritchie and Helen Butler were the undergraduate waitresses.

215 Barnard Graduates Receive Their Degrees At 182nd Annual Commencement Ceremonies At Columbia University; 20,000 Witness Exercises

Seniors Returning From Baccalaureate Services

Dean Gildersleeve Talks at Class Day

Class Presents Gift of Two Hundred Dollars to Building Fund

The ideal of "intellectual honesty and scientific accuracy" was held out to the class of 1936 by Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve in an address at the annual Class Day ceremonies held in the gymnasium on the afternoon of June 2.

"Education for life, not for a livelihood" was the Dean's characterization (before about seven hundred parents and friends of the class) of the contribution which Barnard has made for the members of the graduating class.

A check for two hundred dollars, the was presented to Dean Gildersleeve by ing room in the new building to be named in the Dean's honor. Valedictory and Salutatory addresses were given by Alice Corneille and Charlotte Haverly.

The ceremony was opened by a pro-Elizabeth Mater. Jane Eisler was Chair-cessional of the Faculty and members of the class of '36, followed by the class' singing of "Barnard Forever," in which they were led by Helen Dykema.

The names of students graduating with Honors and Honorable Mention, and of the recipients of Fellowships and Prizes were read by the Dean. The intellectual leanings of the class, as signialso discussed by Miss Gildersleeve.

Economics and sociology was the favorite field of the graduating class, with twenty-seven majors. Miss Gildersleeve wastrew was a tale of the efforts of who were guests of the class were Adele noted this as an indication of a desire Charlott Haverly, the heroine, and Hagland, Sandy Segard, and Amy to understand the current problems in the economic and social sphere. The English Department received the second largest number of '36 majors, twenty-six students choosing this field. and Religion and Philosophy brought ened face, sang Aunt Jemima and She up the end, one student having majored in each department.

Thanks to the parents of the class, for bearing with them during the Barnard days, to the Faculty for its intellectual stimulation and leadership, and to Dean sound advice, tempered with humor" were expressed by Charlotte Haverly,

Miss Haverly declared that "Barnard (Continued on Page 4)

Step Singing Held Last Friday Night

Trio and Members of Junior Show Cast Entertain At Senior Reception

Each class was formally promoted at the annual Step Singing Ceremony on of Milbank Hall. With the Freshman, Sophomore, Junior, and Senior groups singing their respective verses of You Can Tell and their own class songs, the Seniors stepped into the rôles of Alumnae. A cheer was given for the incoming Freshman class of 1940 by the Sophomores who also presented roses to their outgoing sister class, the Seniors.

Charlotte Haverly, the outgoing Senior class president, and Amy Schaeffer, the incoming Senior class president, addressed the gathering. Miss Haverly after saying a few words of farewell to the college as a whole had a special message for the Seniors' sister class, 1938. Miss Schaeffer directed her speech to the Class of 1936 declaring that the Seniors were the best friends of the Juniors.

Following the singing of the Sunset Song by the Seniors and Sans Souci by the entire assemblage, the college adjourned to the Gymnasium for the Senior Reception, open to friends and relatives of the Seniors and the college. selections.

Two piano and violin pieces were rendered by Vera Riecker, Ruth Tischler and Sonya Turitz. Edna Jones, garbed in a nondescript costume and with black Sailed Away. Excerpts from the Junior Show completed the evening's entertainment and included Going to Town, The Good Old Days and Two Gun Gal Irene Lacy, Adele Nansen, Mary Paul Segard, Margaret Simpson and Marjorie Simpson were the performers, assisted by Helen Hartman at the piano.

Refreshments were served after the entertainment on the North Terrace. acted as waitresses.

Graduates Form a Procession From Barnard Hall to Steps of Low Library

GIVEN DEGREES

'The Decline and Fall of Morals" Is the Topic of Dr. Butler's Address

215 Barnard Graduates received their degrees at the 182nd annual commencement exercises at Columbia University Tuesday evening. Over 20,000 spectators were in the audience that witnessed the ceremonies in which 4.432 degrees, 273 diplomas and certificates and 6 University medals were granted.

The ceremonies took place on the steps of the Low Library. The Barnard graduates formed a procession in front of Barnard Hall at 5 p.m. and marched to their places on the library steps beneath the statute of Alma Mater where the exercises began at 6 p.m. The program was opened by a group of musical selections by the Columbia band and was followed by a prayer offered by Chaplain Knox.

Dr. Butler then delivered the annual president's address which bore the title 'The Decline and Fall of Morals." Dr. Butler declared that "The one dominant question before the world today is whether these rights are to 'revive or to expire in a convulsion.' The answer to this question, when it comes, will be given not from economics or from what Friday evening, May 29, at 7:30 in front is vaguely described as social science or from law or from politics. It must come, if it comes at all, from morals."

> He declared that the fundamental difficulty in the world today is that "the tendency of material self-interest, of money-making and of the thirst for power is to dominate and to suppress the higher instincts of self-expression and for human service." He deplored the dictatorships which exist in the world today and declared that "morals can only exist in a world in which a man is free to do right as he sees it, as well as to gain strength to avoid that advantage and that evil which tempt him to do wrong." Dr. Butler denounced the "conscious and cynical disregard of pledges" by the governments of Italy and Japan as well as the fact that the Nazi dictatorship in Germany has "wholly deprived that great people (Continued on Page 3)

'36 Attends Chapel For Baccalaureate

The Barnard senior class joined the A varied program of entertainment was other university seniors last Sunday presented before refreshments were afternoon in the Baccalaureate service served. Frances Henderson and Marjorie which opened the 182nd commencement Ray in their page costumes from Junior exercises of the university. Attired in Show did a dual act of announcing the academic robes, the student procession marched into St. Paul's chapel led by Dr. Harry M. Ayres and Dr. Robert L.

> In the Baccalaureate sermon, the Rev. Dr. Raymond C. Knox warned the graduates to maintain freedom of thought and action against the "smashing blows of the cult of force." He cautioned them against permitting a state of affairs in this country analagous to that which existed in "certain conspicuous European countries" where this freedom had ceased to function. Some people, he said, might be attracted by the sheer might and efficacy of methods of force and be themselves tempted to use them.

Dr. Knox urged the students to base Members of the Undegraduate body a larger and more encompassing con-(Continued on Page 4)

Barnard Bulletin

Published semi-weekly throughout the College Year except during vacation and examination period by the Students at Barnard College, in the interests of the Undergraduate Association.

"Intered as second class matter October 19, 1928, at the Post Office at New York, N. Y., under the Act of March 3, 1879."

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1936 VOL XL.

> EDITOR-IN-CHIEF Marion Patterson 37 MANAGING EDITORS'

Helen Hartmann 37 Adele Hagland 37

EDITORIAL BOARD Francis Henderson 37 Je in McGleughlin '38 Edna Holtzman, 38 Ruth Inschol 38 Helen Raebeck '38

Amy Schaeffer '3" Kathryn Smul '38 Elizabeth Swinton 38 Jean Bullowa '38

Illen T. Smyth '39

Nancy Fraenkel '37

Adelaide Murphy '38

H. Daniels, Manager

Ruth Wurts

Alice Warne 38 Dorothy Preis '39

X10. 50

NEWS BOARD facquel ne Burasch, 30 Ruth Frankfurter 38 Bernic Bachrack 38 Edith R Cohen 38 Corneria Elliot 39 Elaine Glaston '38 Flora Ginsburg '39 Jane Harris '38 ABOUT TOWN EDITOR

Natable Flatow '37 ABOUT TOWN STAFF Shirl Rothenberg [38] Evelyn Lightenberg 38-

BUSINESS MANAGER Jessie K. Herkimer '37 BUSINESS ASSISTANTS

Lenore Schanhous 38 Pauline Auerbach '38 Clause Aynet 35 ADVERTISING MANACER Anne Baranofsky 38

ADVERTISING STAFF Julia Fisher 37 Marion Hellman '38

CIRCULATION STAFF Ruth Crucet

Pauline Auerbach Bernice Breitbart Dorothy Miesse

EDITORIAL

This being the last editorial in which we shall have the opportunity of addressing an undergraduate body which includes the class of 1936, we must follow that traditional practice of using this commencement editorial to express our farewell wishes to the Senior class.

Throughout the Senior Week activities '36 has expressed its gratitude to Barnard and has received in return congratulations upon graduation and advice as to future conduct. There is no further need for anyone to remind 1936 what Barnard has done for them during the past four years but we should like to remind the college what '36 has done for Barnard. No group of girls could remain in college for four years without leaving some reminder of their presence upon college life, without making improvements, without helping in the development of the college. But it seems to us that the class of 1936 has contributed more than their fair share of service to the school and for the most part it is service which will never be acknowledged or recorded elsewhere. Rather than have '36 depart from Barnard without hearing our words of gratitude we prefer to set down here a few of the items for which Barnard is indebted to the class of 1936.

Last year the Student Building Fund Drive was inaugurated. Although the entire undergraduate body cooperated in the drive the direction and leadership of certain members of the Senior class was largely responsible for the success of the campaign. Nearly $1,000 was raised and excellent publicity was derived from the finger printing campaign and other similar activities.

Upon the instigation of several members of '36 the Social Science Union was formed. It is our firm belief that this organization never received the consideration which it deserved as a stage in the gradual coördination of the various clubs at Barnard. The Social Science Union has already proven itself a valuable asset to campus life in its many-sided presentation of political thought.

Naturally enough our greatest interest lies in the improvements which the Seniors have made in Barnard's publications. Quarterly, although it is still not satisfactory to many members of the faculty and student body, developed from an exclusively literary magazine to one much more representative of the interests of the college. The change in tone and style, improvements in themselves, leoad the way to further improvements.

We need scarcely point out the progress which has been in made making Bulletin a more efficient and more professional newspaper. Under the very capable leadership of '36 Bulletin's capacity for reporting in an intelligent, interesting and accurate manner the events which occur in college was greatly increased. The Managing and Business Boards of 1937 inherited from '36 a smoothly running organization which it would be difficult to improve upon.

And so in behalf of the student body we wish to thank the class of 1936 for their unselfish activity in Barnard's interest from which we and future undergraduates will most certainly derive the benefits.

Senior Query

What do, you regret most about your career at Barnard?

I regret most of all that I didn't discover sooner that members of the fac-1 ulty were accessible human beings, con- To the Editor tact with whom could be of infinite Barnard Bulletin, value,—both social and mental—to me.

I regret being ineligible for two long years. It's a lonely life.

I regret that I didn't take more sci-persistent little rumor involved. -M. H.ence courses.

I have nothing to regret. —E. G.

I regret that fact that it's over. ∸K. H.

make A's out of B pluses.

I regret that I didn't study harder and

I wish I had learned what it was all years to learn how to study. -B. G.

I regret that I didn't learn how to play me in after life.

-E. W.Nothing.

I just can't think at this point. --S, Р.

I regret that I didn't transfer to business school after my sophomore year instead of waiting until after commence--F.B.ment.

I regret missing a great deal of valuable and delightful contact with professors through simple awe and shyness. It is a good plan to realize early that faculty members are humans and very splendid ones at that and to go out after must in no way be attributed to the acquaintance with them. They're very A.S.U. which seeks to build up rather willing to know you but they never take than tear down. the first steps. -E. G.

I should have taken gym more seriously so I wouldn't have had to worry about graduation until the very last -M. L. W.

I regret that I didn't major in English so I'd know the pleasure of taking the comprehensive. It's such a challenge!

six-year course. --D. E.

I only regret that I have but one life. -R, M.

I regret devoting so much time to study that I didn't get a chance to lead a satisfactory social life. −K. R.

I regret not going in for extracurricuar activities sooner. −B. H.

my first year and therefore incapacitated all previous admonitions. For indeed, myself for the rest of my career.

--М. Н.

-R.W.

I regret that I'm of absolutely no use as an independent self-sufficient human being, even after four years of learning. --B, T.

I regret that I never got round to a lost and found auction. Ditto that I never took archery. Ditto having had number t on library line and not using it.

I don't regret anything. I had a swell time and only wish it had lasted longer. I don't know what to do now.

I regret my own personality.

Forum

(This column is for the free expression of undergraduate thought. The opinions expressed are not necessarily those of Bulletin staff.)

Re: Barnard Fence Demolition

Dear Madam:

We all doubtless have still fresh in our minds the regrettable incident of the Barnard Fence Demolition by Columbia on the Warpath. I wish to spike one

The rumor is that the American Student Union is to blame. This is definitely not so. The vandalism took place on the night the A.S.U. conducted an orderly demonstration on South Field, the purpose of which was to indicate that student sentiment opposed Columbia's participation in the Nazi celebra tion at Heidelberg this summer. The demonstrators went in a body, after the mock burning of the books, to march about as a freshman instead of waiting before President Butler's home, expressuntil I was a senior . . . It took me four ing most vividly their dissatisfaction with his placid acceptance of Heidelberg's invitation, despite his promise some months previously to investigate volley-ball—it would be very useful to German breaches of academic freedom which were causing European universities to decline with thanks, before taking any steps.

While this was going on, rowdies whose cries of "Water!" and "sissy on John Jay," etc., had already rocked the campus while the South Field demonstrators were meeting, took up the fascinating slogan, "The Barnard Fence!" —and proceeded to mob our premises and create the gap which met our eyes the next morning. Obviously, this was a counter group, bored with the serious purpose of the A.S.U., and venting its 'collegiate'' spirit.

Such affairs are to be deplored—and

Sincerely yours,

Helen Levi.

To 1936

To the Ed. Barnard Bull,

Dear Modom:

wearing your tassels on the left side of yon bonny brows. Our heart thumps I resent the requirements they ask of within us as we contemplate the dire and major requirements that you only upon the lithe young figures of you should be taken advantage of. have time to take one or two real striplings, yea, saplings; we are poscourses. Also, they ought to make it a sessed with a burning desire (thershare with you unstintingly those principles which have guided us ever onward, ever onward.

You will say, "We need no further advice." But we answer, "You do, you do." Hist: for the advice which you have received heretofore has been tempered with experience, has been weighted with heavy ponderosities. But the advice which we are about to mete out is unadmixed, yea, and withal undiluted I regret that I overdid activities in we say, with those qualities which mark our approach is one of naivete; the essence is of 'the eternally fresh view point."

Moreover, we feel that it is fitting that we should take it upon ourselves to guide your footsteps, be they big or little, when you first venture forth into the cold, wet, and seemingly unfriendly world.

Hist - no. - Again hist - (refer to paragraph 2)! There is no doubt in our minds but that our advice is of the utmost import and should be foremost in the minds of all members of 1936 as you sally forth into the chill, moist, and apparently inimical world.

Advice: wear rubbers when it rains: Sincerely yours,

1937.

ABOUT TOWN

Cinema

The King Steps Out Radio City M. sic Ha

Grace Moore's latest starring vehicle, The King Out, is no epic, but a highly pleasant and en, oyable dealing in royalty, incognito and otherwise, some pi esque Austrian settings, some lyric Kreisler melodies, other of those salable commodities guaranteed to attrac average cinema fan.

The greatest disappointment of the film was the fact Miss Moore's voice was not given its fullest opportu both because of the type of song that Fritz K, isler w and because, oddly enough, the story was somewhat d nant. The thrilling quality of the star's singing, notice in the balcony scene in One Nght of Love was not dent in this newest opus, although the sweetness and t ness of Miss Moore's tones are still indisputable.

The greatest surprise of The King Steps ()ut was dence that Josef von Sternberg, well known to Mar Dietrich fans and the director of the Moore film, really a clever and facile touch. Mr. von Sternberg has been tent to let the story run a smooth, natural course, untain by extravagant Hollywood motifs and generally unpre tious. Cinema goers who watch for movie boners for Skolsky's column will find a fertile field here, checking on names and dates in the Austrian royal success (Franchot Tone plays a full-fledged Hapsburg), but Sternberg has wisely not attempted to be historically accur an attitude to be commended in this particular instance.

Grace Moore is a most satisfactory heroine as Cissy, light-hearted, unassuming little Bavarian princess. She veals a marked flair for the comic in addition to numer other attractive traits. Walter Connolly plays Max, her be loving parent, with a subtle sort of gusto. Franchot To the king who steps out, expounds the new idea of roya made fashionable by Edward VIII. He is not averse driving in open rigs, patronizing the local shooting galle and slugging an occasional miscreant among his devot and adoring subjects. The picture stealer, however, Herman Bing: his use of onomatopoeia becomes immor with this film. Frieda Inescourt, late of the Broadway leg imate stage, photographs beautifully in what we take is o of her first screen appearances.

Music

Wilderness Stone

Manhattan Theatre.

Because Stephen Vincent Benet wrote the words, an Professor Seth Bingham of Columbia wrote the music, t world premiere of Wilderness Stone, on May 24. prov to be an important event in both literary and music circle Then-too, the fact that it was another Federal Music Prop made it doubly important: once more we could see he worthwhile government "interference" in the arts rea

Benet's lines were dramatized by every possible arrane ment of vocal soli, orchestra, and narrator, even a combi It's three days now since you started tion of all three. Most of these proved highly effect although at times the narrator was drowned out by the ot parts. But it seems to me that the further development the use of the narrator is an important contribution to me us. They keep you so busy filling group grimness of the situation—as we gaze and literature. The musical quality of the speaking v

> Wilderness Stone, an episode from John Brown's Be is the story of Jack Ellyat, the New England solu mometer reads 97° under a parasol) to his adventures in the Civil War and his love for Me Vilas. Professor Bingham, for the most part, capture: fact intensifies the excitement of the episodes. At the though, he is not so successful. Part II, for instance, far too long and drawn out to stay interesting. Whe gave full swing to the Folk spirit, however, Professor P ham was highly successful. Several times, in fact, the ence burst into hearty applause, even before the end o entire section.

We were fortunate in having the New York Civic chestra with Hugh Ross conducting, and Tom Morgnarrator. The Grand Opera and Chamber Opera group sponded beautifully to Mr. Ross' excellent choral condu too. Alice Harper, the soprano, and Terry Horne, the were not sufficiently strong singers for the parts, and she fatigue after a very short time. Ivan Arbuckle, the was extremely sensitive to his part, however, and alth he had very few selections to sing, made a prefound it sion on the listeners.

In all, it was an enjoyable evening and a repetition performance will prove far from uninteresting.

Note

With the September opening of Romen and starring Norma Shearer, Leslie Howard, and John more, M-G-M plans a series of nationwide contests of college students. Large national prizes will be aware the best essays on subjects relating to the Shakespeare for declamations, acting, and original paintings and s. of subjects chosen from Romeo and Juliet or other peare works. Community prizes will also be aware least one of the main prizes may be a trip about the Mary, with a tour to Stratford-on-Avon included. W first fall issue of Bulletin for details.

As It Happens

By Miniam Roher, '36

n, classmates, shall we ever find, , new rivers. Quite so fair, Oh, dear thirty-six, our praises fail thirty ald be thine. We cannot say on that s day, how we have loved thee, this 1 It was sung to the tune of . enevieve, and the words, with per numerical insertion, were

On May 29, at rehearsal, everybody Jaugho cond was good and hot. Maygood, but certainly hot. From one-th - v until eight, everyone was preoccupic with mortarboards and tassels. The tassels would swing gently into the vision, and the mortarboards would It in unorthodox fashion over one es. The new members of Phi Beta Kappa .ad an additional worry. It was a quest on of adjusting one's key so that esty in the pinning of it so that it would seem to be entirely accidental that the Rocky Mountains." key stewed at all. This required an artistry possessed only by the few.

June Second

There was a tremendous traffic in Class Day and Commencement tickets. Aunt (sertrude, Mr. Jonesmith (father's nchest client), and Mother's second cousin once removed, were sure to be insulted by omission, while the graduate had already dedicated the extra ticket to a good-ooking young man who would show up to advantage in the eyes of her two hundred fourteen classmates.

The mail brought a gift from a Freshman Sister. Tears suddenly welled. The young ady remembered curt hellos and regretted them. She might at least have said "How are you," as well as "Hi!"

Barnard came first, in the academic process on, and so sat in the first several rows. In the sight of the recipients or honorary degrees, they slipped off steamin, shoes and felt themselves ennd by their elders. Several of the facults wore bright orange gowns. 'Oxforc' was passed along the rows, in audible giggles. Somebody else said Paris—he Sorbonne." Blind hysteria struck the graduates. One of the honored text wore his academic cap back-

Barn od rose and heard itself pronounce Bachelor of Arts. No one breathed. With trembling solemnity, tassels "ere moved to the graduated lett, from the un-graduated right.

programs, for the words. In the interims, the band, in full view of the new Bachelors, drank water in paper cups, from a private water cooler. The gradin have and, shyly, did not wave.

Ill the restaurants in the region of 116th Street were jammed. Academic gonns or tangled in waiter's legs, and soup testered above the heads of fat ladies. V. the guests developed headacrecand they talked too much.

Walk is back to college, the gradudischargest idly of committing suicide. I duqui reeze brought a vague scent or dead forvers. There did not seem to he anith: 2 to do.

June Third

On lune third, the Registrar passed out diplom is and the recipients signed tempte for 'One B.A. diploma, in good condition. There still did not seem to he anything to do.

Someboo. on a tennis court hummed Ck, music .: "Sweet Genevieve." "Oh, thing-six, car thirty-six, our praises ial that would be thine." Valody soughed.

Miss Wayman Says Barnard Students See America First

Ellen T. Smyth

How a college girl should spend her summer vacation depends on the girl herself, her circumstances (financial and otherwise), what she needs, what she wants to do, and her home conditions, according to a special interview with Professor Agnes R. Wayman, head of the Physical Education Department.

"I am a firm believer in seeing America first," declared Miss Wayman, emphatically, "especially from the scenic angle. So many of our parks-Glacier National, Yellowstone National, and parks nestled in the Canadian Rockies on through Alaska-furnish such marvelous scenery quite comparable to that seen/in Europe."

"One of the nicest summers I spent was at Glacier National Park, where for three weeks my companion and I did nothing but hike. We climbed people ould be sure to see it, and on Mount Ranier eleven thousand feet, the other hand, achieving a certain mod-then up toward Yukon, past Lake Louise, and back to the heart of the

> "Of course," mused the head of the Physical Education Department, "I realize that not every girl will be able to travel on such an extensive scale. Hence, for a more simple summer, I advise the western ranches of Montana and Utah where one finds a combination of plains and mountains."

> "As to the manner of spending that vacation," she continued, "rest and relaxation ought to be the primary motives. Do the opposite of what you have been doing all year and, in particular, put into practice the health rules and habits learned in college. In conclusion, I would warn students not to spend such an active summer that they return to classes feeling more in need of a rest than before the recess started."

215 Barnard Girls Receive Degrees

(Continued from Page 1) of their once powerful influences in the intellectual and economic life of the

Dr. Butler concluded his address with a quotation from Gibbon's "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" in which he declared that "The barbarian conquerors of Rome usurped in a moment the toil and trouble of successive ages." Commenting on this observation Dr. Butler declared, "These words describe, Tuenty thousand people sang "Stand with solemn and staggering complete-Columb a." Barnard showed off its ness, what would happen today were knowledge by refusing to refer to the the instrumentalities of despotism in the hands either of the mass or of the individual to destroy liberty and thereby make morals impossible.'

At the conclusion of Dr. Butler's ad takes good, but no one offered them dress, the Deans of the various colleges presented their candidates for degrees The aculty rose. Barnard's dean to him. Dean Gildersleeve presented the Thed a rogram at her girls. The girls Barnard graduates. Dr. Butler awarded brame delenly weak in the region of the scroll and the graduates stood up and the knee. Shyly, they thought of wav- changed the tassles on their caps to the other side.

The audience then rose and joined in the singing of "Stand Columbia" after which Dr. James Waterhouse Angell, Professor of Economics and university orator, presented to Dr. Butler six alumni who had been chosen to receive the university medals awarded annually for achievement after graduation, and the nine candidates for hondrary degrees.

The exercises closed with the singing of "America" by the audience and a benediction by Chaplain Knox.

FOR RENT

Beautiful Front Room Comfortably Furnished Private Bath and Kitchen Our Excellent Board Available

MRS. MARTIN 3100 B'way (At 123rd St.) Apt. 62

Received Awards

Eleanor M. Brinkmann '36 has been awarded the French Fellowship for the coming year by the French Department. The fellowship includes passage and three hundred and fifty dollars. Miss Brinkmann will sail for Paris on June 6th and will take a course at one of the universities there this summer. She will travel in France as much as possible and will stay abroad for some time.

presented and in March the Spring Bureau. Dance was given. This feature is the major, source of income for the annual fellowship.

mer by the Association.

Alice V. Morris '36 has been presented Representative Assembly meeting. by the German department with a sixvolume set of Goethe's works for her paper on Grillparzer, the early nineteenth century dramatist, and his rela-

This prize was donated by the Goethe Museum in Frankfurt and the Carl Schurz Memorial Foundation was able to offer this to the German Department excellence in German scholarship. The competition was open to members of all advanced German courses at Barnard.

Miss Morris' college education was interrupted by an interval of two years when her father was appointed United States ambassador to Belgium, necessitating her presence at Brussels. She was also among those students elected to Phi through an NSFA news release. The first, sponsored by the Summer Institute for Social Progress, Wellesley, Massachusetts, will award a scholarship covering board, room, tuition, and transporta-College News; Jonathan Bingham, edi- stamped envelope. tor of the Yale News; and John Adams, editor of the University of Buffalo Bee.

Announce Contests

During the evening forum series at the Institute predominating opinions as expressed by undergraduates will be presented in conjunction with opinions of

Ideal Book Shop, Inc. 1246 AMSTERDAM AVE. (Bet. 121 and 122 St.)

BUYS AND SELLS Second Hand Books All Subjects BROWSERS WELCOME

Notices

From Miss Doty's Office Miss Helen K. Stevens, one of the Assistants to the Dean, who is working in connection with the development of "Friends of Barnard" and who has had long experience in publicity and financial work, could probably use one or more apprentices in her office during the summer. Students or young alumnae who are seriously interested in this field will be given supervision and direction in return for their assistance. "There are This fellowship is given every year to plenty of position of this sort at the Senior major in French. The other top," states Miss Doty, "though it is hard candidates of '36 were Miss Maybelle to get the proper background and ex-Sherriff and Miss Elizabeth Tatarinoff. perience to arrive there." Anyone in-The money for the fund is raised in terested may get in touch with Miss various ways. Last fall two plays were Stevens or consult the Occupation

Bulletin Advisory Council

Since the Bulletin constitution pro-Maxine Rowland '37 of Little Rock, vides for an advisory council consisting Arkansas was one of the winners of a of five members of the undergraduates contest sponsored by the Students' In- Association appointed by Representative ternational Travel Association. Her Assembly, one of whom shall be the prize essay was entitled "The Youth Undergraduate President, this council Movement and Peace." Miss Rowland consisting of Jane Craighead, Elspeth will be given a trip to Europe this sum- Davies, Agnes Leckie, Betty MacIver, and Martha Reed was elected at the last

Eligibility Amendments

The amendments recently proposed by the Eligibility Committee have been tion to the historical background of his accepted by Representative Assembly. They are as follows:

- (1) Social Service Chairman shall be a Class B officer; average—2.4
- (2) Glee Club participants shall be Class D officers; average—2.0
- at Barnard to be used for some form of (3) Volley Ball Manager shall be a Class C officer; average—2.2
 - (4) Greek Games charioteers, heralds. priestesses, and challengers shall be Class D officers; average 2.0

business, labor, and the administration. Further details concerning the contest itself may be obtained from Robert North, Summer Institute for Social Progress, Wellesley, Massachusetts.

colleges and universities of the United their contributions to the committee. In Essay Writing States and Canada," and will award $300, $100, and two $50 prizes for a students have recently been announced uate of an accredited college or univerversity publications.

The editors of the Review or aption to the Institute which will hold its pointed judges will select the winners fourth economic conference July 4th to whose work will appear in the June 1937 18th on the campus of Wellesley, for issue of the North American Review. the best short answer to the question The contest will last until March 1, 1937. "What is the Most Vital Issue Before A complete list of terms and conditions the American Electorate?" written by a will be sent by request to the REVIEW, college undergraduate. The judges will 597 Madison Avenue if the request is be Mary Bartlett, editor of the Wellesley accompanied by a self - addressed,

> LUNCH-11:30 to 3

DINNER 5:30 to 10

"Where Barnard Students feel at Home"

Always fresh vegetables, finest quality meats, cakes, pies, rolls, puddings fresh-

NO COMPROMISE WITH QUALITY

at Gantley's 2907 Broadway, bet. 113th & 114th Sts

JANE MANNER

Speech-Drama

- · Pupils successful on stage, radio, and as teachers.
- · Acting groups. Individual instruction. Radio and stage appearances.
- · Alertness course accredited by Board of Education.
- Send for SPEECH LESSON, 28c, Circular B on request.

JANE MANNER DRAMA STUDIO STEINWAY HALL, 113 W. 57th ST., N. Y. C. Phone: CIrcle 7-1855

Building Fund Booklet Issued

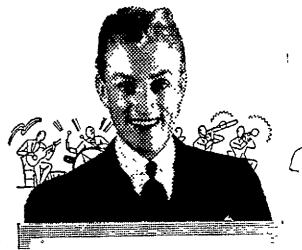

In a booklet entitled "A Message of Importance" and addressed "to every man and woman interested in New York as a cultural and educational center," the Fiftieth Anniversary Fund Committee of Barnard College, calls upon Barnard alumnae and their friends to contribute to the $4,000,000 which is needed to endow the new building.

The booklet contains pictures of activities and views of the college as well as a short resumé of Barnard's contribution to the community during the 47 years of its existence. However, the booklet declares, that the college has now reached a turning point in its career. The question is "Shall it improve and develop further its contribution to the education of American women?" The question has been answered in the affirmative by the trustees who have bought the property known as the Riverside Quadrangle, situated on Riverside Drive just south of the Riverside Church and west of the present buildings. This property, the booklet declares, "is ideal for the new academic building which the college so acutely needs and which will add so much to the beauty of New York. There has been no addition to the academic halls in more than twenty years, although the student body has increased about forty per cent."

The $4,000,000 which is called for is to be distributed as follows: $245,000 is needed immediately to complete the $500,000 purchase price of the Riverside land. In addition, $1,500,000 is needed for the erection and endowment of the academic building to house the reference libraries, language and psychological laboratories, and seminar rooms; $1,000,000 for scholarship endowment; $1,000,000 for general endowment for faculty salaries and improvement of instruction; $100,000 for visiting professorships, and $100,000 tor endowment for graduate fellowships.

In order to secure the necessary funds, the Fiftieth Anniversary Fund Commit-The North American Review is spon- tee, headed by Mrs. Alfred F. Hess, apsoring the second contest, "to encourage peals to all who are interested in advancand uncover youthful literary talent in ing the education of women to send in A recent issue of the Los Angeles Two writing contests open to college short story written by any undergrad-Collegian contained this clever but biased excerpt from a coed's paper on sity. The editors of the Review will leave Man: Men are what women marry. the choice of one manuscript each to They drink and smoke and swear, but the editorial boards of college and uni- don't go to church except when at school. They are more logical than women, also more zoological. Both men and women sprang from monkeys, but women sprang farthest.

ORVILLE KNAPP

AND HIS ORCHESTRA

Your favorite dance tunes in a new and distinctive style.

BEAUVEL and TOVA DR. SYDNEY ROSS DINNER-DANCING SUPPER-DANCING

Supper couvert after 10:30 P.M. $1.00 (Saturdays, $2.00)

THE EMPIRE ROOM

· OF THE Waldorf-Astoria

Park Avenue • 49th to 50th Sts. New York

List of Seniors Who Received Bachelor of Arts Degrees

Barnard students receiving the Bachelor of Arts degree are as follows:

> Estelle F. Adams Alice Ackerman Lucy Appleton Helen Atwood Svlvia C. Avnet Louise E. Ballhaussen With honors in physics Nina Baschuk Beatrice C. Bauer Ruth L. Bauer Mildred Beckerman Dorothea Berger

Jean S. Besselievre Helen L. Billyou Jean F. Blackwell Elizabeth F. Boese Miriam Borgenicht Dorothy R. Botwen Margaret Bowman Jane C. Bradish Adair M. Brasted Dorothy A. Brauneck

With honors in geology Jean G. Brettman Eleanor M. Brinkmann Anne Bruchal

Rose M. Bucciarelli Martha H. Bunting Barbara S. Burchsted

Thomasine Campbell Clare V. Canny Acabie Caraman Clara M. Carnelson Minnetta L. Chenault (Mrs.)

Naomi S. Cohn Dorothy F. Combs Margaret T. Conner

Helen F. Cook Alice Corneille Marie A. Courtney (Mrs.)

Joy Crutchfield Josephine D. Cunningham Lucille Dennenberg Margaret Davidson

Madeleine Davies Ruth W. Day Evelyn H. Deck Hannah J. Delevie

Elizabeth J. Detwiller Elizabeth Dew Carol Diamond

Helen E. Dinneny Marcy Dolgenas

Gertrude M. Donovan Grace Donovan Nancy Downes

Helen C. Dykema Dona V. Eaton Marjorie M. Eberhardt

Eileen Egan Jane D. Eisler Mary E. Elliott

Estelle Fischman Muriel Folks

Adrienne W. Foulke Carol Franz

Marjorie H. Friedman Carolyn D. Frost

Ann Furman Eleanor Galenson Leonore Glotzer

Stella Goldstein Elaine E. Goltz

Alida Glushak

Barbara J. Graham Marie E. Grant

Electra Guizot Phyllis C. Hadley Katharine M. Hand

THERESE AUB SECRETARIAL SCHOOL

Summer Courses Placement Service Students Admitted at Any Time 2770 BROADWAY, at 107 STREET Booklet on Request ACademy 2-0530

Tillie C. Harris Moritia-Leah Haupt Charlotte A. Haverly Jacqueline Haves Marie J. Healy Mary E. Henderson Nancy S. Hendrick Muriel J. Herzstein Helen S. D. Hill (Mrs.) Diana Hirsh Audrey M. Hodupp Marguerite Hoffman Henriette M. Holsten Margaret B. Hoover Suzanne A. L. Howe Margaret M. Hoyt Dorothy B. Hughes Anne M. Johnston Blanche Kazon Elizabeth C. Keller Helen W. Kemp Joan Kiesler Florence H. King Beatrice E. Klein Rhoda Klein Ethel T. Klinkenberg Hilda R. Knobloch Estelle M. Kowalski Gladys S. Kreeger Anne Labordere Helen M. Leutz Florence Leopold Hazel A. G. Levine Sylvia B. Levitt Regina L. Loewenstein Rita Eileen London Adra J. Lotz Nora Lourie Florence M. McElrath Patricia P. MacManus Catherine E. McNeil Margaret L. Maher Elizabeth Maier Virginia H. Malone Elizabeth Mandel

Janet A. Harris

Elaine R. Mandle Mary E. Manley Virginia G. May Mariorie Mayer Helen J. Mern Lenore Metzger Barbara Z. Meyer Alice V. Morris Kathleen E. Mulligan Kathleen G. Murphy with honors in government

Vivian H. Neale Florence M. Newham Helen R. Nicholl Mildred Nicoll Marie Olsen Marianne Nussbaum Ruth M. Olsen Alice C. Olson Eleanor Ortman With honors in government Madeline J. Pariser

Doris V. Pascal Carolyn A. Paterno Anne P. Pecheux Edna D. Peterson Barbara H. Pointer Frances E. Pond

Miami University, probably as a last resort, is going to try a new experiment in teaching foreign languages. Radio equipment is being installed in all student rooms so that the students can listen to short-wave broadcasts and thus improve their pronunciation.

> D. V. BAZINET, Inc. 1228 Amsterdam Ave.

Cotton Dresses - - - $1.95 up

Welcome to

DAGNER'S Beauty Salon

Teachers College • Columbia University

1236 AMSTERDAM AVE.

at 121st Street NEW YORK CITY — Telephones — Monument 2-9055 ◆ University 4-7000

WM. J. DAGNER HILDA DAGNER FRITZ DAGNER

We Are Members of Florists Telegraph Delivery FLOWERS BY WIRE TO ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD A. G. PAPADEM & CO.

FLORISTS 2953 BROADWAY Bot. 115th and 116th Streets Phone MOnument 2-2261, 2-2262

Ruth M. Portugal Carolin Prager Salls C. Preas Muriel S. Pulvermacher Anna V. Pustello Marion H. Raoul Llsa J. Reed Florence Ribakove Lucy E. Riddleberger Marion Robertson Rose L. Robertson Miriam Rober I dith Rosenberg Mary L. Ross Mariorie E. Runne With honors in Geology -

Jeanette L. Rubricius Joyce Ryan Theresa V. Sarubbi Fukami Sato Muriel Schumacher Eleanore F. Schwanda Shirley D. Sewards Sallie W. Sewell Mary I. Sherriff Sylvia Shimberg Dorothy M. Skene Ann L. Sonnentheil Eleanor Southern Eloise Southern Kathryn Speyer Joan F. H. Stagg Josephine Sturdivant Alice A. Sunderland Bernice Sutherland Harriet Taplinger Rita Teitelbaum Edythe Temkin Dorothea S. Thompson Elsie M. Tisch Irma I. Toth Alice L. Tracy Sonya Turitz Dorothy M. Upjohn Bettina V. Woude Eleanor J. Van Horne Elsie Vocasek Clementene B. Walker Alice C. Walz Claire Wander Marie J. Ward Dolores M. Warnecke Esther Wasmund Miriam Weil

Natalie Weissberger Laura Werner Marion W. White Jane Wilcox Jane Willets Beatrice D. Williams Josephine F. Williams Champe C. Winston Lillian Wise Ruth G. Wolin Marion L. Wright

Sylvia M. Zampieri

fever sufferers. Aaacachoo!

Sylvia Zubow

A course for hay-fever sufferers is being planned at Oklahoma A. & M. College this summer and will be open only to those applicants who are certified bay

WHAT NOW-COLLEGE GRADUATE

Make Secretarial Training the Our graduates, with their cultural background and our comprehensive business training, find that office positions are the stepping stones to responsible, lucrative posts in many fields.

Intensive Secretarial Training Our Secretarial Course is designed exclusively for college men and women. It requires just 2 months in the day session and can be completed during the summer. Foreign Language Stenography We recommend Foreign Language Stenography as a profession to students of French, Spanish, Italian, German, or

Write for full information

Interboro Institute RBOCKER

atilimes Square 152 West 42nd Street . New York Wisconsin 7-3835

NEW YORK LAW SCHOOL (ESTABLISHED 1891)

Co-educational

Three year course, leading to LL.B. degree Graduates entitled to take Bar Examination in N. Y.

Small classes, selective enrollment, "Dieight System" of Instruction Late afternoon and evening sessions Applicants must have completed two years' college scork

Address: REGISTRAR, N. Y. Law School

25 Broadway, N. Y. City

Talks at Class Day For Baccalaureate

. 1 -moned from Page 1) can depend no person more symbolic of ception of freedom upon the teachings its ideas than the Dean. Tribute to Mrs. Calin referre was also voiced by

175.55

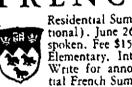

to a passing from one episode to an- cial control, then we must prove our. other, personal of tools and wealth selves fit for freedom by a king domi. which will bring great riches if we make mant in all activities a spirit of creative use of them." Flexibility of mind and good-will or love." spirit, a scholarly attitude, humerous triendships, and a store of knowledge. said Miss Corneille are the chief Barnard qualities which graduates take with lowing: George Welwood Murray Fel- W. Latham was one or the faculty lowship, Fukami Sato; Grace Potter marshals. Rice Fellowship, Marjorie Emily Runne: Student International Fellowship, Helen Roberta Nicholl.

Students graduating with Honors are: Louise Elizabeth Ballhaussen, Physics; Dorothy Adele Brauneck, Geology: Kathleen Grace Murphy, Government; Eleanor Ortman, Government; Mar-cluded: Alice Corneille, Jane Eisler. jone Emily Runne, Geology.

Recipients of Barnard prizes are; Kohn Mathematical Prize, Regina Loewenstein: Margaret Meyer Graduate Scholarship, Marguerite Hoffman; Tatlock Latin Prize, Clara Carnelson; Reed Prize in Early Church History, Elizabeth Dew; Frank Gilbert Bryson Memorial Prize, Helen Nicholl; Herrman Prize in Botany, Margaret Davidson: Helen Prince Memorial: Prize for excellence in dramatic composition, Ellen Frey; Grace Potter Rice; and the Gerard Medal for proficiency in American Colonial History, Mary Heeren.

FRENCH SUMMER Residential Summer School (co-educational). June 26-July 31. Only French spoken. Fee $150. Board and Tuition. Elementary, Intermediate, Advanced. tial French Summer School

McGill University, Montreal, Canada

WHERE TO BUY BOOKS NEW OR USED

STATIONERY

Loose-Leaf Supplies or Anything Réquired for Studies

THE COLLEGE BOOK STORE (A. G. Seiler) 1224 Amsterdam Avenue

(Whittier Hall)

Dean Gildersleeve '36 Attends Chapel

(Continued from 1 e 1)

"If on the one hand we is to be saved New Cosmetile in the Valedictory act from the evils of indifferent selfishness and greed," he said, "and the other Mrs. Corneille described graduation from the harmful effects of veessive so.

> Dr. Nicholas Murray Butler and other administrative officers occupied rear seats in the choir stells, Rev. Dr. Roelif H. Brooks, rector of St. Thomas's Episcopal Church conducted the serv. ice and the lesson was read by Dean Virginia C. Gildersleeve.:

The Barnard student marshals in-Elaine Goltz, Charlotte Haverly, Helen Holders of Fellowships are the fol- Nicoll, and Eleanor Van Horne, Minor

NEW YORK BOUND...

You are invited to stay at "New York's most exclusive residence for young women" and to greet the swimming pool before breakfast . . . to live happily in an atmosphere of refinement and inspiration at The Barbizon—the beautiful residence hotel for students and for business and professional young women. Swimming Pool...Gymnasium. « « « Every room has a Radio.

LEXINGTON AVENUE at 63rd St., N.T. AS LITTLE AS $11 PER WEEK, $2.50 PER DAT Write for Barbizon Booklet "C"

CAMMEYER

And also pretty appealing in blue, grey, copper and beige Note the square toe and square built-up leather heel. Note those slim looking lines . . . note the pleasing price! Sturdy bucko leather.

> A Collegebred Shoe "Your Footprint In Leather"

Mail Orders Expertly Filled

427 Fifth Avenue-New York, N.Y.