

BARNARD ALUMNAE

JUNE 15
1943

Newly Elected Officers and Committee Members of
ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE OF BARNARD COLLEGE
1943-44

President	LILY MURRAY JONES '05
First Vice President	GRACE REINING UPDEGROVE '30
Second Vice President	JANE CRAIGHEAD SANER '37
Secretary	FLORRIE HOLZWASSER '11
Treasurer	EDITH HALFPENNY '13

Directors

RENEE JEANNE FULTON '26	ANNA E. H. MEYER '98
ELIZABETH HUGHES GOSSETT '29	FLORENCE CHEESMAN REMER '03
DOROTHY MALONEY JOHNSON '23	LILLIAN SCHOEDLER '11
PAGE JOHNSTON KARLING '37	MARION TRAVIS '20
MARJORIE JACOBI McANENY '99	MARIAN CHURCHILL WHITE '29
	HELEN YARD '25

		Term of Office
Alumnae Council	MARIETTA GLESS BARKHORN '13	1943-46
	EVA HUTCHISON DIRKES '22	1943-46
	MARY STUART PULLMAN '00	1943-46
By-Laws and Legislation	FRANCES MARLATT '21	1943-46
	CATHERINE McPOLAN '39	1943-46
Finance Committee	ANNETTE DECKER '27	1943-44
Reunion Committee	HILDA JOSEPHTHAL HELLMAN '01	1943-45
	JAY PFIFFERLING HARRIS '39	1943-45
	KATHERINE SHEA CONDON '23	1943-45
	HELEN CAHALANE McGOLDRICK '34	1943-45
Student Loan Committee	JEAN MACALISTER '29	1943-47
	DR. ANNA VON SHOLLY	1943-47
	MAUDE MINAHAN '17	1943-47
	EVERITA EDES '28	1943-47
Nominating Committee	BESSIE BURGEMEISTER '27	1943-45
	ISABELLE MORRISON SEVENS	1943-45
	OLGA BENDIX '33	1943-45
	VORA JAQUES '10	1943-45

The Nominating Committee announces the election of DOROTHY BROCKWAY OSBORNE '19 for a term of four years as Alumnae Trustee.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Published five times during the college year: October 15, December 1, February 15, April 15, June 15, by the ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE OF BARNARD COLLEGE, New York City, N. Y. All copy should be in the Alumnae Office, 476 Riverside Drive, New York City, three weeks before the date of publication.

Deadline for October 15 issue—September 21

Volume XXXII JUNE 15, 1943 Number 5

CONTENTS

ROLL OF HONOR	2
COLLEGE
War Minors	3
Acceleration	4
Faculty	5
On Campus by Beverly Vernon '44	6
Dean Gildersleeve's Class Day Address	8
ALUMNAE
Farewell Dinner to Retiring Professors by Julia Treacy Wintjen	9
Reunion—1943 Victory Style
Our First Reunion by Helen Kandel '42	10
1903 by May H. Morse	11
'08 Celebrates 35th by Mildred Kerner	11
'13 is Thirty by Joan Sperling Lewinson	11
'18 Holds 25th Reunion by Edith B. Benedict	12
'23 Meets for 20th by Ruth L. Israel	12
10th for '33 by Olga Bendix	13
'38 Holds 5th by Betty Pratt	13
The Barnard Clubs	14
In Memoriam
George Welwood Murray	15
Class Notes	15

ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE OF BARNARD COLLEGE

- LILY MURRAY JONES '05
President
- GRACE REINING UPDEGROVE '30
First Vice-President
- JANE CRAIGHEAD SANER '37
Second Vice-President
- FLORRIE HOLZWASSER '11
Secretary
- EDITH HALFPENNY '13
Treasurer

DIRECTORS

- Renee Jeanne Fulton '26
- Elizabeth Hughes Gossett '29
- Dorothy Maloney Johnson '23
- Page Johnston Karling '37
- Marjorie Jacobi McAneny '99
- Anna E. H. Meyer '98
- Florence Cheesman Remer '03
- Lillian Schoedler '11
- Marion Travis '20
- Marian Churchill White '29
- Helen Yard '25
- Catherine Baldwin Woodbridge '27
Chairman of Alumnae Fund
- Marietta Gless Barkhorn '13
Chairman of Alumnae Council
- Priscilla Lockwood Loomis '13
Alumnae Trustee
- Dorothy Brockway Osborne '19
Alumnae Trustee

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Amelia Leavitt Hill '05
Barnard College
Alumnae Office
Columbia University
New York 27, N. Y.

MARJORIE TURNER CALLAHAN '26, Editor-in-Chief
DOROTHY PUTNEY '25, Business Manager

- | | |
|---|---|
| Editorial Board <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Helen Stevenson Austin '34 Helen Downes '14 Marie Bernholz Flynn '18 Fannie Perkinson MacRobert '34 Betty Pratt '38 Ensign Georgiana Remer '35 USNR(W) Lieutenant Elizabeth Reynard '22 USNR(W) Mary Roohan Reilly '37 Amy Schaeffer '37 Grace Reining Updegrove '30 Marian Churchill White '29 | Advisory Board <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Beulah Amidon '15 Emma Bugbee '09 Mary Carson Cookman '26 Helen Erskine '04 Freda Kirchwey '15 Amy Loveman '01 Helen Rogers Reid '03 Dorothy Graffe Van Doren '18 |
|---|---|

Dorothy Maloney Johnson '23, ex-officio
Doris Williams Cole '41, ex-officio

HONOR ROLL

BARNARD COLLEGE

Below is a complete list of Barnard alumnae in the armed services as we have it to date. Any additional information will be gratefully received by the Alumnae Office.

WAACs

BENNETT, JOAN ex '38
BORGENICHT, RUTH ex '39
BRUNS, ADELAIDE '32
CULLEN, WINIFRED '29
DONOVAN, MARY GERTRUDE '35
DYER, CHARLOTTE LEAVITT '31
ETTINGER, MAHALA ex '33
HOGAN, MARIE-GERMAINE '42
LOEZERE, ANTOINETTE '41

MACDONALD, JEAN '42—Third officer
MALLORY, DOROTHY '28
NORRIS, GRACE '37
SCHARF, DOROTHY '41—Lieutenant, stationed at Fort Devons, Mass.
SCHARF, MARGARET '36
SMITH, DOROTHY ALBERTA '39—Lieutenant
SUPPES, ROBINETTE '38

SPARs

MURRAY, MAY LILLIAN '29—Ensign. Instructor at Naval training school at Hunter College.

WAVEs

AMELIA, ABELE '30—Ensign
ALLAN, MARION '37—Ensign
ALLAN, VIRGINIA '39—Ensign
ALLINSON, REBECCA '42—Ensign
ANDERSON, ELIZABETH WINIFRED '41—Ensign
ARATA, MAE D. ex '35—Ensign
BECKER, MARGARET F. '37—Ensign
BLACK, CLAIRECE '39—Ensign
CANNON, EDITH '42—Ensign, assigned to
Chief of Naval Operations in Washington
CUNNINGHAM, JOSEPHINE '36—Ensign
CROSSMAN, JEANETTE K. '43
DARBY, ELEANOR KAPP '25—Midshipman
DERMODY, SARA E. '35
DINSMOOR, FRANCES '40—Ensign
DOCHTERMAN, ELSIE F. '19
FINCH, BERYL '29—Ensign
GREENFIELD, ETHEL '32
HARRIS, MRS. HELEN RUDD OWEN '41—Ensign
HEAGEY, FRANCES '40—Ensign
HUSSON, MARY ELIZABETH '40—Ensign
JACKSON, ELIZABETH '39—Ensign
JONES, HARRIET ex '37—Ensign
KELLY, PHYLLIS WIEGARD '41—Ensign
KRBECEK, AMY '40—Midshipman
LYONS, IRENE '41—Ensign
MAY, HELEN S. '36—Ensign
MCKENZIE, ELSPETH '37—Ensign

MULLER, MINNA RUTH '35—Petty Officer, medical technician
MYER, ELIZABETH '35—Ensign assigned to
Naval Reserve Midshipmen's School, South
Hadley.
O'CONNELL, MARY ELLEN ex '43
ORENS, CELENTHA '38
POLLARD, LUCY '42—Ensign
PINE, MARY '16—Lieutenant (j.g.)
PROCHASKA, DORIS '41—Midshipman
PROCTOR, DOROTHY '41—Ensign
QUINN, DOROTHY '26—Ensign
REMER, GEORGIANA '35—Ensign
REYNARD, ELIZABETH '22—Lieutenant. Second in command
RUBINOW, MARGUERITE S. '29
RUSSELL HELEN ex '43
SANDLER, DOROTHY '38
SAWYER, JEAN '41—Ensign
SELLE, ROSAMUND DERMODY '26—Lieutenant
(j.g.)
SIRMAN, MARY '41—Ensign, assigned to Chief
Naval Operations, Washington
SMITH, KATHLEEN EMOTT ex '32
SPIERS, ANN ex '35
WETTERER, EDNA '22—Lieutenant (j.g.)
ZOLLARS, EDNA ex '28—Midshipman

BARNARD COLLEGE

ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

COLLEGE

IN line with Dean Gildersleeve's war time policy of keeping alive the liberal arts and the cultural heritage of the past, and at the same time revising the program of the college to train students both for wartime usefulness, and to take their parts as citizens in the new world to come, Barnard continues to revise and rearrange the curriculum.

War Minors

THE demands for women with a general college training are increasing in proportion to the absorption of men into the armed services. Persons trained in mathematics, physics, chemistry and economics (with emphasis on statistics) are most urgently needed. The demand for persons even partially trained in certain fields is so great that Barnard's committee on national service, with the consent of the committee on instruction, is emphasizing its War Minors program.

A War Minor is a grouping of courses totalling 12 points or more that train in subjects or techniques for which there is a special demand in war time; mechanical drafting, topographical drafting, statistics, statistical charting and drafting, engineering aide, day nursery supervision, supervisory work in industry leading to personnel work, public administration, recreational leadership are all War Minor possibilities. Barnard students who do not have a War Major are expected to prepare themselves for effective participation by registering for a War Minor.

Nursing Training and Extra-Curricular Training

There is a very great need for nurses. Barnard has a special two year course for freshmen and sophomores which, followed by three years of training at Presbyterian Hospital, constitutes a combined course leading to a B.S. degree. Special training in essential fields is provided by the Engineering, Science, Management War training courses which are being offered free at Columbia under the sponsorship of the United States Office of Education, and to which Barnard seniors and graduates are eligible. Emergency skills courses are also being given at Barnard under the direction of the National Service Committee; such courses include recreational leadership, nutrition, home nursing, home repairs, motor mechanics, etc.

Interdepartmental Majors

Cooperation between several different departments has been developing further at Barnard in producing interdepartmental majors as well as interdepartmental courses. The interdepartmental major entitled International Studies has attracted considerable interest. It is designed to prepare students for government work connected with winning the war and for participation in post-war relief and reconstruction. Besides a good deal of basic work in language and social sciences, the student is required to concentrate on some one country or region of the world.

American Studies has also become an interdepartmental major, and another new one has been set up, entitled Program for Hospital Laboratory Workers.

Welfare and Personnel Work

Realizing that the war is creating a demand for thousands of welfare workers, and that the graduate schools of social work are unable to supply the demand, members of the psychology and sociology departments have arranged a program of studies in this field. It is recommended that students interested in this field should major in economics, government, psychology or sociology and devote at least one summer to field work.

Philosophical Studies

In line with post war planning, Professor Parkhurst of the philosophy department is offering a course in Philosophical Studies—Schemes for a Better World. The individual reading and reflection and group discussions in this course are intended to lead to a reasoned conception of the kind of ordering of the world that would seem to promise the maximum of universal good.

The reading list for this course might be good summer reading for many alumnae who are seriously concerned with the problems of the post war world. Write to Prof. Parkhurst if interested.

Acceleration

Summer Session Again

COGNIZANT of the spirit of the times, Barnard is continuing its section of the Columbia University Summer Session in order that the undergraduates who wish to prepare more quickly for national service may accelerate their college course by concentrated summer work.

The Summer Session will extend from June 14 to September 3. By taking two of the intensive courses offered, a student can obtain almost as much credit as in a half-term of the normal academic year.

The subjects offered are planned to meet the educational needs of wartime America. In the field of mathematics and the natural sciences so vitally important for winning the war, three mathematics courses are offered; beginning courses in chemistry, physics and zoology; qualitative and quantitative analysis, meteorology, and geologic and geographic development of South America, photography, radio and electronics.

The social sciences are important not only for winning the war but also for winning the peace. In this field a course in government entitled Democracy and Dictatorship given by Professor Thomas Peardon provides a study of comparative government and an introduction to contemporary politics in certain foreign countries.

In economics, an elementary course gives an analysis of the economic forces in war and peace, (by Dr. Donald B. Marsh), and more advanced ones deal with public finance and fiscal policy and inter-American economic relations.

An interesting new type of course in sociology is provided by the Workshop in Urban Social Problems given by Dr. Mirra Komarovsky. This offers lectures, field work and trips, using New York as a laboratory.

There are courses in modern European history given by Dr. Charlotte T. Muret and Mrs. Ursula S. Lamb; and in the history of the American nation from colonies to world power given by Professor Virginia D. Harrington and Mr. Chilton Williamson. Psychology offers an elementary course and also one in social psychology by Dr. Gelolo McHugh, and Dr. Tom Gaylord Andrews. A course in anthropology given by Professor Gladys A. Reichard and Dr. Marian W. Smith gives an introduction to comparative anthropology, dealing with problems of race and the growth of civilization.

The philosophy course entitled Great Philosophers of the Western World provides studies in the history of ideas, stressing the more important conceptions of the nature of man and the good life from the days of ancient Greece to modern times. Professors William P. Montague and Helen H. Parkhurst will give this course.

Foreign language study is offered in French, German and Spanish. Other languages may be found in the Columbia University courses. The music department offers several courses. In English there is a Shakespeare course by Mr. Peter M. Jack, and a composition course called Writing and Speaking for Government and Other Services by Professor Ethel G. Sturtevant and Miss Frances K. Marlatt.

Students in the Barnard section may elect other suitable courses from the wide offering of the regular Columbia University Summer Session. Dr.

Lorna F. McGuire of Barnard's English department and Freshman Adviser will again be the executive officer of the Barnard College section of Summer Session. (See page 6.)

Faculty

Promotions

DEAN GILDERSLEEVE has announced several promotions in the faculty. Dr. Hugh Wiley Puckett, now associate professor of German will be professor of German and executive officer of the department on the retirement of Professor Wilhelm A. Braun.

There are three promotions to the grade of assistant professor; that of Mrs. Amelia A. de del Rio in Spanish, Dr. Helen R. Downes in chemistry, and Miss Margaret Holland in physical education.

New Visiting Professor

Professor Helen C. White of the University of Wisconsin will come to Barnard as visiting professor of English for the winter session of the next academic year. She will give a course in Shakespeare, one in seventeenth century literature, and a section of the special reading course for English majors.

Professor White is a distinguished scholar. A graduate of Radcliffe College and a Ph.D. of the University of Wisconsin, she has held a Guggenheim Fellowship and a Research Fellowship in the Huntington Library in California. She is the author of The Mystic of William Blake, English Devotional Literature, A Watch in the Night, Not Built with Hands, The Metaphysical Poets, To the End of the World.

Professor White is at present president of the American Association of University Women.

Professor Ethel Thornbury Ends Three Year Visit

Barnard will greatly miss Professor Ethel Thornbury of the English Department who is leaving after a three-year visit. During her stay as visiting professor on leave from the University of Wisconsin her courses and her personality have become a well-known part of the college.

Absent on Leave

Professor Clare Howard of the English department spent her sabbatical leave of absence from Barnard working for the Civilian Defense Volunteer Office as training chairman for the Block

Service organization of the East Side Defense Council, 165 East 72 Street, New York City.

New Appointments

John A. Moore, Ph.D. of Charlestown, West Virginia, has been appointed assistant professor of zoology. Dr. Moore took his A.B. at Columbia in 1936, his A.M. in 1939 and his Ph.D. in 1940. He won the Newberry Prize in zoology at Columbia in 1938 and comes to Barnard from Queens College.

Marion H. Armbruster, Ph.D. of Folsomdale, N. Y., has been appointed instructor in chemistry. Dr. Armbruster received her A.B. at Mount Holyoke in 1930, her A.M. at Bryn Mawr in 1932, and her Ph.D. in 1934. She held the Huff Memorial Fellowship at Bryn Mawr in 1933-1934.

Helen Searls, A.M. who has been appointed lecturer in Greek and Latin, is already known to several generations of Barnard students since she has been assistant to Miss Abbott in the residence halls since 1940, and in charge there this year during Miss Abbott's leave of absence. Miss Searls received her A.B. and A.M. degrees at the University of Washington, and is working for her Ph.D. in the department of Greek and Latin at Columbia.

A new lecturer in the Spanish department is Mrs. Margarita U. Da Cal, A.M. Mrs. Da Cal had almost completed her law studies at the Universidad Central in Madrid when they were interrupted by the Spanish War. In 1939-40, she held the Kimball Fellowship, awarded to a woman from Spain or one of the Spanish-American countries for graduate study, and received her A.M. from Columbia in 1942. Mrs. Da Cal has taught at Vassar and Hunter colleges.

Mr. Lawrence H. Chamberlin, instructor of Public Law at Columbia, will give a course in government at Barnard next year.

And Matrimony

Gena Tenney '33 of the music department, was married to Philip Henry Phenix on June 14 in St. Paul's Chapel at Columbia. Mr. Phenix is a Phi Beta Kappa from Princeton University, and a recent graduate of Union Theological Seminary. At present he is an aviation cadet. The Phenix's will spend the summer at Grand Rapids but we are happy to say that Mrs. Phenix plans to return to Barnard in the fall while her husband is in the service.

IS YOUR BRAIN TRAINED?

Have you read GREAT BOOKS?

Compiled by HELEN HUSS PARKHURST, Ph.D.
Philosophy Department,
Barnard College, N. Y.

ON SALE

at

MISS ERSKINE'S OFFICE

(Office of Public Relations)

Barnard College 25 cents

A MUST for all Barnard Graduates!

ON CAMPUS

By Beverly Vernon '44

Beverly will be a senior next year at Barnard. She was president of the Political Association 1942-43, and will attend Institute of World Affairs in Connecticut during July (under Sir Norman Angell). She is Barnard correspondent to the New York Herald-Tribune.

WELL, spring has come and gone from the campus at Broadway and 116 Street, and with it the poignant memory of budding crocuses in the jungle, sunbaths in "some secluded rendezvous" (the lower roof on Barnard Hall), chubby faculty children scampering over the newly-grown lawns, the charming walk beneath green boughs between Brooks and Barnard, and band concerts in the hazy twilight. . . . Of course, we've tried to forget that enervating spring fever, brief epidemics of light colds and measles, not to mention term papers and exams, which are now a thing of the past.

Never An Idle Moment

For all Barnard now looks to the summer. Of course, undergraduates don't expect to get such interesting work as Pat Langwell, February '43, who is teaching the "science of the air" to pre-flight Naval cadets at Wesleyan! While most seniors are snapped up immediately by government, industry or the armed services, the rest of us will be either accelerating our programs, or doing temporary work that will fit us for national service when we graduate. Wartime offers a galaxy of opportunities in Washington, camps, laboratories, settlements, hospitals, work camps, C.D.V.O., Red Cross and hospitals. Above all, no Barnard student will be idle during the coming summer.

Acceleration

THE most interesting news of all appears to be this year's summer school. While only 118 students attended last year, advance figures indicate that 400 will register this June 14. Besides about 170 of Barnard's own undergraduates, exclusive of new freshmen, there will be students from at least thirty-five other colleges and universities. The largest single groups of about 25 each come from Vassar, Smith and Mount Holyoke. Bryn Mawr follows next in size, while other institutions are widely distributed, including the state universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Arizona.

The popularity of our summer school is probably due to its length of twelve weeks, in which a student may take up to 15 points of work, or the equivalent of a half semester. Of course, it would be incorrect (as well as undiplomatic) to minimize the many attributes that Barnard traditionally offers to students, especially those who are preparing for national service.

Despite the emphasis laid on the need for mathematicians and scientists, however, the preliminary figures of elections show that government, especially the course in Democracy and Dictatorship, anthropology, psychology and economics are the most popular. Chemistry is the favorite science, and Spanish the favorite language. Shakespeare, history, philosophy and meteorology follow. On the whole, according to a release from the Dean's office, "liberal education seems to be holding its own."

For the first time in the history of the college, there will be skeleton student organizations during the summer. Although most of the extra-curricular activity will be handled through the social affairs office, a committee of three students from the sophomore, junior and senior classes has already been appointed by Student Council and approved by the faculty committee on student affairs to act as a liaison between the students and the administration, if needed. A five-man honor board, a social committee in the dorms, and probably a framework of the athletic association will all cooperate in helping to round out the recreational life of Barnard's summer school.

Keeping Up the Morale of the Armed Forces

IT MAY be hoped that our warm-weather colleagues will enjoy one phase of "national service on the home front" as much as we have: keeping up the morale of the armed services—notably, those 2,500 midshipmen. Of course, all of the Barnard-U.S.N.R. communications haven't been quite so informal as those of a typical Sunday evening, when the middies swing back from Riverside Church to the lusty strains of Oh, You Beautiful Doll beneath the appreciative windows of Brooks and Hewitt. . . . More conventional channels for getting acquainted have been provided by coffee dances, in addition to such special occasions as the enthusiastically-received performance of Haydn's Creation on April 15, when the midshipman's choir joined the Columbia and Barnard glee clubs in the Barnard gymnasium.

Seven-College Conference

APRIL saw Barnard playing host to the Seven-College Conference, at which time it exchanged views with students from Radcliffe, Wellesley, Smith, Mt. Holyoke, Vassar and the Connecticut College for Women on undergraduate life in wartime. Most of our delegates concluded the weekend with a feeling of deep appreciation for Barnard's advanced organization and progress in the fields of national service and the limitation of unessential extra-curricula.

Spring Semester Drive

HOPE SIMON, '45, announced that the spring semester's drive for United China War Relief had succeeded in passing its goal of $1,000. A large part of this sum was contributed from the proceeds of spring dance, which was informal and flowerless for the first time in many years, according to Student Council's wartime policy of economy. An excellent performance of The Old Maid by members of Wigs and Cues also benefited the drive.

On the More Serious Side

JUST as constructive contributions to the war effort have been carried on simultaneously, with Denise Donegan, '43, ceding her post of undergraduate national service chairman to Peggy Hine, '44. A new booklet called It's Your War

Too! lists carefully compiled war majors and minors, in addition to extra-curricular national service activities: campus protection, volunteer war service, war activities, student guidance and emergency skills. Girls studying recreational leadership enjoyed a novel experience last month when they held a party for twenty orphans from the Stewart House. The afternoon featured arts and crafts, folk dancing, charades, music and refreshment. A trip to the zoo several weeks later was reported to have delighted the student guides as much as their charges.

"I'm An Alumna"

AND SO the term came to a close, with most of the girls surviving exam-crams despite the abolition of traditional afternoon teas. The last day of exams heralded the opening of Senior Week. On Friday afternoon, May 28, a hushed audience of parents, friends and faculty witnessed step-singing and the planting of the ivy in Milbank Quadrangle. Standing out against undergraduates in white dresses, the stately members of '43 marched in cap and gown to the Milbank porch, where they sadly announced "I'm an alumna," the final stanza of the tune You Can Tell.

The Baccalaureate Service in St. Paul's Chapel on Sunday was followed by senior banquet in Hewitt Hall on Monday night. The class chose the latter event in preference to senior ball, as a wartime measure. The seniors were officially graduated on Tuesday, June 1, when class day exercises were held in Barnard Hall at 2:30, followed by a reception on the lawn, Commencement exercises at Columbia University, and the presentation of diplomas by Dean Gildersleeve in the early evening. Senior Week came to a close on Wednesday, when the annual meeting of the Alumnae Association and the trustees' supper were held.

And so we saw our friends from '43 depart for unknown adventures in a world of opportunity. We were sorry to see them go, and Barnard won't seem quite the same without them. But we envy them too, for it is not easy to remain securely studying behind cloistered walls in a world at war. But we have become convinced that we will be able to serve best in war and peace with a solid foundation of higher education behind us. And so, like them, we pledge ourselves to do the job to the best of our ability.

DEAN GILDERSLEEVE'S CLASS DAY ADDRESS

ON Commencement Day, at our class day exercises, Barnard College returns to their parents the daughters they entrusted to us for education, and gives a sort of accounting of how we have discharged the responsibility. This year, however, though we report to the parents, we really give the graduates to the nation for service.

What service are they going to render? The lists given me about ten days ago are incomplete. Many members of the class are not yet settled as to their jobs. But examples of the types of work to which young college graduates of 1943 are called may interest you.

First come the armed services. The Navy up to the present has been our special branch. A group from '43—about six, so far, I think—are becoming officer candidates in the WAVES. A number of others are to do confidential civilian work for the Navy.

In time of war, the armed services have the right of way. So I hope that many more of '43 will join the colors.

You know that scientists and mathematicians are greatly needed in the war effort. This class provides a fairly large group of chemists. A most interesting variety of jobs calls them. Here are some examples:

Technicians in metallurgical laboratory of Crucible Steel Company; laboratory assistant at Rockefeller Institute; assistant in analytical department, United States Rubber Company; assistant in confidential war researches, Rockefeller Institute; testing alloys and metals in metallurgy department, General Electric in Schenectady; assistant in research laboratory, General Electric; laboratory, Interchemical Company; general laboratory, Babies' Hospital; assistant in research on metabolism, New York Hospital; laboratory work testing with Montgomery Ward; laboratory assistant on coatings for filaments, National Union Radio Corporation.

Among the students specializing in mathematics and physics I find these examples:

Engineering assistant, Vacuum Tube Shop, Western Electric Company; calculator in capacitor engineering department, General Electric Company, Pittsfield; engineering assistant, Curtiss Propeller Division; laboratory assistant, problems of sensitometry, Eastman Kodak Company, Rochester; engineering assistants-in-training, Chance Vought Aircraft; tester in tube department, General Electric, Schenectady; teacher of navigation in Navy Flight Preparatory School, Wesleyan University.

Partly scientific and partly military are jobs in topographical drafting with the Army Map Service. There is already one engineering aide with Grumman Aircraft Corporation. A few are becoming social workers, one with the Red Cross probably overseas. There is a junior statistician with the Federal Reserve Bank, and an accounting assistant with International Business Machines. There are two reporters, one junior assistant on a magazine, and various miscellaneous jobs including one that looks unusual—medical artist for a plastic surgeon.

Some of the class are of course going on to graduate and professional studies to prepare for more advanced work in fields such as medicine, nursing, teaching, social welfare service.

This incomplete glimpse will show you that '43 is a useful addition to the trained personnel manpower of the country. No one, I think, will be justified in bringing against this class the charge frequently made today against American women—that they are not doing their bit in the war effort.

You must not think, however, that these specific jobs the graduates are undertaking are their only contribution to their country's mighty task. They will be valuable also as fairly enlightened citizens, helping to form that wise public opinion in America on which the future of the world so largely depends. Some considerable measure of liberal education they have received here, whatever their special fields have been, enough, we trust, to give them some vision of their place in their country's effort and their country's place in the world.

ALUMNAE

Barnard Says Goodbye to Four Doctors of "Wisdom and Human Kindness"

By Julia Treacy Wintjen '19

WE sat in an obscure corner of the Starlight Roof of the Waldorf and listened with pride and affection to Miss Gildersleeve as she said that just as certain features and traits show in the members of a family, so in the Barnard family something of the professors who taught us is evident in each of us.

It was the night of April 30, and upwards of five hundred of us had come together in token of gratitude to our retiring professors. We looked at Professor Hirst on whom the last quarter of a century sits so much more lightly than on many whom she has taught; and at Professor Brewster and Professor Braun and Professor Crampton, and knew that if only a spark of the dignity and courtesy and kindness and wit inherent in them animated us, how well all would be. We glanced about the room, that lovely room which almost reconciles a die-hard to the loss of the Old Waldorf, and felt another surge of pride. Every face was so quick, so keen, so self forgetful. Apparently each professor had left something of himself.

As the evening wore on, Mr. Lucius Beers brought the greetings of the trustees, Mrs. Ogden Reid paid gracious tribute to the guests of honor, and Professor Hollingsworth conducted an Information Please hour and nothing stumped our experts, the honor guests. Miss Gildersleeve finally rose to confer on them "the first honorary degrees ever conferred by Barnard College," carrying the title of Doctor of Wisdom and Human Kindness, and making each of them Professor Emeritus. We found time then to glance about, seeing here a familiar face, there another; at that table a young alumna in uniform, at that a quiet woman wearing two stars in a service pin. It seemed our professors too must feel a glow of satisfaction, for in no face was there any slackening of interest. The room seemed warmed with affection, grateful and spontaneous.

We do not know whose happy thought this dinner was, but it is nice, that as chairman of a dinner, Mrs. Ogden Mills can have such a thoroughly good time, as though attention to detail were but a trifle. She had of course the pick of committee members with her: Miss Gildersleeve, Mr. Morris, Mrs. Backus, Mrs. Endicott, Professor Greet, Professor Lowther, Professor Puckett, Mrs. Reginald Lee Johnson, and Mrs. Adam LeRoy Jones.

We saw Mrs. Liggett among the guests, Professor Muzzey, Professor Mullins, Doctor McCastline, Professor Howard, Miss Weeks, Professor Latham, Professor Reimer and Miss Rockwell. We understood Miss Gildersleeve's statement that "The importance of a college lies in its faculty," although we could not go with her all the way on having no illusions about the importance of the Dean. Her importance is like the truths in the Declaration, self-evident.

We saw at the speaker's table with the guests of honor and Miss Gildersleeve Mr. Beers and Mrs. Reid, Mrs. Crampton, Mrs. Braun and Mrs. Brewster, smiling proudly from time to time. Mrs. Alfred Meyer rose now and then to make pertinent comments. Mrs. Reginald Lee Johnson represented the alumnae with grace, and Mr. Johnson bore the whole thing as a husband should. By request Miss Anna E. H. Meyer stood at her place that those of us, even in a corner, might see her. Last, but somehow not least, at the speakers' table, was Joan Carey '44, the undergraduate president.

The dinner on the Starlight Roof might well have been a melancholy one, but it was not. For somehow we had the feeling expressed by Mr. Beers that we do not ever really lose a professor retiring from our college. He remains in the metropolitan area, and we do not lose touch with him. Justification for this feeling came when Miss Gildersleeve stated that Professor Hirst was about to complete her retirement by again taking up the teaching of baby Greek! We knew then that we had been right all along, and that this evening was in no sense a farewell, but just a friendly party to four people well-loved.

REUNION — 1943 VICTORY STYLE

REUNION took place as scheduled on Wednesday, June 2, at Barnard. Tea was served on Milbank Porch by 1933 and 1938; the Annual Meeting of the Associate Alumnae and the presentation of alumnae gifts to the Dean took place at 5:00 p.m. in Brinckerhoff Theatre, (the Alumnae Fund reached a grand total of $19,622.35 for 1942-43); Trustees' Supper was served in the gymnasium to the elect for this year, while the special reunion classes met in private rooms in Barnard Hall.

Following are reunion stories from various generations of Barnard alumnae. New officers will be found listed on the inside front cover.

We Attend Our First Reunion

By Helen Kandel '42

WE COULD have gone on indefinitely but just then a girl in a print dress (she had sat next to us in some complicated course and we had used her notes regularly when we were exercising our blessed unlimited cuts for that short but lovely period—we even remembered that she could knit better than we could and that she always wore an ankle bracelet given her by Eddie—BUT we had no earthly idea of her name—that's one of the tragedies of a year) ANYWAY—she slapped us heartily on the shoulder and asked us how our job was—before we could murmur: "Fine," she was telling us about hers and also about Eddie. Half an hour later we reeled away. What was her name?

Soon we rejoined a group of gloomy and philosophically reflective seniors and wandered aimlessly into Tilson's for one last lovely coke. The coke fumes rose delicately to our heads and we talked long of life, love and the English comprehensive marks. After our lengthy evening back in the academic halls and our lengthy talks with the academic-minded and academic-looking seniors we began to take on again a little of the academic aura. We began to remember long-forgotten names like Shakespeare, and Plato, and Wordsworth—we even listened with pleasure while one of the seniors recited a few spare line of Beowulf left over from the comprehensive. We began to think again of courses and cuts and exemptions.

We began to feel learned. We contemplated taking a book—or even two books out of the library—and reading them.

We don't really know what we'd expected to find in our Alma Mater after a year. But if we'd expected changes, revolution, signs of wear and tear and age, we would have proven ourselves feeble prophets. The same groups gathered themselves in the gym as in countless reunions past—the underclassman waitresses in white, the seniors, capped and gowned and hungry—the comfortable circle of faculty in the center—the young and giggly alumnae on one side, and the older and more sedate on the other. For a moment we paused—poised uncertain on the threshold. Time played its little tricks—we were uncertain whether to take up a tray like good little underclassmen and serve our superiors, or whether to join the white-haired and the gray-haired and reminisce about Barnard at the turn of the century. A slight shove in either direction would have settled us. We seemed to belong nowhere and everywhere—but after that moment's hesitation, we found ourselves in our proper niche being young and giggly with the young and giggly alumnae, surprised at seeing so many of them again and feeling after all that a year was not such a long time.

Nevertheless a year was long enough for a class to have several times replenished the earth—to have travelled far from the loving halls of Columbia to wild and outlandish places like Haiti, California and Oklahoma—to have become everything from junior file clerks to vice-presidents in charge of fig newtons, and to have made good little wives to what seemed to be half of the armed services.

We recovered much of our hard-won Barnard poise and grace and ease in no time—and balanced a plate on our lap, a glass in one hand, several rolls and sandwiches in the other, a few forks and spare spoons tucked neatly behind our left ear—immediately we felt very much at home. We were justly proud of the slightly mundane and sophisticated little fillip smacking of our year's worldly experience that we added—when we rounded out this athletic feat by nonchalantly smoking several of our neighbor's cigarettes. Don't ask us how—but it was done. Of course—maybe that was the cause of the slight charley-horse in our ankle—but the effect was worth it.

'03 is Forty

Twenty-four Members Celebrate

TWENTY-FOUR members of 1903 returned to Barnard to celebrate their fortieth reunion, and visit with class- and college-mates. Many arrived in the early afternoon to attend the tea and annual meeting, at which we learned of Barnard's splendid contributions to the war effort.

At the Trustee's Supper, our group visited together informally learning of the service the majority are giving at this critical time, in full-time important government and civil defense positions, and in part-time Red Cross work. We were particularly proud to hear that Clare Howard is contributing her sabbatical year to war service.

We were so happy to have those who have been unable to return to other reunions and meetings come especially for this one, and were greatly disappointed that our class president, Jean Miller, and other loyal members were prevented from joining us. Their messages were appreciated.

Those present were:

Lucy Sherman, Harriet Daniels, Katherine Poole Sterrett, Madeleine Skinner McLaren, Mary Groff, Ruth Howe Broad, Gertrude Clark Hitchcock, Helen Cohen Stockwell, Daisy Seidler Colie, Adele Lewisohn Lehman, Marion Latham Richards, Bessie Thompson, Florence Cheesman Remer, Laura Van Cise Miller, Anita Cahn Block, Anna Ware Collins, Clare Howard, Helen King Blakely, Bessie Walters Wesley, Elsa Herzfeld Naumburg, Adele Wallach Kaempfer, Ethel Pool Rice, May Johnson Newton, May Harrison Morse.

May H. Morse

'08 Celebrates 35th Reunion

Mary Budds Elected President for 1943-48

PRESENT at 1908's thirty-fifth reunion were: Clairette Armstrong, Martha Boardman, Mary Budds, Mary Maxon Dorrance, Eleanor Hunsdon Grady, Jeanette Kaufmann Herkimer, Pauline Steinberg Hirschfeld, Mildred Kerner, Mabel Peterson Paul, Helen Veith Rigby, Rose Beekman Sittenfield, Ethel Everett Smith, Anne Turnbull and Marjorie Eastman Welter. Officers for 1943-1948 were elected as follows: president, Mary Budds; vice-president, Mary Maxon Dorrance; secretary, Ethel Everett Smith; treasurer, Pauline Steinberg Hirschfeld; historian, Mildred Kerner.

Mildred Kerner

'13 is Thirty

Thirty-five '13ers Hold Quiz Program

THE class of 1913 had a most enjoyable reunion. Over thirty-five were present, some coming from distant points in spite of travel difficulties.

The evening's entertainment consisted of a parody on the Doctor I.Q. broadcast—Edith Halfpenny doing the commercial and carrying the portable microphone from speaker to speaker, Joan Lewinson coordinating the program as Doctor I Know You. The doctor asked questions which were answered by five minute talks by Marion Callan on music, Mollie Colley on changing points of view over thirty years, Elsa Shubert on the modern teacher. Lucy Powell amused with a talk on remembered conversations, Ethel Faulkner spoke on the WAVES at Smith and Marion Hess on her job with the salvage commission.

Sallie Grant stumbled over the tongue twister — "Thirteen is thirty, said Merty to Gerty. Thirteen is thirty, Merty, to her said Gerty." Marguerite Pentlarge spoke on "What comes after forty-nine?" Harriet Seibert kept the group laughing with her topic, "Night-life in a Park Avenue church." Louise Wiedhopf gave an interesting talk on nurses' aide work. The program ended with Anna Cohn's unsuccessful attempt to guess from ten clues an important personality who turned out to be 1913.

The evening ended in interesting conversation and everybody was loathe to go home.

Joan Sperling Lewinson

'18 Holds 25th Reunion

43 Loyal '18ers see and hear Class History

TOO bad the rest of you couldn't come to meet the 43 of us who reunited for our 25th. You don't know what you missed!

Present were Wendela Liander Friend, Helena Shine Dohrenwend, Viola Williams Hotson, Margaret Sayford Fellows, Elizabeth M. Stewart, Mary Welleck Garretson, Mildred Blout Goetz, Marie Bernholz Flynn, Mary M. Murphy, Charlotte Dickson Fisher, Theresa Mayer Kramer, Dorothy Oak, Martha Miller Young, Florence Barber Swikart, Dorothy Keck Viglietta, Esther Schiff Wittfogel, Millie Griffiths, Helen Grayson Rafton, Ruth Buvington, Harriett White Blackadar, Florence Cuttrel, Mary F. Barber, Hedwig Koenig, Ruth Markey Wright, Ethel G. Dawbarn, Mimosa Pfaltz

Fejos, Natalie Plough Harris, Pauline Grossman Vorhaus, Marian Levy Wolff, Dorothy Graffe Van Doren, Margaret Rothschild Katzenstein, Peggy Giddings, Carolyn H. Waller, Dora Kahn Seldin, May Levison Frieman, Alvina Cobanks, Helen Purdy Beale, Edith Gross Smith, Alice Gibb Abel, Sophia Amson Ohmsted, Sophie Schulman Felton, Dora Randell, Edith Baumann Benedict.

During the evening we received visits from the Dean and various members of the faculty and administration. Each visitor was greeted delightedly by the group to whom she was best known. The only sad note was struck when the Dean said, "Good-bye, 1918."

After dinner, we had our class history, summarized in slides and words, by Mary Welleck. Various of us, who are prominent in our work, gave personal experience or pep talks concerning our vocations.

Finally, we held an election, making Wendy president, and Marie Flynn secretary-treasurer for the coming five years. After all visited around, we dispersed for the summer.

Edith Baumann Benedict

Fifty-one Attend '23's 20th

'23 Reunion Committee "Surprised and Pleased"

ROOM 301, Barnard Hall was the scene of a very happy 20th Reunion for 1923. From 5 until 7 o'clock the reunion committee, chairman, M. Mildred White, served sherry to the class and other visitors. Fifty-one members sat down to the trustees' supper and to exchange reminiscences on college days.

Those present were:

Jessie Beers Galloway, Mildred Black, Alice Boehringer, Garda Brown Bowman, Alice Burbank Rhoads, Dorothy Dockstader Bronson, May Donahue, Winifred Dunbrack, Minnie Mae Fleming, Pauline Fulcher Stone, Helen Gray Schnur, Katherine Hankinson Cummings, Dorothy Harris Rubin, Elsa Hattorf, Georgene Hoffman Seward, Esther Jennings Dennison, Mildred Kassner Joseph, Elizabeth Klein Isaacs, Nagla LafLoofy Hafely, Germaine Lehman, Irene Lewis Donaldson, Clare Loftus Verrilli, Marguerite Loud McAneny, Ruth Lustbader Israel, Agnes MacDonald, Dorothy Maloney Johnson, Dorothy Manning, Emily Marx House, Yvonne Moen Cumerford, Edna Moreau, Jean Murray Craig, Helen Pattenden McKean, Emily Petrie, Helen Pless Steiner, Ruth Prince Mack, Agnes Purdy Faile, Estella Raphael Steiner, Elinor Rice Novack, Inez Richardson Henness, Mary Richardson Lutterloh, Dorothy Roman Feldman, Dorothy Scholze Kasius, Dorothy Shatz Rosenberg, Katherine Shea Condon, Edythe Sheehan Dineen, Anita Smith Appel, Lois Strong Gaudin, Emily Trantum Gates, Helen Werner Johanson, M. Mildred White, Elizabeth Wood.

Ruth Lustbader Israel

'28 Comes Back to 15th Reunion

Exchange Gossip over Wartime Fruit Salad

1928 assembled in 302 Barnard Hall. While we were enjoying our—no, you're wrong—not chicken salad, but fruit salad and sandwiches—Marjory Nelson Spellman read a letter from our president, Harriet Tyng. Harriet wrote of her disappointment at not being present, and asked us to accept her resignation, since she felt that it was a drawback to the class to have a president living as far away as Boston. It was voted that the resignation be not accepted and that we ask Harriet to reconsider her decision. A vote of thanks was then tendered to Kathleen Dunn for her tireless efforts as class agent for the Alumnae Fund.

Jean Smith Holman stirred nostalgic memories by passing around the work copy of the score of our Junior Show, "Forty Stories." Sue Osmotherly, having come from Evanston, Illinois, qualified as the member who had done the most travelling to be present. Marguerite McCloskey Coleman reported that she had recently bought a 300-acre dairy farm in Columbia County and offered it as a place of retirement for 1928-ers, after our 50th Reunion.

Reunioners present: Ruth Richards Eisenstein, Kathleen Dunn, Kathryn King Pease, Ethel Barnett Neuberg, Frances McGee Robinson, Dorothy Stickle FitzGerald, Dorothy Byrns, Sue Osmotherly, Helen Hope Dibbell, Clara Fisher Miller, Edith Colvin Mayers, Ruth Greenwald Citron, Sylvia Cook Bergel, Margaret Davidson, Rose Kleinberg, Everita Edes, Marjory Nelson Spellman, Marguerite McCloskey Coleman, Betty Sussman Griffin, Jean Smith Holman and Eleanor Michelfelder.

Betty Sussman Griffin

Tenth Reunion For '33 Don't Look 10 Years Older!

The class of '33, almost fifty strong, met in a gaily reminiscent mood on Alumnae Day in the Faculty Dining Room. There, amidst much noise and chatter, we compared notes. Everyone agreed that we certainly didn't look like a tenth anniversary class at all, and had it not been for a few fetching millinery creations which pitched low over the eyes, we'd have recognized each other almost without exception.

Among those present were some whom most of us hadn't seen in many moons—Marguerite Feltner Dreier, Isabel Roberts Roe, Irma Smith, Ruth Bidwell Moore, Vivian Futter Pachman, Ruth Payne, Iva Ellis MacLennon, Ruth Heitzman Murray, Elizabeth Polyzoides Dawson and Catherine Heuston. The "also rans," with whom we'd had more recent contacts included, of course, Gena Tenney, our president, Myra Grigg, Ernestine Bowman, Catherine Crook de Camp, Mildred Pearson Horowitz, Ruth Jacobson Leff, Florence Pearl Graubart, Ruth Arnn Potter, Elizabeth Stewart Schade, Jean Waterman Bender, Grace Iijima, Eileen Kelly, Muriel Kelly Major, Viola Wichern Shedd, Laura Smith, Katherine Reeve, Evelyn Wilson Laughlin; Rosalind Deutschman Posner, Jeanne Weiss, Frances Barry, Denise Abbey, Rita Guttman, Frances Swainson Morgan, Elizabeth Adams, Jean Ehrlich Friedman, Helen Leonhardt, Florence Dickinson O'Connell, Eleanor Overbeck, Edith Ogur Reisner, Evelyn Heatley Irvine, Josephine Skinner, Victoria Kearney, Margery McLaury, Ruth Korwan, Dorothy Pearlstein Zuckerman, Ruth Roeser Irvine, Martha Loewenstein, Olga Bendix.

'38 Holds 5th

Fifth Reunion Proves Bitter-Sweet

1938 CLASS REUNION. Our fifth reunion was bitter-sweet. Gladdened by the sight of new wedding rings and pictures of recent blessed events, saddened by the fact that only 49 members of the class were present while many of the balance were either permanently settled in Chicago, St. Louis, Kansas City, San Diego and all points We-e-st or traipsing across the country following husbands in the Armed Forces. Those who did join the "what are you doing now?" and "what's your married name?" throng included:—

Betty Park Detmold, Peggy Carson Holmes, Margery Smith Elmendorf, Mildred Gottlieb Taffel, Augusta Williams, Elizabeth Wright, Jean Libman Block, Judith Lenert, Claire Murray, Alice Krbecek Fraser and Harriet Harlin. Also Catherine Pendola Tringak, Marjorie Snyder, Frances Adams Olsen, Jane Block, Elaine Glaston Miller, Edna Holtzman Senderoff, Leonore Schanhous Krieger, Marion Shaycoft, Barbara Lake Dolgin and Dorothy Schubert. Also Jean Bullowa, Virginia MacEachern Dunford, Violet Ballance Haseman, Carol Gluck, Ruth Landesman Rosenfeld, Elspeth Davies, Claire Rouse, Mary Heuser, Betty Sargent, Mary Lawlor Lynyak, Mary Hayes and Eileen O'Meara. Alo Ruth Girardi, Helen Revellese, Mildred Bartels, Edna Jones, Helen Raebeck Rachlin, Jean Goldstein Gottlieb, Caryl Rothschild Feldman, Frances Meyer Rosen, Shirley Bender Pensig, Ruth Bitensky Schonfeld, Frances Boehm Ginsberg, Virginia Shaw, Betty Armstrong Dunn, Betty Pratt, Valma Nylund Gasstrom, Audrey Snyder and Ruth Inscho Buchanan.

Of the 250 questionnaires sent out by Ruth Inscho Buchanan, 96 were returned—practically 40% response which is considered VERY good in advertising circles. Statistics compiled from these questionnaires revealed that doctors rank high as matrimonial prospects with 11 '38's married to M.D.'s. Engineers came in second; teachers, government employees and lawyers tied for third place. Other occupations of husbands ranged from art directors to singers and social workers. Of the 31 children reported, 17 are girls, 14 boys, which makes it look as tho' Barnard will have a slight edge over Columbia in the class of '58. Three babies are "on order." Professor Peardon nosed out Professor Crampton by one vote as "our favorite instructor," but zoology was way out in front as the favorite course. Practically everyone has some relative in the Armed Forces with 29 husbands and 38 brothers thus accounted for. Our occupations since graduation show considerable variety, but that miscellaneous catch-all "secretary" outranks everything else. Teaching is our second field, followed by government work, social work and department store merchandising. Hobbies, led by bicycling (Miss Wayman, please note) range from raising cats and dogs through puppetry, skating, voice culture and dressmaking to "finding the right man."

Betty Pratt

The Barnard Clubs

Albany

THE Barnard College Club of the Capital District, Albany, N. Y., met at luncheon at the home of the president, Rosalin Melnick Reines '22, on Saturday, April 17. Those present were: Mary Foxell '23, Irene Frear '12, Mary Goggin '30, Dr. Marion Loew '05, Kathryn Trowbridge McCormick '16, Margaret E. Graff '31.

Plans for next year, including the knitting of an afghan for a service organization, possibly the USO, were discussed following the luncheon.

Plans for the annual meeting and luncheon held at the home of Dr. Marion Loew on Saturday, June 5, were made at this time.

Brooklyn

BARNARD-IN-BROOKLYN is pleased to report a pleasant, active year under the presidency of Helen Meehan Riley '22. We sponsored a delightful party for service men at the Hotel Biltmore in January. We had our annual Hallowe'en and Christmas parties at the home of Dorothy Salwen Ackerman '11. In order to raise money for our gift to the Barnard Scholarship Fund, we raffled a war bond at our military bridge party at the Hotel Gregory.

Our annual meeting was a musical afternoon at the home of Mabel McCann Molloy '10 on May 15.

Buffalo

ELIZABETH STACK MURPHY '13 and her daughter, Frances G. Murphy, newly elected treasurer, were joint hostesses for the April meeting of the Barnard College Alumnae Ass'n of Western New York on Wednesday evening, April 14, at 7:45 in their Landers Road home in Kenmore.

Sewing for the Red Cross was continued. Mrs. Edward Cosbey, Jr., of Niagara Falls, president, presiding at the business meeting. All alumnae were cordially invited to attend.

Detroit

FOR the sixth consecutive year the Detroit Alumnae of Seven Women's Colleges sponsored a theatre performance for the benefit of their respective scholarship funds. This year the group of Barnard, Bryn Mawr, Mount Holyoke, Radcliffe, Smith, Vassar, Wellesley chose the evening performance of Junior Miss for Monday, May 17.

Mrs. Samuel S. Polk (Edith Cohen '38) was ticket chairman for Barnard. Other committee members from Barnard were Mrs. Frederic Dykstra (Margaret Stanley '28), Mrs. Louis Heavenrich (Evelyn Sulzberger '32).

For the seven colleges sponsoring the show, Junior

Miss was a sell-out. Right now eight Detroit girls are completing their education in the colleges represented because of funds raised by benefit performances of other years. Profits from Junior Miss will help add new names to the list and will send other students to colleges of their choice.

San Francisco

BARNARD-IN-SAN-FRANCISCO held its bi-monthly luncheon meeting May 15 at the Women's City Club. Those present were Virginia Molina Day '27, Edyth Fredricks '06, Grace Sheets, Mathilde Drachman Smith '21, Gertrude Keiley Patch '24, Edith Willman Emerson '19, Sue Minor Chambers '13 and a new member, Ethel J. Ginsburg of the class of '41. Ethel is a medical technician at Mt. Zion Hospital in San Francisco. Gertrude Patch was feeling particularly happy as she had that morning received a letter from her husband, Captain R. S. Patch of the U. S. Coastguard, the first letter from him since he left five weeks before to take command of a combat transport somewhere in the south Pacific area. At the time of writing he was awaiting the transport at an undesignated spot which he described as romantically beautiful but short on conveniences. Mary Lee Patch, the eldest of Gertrude's three daughters, is completing her freshman year at Mills College, Oakland, sometimes called the Vassar of the West. Gertrude is spending a considerable amount of time and energy on her victory garden, the description of which was enough to encourage any hesitant gardener. She and Virginia Day and Edith Emerson compared notes on victory gardens and even talked of the pros and cons of chickens and the mortality among baby chicks. Edith Emerson's son, Jimmy, is a freshman at Stanford. Edyth Fredricks, who is head of the foreign language department at Mission High School San Francisco, was extra busy as chairman of the committee to arrange a farewell dinner for the retiring principal of the school, a dinner to be held at the Palace hotel for some five hundred people.

This was the last of the group's regular meetings until fall. A summer picnic was discussed but because of the shortage of time and tires the idea was abandoned in favor of a mid-summer luncheon meeting at the conveniently located Women's City Club where, through the membership of Edyth Fredricks, the group is welcome.

Westchester

BARNARD-IN-WESTCHESTER held its annual business meeting on Saturday afternoon May 8, in the reception room of the library at Bronxville, N. Y. Guest speaker of the day was Alice Burbank Rhoads '23, assistant to the dean, and Helen M. Phillips '43, holder of the Barnard-in-Westchester scholarship for 1939-40 and winner of the Murray Fellowship.

The following slate of officers were elected for next year:

President—Irma Meyer Serphos '17; first vice president—Ruth Schlesinger Scott '22; second vice president—Gene Pertak Storms '25; treasurer—Agnes Dugan '32; recording secretary—Allison Wier '29; corresponding secretary—Ruth AcAlee Bradley '27.

Directors—Eleanor Wilkins Graefenecker '17, Bronxville, Tuckahoe, Crestwood; Bertha Bedelle '29, Larchmont, Mamaroneck; Meta Hailparn Morrisson '25, Mount Vernon, Pelham; Beatrice Taub Kleppner '27, New Rochelle; Laura Bang Morrow '24, Rye, Portchester; Evelyn Wilson Laughlin '33, Scarsdale; Marjorie Hallett Swain '17, White Plains; Agnes Grant '24, Yonkers; Virginia Traband '38, Northern Westchester; Elsa Wunderlich '12, Hudson River Towns.

At Large—Mae Belle Beith '21, Pelham; Marjory McLaury ex. '33, Mount Vernon; Elizabeth Atkins Stoltz '27, Yonkers.

The Thrift Shop

IT SEEMS a long time since the Bundle Alumnae Luncheon, but it was so successful that we cannot refrain from a word of thanks to Mrs. Johnson, Mrs. Karling and the committee. We had another fete, a cocktail party at the Ambassador, planned by the executive committee of Everybody's, for publicity and rummage. It too, was successful.

Due to gas rationing, Marietta Gless Barkhorn '13 has left us for the duration, at least, and Charlotte Verlage Hamlin '11 has that new status of Emeritus and comes to meetings when the O.P.A. and her family affairs permit. Elizabeth Roberts Compton '01 has rejoined us, selling for Barnard on Fridays of each week.

Our rummage comes from Attleboro, Mass., to Burlington, N. J., and one inquiry came from India which the war prevented us from answering. With such spirit among the alumnae it is no wonder that the Shop had its best year since Barnard started merchandizing. Prices advanced, and while we marked about the same amount of rummage as last year $3,500 worth, we had to reduce less. Of course rationed shoes went up, but again odd bits: costume jewelry, vases, knickknacks, etc., always sold. We even sold a lamp made of cocoanuts carved into monkeys' heads! (Ever go on a cruise?) One donation of old, fancy buttons netted $17.50 to the astonishment of the donor.

Our thanks again to the many alumnae who make all these results possible. We wish we could write you individually. We shall be open all summer, at 922 Third Avenue, near 56 St., New York City. Please mark, Everybody's Thrift Shop, Barnard Unit.

And now the real news. This year we sent $1,800 to Barnard for scholarships; just $300 more than last year!

MAY PARKER EGGLESTON '04, Chairman

George Welwood Murray

GEORGE WELWOOD MURRAY, a member of the law firm of Milbank, Tweed, and Hope, died on April 26 at his home in Montclair, N. J., in his eighty-seventh year. Born in Edinburgh, Scotland, Mr. Murray was graduated from Columbia Law school in 1876. He was the father of Lily Murray Jones (Mrs. Adam Leroy Jones) '05.

In 1918, Mr. Murray donated to Barnard College a fund of $5,000 to establish the Caroline Church Murray Fund in aid of needy and deserving students. In 1930, he gave the college $15,000 to establish the George Welwood Murray graduate fellowship. This fellowship is awarded each year to the outstanding student in the field of the humanities and/or the social sciences.

Barnard owes Mr. Murray a debt of gratitude and feels a sense of deep sorrow at the loss of so generous a friend.

Class Notes

1894

ESTELLA DEMAREST

The class announces with deep regret the death of Estella Demarest at Nanuet, New York, after a short illness, on May 23, 1943. She passed her 85th birthday in September, 1942 and was in fairly good health until two weeks before her death.

Mary C. Demarest

1898

Roselle Lathrop Shields (Mrs. James Van Allen Shields), after several months internment at Vittel, France, has been released and is back in Paris.

1901

Class Editor: PAULINE DEDERER, Connecticut College, New London, Connecticut.

Lenda T. Hanks, who has a flourishing herb garden at her home in Middleboro, Mass., recently gave a herb talk before the New England Women's Club.

1904

Class Editor: FLORENCE L. BEECKMAN, 141 West 104 Street, New York City.

SADIE ROSE BARKER

The Class announces with deep regret the death of Sadie Rose Barker.

Elsie Bushong Boyd is following her engineer husband wherever his defense work takes him "for the duration," but they plan eventually to return to New York. Her daughter and two sons are all married, and she has four grandchildren.

The chairman of the Latin department of Hunter College High School, Doris Gellert, is also faculty chairman of the faculty-student committee of war activities . . . Rose McCormick is principal of the Perth Amboy High School, and spends her leisure time in Red Cross and other war work. She has six nephews in the armed forces . . . Florence Hubbard spends her summers at her camp at Smallwood, New York . . . Lucy Embury Hubbell spent a period of recuperation from lobar pneumonia at the MacDowell Colony in Petersborough, N. H., last June and July. While there she completed about one-third of a new book. She writes monthly essays for The Christian Science Monitor, and has a new juvenile book in the publishers' hands. She has also been busy raising money for the Paderewski Hospital in Edinburgh, Scotland . . . Florence Beeckman, who taught history in the Eastern District High School in Brooklyn for many years, has now retired, and divides her time among New York, Poughkeepsie and her home Pugsley Hill, Amenia, N. Y.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

1907

Class Editor: FLORENCE GORDON, 58 King Street, Weehawken, N. J.

MABEL R. SECOR

The class announces with sincere regret the death on February 11, 1943 of Mabel R. Secor.

1908

Class Editor: MILDRED KERNER, 317 West 45 Street, New York City.

HELMINA JEIDELL

The class of 1908 regrets to announce the death in Denver, Colo., on August 10, 1939, of Dr. Helmina Jeidell. After graduation Mrs. Jeidell entered Johns Hopkins, from which she received her M.D. in 1912. She was licensed to practice medicine in Utah in 1916 and had an office in Salt Lake City for more than twenty years, during which time she was married to Mr. H. C. Allen, an attorney, who predeceased her. Dr. Jeidell was a member of the American Academy of Pediatrics.

Mildred Kerner

Clairette Armstrong was chairman of the committee which organized the National Council of Women Psychologists and she is now president of the New York unit of the council . . . Martha Boardman is working with the "Men of Science" division of the war prisoners' aid of the national Y. M. C. A. . . . Jeanette Kaufman Herkimer is doing volunteer work for the Red Cross on delivery of messages. Her daughter Jessie, Barnard '37, is on her way overseas as field director with a Red Cross hospital unit . . . Harriet Hirschfeld, daughter of Pauline Steinberg Hirschfeld, was a member of this year's graduating class. Marjorie Eastman Welter's daughter was a freshman at Barnard this year . . . Helen Loeb Kaufmann has been elected secretary of the society for the publication of American music . . . Mabel Peterson Paul's younger son is with the Navy in North Africa . . . Ethel Everett Smith is first vice-president of the N. J. Council of Parent-Teacher Associations . . . Margaret Yates is doing volunteer work at the New York Orthopaedic Hospital.

Added to the list of grandmothers in 1908 are: Adelaide Requa Lake, Rose Beekman Sittenfeld, May Quinn Smith.

1909

Class Editor: ETHEL GOODWIN, 404 West 116 Street, New York City.

Seven members of the class attended the dinner at the Waldorf on the night of April 30 which was held in honor of the four professors who are retiring this year. They were: Helen Newbold Black, Emma Bugbee, Annette Carroll, Mary Godley, Hannah Falk Hofheimer, Myra McLean and Dorothy Calman Wallerstein. In honor of these professors the class sent a gift of $20 to the Alumnae Fund.

Herlinda Seris received the degree of Master of Arts from Columbia on Commencement Day. She is continuing her studies towards a Ph.D. degree. She recently received a letter from her sister which states that she is well and sends her love to all the members of the class . . . Mildred Woodhull Good has a daughter in Barnard and another one is to enter in September . . . Margie Dann Edwards has a son and a son-in-law in the service . . . Helene Boas Yampolsky's twin sons are both married and both in the service. One of them is studying Japanese in Boulder, Colorado. When he completes his course he will have the rank of ensign in the Navy . . . Dorothy Wallerstein's older daughter is married to a man in the army and is now living with him in the South.

The following members of the class attended the Commencement Reunion:—Helen Newbold Black, Julia Goldberg Crone, Margie Dann Edwards, Mary Godley, Mildred Woodhull Good, Ethel L. Goodwin, Alice Grant, Myra McLean, Rose Levy Schneider, Herlinda Seris, and Dorothy Calman Wallerstein.

1910

Class Editor: ADELAIDE LOEHRSEN, 389 East 136 Street, New York City 54.

Lillian Anderson Duggan is practicing dentistry at the Guggenheim clinic in New York City. Her son, Kenneth D. Duggan, lieutenant, U. S. Marine Air Corps, was married on May 22, to Priscilla T. Watson of Fairfax, Va. . . . Gertrude Hunter Howard's son, James M. Howard, Jr., was married in September, 1942 to Sally Seymour, daughter of President Seymour of Yale . . . The last we heard about Johanna Schwarte, she was doing public health nursing under the Rockefeller foundation in Bogota, Colombia.

1912

Class Editor: MRS. HAROLD LEBAIR, 180 West 58 Street, New York City.

Dorothy Griffin Davis is a mathematical assistant with the American Locomotive Company.

1913

Marguerite van Duyn is teaching physical education at the Binghamton, N. Y., High School.

1915

Class Editor: SOPHIE BULOW, 2444 Lorillard Place, New York City.

Grace Farrell is a counselor for recent college graduate at the U.S.E.S. in New York.

15ers seen at the dinner at the Waldorf on April 30: Edith Steles Banker, Henrietta Krinsky Buchman, Sophie I. Bulow, Jessie Grof, Edith G. Hardwick, Emily G.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Lambert, Lucy Morgenthau Heineman, Emma Kelley Locke, Nina Washburn Smith.

Lucy Cogan Lazarus tore herself away from Red Cross work to come to New York for commencement. Her son, Victor, received his A.B. at Columbia. During the past year he has completed his first year of medical school at the University of Buffalo, and has now been inducted under the army student training program.

1917

Class Editor: MAUDE MINAHAN, 445 Riverside Drive, New York City.

Mary Lindsay Crockett is substituting in mathematics and general science at the Beard School in East Orange, N. J. . . . Amalia Gianella Hamilton is doing volunteer publicity for her local Brooklyn C.D.O. . . . Eleanor Wilkens Graefenecker's daughter Barbara, a senior at Skidmore majoring in fine arts, was married to Frederick G. Eaton, Jr. (Syracuse '42) December 12, 1942.

1919

Class Editor: MRS. S. BACHARACH, 1175 Park Avenue, New York City.

LAURA FRANCES MCDANIEL

The Class announces with deep regret the death of Laura Frances McDaniel on April 11, 1943. Laura McDaniel had been associated with Thomas Jefferson High School in Brooklyn for 18 years. She was chairman of the Latin and Spanish departments, and taught Greek before the course was discontinued. Chairman of the medals and awards committee of the New York Classical Club, she was a member of the Seventy-sixth Chapter of the DAR, and also took part in a number of organizations devoted to charity and to young people. Surviving are her mother and three sisters.

Edith Lowenstein Rossbach is a report analyst with community war services of the Federal Security Agency. It is an organization which investigates civilian housing and recreation, etc.: in boom towns. Her son Alan is in the air corps stationed at the moment in Colorado. . . . Lucretia Peters Beasley's daughter Joan was married in January to Lieutenant Goodrich of the Royal Navy. Her son Michael is in the artillery and her son Peter, a midshipman in the Navy.

1920

Class Editor: MRS. C. ROBERT HALTER, 484 Hawthorne Avenue, Yonkers, N. Y.

The class of 1920 held its annual cocktail-tea and business meeting on Wednesday afternoon, April 28, from 4:30 to 7:00 o'clock at the Women's University Club, Hotel Biltmore, New York, with Marie Ubrbrock as party chairman.

Twenty members attended: Hedwig Liebeskind Zwerling, Catharine Piersall Roberts, Rosina Lynn Geissler, Margaret Wilkens, Marie Ubrbrock, Tecla Landauer Gottlieb, Helen Clarke, Mary Garner Young, Josephine MacDonald Laprese, Amy Raynor, Juliette Meylan Henderson, Katharine Brosnan Monroe, Helen Calhoun Anders, Leora Wheat Shaw, Elizabeth Hobe Burnell, Carolyn Oldenbusch, Dorothea Lemcke, Helen Hicks Healy, Concepcion de Goenaga de Nido, Helen Barton Halter.

The only business of the meeting was a discussion of a provision for the disposal of funds which might remain in the class treasury at the ultimate dissolution of the class, perhaps 25 years hence. We wonder what provisions other (perhaps older) classes have made for such funds. We should be glad to hear.

Personals gathered directly and indirectly at the party are as follows:

Ruth Chalmers Aston—teaching in Evander Childs High School, New York City . . . Elaine Kennard Geiger—teaching mathematics in junior high school in Philadelphia . . . Lillian Friedman—on leave of absence from University of Pittsburgh to serve as training director for Kaufman's in Pittsburgh for the duration, replacing a man now in the army . . . Hedwig Liebeskind Zwerling—husband is a lieutenant-colonel in medical reserve, son recently accepted for Columbia Medical School, class of January, 1944 . . . Leora Wheat Shaw—teaching voice, also working in credit department of Wm. Iselin and Co., New York City. Two sons entering active military service at close of college year . . . Ada Vorhaus Gabriel—in Anchorage, Alaska, working in secretarial capacity with husband who is chief of the outpost for the office of War Information. Expecting to be transferred in May or June to some other outpost.

1921

Class Editor: LEE ANDREWS, 415 West 118 Street, New York City.

Lillian Brower is in charge of dealers', trucking and non-highway gasoline with the O.P.A. in Nashville, Tenn.

1922

Class Editor: MRS. ROBERT DIRKES, 242 East 72 Street, New York City.

Helen Sheehan Carroll, in addition to Red Cross and U.S.O. work, has been elected president of the "Who's New Club" of Seattle, Washington . . . Dr. Jean Rubl-Koupal has been appointed Health Director, stationed in District No. 1, Lake City, Michigan . . . Word from Helen Dayton Streuli received a few months ago indicated that she and her family were well and very busy with the Swiss variety of Victory garden. Helen is in Zurich . . . Pat Wetterer is a WAVE. Inducted in December, she was assigned to South Hadley for training at Mount Holyoke. In February she became a lieutenant, J G, and now is serving as O. O. D. in the Naval Training School at Hunter College—a "boots" camp. There Lt. Pat copes with the numerous and varied problems of training new recruits. The training does not include measles, but Pat's problems do! . . . Louise Emerson Ronnebeck has done some interesting murals on the walls of a U S O building in Denver. Last year she was one of the Colorado residents named "Citizen of the Day" by the state governor.

1923

Class Editor: AGNES MACDONALD, 865 West End Avenue, New York City.

Margaret Mead, on leave from the American Museum of Natural History, is executive secretary of the Committee on Food Habits, National Research Council. She will lecture this summer July 1-30 at the Vassar College Institute for Family and Child Care Services in War Time . . . Garda Brown Bowman is a field representative for the Committee on Child Care, Development and Protection of the New York State War Council.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

1924

Class Editor: MARY M. BRADLEY, 88 Morning-side Drive, New York City.

It is not often we are permitted to view the past and future at one moment with the present (unless you are Einstein, that is) but 1924 sandwiched in between 1914 and 1934 did just that at reunion on June 2.

Those present were not too dissatisfied with the results of the observation. Just ask any one of these: Marie Wallfield Ross, Adele Bazinet Vigneron, Florence Seligman Stark, Grace Kabrs, Agnes Grant, Helen LePage Chamberlin, Marion Sheehan Kelly, Fanny Steinschneider Clark, Myla Thayer Roush, Hortense Veilchenblau Schoenfeld, Marjorie Bier Minton, Gertrude Marks Veit, Mary Bradley, Barbara Kruger O'Neill, Suzanne Jobert, Guiseppina Mina Scacciaferro, Virginia Harrington, Georgia Giddings, Florence Denholm.

In spite of the fact that there has been no election, 1924 goes into the pre-twentieth reunion stretch with a considerably revised set of officers: President, Georgia Giddings (Christine Einert is in Rochester); vice president, Virginia Harrington (to replace Georgia Giddings by act of the executive committee); secretary, Florence Denholm (really elected); treasurer, Mary Bradley (to replace Lilyan Stokes Darlington, now in Reno); executive committee members, Marie W. Ross, Edith Rose Kohlberg; alumnae fund agent, Fanny S. Clark; social chairman, Adele B. Vigneron.

Born to Elizabeth Lambrecht Eberlin in April, a son, Peter Conrad . . . Dr. Christine Einert is a physician with the North American Railway Signal Company, in Rochester, N. Y.

There was more news, but there's a word limit. Why didn't you come to reunion to hear it?

1925

Class Editor: HELEN YARD, 140 East 63 Street, New York City.

Ellen K. Wuori will be a Latin teacher at the Rye Country Day School for Girls . . . Helen Yard is training for production control at the Nassau plant of the Sperry Gyroscope Company . . . Madeleine Hooke Rice received her Ph.D. in history at Columbia this month.

A reunion dinner was held at the Barnard College Club on Monday evening, May 10. Those attending:

Charlotte Bradley Bridgeman, Billy Travis Crawford, Anna Leerburger Gintell, Peg. Irish Lamont, Meta Hailparn Morrison, Frances Nederburg, Estelle Blanc Orteig, Madeleine Hooke Rice, Ruth Gordon Reisner, Peg. Melosh Rusch, Dorothy Manges Samuels, Florence Kelsey Schleicher, Gene Pertak Storms, Henrietta Swope, Marion Mettler Warner, Fern Yates.

Peg Melosh Rusch was hostess at a cocktail party in the Barnard Club before dinner. Later, various members of the class told what they are doing to help the war effort: Estelle Blanc Orteig is painting war posters

. . . Peg. Irish Lamont is doing educational work with the National Council of American-Soviet Friendship, and working with Russian War Relief . . . Gene Pertak Storms told of the work of Bundles for America for which she works in Mount Vernon.

1926

Class Editor: MARY MACNEIL, 704 Grove Avenue, Grantwood, N. J.

JEAN LOWRY DENNY

The Class announces with deep regret the sudden death of Jean Lowry Denny on May 19, 1943. She was the wife of the New York Times correspondent Harold N. Denny.

Jean came to Barnard from Lexington, Kentucky. After her graduation in 1926 she was awarded a Carnegie Scholarship to study in Europe. While engaged in archaeological research in Greece she met Mr. Denny and they were married in Moscow on June 5, 1936. Jean's untimely death robs us of a loyal class mate. We will always remember her as we characterized her in our Mortarboard:

*"She danced the nights and smiled the days
She talked and laughed—was gay always."*

Sarah Rosenthal is an inspector for the United States Department of Labor in New York . . . Marie Konzelmann is secretary to the general secretary of the Prison Association of New York . . . Ruth Coleman, on leave from the High School of Music and Art, is out of town with her husband, Major Edsin B. Bilchick of the Army Medical Corps.

The following members of the Class met at the tea given by Marian Mansfield Mossman at her home Saturday afternoon, May 8:

Dorothy Ashworth Nathan, May Seeley, Betty Patterson, Alice Killeen Johnson, Nora Scott, Robin Dermody Selle (looking very smart in her WAVE uniform) Renee Fulton, Mary MacNeil (busy with her war job as chairman of Red Cross production in Cliffside Park, N. J.), Eleanor Newcomer Bratley, Virginia Ehrman Greenwald, Eleanor Antell, Eunice Shaughnessy Bischof, Frances Bernheim, Edna Stabl Cousins (from Philadelphia), Pearl Greenberg Grand.

1927

Class Editor: MRS. M. JENNINGS VON DER HEYDE, Occupation Bureau, Barnard College, New York City.

We apologize to Clara Molendyk for a badly garbled account of her graduate studies. Actually, she was awarded her Ph.D. in political philosophy by Fordham University in 1936. She is co-editor with Maj. Benjamin C. Edwards of "Thus Be It Ever," an anthology of literature dealing with "our heritage of freedom," published by Harper's . . . Henrietta Jungman Quastel has a daughter, Barbara Joan, born on March 21, 1943.

1928

Class Editor: MRS. JOHN B. GRIFFIN, 601 West 113 Street, New York City 25.

Frances McGee Robinson has organized and is now directing a bureau for the placement of volunteers in the New York hospitals, the Hospital Volunteer Bureau of the United Hospital Fund . . . Beatrice Tinson Aldrich has a daughter, Barbara St. John, born February 7, 1942. The Aldrichs have recently moved to Oklahoma City . . . And Sidney Stemmons Jacot has a son, Jay. We don't know the date, but he's very new.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Gossip gathered at reunion:

Harriet Tyng reports that Noel Stone (Mrs. James Toumey) has turned up as the mother of one of her eleven-year-old pupils . . . We hear that Victoria Abraitys entered medical school on April 1 last, and that Margaret Davidson recently received her master's degree at City College . . . Marguerite McCloskey Coleman is assistant to the director of the U. S. Employment Service for N. Y. . . . Olga Peterson is employed at the American Library Association headquarters in Chicago . . . Eleanor Michelfelder is secretary to the national director of Girl Scouts . . . Ruth Royer White is in Florida, where her husband is in the service . . . Sylvia Cook Bergel has been elected president of the Queens College faculty wives club.

Dr. Marjory Nelson and Dr. Constance Friess, both physicians, both have husbands captains in the Army Medical Corps, and both two children—Marjory two sons, and Connie a daughter and a son . . . Dr. Mary Hooke has taken over her husband's pediatric practice while he is in the service.

Those reporting progeny new to this column are: Helen Hope Dibbell, with a girl, 6 a boy, 4, and a girl 5 months; Helen Johnson Cosbland, a 15-month-old son; Ethel Barnett Neuburg, 2 daughters, 9 and 11; Ruth Greenwald Citron, two sons, 8 and 3; Clara Fisher Miller, 2 daughters, 6 and 11; and Edith Colvin Mayers, a daughter 11 and a son 6.

1929

Class Editor: JEAN MACALISTER, 601 West 113 Street, New York City.

America Gonzalez Escuder is doing work in English and Spanish with Chalmers-Ortega, Inc. . . . Rose Patton is a placement worker for the Social Work Vocational Bureau . . . Caroline Relyea Brown is a metallurgical assistant with the Crucible Steel Company in Harrison, N. J. . . . Florette Holzwasser Henri is in the Book Section of the O.W.I., distributing literature published here to the United Nations and to neutral countries.

Sixteen members of the class appeared at trustees supper: Ruth Rablen Franzen, Rose Patton, Alice Fair, Anny Birnbaum Grieger, Dorothy Neuer Sweedler, Bertha Lambert Haym, Edith Birnbaum Oblatt, Barbara Mavropoulos Floros, Frances Holtzberg Landesberg, Kathryn Huber Fletcher, Margaret M. Jennings, Madeleine Russell Robinton, Gertrude Kabrs Martin, May Gardner Hall, Marguerite Bentenmueller Offhouse.

Virginia Brown Kreuzer has moved from Los Angeles and is living in Philadelphia . . . Frances Holtzberg Landesberg is chairman of the Forest Hills unit of the A.W.V.S. She has appeared on three radio programs for them this past winter.

Our deepest sympathy goes to Muriel Woolf Hobson, whose daughter Rosamond died in April of meningitis at the age of six and a half years.

1930

Class Editors: MRS. HOWARD ORTGIES, 2970 Marion Avenue, New York City; and JEAN CRAWFORD, 155 East 47 Street, New York City.

Pattie Smith is with the Public Information Division of the USO in New York City . . . Betty Carr Platte is working with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, also in New York City . . . Margaret Jinks Hall has been working in a defense plant in Beaver Falls, Pennsylvania, since last December, inspecting 75 mm. shells. She is now assistant to the Chief Inspector . . . Julie Newman Merwin is a stenographer at the Suburban Bronze Works of College Point in Long Island.

1931

Class Editor: MRS. KARL C. SCHMOCKER, 415 Grasslands Road, White Plains, New York.

Edna Meyer Wainerdi is being trained by the Sperry Corporation in Brooklyn for the position of production supervisor . . . Marjorie Van Tassell is a secretary with the Board of Economic Warfare, American Embassy, Santiago, Chile . . . Elizabeth Lemkau Corson announces the arrival of Bayard William and Amy, born December 16, 1942. Since May first they have been living at 236 High Street, Newburyport, Massachusetts . . . Elberta Schwartz Buerger has a second daughter, Gail Meredith, born May 23, 1943.

1932

Class Editor: MARTHA MAACK, 104 Barnard Hall, Columbia University, New York City.

Barbara Bent is writing and rewriting directives in the different departments of Western Electric . . . Madeleine Stern, teacher of English, Long Island City High School, and author of a biography of Louisa May Alcott, has been awarded a Guggenheim Fellowship.

1933

Class Editor: RUTH KORWAN, 25-64 31 Street, Long Island City, N. Y.

Elizabeth Armstrong is a mineralogist (quartz) with the Bell Telephone Laboratories . . . Edith Glaser Delman is a junior economist in the Office of Civilian Requirements of the War Production Board . . . Helen Leonhardt is a secretary at Northwestern Mutual Insurance Company . . . Janet Knickerbocker Webster has twin daughters, Helen and Katherine, born April 22. She has two older children . . . Pauline Harding is now Mrs. Endresen . . . Margaret Martin who got her Ph.D. in June, 1942 in economics at Columbia, is a senior economist in the Bureau of the Budget, office of the president, in Washington, D. C. . . . E. Helen Sporn (Mrs. Frederick Chait) writes that she has been in Washington for about a year, working as an attorney in the office of the General Counsel, Board of Economic Warfare. Her husband is chief of the food rationing branch, Office of Price Administration. He expects to be in the army very soon . . . Eleanor Overbeck is now secretary to Dr. Houghton Holliday who is associate dean of the School of Dental and Oral Surgery of Columbia.

Miss Dorothy Crook, an economist with the Chase

Looking for a restful week-end in beautiful Connecticut hills? Double or single room, with bath, in private home in real country, lovely walks, Delicious home cooking. Berries and vegetables in season from home garden. 51 miles from N. Y.

FLORENCE ATEN IVES

Cannondale, Conn. Tel. Wilton 61-12

"Green Shadows"

LYME, CONNECTICUT

A New England Farm House with comfortable, steam-heated rooms, coal heat and open fireplaces. Modern conveniences and restful atmosphere Cottages. Room and Board $16-25 per week. For information and reservations write to —

MISS MARGUERITE SLAWSON
Green Shadows, Old Lyme, Connecticut

Look For

The Silver Lining Gardens

Opposite the Village Green
LYME, NEW HAMPSHIRE

An Inn A Place to Stop
A Remembrance Shop
Irresistible-Indispensables

Saint Margaret's School

College Preparatory and General Courses

Established 1865 Incorporated 1875

ALBERTA C. EDELL, A.M., Principal
Waterbury, Conn.

LOW HEYWOOD
On the Sound — At Shippan Point

Preparatory to the Leading Colleges for Women. Also General Course. Art and Music. Separate Junior Course. Outdoor Sports.

Box B Stamford, Connecticut

BOYD AND MANNING

Agency

OFFICE PERSONNEL

MARION BOYD '09, JANE MANNING, Owners
489 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. MU 2-1810

U. S. WAR BONDS

Safest—and best—investment in the world!

National Bank, is on her way to England to take up a post as liaison officer for women's activities in the headquarters of the Office of War Information in Grosvenor Square. She is widely known through her work with the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, for which she served as legislative chairman.

After the outbreak of war, Miss Crook was lent to the government by the National Federation, and spent some months in Washington working in the women's division of the War Savings section of the Treasury Department. She had also held various positions in Washington for a few years after her graduation from Barnard College in 1933.

Miss Crook will fly from Lisbon to London where she will set up an information service on the activities of American women in the war. She is taking with her a large assortment of records, statistics and literature on the subject. N. Y. Times, May 21.

1934

Class Editor: MRS. RUSSELL MACROBERT, 37 Maplewood Avenue, Larchmont, N. Y.

Josephine Thacher is an assistant at the Lake Survey, Army Map Service, in New York City . . . Constance Brown is a research chemist for the Foote Mineral Company in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Morrow (Petra Munoz), a daughter, Carol Lee, in Boston, Massachusetts, on March 20. The Morrrows have another daughter, Linda Jean, who is two and a half years old. Mrs. Morrow writes "Any 1934 coming to Boston is welcome to call on me for any help I may be able to give her."

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Fagelman (Selma Denby) have a son, Mark, born April 5 . . . Louise Brown Marr has a baby girl, Alice Louise, born March 22. This is her third child . . . Jane Martin was married on May 19, 1943 to first lieutenant Hilliard M. Shair, a doctor in the medical corps at the station in Hawaii, where she is working as a Red Cross recreation director. Lieutenant Shair graduated from Columbia in 1928, and P. & S. in 1932 . . . Helen Walker (Mrs. Samuel Paul Puner) has a son, Nicholas, one year old, and has recently been made an associate editor of Fortune Magazine.

Among those present at Reunion were: Elinor Remer, who is secretary to the provost of New York University . . . Natalie Joffe, who for the past year has been working for the committee on Food Habits of the National Research Council, and next week, goes to Washington for the summer, to work for the Office of War Information . . . Jeane Meehan (Mrs. Louise Bucciarelli) who has three sons . . . Jean MacDougall, who is an X-ray technician at St. Luke's Hospital . . . Anna Johnstone Robinson, who is a theatrical designer and housewife . . . Josephine Diggles Golde, who has a son Lawrence, Jr., one year old . . . Helen M. Feeney, director of the Carroll Club, Inc., a club for more than 1,500 business and professional women . . . Elaine Babcock Elliot, who is teaching French and primary work at Trinity School . . . Alice S. Kendikian, active in war work, especially selling bonds, and through various organizations planning parties and dances for servicemen. Recently elected treasurer of the Armenian Scientific Association, and committee member of Armenian Youth Victory Council, and Armenian Students Association . . . Stephanie Morka Call has a son Stephen, aged one and a half, is a "war housewife" and former director of the Fourth Street YWCA in Passaic, New Jersey . . . Anna Jacobson Schwartz has a son Jonathan, aged 5, and a 10 month old daughter, Paula. She is research associate at the National Bureau of Economic Research, and instructor in economics at Brooklyn College. This fall she will begin a study for the committee on research in economic history . . . Muriel V. Self, who is an "accountsman" in the firm of Marsh and McLennan. Her work corresponds to that of an underwriter in an insurance company . . . Sonja Borgeson, who is administrative secretary of the National Peace Conference, a clearing house for 38 national organizations concerned with problems of foreign policy and post-war planning . . . Eunice Raben Werner, who lives in Scarsdale and is busy raising vegetables, and a daughter Nancy, almost two years old . . . Alice M. Kish, who is a secretary in the Army Air Corps (War Department) . . . Mary R. Dunican, who is doing statistical work for the department of forecast and engineering statistics with the Consolidated Edison Company . . . Lucile I. Ginsberg, who is a buyer of children's ready-to-wear for Interstate Department Stores . . . Helen Frankel, who is supervisor of the Adjustment Office at B. Altman and Company . . . Dorothy Nowa, who is secretary to the Royal Danish Legation . . . Blanche Jahoda Meixel, who is assistant in the president's office at Queens College in Flushing . . . Dorothy Hufman, who is teaching in a convent school in New York City . . . Margaret Gristede MacBain, who has a daughter Alison, aged 6 . . . Fannie Perkinson MacRobert, "war correspondent" writing letters to her husband, a commander in the Navy Medical Corps.

1935

Class Editors: MRS. DOUGLAS HUBERT, 107 Tibbetts Road, Yonkers, N. Y.; RUTH REIDY, 415 West 120 Street, New York City.

Louise Chin Yang is among twenty-two women selected by Westinghouse Electric Elevator Company of Jersey City to take intensive training in preparation for jobs as electrical engineering aides to test combat equipment to be used by the U. S. Navy . . . Erna Fluth, who graduated from the Long Island College of Medicine, is interning at Lenox Hill Hospital . . . Dr. Vivian A. Tenney (Mrs. John Boyer) has announced the opening of her office at 1009 Park Avenue, New York City . . . Edith Schulz is a secretary with Dean Langmuir, investment counsel.

Married—Edith Beekler to Frank Marion Widner of the U. S. Army, February 8.

Born—to Mr. and Mrs. Norman C. Lipton (Edith Cantor) a son, Tommy Alan, on March 28.

1936

Class Editor: MRS. HARVEY GODFREY, 55 Tie-man Place, New York City.

Elsie Vocasek Crean is a secretary with the Bell Tele-

Orient Point Inn

ORIENT POINT, L. I.

Extreme tip of North Shore—Water View from every room—refined family atmosphere—excellent food—private beach—spacious piazzas and lawns.

EUGENE J. McDONNELL, Prop.

Orient 389

REASONABLE RATES

Fast Train Service to Greenport. Free bus to hotel.

FLORAL TIME in the Poconos

Enjoy vacation fun in the peaceful Poconos 'neath bright, sunny spring skies and amid floral grandeur. Outdoors there's golf, riding, tennis, fishing, lawn bowling, hiking and "sun-lazing." Tempting meals. Delightful entertainment. Only 3 hours by train or car.

The Inn

BUCK HILL FALLS • PA.

New York Office, 630 5th Avenue • Circle 5-5620

ARCADIA

Camp for Girls—28th Year

On Pleasant Lake Casco, Maine

Directors:

Dr. George L. Meylan, Professor Physical Education, Columbia University 1903-1929

Mrs. Lucien G. Henderson (Juliette Meylan) A. B. Barnard 1920, A.M., Columbia

For 27 summers Arcadia has been giving girls of our own and other lands the lasting happiness that comes from striving to be more worthy, capable and successful in the art of living with others. Self-reliance, resourcefulness, vitality, health and joy, Arcadia believes are built by vigorous camping in the out-of-doors, sharing and living with others.

A modern Camp of high traditions—Five distinct age groups 7 to 18 years. Each camper has his own individualized program. Skilled instruction in swimming, canoeing, sailing, tennis, trips, camp-craft, forestry, farming, preserving, canning, first-aid, life-saving, riflery, Morse-code, all real camp activities.

85% of delicious home-cooked food comes from Dr. Meylan's 18 year old Model Farm—32 vegetables, 11 fruits, 6 meats, milk, butter, eggs, fruit juices, jams, jellies, etc.

Authorized transportation by train and Arcadia buses is assured.

For Descriptive Booklet—address

(Mrs.) LUCIEN G. HENDERSON
GOODWIVES RIVER ROAD DARIEN, CONN.

Vacation Cues

Florence Aten Ives, Cannondale, Conn., offers the hospitality of her interesting old home to a few guests. Among other rustic enjoyments, vegetables and berries come from garden to table. On Danbury branch N.Y. N.H. & H. R.R. an hour and a half from Grand Central.

You can have a refreshing sea-side vacation at Orient Point Inn, Orient, L. I. Fast train from Penn Station to Greenport from there by free bus to the hotel.

The Inn at Buck Hill Falls, Pa., recreation center of magnitude and beauty . . . golf course, tennis courts, bowling green, riding trail and camp club for children on this 4,000 acre estate.

Green Shadows, Lyme, Conn., here you will find rest, excellent food and a charming country side to explore. With a little effort on your part there are other activities to be enjoyed. Open year round.

Silver Lining Gardens, Lyme, N. H., in the foothills of the White Mts. has all the elements for a delightful vacation . . . beautiful setting, a cuisine recommended by Duncan Hines, swimming and fishing not too far away, golf at nearby Hanover where there is also Dartmouth College for interest and research.

For those who would add to their store of learning during the summer, there is the Summer Institute for Family and Child Care at Vassar College July 1 to July 30. The courses will deal with Post War Reconstruction as current problems. Important for volunteers and professional workers.

phone Laboratories . . . Nora Lourie Gund is a personnel counselor with Sperry Gyroscope Company in Great Neck, Long Island.

A daughter, Ann Adair Gould, was born on December 10, 1942, to Charles and Adair Brasted Gould. Adair writes that they have moved from Akron, Ohio, to Flourtown, Pennsylvania, just outside Philadelphia, where her husband now works. Her new address is West Mill Road, Flourtown . . . Elizabeth Rusk Jones writes that she was married on February 28, 1942, to Arthur M. Greenhall, formerly assistant to Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars at the Bronx Zoo and now director of the Portland, Oregon, Zoo. Elizabeth assists with drafting plans for a new zoo project. She is also the proud mother of Alice Rusk, born February 13 last. Elizabeth's address in Portland is 815 S. W. Vista Avenue; she would like other members of '36 in the vicinity to get in touch with her . . . Mr. and Mrs. Carl Frederic Foster (Jane Bradish) have a son, David, born in November, 1942. The Fosters' address is 8 Highland Avenue, Nashua, New Hampshire . . . Professor and Mrs. Paul Henry Láng (Anne Pecheux) have a son, Christopher, born in May 1942. The Lángs, who also have a four-year-old daughter, Stephanie, live on a farm at Wappingers Falls, Dutchess County, New York . . . A daughter, Judith Emily, was born to Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Vitaliano (Dorothy Brauneck) in Reno, Nevada, on May 13. Mr. Vitaliano, an assistant geologist with the United States Geological Survey, has been appointed resident geologist for the magnesite project in Gabbs Valley, Nevada. Dorothy resigned her position as geological field assistant in her husband's party on April 1, but expects to work part-time later on. The Vitalianos' address is Box N, Gabbs, Nevada.

1937

Class Editor: MRS. JOHN KARLING, 501 West 113 Street, New York City.

Grace Aaronson Goldin writes from Champaign, Ill., that she had a son, David, last November and that her husband will occupy a newly created chair as lecturer in Jewish literature and history at Duke University . . . Georgine Hance is teaching French at the Kimberley School in Montclair, N. J. . . . Jessie Herkimer is a medical social worker with the American Red Cross overseas. Good Luck, Jessie . . . Georgia Philipps is a librarian with a law firm . . . Dorothy Rourke Haller is doing free lance writing and advertising research in Chicago . . . Ethel Lewis is working for the New York branch of the National Opinion Research Center of the University of Denver. She is also studying at Teachers College for her Master's . . . Natalie Flatow is working in the program department of C.B.S. in New York . . . Mary-Jane Brown is showroom manager for the Old Colony Furniture Co. in New York City . . . Rosemarie Hoffman is a clerk in the Foreign Service of our State Department in Trujillo, Dominican Republic. Our best wishes to you Rosemarie . . . Doris Auer became Mrs. Jack Egemeier in April . . . Ruth Harris got her degree from P&S and has been interning in the Philadelphia General Hospital since April . . . Helen Hardy has been Mrs. Russell W. Jackson since April 10.

Eleanor Martin Stone writes that she "is still a housewife, doing dishes and washing baby clothes. They say we are the backbone of the nation, and perhaps we are. Anyway it is fun!"

1938

Class Editor: MRS. ARREN BUCHANAN, 115 Kingsbury Rd., Garden City, L. I., New York.

Our congratulations to Betty Pratt whose engagement to Mr. Gordon Rice who is teaching in the U. S. Army Signal Corps has been announced. Betty is now Public Relations Counsel for Teachers College . . . Edna Jones is a statistician with Gibbs & Cox . . . Mildred Bartels is manager of the Walden Book Co. library at Loeser's . . . Catharine Hitchcock is a linguistic secretary in a hospital with the Red Cross in No. Africa. Good luck to you, Catharine . . . Agusta Williams is teaching in Eastchester, N. Y. . . . Elsbeth Davies is to be on leave from Barnard to work with the office of Strategic Services . . . Hope you all read Maxine Meyer Krinsky's article in the April "Mlle." . . . Ruth Mansfield is training with the American Red Cross in Chicago . . . Adelaide King Eisenman is leaving by plane with her six months old daughter to join her husband in Peru. Her husband is with the Board of Economic Warfare. All Barnardites in Lima please take note . . . Eileen

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Sandra was born to Lenore Schanhous Krieger on March 4. Lenore has been staying in Augusta, Ga., to be near her husband who is a Lt. in the Medical Corps at Camp Gordon . . . When this issue reaches you Elizabeth Eldridge Ward will be a supervisor at the American University of Beirut, Lebanon, Syria, where her husband has been appointed an instructor at the Near East School of Theology in Beirut . . . Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Bartholomew (Laura Miles) announce the arrival of Caroline on April 19, 1943. Weight 6 lbs. and 14 ozs.

1939

Class Editor: EMILY V. TURK, 600 West 116 Street, New York City.

Anita Este is overseas with the Red Cross as a recreational club director . . . June Williams is teaching in Scarsdale, N. Y. . . . Virginia Thomas is working with the Colgate Co., in New Jersey . . . Mary Jane Bowen is a cataloguer for Pan-American.

Next year, Barbara Denneen will be teaching Latin and English at the Goshen (N. Y.) High School . . . Esther Larash is a statistician with the Federal Reserve Bank of New York . . . Janet Younker is a supervisor in the receiving dept. at Macy's . . . Lenore Altschule is a dispatch clerk with the American Export Line at La Guardia Field . . . Phyllis Dunbar is to work with the Public Health Research Institute of New York as an assistant in biochemistry and nutrition . . . Trudie Smith became Mrs. Earl M. Kohler on March 16. Her husband is with the Army Air Force at Wright Field, Dayton, Ohio. Mrs. Kohler is librarian and teaches English in the Deposit (N. Y.) Central School.

In the Proud Parents department we have:

Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Reinhardt (Betty Cummings) whose son, Joseph Henry, was born May 9, 1942. They are living in Detroit . . . Lieutenant (j.g.) and Mrs. Harvey Wehmier (Peg. Grant) are the parents of Dan. Grant, born last January . . . Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Wagner (Toni Vaughn) had a daughter Carol, born in December, 1942. They are living in Charleston, W. Va., where Toni is teaching.

There are enough members of Barnard, 1939, working in downtown New York to form a Barnard-in-Wall-Street Club:

Dorothy Stockwell is an analyst in the credit department of the Irving Trust Company . . . Ara Ponchelet Blanc is an attorney with Shearman and Stirling . . . Ensign Virginia Allen is stationed at the port director's office, New York City.

Working across the river in New Jersey are:

Grace C. Marley II with General Foods, Hoboken . . . Also in Hoboken is Elizabeth Stengel, in the personnel department of Sales Affiliate, Inc. . . . Millicent Bridegroom is a training supervisor with the Irving Trust . . . Ensign Elizabeth Jackson is stationed at the Naval Supply Depot, Bayonne . . . For the past nine months Barbara Sapinsley was a technical writer with pioneer instrument division of the Bendix Aviation Corp., Bendix, as of June 1 she is a "lady of leisure."

Continuing their studies are:

Janet Frazer, a student at the Johns Hopkins School of Nursing, Baltimore, Md. . . . Rose Grillo, in her third year at P. & S. . . . Ruth Halle Rowen, "just studying at Columbia" . . . Emily Turk, on leave of absence from the U. S. Engineer Office, New York District, in order to continue her studies at Columbia University School of Architecture.

Living in Cambridge, Mass., are:

Barbara Reade Healy whose husband, Lieutenant (j.g.) D. W. Healy is an instructor at Harvard . . . Jane Bell Davison and Dorothy Zirn Blauth, whose husbands, Ensign John Davison, and Lt. Edward Blauth, USA are stationed there.

As secretaries, 1939 is represented by:

Marie Meixel, secretary to the director of the speech clinic at Queens College . . . Emma Louise Smith Rainwater, secretary to Professor Richard Powell of Columbia Law School . . . Cosette Utech is a supervisor of photo-offset and copy preparation with the Polygraphic Company of America . . . Marjorie Healy Sharp is working in the engineering department of the American Telephone and Telegraph Company . . . Marcelle Christie is teaching biology at Port Washington, N. Y. . . . Jane Seymour is going to camp for the summer, then back to her recreation job next fall . . . Evelyn Hoole Stehle is living in Princeton where her husband is an instructor in the physics department of Princeton University . . . Wilma J. Walach is engaged to first lieutenant William J. Dancik, USA. She is working in the library of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. . . . Peggy Dykes is working in the Barnard Admissions office.

Both Carolyn Hurst Ponchelet and Jay Pfifferling Harris say their young daughters and households have been keeping them occupied. Jay also has been tutoring French and mathematics.

1940

Class Editor: MRS. CURTIS GREEN, 106 East 85 Street, New York City.

Tanya Ostromislensky is now Mrs. Ludwig Zuher. She is publicity and promotion assistant with the General Electric Co. in New York City . . . Georgianna Grevatt will be assistant in the Barnard College zoology department next fall . . . Edna Gorodinsky is with the U. S. Army Signal Corps. in Long Branch, N. J. . . . Margaret Eitelbach married Colin S. Pittendrigh on May 1. Helen Geer Downs attended her. Mr. Pittendrigh is an alumnus of Durham University, England, and holds a traveling fellowship from the Rockefeller foundation . . . Joan Thanet is a secretary and editorial assistant with the Edward B. Marks Music Corp. . . . Regina Crapsey is a secretary in the chemical and research department of the Texas Oil Company . . . Louise Parnell is with the National Association of Manufacturers as digester of material for their Editorial and News Digest . . . Caroline Duncombe Pelz and her ensign husband are now living at 241 Grant Street, Cape May, N. J. Ed. is on temporary sea duty at the moment.

Ruth Brand Strubl has a baby boy, Karsten Jay, born March 6, 1943. His father is finishing his internship at Queens General Hospital, and is a first lieutenant in the A.U.S. . . . Dorothy S. Boyle was elected to the board of directors of the Barnard College Club this spring.

Gerry Sax (Shaw) writes that she is not working for

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

A. M. Davis, a law firm, after all but is remaining at Cluff and Pickering, wine merchants, as assistant officer manager to release a man for the army. When he goes Gerry will be officer manager. Address Gerry and her husband as Mr. and Mrs. Wallace M. Shaw . . . Ann Heminway has been accepted as a staff assistant with the American Red Cross for overseas service.

Ensign Mary Elizabeth Husson of the WAVES has announced her engagement to Ensign Henry Nevin Gehman of Princeton, N. J. Ensign Gehman attended Phillips Exeter Academy and was graduated from Princeton in 1942, subsequently from the Midshipmen's Training School at Northwestern University.

Sorry if some of your class notes are missing 1940. They are in the mail between here and points south where your class editor is living at the moment with her husband. We will make amends in the October issue.

1941

Class Editor: MRS. WILLIAM G. COLE, 476 Riverside Drive, New York City.

CAROLINE MCGINNIS

The Class of 1941 announces with regret the death of Caroline McGinnis, and wishes to extend its deepest sympathy to her family.

Ginny Ros was married on April 7 to Dr. Leo B. Halleran, first lieutenant in the Army Medical Corps. Ginny will be at home until she can join her husband . . . Bea Belis is now Mrs. Soltz . . . Cynthia Laidlaw is engaged to Alfred E. Giacometti, a Columbia graduate, who is now working for Western Electric Co. . . . Muriel Hughes is engaged to Lieutenant Richard W. Forbes, a graduate of the University of Missouri. Muriel is on the faculty of the Foxcroft School, Middleburg, Va.

Addie Bostelmann is a staff assistant with the American Red Cross and arrived in England on May 18 . . . Athena Capraro Haft is doing mechanical drawing for the Bahan Textile Machinery Company in Greenville, South Carolina . . . Inge Hieber will be teaching first and second grades at the Buckingham Friends School in Lahaska, Pa. . . . Ellen Hammer has been awarded a Columbia University Fellowship in public law and government for study towards her PhD. . . . Phyl. Wickenden Voland is a specialist in the Signal Corps in Washington . . . Ruth Stevenson is working with the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey in New York City and is spending most of her spare time as a nurse's aide in Tarrytown . . . Last December, Ruth Mulvey received her M.A. in English at Columbia . . . Alice Corduke Wabmann had a son early in May . . . Margaret Granstrom is now Mrs. Michael Weyl, and is living in Alexandria, Virginia.

Lieutenant (j.g.) and Mrs. J. Robert Wells (Elizabeth Throop) announce the birth of a son, John Campbell who arrived on April 17, 1943 and weighed 6 lbs. 8 ozs.

1942

Doris Burley was married on March 27 to Lieutenant Charles Gilman Maxwell . . . Annette Dreyfus was married to Baronk Benacerraf, a student at the Medical College of Virginia . . . Edith Meyer was married to Lieutenant Francis C. Lauro, U. S. Army Air Force on December 22 in Columbus, Mississippi . . . Louise Morse married Sim Joe Smith, Jr., in December . . . Dorothy Alpern was married on May 22 to Martin Lubin, Harvard '42. Dorothy will receive her Masters in Speech from T.C. in June and plans to teach speech in a high school in Boston . . . Denise Hahn is married to Dr. Lionel Goitein, a psychiatrist at the State Delinquents Institute of Woodbourne, New York . . . Mary Hill is engaged to David Austin Schirmer, a graduate of Dartmouth, now in the Army Air Force . . . Elaine Sachs is engaged to Lieutenant I. William Wolfe of the U. S. Army . . . Janet Quinn is engaged to Walter C. Eichacker, Columbia '41, a student at the Long Island Medical College and a second lieutenant in the U. S. Army Medical Corps, Administrative Reserve. Janet is doing volunteer work for the Red Cross and is taking a Red Cross nursing course . . . Elizabeth Kramer Emmons announces the birth of a daughter, Margaret on May 2. Captain Emmons is overseas.

Anne Gibbons is leaving for Lima, Peru, where she will have a position in the United States Embassy . . . Katharine Hanly is on the cable desk of the United Press . . . Wenonah Huber is with the second service command of the U. S. Army at the station hospital at Picatinny Arsenal as medical technician . . . Beth Zimmerschied is to be on the C.B.S. news staff, writing for "Report to the Nation," a dramatized presentation of the weekly high spots of the war effort . . . Betty Foye has been transferred from the O.W.I. to the War Shipping Administration as an interviewer of seamen . . . Barbara White is employed at the Norwegian Consulate . . . Ruth Stern is a scientific assistant with the War Research Division of Columbia University.

Virginia Cheyne is doing part-time research for the Publishers Service in New York City . . . Mabel Campbell is a statistical clerk with the Guaranty Trust Company in New York City . . . Faye Stoness is working with the Fairchild Aviation Corporation . . . Nona Balakian is writing book reviews for the New York Times . . . Frances Farrior Erwin is a student in the Columbia University Occupational Therapy School . . . Helen Percas is going to Russell Sage College, at Troy, New York to teach Spanish . . . June Clayton will be teaching Spanish at the Verona, New Jersey, High School next year . . . Ruth Lowe is a secretary-receptionist on the Film Library floor at the Museum of Modern Art . . . Elaine Donovan is a secretary with William C. Walker Sons in New York . . . Mary Bucher Plunkett is personal secretary to the president of Soundscriber, a distributing company for telephone recording equipment . . . Mary-Ann Williams is in the chemistry lab. of Continental Foods.

Dorothy Van Brink is a secretary with the Underwear Institute, a trade association . . . Mabel Schubert has been promoted to research assistant in foreign news at Time, Inc. . . . Florence Fimmen is a statistician with the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey . . . Edna Kadin is with Standard and Poor's Corporation where she is on the training squad for work as an analyst . . . Lois Vollter is doing market research with Standard Brands, Inc. . . . Marjorie Rosser is a translator of Spanish at the British Consulate in New York . . .

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Ursula Kraft is a statistical and office assistant with Standard Brands, Inc. . . . Margaret Illis Anderson is doing volunteer research work in the Department of Justice in Washington . . . Kay Hanly has received a Dean's Fund scholarship from the Columbia Graduate School of Journalism . . . Helen Gottesman is doing labor statistics for the WLB in New York . . . Angela Cuccio is working in the Columbia University Library.

1943

And now for the brand new alumnae class which has, as yet, appointed no class editor. Blame any inaccuracies, therefore, on the harassed Magazine editor!

First of all those who are not or won't much longer be Miss: Marguerite T. O'Neil is engaged to Kevin M. O'Gorman of Buffalo, N. Y. She is in training as a medical technologist at the Buffalo General Hospital . . . Virginia Donchian married Ensign John H. Murray, USNR on February 3. He is stationed at San Diego, California . . . Edith Greenbaum is married and in Tennessee . . . L. Grace Sherman married Donald Lunghino of the Navy, on May 9 . . . Beatrice Kaplan is Mrs. Abraham S. Walfish . . . Eleanor Murdock was married on March 17 in Myrtle Beach, South Carolina, to Lieutenant David Sloane, U. S. Army Air Force, of Palo Alto, California . . . Evelyn Kelley is engaged to Walter M. Isbrandtsen. She is studying occupational therapy at Columbia. Mr. Isbrandtsen is with the Army Transport Service of the U. S. Merchant Marine . . . Carlotta Taylor was married on February 27 to Lieutenant William R. Watson, U. S. Army Medical Corps Reserve.

Follows an incomplete list of jobs, but the best we can do at present. Look for a more complete story in the October issue:

Lisclotte Weinmann is a chemical technician at the Babies Hospital . . . Eugenia Earle is working in the personal trust department at the Guaranty Trust Company . . . Frances Hussey has accepted a position as calculator in the capacitor engineer dept. of the General Electric Company in Pittsfield, Mass. . . . Marilyn Haggerty has accepted a position as junior statistician in the domestic research department of the Federal Reserve Bank, New York City . . . Catherine L. Clark will be a technician in the metallurgy laboratory of Crucible Steel Company, Harrison, N. J. . . . Helene Dresner has a job as mathematics assistant with the Curtiss Propeller Division of the Curtiss-Wright Corp., Caldwell, N. J. . . . Mary Holiot has a job as research chemical assistant with the General Electric Company in Schenectady . . . Mary Vanaman has a training position with Time, Inc., in the "college-girl-office-girl" group . . . Margaret Crymble will be a technician in the metallurgy laboratory of Crucible Steel Co., Harrison, N. J. . . . Carol Dickson has been accepted as a student in the N. Y. and Bellevue Medical School . . . Edith Edwards is going to the N. Y. School of Social Work . . . Gretchen Relyea will go to Seagram Co., Louisville, Kentucky, in training for industrial work . . . Beatrice Barker has a job as assistant in engineering work in the production department, Vacuum Tube Shop, Western Electric Company, New York City . . . Edith Segall will do social work with the New Bedford Children's Aid Society and take courses at Simmons School of Social Work in Boston . . . Lilian Winkler will be a chemical assistant in the analytical department of the U. S. Rubber Co., in Passaic, N. J. . . . Helen Dorothea Sheffield is a medical artist for a plastic surgeon in New York City . . . Genevieve Wielunski will enter Woman's Medical College, Pennsylvania in the fall. During the summer she will assist part-time in the Barnard chemistry department . . . Betty Levy will be a chemistry laboratory assistant at Rockefeller Institute . . . Roberta Bradford will do analytical chemistry with the National Union Radio Corporation, Newark, N. J. . . . Rose Ruth Tarr who was awarded the Grace Potter Rice Fellowship in natural sciences and mathematics, is to be a chemical laboratory assistant at the Rockefeller Institute, working under Dr. Van Slyke . . . Helen Phillips was awarded the George Welwood Murray Fellowship in the humanities and social sciences but relinquished it in order to finish her secretarial course and make immediate use of her languages . . . Sybil Kotkin, alternate for the Murray grant, is now doing graduate work and will use the fellowship in conjunction with the internship at the National Institute for Public Affairs in Washington which has already been awarded her . . . Oi-Yung Loo will study at the Columbia School of Library Service beginning in July . . . Marcia Freeman has been appointed assistant to Professor Minor W. Latham of the English department for next year. Miss Freeman will replace Louise Beck '42 who will be doing government work in Washington.

Take a new breath!

Edith Katzenstein Bemas is a secretary with the Girl Scouts, Inc. . . . Muriel Katz Goldman is volunteering three days a week in the recorder's office in the psychiatric ward at Bellevue Hospital . . . Margaret McConn Bishop has an editorial position at the county desk with the "York Gazette and Daily," York, Pa. . . . Patricia Langwell is teaching math., aerology, airplane engines to the Navy Flight Preparatory School at Wesleyan U. in Middletown, Conn. . . . Kate Ormstein is an assistant to Dr. Alice R. Bernheim '17 at the N. Y. Hospital doing chemical work on metabolism . . . Mary Virginia Callcott is a junior clerk assisting the proof reader at Ruthrauff and Ryan, advertising . . . Margaret Macdonald is in the accounting department of the International Business Machine Co. . . . Shirley J. Macknet is a clerk with the Pennsylvania Railroad . . . Jeanne Rosen is taking a course in Spanish and English stenography at the Latin-American Institute . . . Edythe Jeffrey is a clerk in the personal trust department of the Guaranty Trust Co. . . . Hazel Harmeling is a clerk with the Western Electric Company . . . Marian Sirotak is a laboratory assistant testing materials, with J. C. Penney Co. . . . Sophie Vrahnos is a junior engineering draftsman with the "Lake Survey" of the U. S. Army Map Service . . . Eda Bratschi is to be a social worker in the social service department of the Roosevelt Hospital, New York City . . . Florence Fischman has a training position with Time, Inc., in the "college-girl-office-girl" group.

Good luck to all of you!

At a Marine training center, the Leather-necks climb on the "Alligator's" back for a practice ride with full equipment.

Through brush and timber, then—splash! And the "Alligator's" driver heads his steel-footed steed into open water.

Jungle-smashing treads become paddle-wheels as this amphibious "Alligator" churns its way through the water.

"ALLIGATORS" with a bite of steel!

They can crash a jungle...swim a river...these all-steel amphibious "Alligators." The drivers (see picture below) —they're combination sea captains and tank pilots!

They've Got What it Takes!

CAMELS ARE FIRST WITH ME. THEY'RE EXTRA MILD AND THEIR SWELL FLAVOR HOLDS UP—PACK AFTER PACK

Camels COSTLIER TOBACCOS

FIRST IN THE SERVICE

With men in the Army, the Navy, the Marines, and the Coast Guard, the favorite cigarette is Camel. (Based on actual sales records in Post Exchanges and Canteens.)

TAKE this young fellow (above, right). His name can't be revealed, but he can tell you plenty about Camels—their extra mildness, their coolness, and the way Camel's full, round flavor keeps on tasting good pack after pack. But don't take his word for it. Your own throat and taste can tell you more convincingly about Camels than anything else. Try Camels yourself!

BUY WAR BONDS & STAMPS

R. J. Reynolds Tobacco Co. Winston-Salem, N. C.

The "T-Zone"

—where cigarettes are judged

The "T-ZONE"—Taste and Throat—is the proving ground for cigarettes. Only your taste and throat can decide which cigarette tastes best to you...and how it affects your throat. For your taste and throat are absolutely individual to you. Based on the experience of millions of smokers, we believe Camels will suit your "T-ZONE" to a "T."