PRICE TEN CENTS

Cart To Be On Jake Next Week To Receive Books For Exchange

Book Exchange Committee Will Set Up Store For Next Term

J. L. NERT IS CHAIRMAN Exchange Headquarters To Be In Conference Room Next Fall

The Book Exchange Committee, which was recently set up by Student Council, under the chairmanship of Judith Lenert '38, has announced that there will be a cart on Jake during the latter part of next week and exams to receive any books that students want to offer for sale in the Book Exchange. Anyone wishing to send in books before that time can send them to Judith Lenert through Student Mail.

The Committee has requested that each book be accompanied by a card stating the name of the seller, title and author of the book, price when new, price paid by the seller, whether second, third, or fourth hand, and price the seller would like to obtain. The prices will be set not only by this criterion, but by comparison with other books according to condition and edition. Sellers will not be paid for their books until they have been disposed of.

Aim of Exchange

The Book Exchange has been planned by the Barnard Cooperative Book Exchange Committee to buy books from students at a better price than offered by most second hand book dealers, and to sell them to students at a lower price than they would ordinarily have to pay.

The store offers to students an opportunity to gain experience in the management of a cooperative organization, for it will be run by the students themselves. Anyone interested in management, publicity, finances, or the actual clerical work, is asked to get in touch with Miss Lenert.

Student Council feels that this plan for a cooperative book store is the most practicable than has yet been suggested by the students. If the student body cooperates, the Book Exchange Committee believes that the venture will be very successful, and should offer valuable experience and a considerable saving to the students.

Headquarters

The Exchange will have its headquarters in the Conference Room on the first floor of Barnard Hall. The store will be open each day for a few hours at the beginning of the Fall term, but as the demand for books decreases, it will be open only a few hours a week. Anyone may come in and look over the books and be obliged to buy.

Lenert, in discussing the essential of the Book Exchange, said she thinks it is a swell idea, and that it will perform a real service to the entire college, not only in saving money, but in experience with the operation of this type. I only hope that people will help by bringing in books they no longer need. They will only realize something on the books, but will be aiding the store to become firmly established and to grow.

Change In Room Rentals To Be Effective In '38

Change in dormitory room rentals will go into effect September, 1938. All rooms will be $300. Under the new plan, rooms will be chosen by lot in order of classes—incoming Seniors first. It will be possible for groups to room near each other without complications due to prices. Vacant rooms will be the least desirable, instead of the most desirable ones. Worthy students unable to pay the new price will be aided by residence grants.

French House Offers Summer Speech Course

To Speak Only French During Six Weeks In Residence

DR. VARNEY IS HEAD Applications To Be Made To Mme. Varney By June 15th

The French Section of Columbia University announces a course of study to be given in the French Residence during the summer. The course will last during the six weeks of the summer session, and all students who enter are expected to speak French exclusively during their period of residence. Instruction will be given at the house, and will count as three academic points, in addition to the three points which the student is expected to take in the French section of the Department of Romance Languages.

Social life, conversation, and meals during the period of the course will be under the personal direction of faculty members. All meals will be served at the University. All of the facilities of the University and the Summer Session will be at the disposal of the Residence students. Excursions in and around New York City, and other social activities are being planned. Only students who have some knowledge of French will be accepted.

Reservation for the French Language Section, accompanied by an advance fee of $25, which will be deducted from the total fee of $185, should be made through application to Dr. Jeanne Vidon Varney, Barnard College, Columbia University, New York City, on or before June 15. The advance fee will be forfeited if the reservation is cancelled after July 1.

Pamphlets with details of the French Residence may be obtained either at the office of the Summer Session at Columbia, or from Dr. Varney.

Gertrude Boyd, A.A. President, Asks Own Interview Questions

Gertrude Boyd, the new Athletic Association president, is the interviewer's delight, for she answers all the questions before they are asked. She was approached for a glimpse into her private life at the inopportune time of an A.A. meeting, but since there was about four minutes before the beginning of the meeting, she sat upon the sofa and began rattling off both questions and answers. As she analyzed herself, helpful members of A.A. board, sitting around the room, offered their versions as to what her answers should really be.

The first question that she put to herself was, "Why am I majoring in German?" She deliberated a minute, finally giving the ambiguous answer, "Because some of the courses are given every other year." She added, "I am taking trig next year so I can get cultured. All of my brothers and sisters took practical things at college, but I am going to get cultured."

She preceded quickly to the stock question of, "Can marriage be combined with a career?" Her opinion

MODEL U. S. CONGRESS

Convention To Take Place In Milwaukee From June 2nd - 5th

Two Barnard delegates will represent the college at the Fourth American Youth Congress to be held in Milwaukee from June 2 to June 5. Judith Lenert is being sent by SSU and Jean Libman by Representative Assembly. Ruth Frankfurter is chairman of the Barnard Chapter of the American Youth Congress.

The Milwaukee Congress, modeled on the Congress of the United States with Senate, House of Representatives, joint committees and organizational caucuses, has announced in the call its purpose "to give the nation's youth an opportunity to consider its mutual problems, and strengthen the cooperative efforts among organizations of youth and organization serving youth."

The agenda includes committee discussion and general consideration of such problems as peace, education, including curriculum, vocational guidance, student government, and the American Youth Act.

Organizations represented will embrace student groups, Church groups, peace societies, "Y's", settlement houses, farm, trade, athletic, and recreation, as well as interracial groups and unemployed organizations.

The chief project of the American Youth Congress which is the passage of the American Youth Act extending the scope of the National Youth Administration to include all young people between the ages of 16 and 25 in and out of school, is being pushed by many campuses throughout the country.

Seniors Are Urged To Pay Dues For Senior Week Before Exams

Becher And Rose Win Fellowships To Vienna

It has been announced that under the Austro-American Student Exchange of the Institute of International Education tuition fellowships have been awarded to Miss Cynthia A. Rose and Miss Hildegard D. Becher, of the present Senior class, for study in Vienna at the Academie für Musik und darstellende Kunst for the academic year 1937-38.

Other Seniors who have won foreign fellowships are Ruth Cruet, Arlene von Sternberg, Frances Bingham, Paula Thibault, and Marie Read Smith.

Health Results Are Tabulated

Physical Ed Statistics Show Improvement In 1937

The Physical Education Department has announced the results of the final medical and physical examinations of the Senior class compared with data obtained from the same examinations on entrance in the fall of 1933. The results of the Senior questionnaire have also been tabulated and interpreted.

From the angle of general health 69% of the class are graduating with a health grade of "A" or "A-" as compared with 40% on entrance. The figures indicate a general improvement in physical condition with striking gains registered in resistance to colds, (46% reporting increased resistance), improved blood count and improved skin. Weight statistics show that of the 74 students who were in the correct zone on entrance, 52 have remained correct, 5 have become overweight, and 17 have become underweight. Of the 101 underweight, 54 have gained but are still underweight, 14 have become correct, and 33 have lost additional weight. Of the 23 overweight, 14 have lost.

The Senior class has shown marked improvement in structure and strength, with well over half reporting gains in posture, arches, vital capacity, chest expansion, ninth rib expansion, and muscular strength.

The replies to the annual Senior Questionnaire on health point to the conclusion that practically all Seniors know what "good health conduct" is, 50% feel that they are in better condition, 92% admit that they could have profited from an advanced course in hygiene, and 84% said they would have taken such a course.

The knowledge in which the class feels that they are deficient has to do with sex problems, marriage relations, social hygiene, and even physiology and anatomy. A general feeling was expressed that personality, charm and the qualities which make an individual attractive are being neglected. Eye strain is the outstanding defect acquired in college, and posture is the most frequently remedied defect.

In reference to appreciations fostered by physical education program, 61% admitted increased appreciation as to social relationships, 52% as to broadened horizons, and 52% as to philosophy of living.

The Senior Week committee urges all Seniors to pay their dues before final examinations begin. This sum includes a $5 general fee, $3 for Senior Ball and $1.50 for Senior Picnic.

The picnic, which will take the place of the customary tea dance, is to be held at Barnard Camp on Memorial Day, May 30. Only members of the class of '37 may attend. Those who drive up in private cars will pay a small fee instead of the $1.50 for those going by bus.

Senior Ball will be held on May 29 in the candle-lit gym decorated with dogwood and bulldogs, the class flower and mascot. Japanese lanterns will light the campus and the jungle.

Step Singing

All the classes except the Seniors will hold luncheons on May 28. At dusk, the undergraduates, in white dresses, will gather at Milbank Quadrangle for the traditional step-singing. Step-singing practice is now being conducted by the class song leaders. After the singing, the Seniors will hold a reception for undergraduates, friends and relatives on the north terrace and in the gym.

On Sunday, May 30, following the Baccalaureate Service in the chapel, there will be a tea in the dorms.

Tuesday, June 1, is Class Day. Services will be conducted in the gym. The Seniors will then parade in academic procession to the Columbia commencement exercises.

On Alumnae Day, June 2, the Trustee Supper will be given in honor of the graduates. Invited undergraduates will be waitresses.

Ivy Ceremony

At the Ivy Ceremony on Thursday, June 3, a sprig of ivy will be planted on the campus. Marion Patterson, last year's Bulletin editor will preside.

After the ceremony, the final event of Senior Week, the Banquet, will take place. A skit will be presented by the Sophomore waitresses. Ruth Gould, Senior historian, will read the class history. Then, the class roll will be taken, to which the possible answers are: single, engaged or married. To those who answer either married or engaged, the banquet chairman will bestow small gifts which might be useful in their future life.

Those in charge of the Senior Week events are: Reception, Eleanor Martin; Ball, Adele Hanson; Baccalaureate Tea, Margaret Ritchie; Picnic, Marion Patterson; Class Day Service, Helen Hartmann; Ivy Ceremony, Marion Patterson; and Banquet, Margery Ray. Adele Hagland is chairman of Senior Week and Jane Craighead is business manager.

Prof. Parkhurst Exhibits Slides

A series of slides on Egypt and Greece were exhibited before the Aesthetics Club by Professor Helen H. Parkhurst on Tuesday, May 4. Her lecture was accompanied with her discussion of the architecture and art of the temples and ruins shown in the slides. Professor Parkhurst recounted her own experiences in visiting these places.

The first part of the lecture emphasized the keynote of Egyptian art which is the impression of time and space illustrated in the pyramids, the Sphinx, and the huge columns of the Temple of Rameses II. Professor Parkhurst pointed out to what extent the brilliant blueness of the sky and the intense brightness of the stars and moon enhance the splendor of these monuments.

The contrast between Greek and Egyptian art was brought out by a group of slides showing Greek temples and building exteriors noted for their delicacy and detail. The lecture was concluded with a series of slides of Roman and Basilican buildings taken from various parts of Europe and Asia Minor.

Music, Dance and Glee Clubs Give Joint Recital to Aid Fund

A joint recital of the Dance Group, the Glee Club and the Music Club for the benefit of the Building Fund took place last night at McMillin Theatre. The program consisted of numbers in which the members of the clubs participated jointly and selections which were presented separately by the three groups.

The program opened at 8:00 o'clock with the Greeting by the combined groups. The music for the number was composed by Ruth Abbott. This was followed by a group of songs sung by Cynthia Rose which included "Bel Pracere" by Handel, "Spirate Pur" by Donandy, "Wie Molodien" by Brahms, and "Vergebliches Standehen" by Brahms. She was accompanied by Myra Serating, Elizabeth Halpern and Helen Lange then presented an original dance composition, Sentimentality, to music by Prokofieff. The Glee Club sang four Madrigals by Ruth Abbott and the "Trio in E - Opus No. II" by Beethoven, played by Vera Riecker, violin; Dorothy Coy, cello; and Suzanne Heimann, piano, concluded the first half of the program.

The second part of the program opened with "Ballet d'Action" by the Dance Group. After this Myra Serating played Beethoven's "Country Dances" on the piano. Elizabeth Halpern then danced a number of her own composition, Archaic, followed by Exhibitionism, conceived and danced by Jean Goldstein and Helen Lange. The Glee Club sang four madrigals and the program closed with the Bach "Chorale" presented by the combined groups.

Gertrude Lehrer was the Dance Chairman and Miss Marion Streng of the Physical Education Department was the instructor of the group which included twelve Barnard students. Undergraduates in the Orchestra included, four violinists and two cellists. Ruth Abbott was chairman of the Glee Club, twenty five members of which took part in the concert. Myra Serating, president of the Music Club had charge of the musical arrangements.

The Dance Group, the Music Club and the Glee Club, although interested in essentially related fields have never before had the opportunity to combine their talents in a program open to the college at large. This is the first time that a program of this kind has been attempted.
