

Barnard College

Columbia University

The Ella Wood Library

BARNARD COLLEGE
ARCHIVES

BARNARD ALUMNAE

C
H
R
I
S
T
M
A
S

1
9
4
6

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Published five times during the college year: October, December, February, April, June, by the ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE OF BARNARD COLLEGE, 476 Riverside Drive, New York 27, N. Y.

➔ Deadline for Winter issue—January 10 ➔

Volume XXXVI

Christmas, 1946

Number 2

CONTENTS

BARNARD'S FOURTH DEAN	1
by Dorothy Brockway Osborne '19
"NEVER UNDERESTIMATE—"	2
THE UNDERGRADUATE	3
THE RECONVERSION OF MRS. BROWNE	5
by Page Johnston Karling '37
ALUMNAE OFFICE NOTES	6
OUR OWN AGONY COLUMN	7
BARNARD PUBLISHES	7
DOING IT WITH DISTINCTION	8
OUR OVERSEAS NEWS	8
THE BARNARD CLUBS	10
CLASS NOTES	11
DO YOU KNOW WHERE THEY ARE?	Inside back cover

MARIE BERNHOLZ FLYNN '18, Editor-in-Chief

JOAN LEFF '46, Advertising Manager

Editorial Board

Elinor Sachs Barr '17
Mae Belle Beith '21
Dorothy M. Blondel '16
Mary M. Bradley '24
Helen M. Feeney '34
Clare M. Howard '03
Mary Elizabeth Ladue '35

Martha Lawrence '41
Elizabeth Reynard '22
Anna Johnstone Robinson '34
Ex-officio
Lucy Morgenthau Heineman '15
Mary Roohan Reilly '37

ASSOCIATE ALUMNAE OF BARNARD COLLEGE

OFFICERS 1946-1947

LUCY MORGENTHAU HEINEMAN '15
President

EVA HUTCHISON DIRKES '22
First Vice-President

AILEEN PELLETIER WINKOPP '33
Second Vice-President

RUTH CUMMINGS MCKEE '39
Secretary

EDITH HALFPENNY '13
Treasurer

EXECUTIVE SECRETARY

Mary Roohan Reilly '37
476 Riverside Drive
New York 27, N. Y.

THE ALUMNAE REGISTER

WHAT IS IT?

The official directory of the alumnae of Barnard College. It will contain the names of all the alumnae, with the current addresses and occupations of those who reply to the questionnaire, and tables of vital and occupational statistics.

WHY IS IT?

To provide an accurate reference volume for the use of the alumnae and the college, and to bring official college records up to date.

WHO COMPILES IT?

A paid staff of professional workers, headed by Clare M. Howard '03 as editor and Mrs. B. M. Ferris as office manager.

WHENCE COME FUNDS FOR IT?

From appropriations made by the college through its Board of Trustees, and by the Associate Alumnae through its Board of Directors, after careful consideration of the expenditure involved and the value of an up-to-date directory.

WHITHER GOES IT?

To each individual alumna for whom we have a correct current name and address, without cost.

The Fourth Dean of Barnard College

by Dorothy Brockway Osborne '19

Senior Alumnae Trustee

WHEN Miss Gildersleeve requested the Board of Trustees to allow her to retire at the end of this academic year, the Board was faced with the most difficult of problems. Although we realized that Miss Gildersleeve had long been anxious to retire from her active work as Dean of Barnard, we had hoped, unreasonably, that the actual day when we would really have to face the issue would never come. The day has come and gone. And we, the alumnae, must all rejoice with Miss Gildersleeve, with the Board of Trustees, and with the Faculty in the choice of Millicent Carey McIntosh to succeed Miss Gildersleeve on July 1, 1947.

Not as a stranger but as an old and valued friend does Mrs. McIntosh come to Barnard as its fourth dean. Since 1930 she has been the headmistress of the Brearley School in New York, which has prepared many fine Barnard students for college. Her husband, Dr. Rustin McIntosh, already a member of our larger Columbia family, is Carpentier Professor of Pediatrics at the College of Physicians and Surgeons, and Director of the Babies Hospital. They were married in 1932, and have four sons and one daughter.

Mrs. McIntosh is a native of Baltimore, and a niece of the late distinguished President of Bryn Mawr, Dr. M. Carey Thomas. She was graduated in 1920 from Bryn Mawr, studied at Newnham College, Cambridge, and in 1926 took the degree of Ph.D. from Johns Hopkins University. Her dissertation—the Wakefield Group in Townley Cycle—was published in Germany. In 1926 she was appointed to the Department of English in Bryn Mawr, was made Dean of Freshmen in 1928, served as Acting Dean of the college in 1929 and went to Brearley as head-mistress the following year. She is a trustee of Bryn Mawr College and a member of the Board of Managers of the Bryn Mawr School in Baltimore. From 1941 to 1943 she was president of the Guild of Independent Schools in New York.

I am sure that many of us have tried to list the virtues which we think the new dean of Barnard should have. It would be impossible and unfair to hope that the new dean would be an exact duplicate of our Dean Gildersleeve. I sincerely believe, however, that Mrs. McIntosh possesses as many of the hoped-for qualities as is possible for one woman to have and still be human! I have known her for many years, both personally and in a business and professional way. I know that she has warmth, sympathy, great understanding, and a tolerant and unbiased judgment. In her administrative position at the Brearley School she has combined all of her talents as an executive, as a teacher, and as a counsellor and friend to her alumnae, faculty, parents and students. In making decisions, she withholds personal opinion or comment until she has heard both sides of a question. Like every constructively busy executive, Mrs. McIntosh is always one to whom others turn for advice and help, and who can be counted upon to accept new and still more responsibilities. Perhaps the most important characteristics for the running of a family and a school are a nice balance of values and a sense of humor. Mrs. McIntosh possesses both of these virtues in an advanced degree.

Millicent Carey McIntosh, A.B., Ph.D.

The Board of Trustees, the Faculty, the many alumnae (including Virginia Gildersleeve '99) who know Mrs. McIntosh—all are intensely satisfied and delighted with the appointment. With our complete support and loyalty, Barnard College, under her leadership, cannot help but go on to still greater achievements, and realize more fully the ideals which Dean Gildersleeve has set for the college during her outstanding administration.

“NEVER UNDERESTIMATE—”

A MID WHAT DARK DOUBTS BARNARD COLLEGE came into existence may be seen in some articles of 1879-1883 reprinted by TOWN AND COUNTRY during the celebration of its centennial. Our esteemed contemporary stood bravely and handsomely for the education of women; but in citing objections raised to the admission of women to Columbia College, it revealed what strange things were said. One authority contended that “the course of study prescribed in a college is too severe to be attempted without danger to the delicate constitution of young women.” Another, that “the delicacy and reserve which constitute in so high a degree the charm of the female character are liable to be worn off in the unceremonious intercourse of academic life.” Professor Drisler believed that “girls would be hardened and coarsened, and that their morals would be hurt by contact and association with the other sex.” And he did not believe that girls would or could have any effect in refining or elevating the masculine students. Some of the trustees of Columbia College invoked a law in their statutes which required that “no lecture shall be heard by any persons except matriculated students and the janitor.”

TOWN AND COUNTRY, then called the Home Journal, gave generous space to a rebuttal of these objections. It pointed out that young men as well as young women frequently faded as the result of study; it wondered if Columbia College were such a violent, ruffianly place that young ladies would lose their character in it; and to Dr. Morgan Dix, Rector of Trinity Church, who maintained that woman's mission was simply to soften and humanize man and to govern him by tenderness, it pointed out that there were then 75,000 more women than men in New York and that many of these women could not hope to get a man to humanize and tenderly govern. “This great class claim certain privileges which Christian humanity cannot afford to deny them.”

Witnesses from England were quoted to show that the attendance of women in the university classes for men had no evil effects upon society. President Barnard's recommendations to the trustees of Columbia College, petitions from eminent citizens, all brought influence to bear on the “monastic” and “mediaeval” conservatives. In the edition of the Home Journal for March 7 and March 14, 1883, may be seen more than 500 names after that of Chester Arthur, President of the United States, in a petition of An Association for Promoting the Higher Education of Women in New York, asking that the trustees of Columbia admit women to the lectures and examinations of the college. Of this Association the secretary was

The Ionic Columns in the Grand Hall

Mrs. Herman S. Leroy. There was no chairman, but a committee headed by Mrs. Joseph Choate.

Finally Columbia consented to lend some professors to give instruction in an experiment on the lines of the “Harvard Annex,” later Radcliffe College; and when Columbia moved uptown to its present site Dr. Morgan Dix was so relieved at the compromise between co-education and seclusion that he participated in laying the cornerstone of Milbank Hall, in 1896.

The description of this building in the Home Journal of June, 1897, may chasten those scoffers of the present who regard poor Milbank, now so battered by generations of students, as a mere "dump." They may be surprised to learn that "the style of architecture is Henri II, the material, red 'Harvard' brick, with trimmings of Indiana limestone and terra-cotta. From the open court one enters the grand hall with its Ionic columns—the Assembly theatre, with its admirably arranged stage and a stage fire-place which may be removed, leaving space enough for a tea-room when desired. . . ."

TOWN AND COUNTRY has kindly lent us copies of these articles for display on the bulletin board outside the library in Barnard Hall.

C.M.H. '03

THE UNDERGRADUATES

CHRISTMAS SEASON on the Barnard campus? It comes as term paper deadlines are suddenly near. It comes as we migrate from the smoking-room, the tea room, and the bridge tables to South Hall and Barnard library. Near the end of a busy term, Christmas activities, the dance, the club parties and the carolling brighten the college.

After a brief downtown stay, Christmas Ball will be held in the gym this year. Residence halls and day students will attend the dance on December 14 together for the second year, while the girls who want to make snowballs rather than dance will head for Barnard Camp on Christmas weekend.

Appetites whetted by talk of the famous German Christmas cookies, most of the college is expected to attend the German Club's annual Christmas Tree Party in Brooks Hall on December 16. Not to be outdone, the Spanish Club is making a tradition of its Christmas play, which will be presented on December 17 this year.

On December 19, Barnard students will attend the Candlelight Service at St. Paul's Chapel (and we are sure that the alumnae will be welcome, too.) Carol singing around the fireplace will mark College Tea in the College Parlor the day before, and Christmas Tea is served in the Residence Halls on Sunday, December 15.

* * *

ELECTION OF freshman class officers, the United Nations, and the term drive for the Foster Parents' Plan have commanded perhaps most student interest during the fall.

The freshman president is Vicky Thomson who hails from Chatham Hall, a private school in Virginia; and Jean Moore from Charlottesville, Joan Raup '47, who has succeeded her sister Ruth Raup '46 as Editor-in-Chief of the Barnard Bulletin, has collected items of college news of interest to Alumnae.

Virginia, will take time out from Wigs and Cues to be freshman Greek Games chairman.

* * *

THE WEEK OF OCTOBER 20 to 26 was United Nations Week and when the Dean welcomed the United Nations General Assembly in behalf of Barnard because "we have long emphasized . . . the study of international relations and knowledge of other countries," the college was busy with special events planned for the occasion. The new United Nations Committee, a branch of the International Relations Club, arranged for student volunteers to work in information booths throughout the city, answering questions about UN. Barnard even had its own information booth right on Jake, also sponsored by IRC, where pamphlets and pictures of the foremost delegates could be seen. The committee also planned visits to the UN and work with the New York City UN hospitality committee.

The Faculty Committee for the United Nations, under the chairmanship of Professor Jane Clark Carey, is seeking a "reciprocal agreement," whereby students may work as volunteers at the UN while UN delegates come to address the school.

* * *

THE FOSTER PARENT'S PLAN, the Term Drive for this semester, has captured the imagination of the Barnard students. Gertrude Rosenstein '48, chairman of the drive, has announced that she aims for a $5,000 goal. Barnard, as most of the alumnae probably know, has already adopted one war orphan, a 12 year-old Tony from Italy. The college this year hopes to support at least 15 more orphans, and has already made arrangements to care for Jean Marie, a six-year-old Belgian boy, Johanna Elise, a Dutch girl of nine summers, and Jeanne, who is French and just twelve.

The committee has made tentative plans at this time to sponsor an informal dance after the Christmas holidays for the benefit of the drive and have asked for aid from all the campus organizations. They take this opportunity to appeal through the Alumnae Magazine to all alumnae who wish to contribute. Fifteen dollars a month will feed and help care for one child for a month, but the children do not think of their foster parents as just people who have given them money. They are told the names of the parents and are encouraged to write often to the contributors. Barnard has exchanged many letters with Tony who reports fine progress in his education, and expresses great affection for his "cara foster parents."

* * *

WALTER WINCHELL may have scooped the newspapers on the Barnard news-of-the-month, but Bulletin scooped the town with the first press interview granted by the dean-elect. A feature of the one-page extra published on Tuesday, November 26 was the report of an interview with Mrs. McIntosh by Bulletin reporters. She told them that she is accepting the deanship because she is convinced that it will provide her with an opportunity "to approach in a more strategic way the problems I care most about: what happens to young people and to women in the world."

Take back your Samba and your Rhumba and your Conga, but not these Latin-American undergrads, who are a sample of Barnard's sixty-four students from thirty-two countries. You all know the lady in the hat, but can you pick out our Brazilian twins?

THE RECONVERSION OF MRS. BROWNE

by Page Johnston Karling '37

SOMEWHERE IN ARIZONA, at this writing, a slim figure in old, comfortable, and probably faded jeans is riding a streak across the prairie, her gray curls a-flying, her sun-burned face a-beaming. Barnard is 2,700 miles away and Mrs. Raymond Browne is having the time of her life. She has been doing this every October for years, but this time Barnard's freshmen and transfers will no longer ring a November curfew on a do-as-you-darn-well-please existence. She has doffed her professional character as Mary V. Libby, Assistant to the Dean in Charge of Admissions, and only a rusty red Irish setter named Patsy, a mare named Betsy, and a rare delightful specimen of husband will bring her back East to become Mrs. Raymond Browne of Plandome, Long Island.

If Admissions are the pearly gates of the college, the personality behind the big desk is surely the local St. Peter. Quite literally, this person has it in her power to chart, in one direction or the other, the future course of a girl's life. Boasting no halo beyond a crop of curls, Miss Libby has managed to exercise a keen, quick and penetrating kind of judgment. Reject or accept, that is the question, and when a dozen girls qualify for the same place in college, who shall be admitted and which eleven shall be turned away? Miss Libby has been guided always by a high regard for the calibre of the college which she has served, no less than by an evaluation of the character and record of the individual candidate. Through lean depression years, she battled to find enough good candidates to fill a class. Through recent hectic semesters she has struggled to select the all-round best from overwhelming numbers of candidates. With every admission there has been a worthy successor to the Barnard tradition; with every rejection there has been a maintenance of standard and consistency of judgment. To this, we can add, fervently, "Almost every one—don't forget the problems! The faculty proteges, the pressing alumnae, the irate papas, the doting mamas, the neurotics and the psychopaths and the geniuses—oh, heaven deliver me from the geniuses!"

If you came to the front office of Milbank subsequent to 1921 for a pre-admission interview, you were probably seventeen and scared—most of them are—and so had but a limited opportunity to enjoy one of the rarest senses of humor to brighten Barnard's scene. But chances are you can still remember a friendly welcome, a free-and-easy tête-à-tête (some candidates used to ask as they left, "Now when do I come for my interview?") and a pleasant impression of what you could expect in the college you had chosen. The alumnae who, as co-workers have known Mary Libby since are the lucky ones, and recognize her as Barnard's greatest debt to Wellesley. (What we couldn't do with her in our Associate Alumnae!) But not even her closest associates know all the occasions upon which her diplomacy has settled a controversial issue and her finesse averted a teapot tempest. Her masterful handling of difficult situations is matched only by her inability to lose her sense of proportion.

Mary Libby's retirement this fall, after twenty-six years in Barnard's Admissions Office, comes some years later than she would have wished. Recognizing an academic administrative job as a war-time necessity, she consented to a freeze in office as far back as 1942, and stuck to it through ill-health and high water. For two ghastly winters, with the Chevy parked perforce in the garage, she trudged a mile to the station through slush up to her ankles ("neither rain nor snow nor gloom of night . . .") to catch the 7:49 to New York. Greater love for Barnard hath no Wellesley graduate.

So with gratitude for all that she has done for us, we relinquish her to the eighty-six yards of ruffles on the living room curtains (she will long for us, maybe, when next she has to iron them); and to Rusty and Betsy and Mr. Raymond Browne. The latter's victory is our defeat; for if there is no more Miss Mary Libby in the Admissions Office, there is no more Mr. Mary Libby in Plandome! We hope that she feels as we do, that her twenty-six years at Barnard give us a claim at least equal to that of her four years at Wellesley; and that as alumnae reunions roll around she will visit the Morningside folks, many of whom, but for her, might never have been freshmen, much less Barnard alumnae.

ALUMNAE OFFICE NOTES

TUESDAY NIGHT REVIVAL

A college education is designed to broaden one, but we know of a postgraduate course with quite the opposite goal. Beginning in February and continuing throughout the spring semester, the Physical Education Department and the Associate Alumnae are once more offering Tuesday night gym classes. There'll be rhythmic fundamentals (all right, you think of a synonym), badminton, deck tennis, group sports—all this and the pool,

Come on in—and so forth.

too, for only $5.00. Non-Barnardites among your friends are also eligible for the course. You'll find complete details on page 12, and in the Alumnae Day mailing there'll be a registration slip which you may fill in and return to the Physical Education Office.

THE REGISTER

You may have heard something about the Alumnae Register—or even have read something about it. But only we can tell you how the Trustees toyed with the idea for months and months; how printers' estimates grew larger and larger; how—just in case—the Occupation Bureau combed its dwindling lists of the unemployed in desperate search for an editor, an office manager, a handful of respectable typists—for anyone literate who might be free some time during this college year, when and if.

The material was being printed before there was an editor; it was being mailed to you before there was any place to mail it from. The Comptroller's office tore its hair over the problem of office space; the Occupation Bureau, for a few days, was like Pennsylvania Station on Thanksgiving eve.

Our noble colleague Clare Howard '03 stepped bravely into the breach; she Accepted the editorship and with smiles for everyone concerned, evicted her office-mate (E. Reynard, also a respected colleague) and set up shop in her own small bit of Barnard, with Mrs. B. M. Ferris (remembered as the secretary for the Institute on Community Problems) as office manager, and a bewildering assortment of part-time helpers. There they work like mad, opening your returns, detaching the confidential slips, sorting, checking addresses, tabulating, and getting quietly exhausted.

THE SEVEN COLLEGES

Alumnae missionaries of the Seven Colleges began to work zealously this fall in certain large cities in the western and southern part of the country. In each city they constitute a committee to spread information about the seven eastern colleges among school principals and advisors and to publicize the tremendous advantages offered to potential college students by the annual National Scholarships.

The organization of these committees grew out of plans formulated at a luncheon meeting last spring at which Lily Murray Jones '05 was hostess and in which the alumnae presidents, the executive secretaries and the public relations officers of the Seven College participated. Representing Barnard in the cities selected so far are Marjorie Arnold '21, Portland; Margaret Weymuller '29, Omaha; Lucile Lawrence Kean '30, Houston; Mary Craig Millis '18, Dallas; and Ann Furman Feuer '36, New Orleans.

Aiding and abetting the committee is a newly published sixteen-page booklet describing in text and in pictures the life of an undergraduate at each of the Seven Colleges. This visual salesman for the National Scholarships has been mailed to members of the committee, to presidents of local alumnae clubs and to school authorities in the National Scholarship states. We have a few copies left which we'll be glad to mail to any alumnae in the scholarship states who may wish them. Newcomer to the group of states where scholarships are awarded (Kansas, Missouri, Nebraska, Louisiana, New Mexico, Texas, California, Oregon and Washington) is Oklahoma.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

WEEK-ENDS IN WESTCHESTER

Have your friends been envious of your Westchester week-ends, have they longed for rural pastimes so accessible to New York and so easy on the pocketbook? Their yearnings may end, for under a new policy, approved by the college and the Associate Alumnae, you may now invite your non-Barnard friends to week-ends at camp, providing the quota has not been filled by Barnard alumnae. Cozette Utech '39 is in charge of camp reservations and you'll find the camp dates available on page 16.

FOREIGN ADDRESSES

Elsewhere in this issue (on the inside of the back cover, to be exact) you will find a list of "lost" Alumnae. The term is not meant to be opprobrious; we call them that sympathetically, with gentle regret. Not included in that list of unfortunates is a considerable number of our alumnae who live abroad; and with whom we have been out of touch, for very obvious reasons, for many years. If you should hear from any of them, will you please send the current name and address to the Alumnae Office? We should very much like to have them all in our files again.

ALUMNAE DAUGHTERS

First we were shy of cameras, and then the Barnard daughters of the Class of 1950 proved to be camera-shy. So the best we can do for you just now is to tell you their names, which are: Amelia Caldor (Ruth Coleman '26), Mary Ellen Carroll (Mary Elizabeth Langton '23), Joan Haldenstein (Marion Kaufmann '20), Helene Hersch (Faye Klawan '25), Cornelia Kranz (Lina Longaker '18), Margot Louria (Felice Jerecky '20), Gertrud Michelson (Franziska Boas '23), Mildred Moore (Mildred Downs '10), Elizabeth Richards (Betty Price '24), Elaine Roush (Myla Thayer '24) and Barbara Schuster (Irma Hahn '17).

SAVE FEBRUARY TWELFTH

In the coming events department also is Alumnae Day, this year on Wednesday, February 12. The luncheon and Dean Gildersleeve's tea will be among the traditional highlights but there may be surprises in the afternoon program. You won't find any more details about the day on any page in this issue but you'll receive a full announcement in your mail box some January morning.

OUR OWN AGONY COLUMN

MUFTI PALLS—AMERICAN RED CROSS BATTLE jacket and slacks in R.A.F. blue, size 14, urgently needed by June Williams '39, 287 Jessamine Avenue, Yonkers 2, N. Y.

DR. MARION HOWARD, 77 HOWE STREET, NEW Haven, Conn. has an ancient but usable microscope to dispose of. Any ideas?

SURPLUS PROPERTY FOR EXCHANGE OR SALE: Zeiss-Ikon camera with 4.5 Lessar lens. Takes 3 x 5½ pictures, and has handsome leather case. Clara Carnelson Brody '36, 441 Sheffield Avenue, Brooklyn.

WE HAVE NO ROOM FOR A THRIFT SHOP Story, but the Thrift Shop has room for your usable cast-offs and white elephants, which it can hocus-pocus into scholarships.

HAVE GOOD BLACK SHOE SKATES IN SIZES 11 and 2 (children's). Will swap either or both for white or black ones, sizes 1 and 4½ or 5; or what have you? McWhite, 13 Summit Avenue, Baldwin, N. Y.

BARNARD PUBLISHES

JEANETTE MIRSKY '24: The Westward Crossings (Alfred A. Knopf). Three expeditions westward to stake out a continent are the subject matter of this manuscript of historical importance.

IRMA SIMONTON BLACK '27: Off to a Good Start (Harcourt Brace). Practical psychological handling of the pre-school child.

DOROTHY B. HUGHES '36: Ride the Pink Horse (Duell, Sloan and Pearce). A typical Hughes thriller.

EDNA LONIGAN '16: Where is the Opposition Party? (Human Events pamphlet, No. 10. 1946)

LENORE G. MARSHALL '19: Unknown Artist, a short story in the Winter issue of The Virginia Quarterly Review.

MARJORIE MARKS MAYER '21: Answer Me This. A short story in Woman's Home Companion, November 1946. (Another will appear in a few months.)

DIANA CHANG '49: Three poems in Poetry: A Magazine of Verse, November 1946.

Doing it with Distinction

Along about the turn of the century, a blue-eyed girl came out of the West to join Barnard's class of 1903. Her name was Helen Rogers, and she is now Mrs. Ogden Reid, vice-president of the New York Herald Tribune, a trustee of the college, and easily our second most famous alumna.

The Hundred Year Association of New York, Inc., an organization of business establishments that have been continuously conducted in the city for a period of a century or more, at its fourteenth annual dinner this fall, presented to Mrs. Ogden Reid one of its two gold medal awards. (The other was given to His Eminence, Francis Cardinal Spellman, Archbishop of New York.)

In quoting from the citation accompanying the award to Mrs. Reid, the Alumnae Magazine expresses its gratitude to the Hundred Year Association for neatly compressing into a few words the achievements of this distinguished daughter of Barnard—a task which we could probably not have accomplished so well in an entire issue:

Your achievements and contributions in many fields have been honored before. You are a Doctor of Literature of the University of Miami. You are a Doctor of Laws and Letters of Oglethorpe University. Rollins College and Lafayette University have made you a Doctor of Humanities. You have been awarded the Degree of Doctor of More Humanities by Syracuse University.

But the Hundred Year Association awards you its Gold Medal tonight specifically for your notable contributions to the cultural, the intellectual and the social life of the City of New York. . . .

Few persons have done so much for New York in so many ways. As vice-president of the New York Herald Tribune, you have had your part in shaping a great metropolitan newspaper, one in which high editorial standards and the human touch go hand in hand. As the animating spirit of the Herald Tribune Forum, you have shown that there is a place—and an important place—in the great metropolis for a town meeting. . . . In many ways, these Forums best typify your genius for organization, dynamic personality and profound interest in people and their problems.

In New York's philanthropy, similarly, you have taken front rank. . . . Your counsel and inspiration have been sought also in the field of higher education. You have served loyally and well—as Trustee of New York's Barnard College.

Helen Rogers Reid '03

The Hundred Year Association is delighted to honor you tonight for the many fine things you have done for the people of our community. . . .

Our Overseas News

KEEPING UP with our Barnard wanderers in far places is shaping up into quite a job; but we seem to be stuck with it, so here goes:

A prospective Barnard son-in-law, Roger Thomas Meservey, was born in Istanbul, Turkey on September 22. His mama is of course Sabra Follett '45, whom older alumnae will remember as the poised young undergraduate president who offered to head a squad of Barnard red-caps for the Dean's journey to San Francisco. Sabra teaches second year English at the American College for Girls, and her husband, Edward B. Meservey, is a professor in charge of freshman engineering physics at Robert College.

Julie Hodges '44, another exported English teacher, is again in Pierce College, Athens (whose president is Katharine MacElroy '23) after spending her summer vacation in London.

Back home in Eindhoven, Holland, since last January, Tineke van Walsem '42 has been acting as Dutch editorial representative for Time and Life, doing research, writing and cabling there and from Belgium. She reports her engagement to Mr. A. D. Vas Nunes (L. L. D. Leyden University) who is a secretary with the Dutch Legation in Belgrade, Yugoslavia.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

The ones who do come home don't seem to stay put. Carol Franz '37, after 26 months in Europe with the Red Cross, came home this summer, was awarded a Red Cross citation for faithful and meritorious service, and promptly reenlisted. She is back in Germany as we write this. . . . Denise Abbey '33 was home on a 30 day furlough—long enough to visit the campus and to address the Barnard Club of Washington—and returned to her State Department post in Austria. Grace Norris '37 doffed her WAC uniform only to go to work in mufti for the Army Special Services. She has been travelling in Germany, France, Italy, Switzerland and England.

Ruth Anderson '33 reports her marriage in Berlin to Samuel Irving Katz, an economist from Nashville, Tennessee, by way of the London School of Economics. Ruth is now an assistant secretary with the Allied Control Authority.

Dear to Barnard hearts is Reid Hall in Paris, the international educational center and residence for university women. Our Dean is its president; Mrs. Ogden Reid (Helen Rogers '03) its vice-president, and Virginia Newcomb '00 its secretary. Over 10,000 women from all over the world partook of its hospitality during the period between the two wars, and it is with joy that they and many other thousands will greet the announcement by Dean Gildersleeve that it will reopen in 1947. Dorothy Leet '17, is now in Paris to accomplish its re-establishment along expanded lines. She was Director of Reid Hall from 1924 to 1938, and a member of the Board of Directors, and was decorated by the French Government with the Legion of Honor.

Taking a long hop to the Far East, we quote from Enid Pugh '42: I have been in India just seven months now, and in spite of a lot of hard work and discouragements and awful weather, I am having a wonderful time. For four months I have been up in the hills within sight (on a clear day) of the snow-covered Himalayas, attending language school, and I'm beginning to think and dream in Hindustani by now, after speaking nothing else all day. In a few days, I shall be starting out on a couple of months travel around North India, and then settle down to more language study and a lot more fun on the plains.

Also in India, after a visit home to Pennsylvania with her young son, is Betty Lundy Nimbkar '26. She has been receiving training at the New Jersey State Hospital, and completing a course at the Philadelphia School of Occupational Therapy. The school which she established at Khar, outside of Bombay, for all castes of Hindus and including Mohammedans, Protestants and Catholics, was donated to a local society in 1940 and Mrs. Nimbkar was made a trustee for life.

On our way back to the U. S. mainland we pause in Honolulu, T. H. to note that Mildred Reed '46 is a research assistant with the United States Commercial Company, doing a socio-anthropological survey of the Pacific islands; and to quote from a recent letter from Frances Porter Moulton '32 of the Iolani School . . . my husband is head of the Department of Religious Education for the Lower School and Chaplain to 600 boys of all races, and I am an instructor in the Lower School. I have a guilty feeling that the birth of our son—now almost a man of 2 years—was not reported as of August 13, 1944, to bring the number of our offspring up to three.

So we return to Morningside. Won't you home-bound alumnae continue to share with us all your news from far places?

CALLING ALL ALUMNAE TO REGISTER

Fill out your blue slip and mail it today!

Don't be negligent, unsociable, indifferent. As time goes by, you will be more and more proud of being a Barnard alumna. See that you take your place properly in this new register, instead of appearing as "Address unknown."

You need not record your annual earnings, if you do not wish to. We suggest it so that we may be able to compile interesting and valuable statistical tables. Your individual entry of this information will be private, not for publication.

This register will tell you only what all the 7500 graduates of Barnard are now doing, and where they are. If complete, it will be a source of correct information for the college, the Associate Alumnae and for YOU, when you receive a free copy of this handsome WHO'S WHO.

Alumnae, respond! This is the tie that binds.

Clare M. Howard, '03

Editor of the Alumnae Register

THE BARNARD CLUBS

BERGEN

Barnard-in-Bergen opened its 1946-47 season with a pot-luck supper on Monday evening, October 21, at the Girl Scout Little House, Teaneck, where all future meetings will take place. Miss Eleanor Hyde, Sophomore Adviser at Barnard, spoke on "The Perils of Publishing." Louise Ulsteen Syversen '33, chairman, arranged an excellent supper and program.

Martha Lawrence '41, taking over as president, announced the appointment of the following directors: Olga Bendix '33, Eleanor Freer '29, Aileen Pelletier Winkopp '33, Mary Lucchi '45, Wilhelmina Scully Gustafson '25, Marion La Fountain Peck '17, Edna Ruckner '26, and Sarena Roome '15.

Chairmen of standing committees are Olga Bendix, Program; Eleanor Freer, Ways and Means; Helen L. Mauch '21, Scholarship; Aileen Pelletier Winkopp, Publicity, and Mary Lucchi, Membership. Other officers are Elizabeth Marting '34, Vice President; Helen Chamberlain '30, Corresponding Secretary; Hazel Gulbrandsen Clemens '34, Recording Secretary, and Grace Reining Updegrove '30, Treasurer.

Mme. Charlotte Muret of the Barnard history department described social and political conditions in Europe at the meeting of November 18. Europe is jittery about Russia, she said, while France has little or no faith in the success of UN. Mme Muret has just returned from a leave of absence spent in France.

There will be no December meeting of the club. Dr. Florrie Holzwasser '11, of the Department of Geology, who took an exciting trip through Central and South America during the summer and early fall, will be the guest speaker at the meeting to be held on January 21 at the Girl Scout Little House in Teaneck.

LOS ANGELES

The Barnard Club of Los Angeles County held a luncheon meeting on Saturday, October 5, 1946 at the home of Margaret Kutner Ritter '12. Those present were Helen Beery Borders '31, Jessie Brown '02, Elizabeth Polyzoides Dawson '33, Eva Glassbrook Hanson '22, Marie Luckenbacher '21, Elsa Mehler '12, Rosalind Jones Morgan '23, Eleanor Taylor Oaks '19, Margaret Kutner Ritter '12, Beatrice Stern '25, Ruth Weill '24. The Club was pleased to welcome as a new member Joan Harper Lauer '15, and to have her daughter as a guest.

Helen Borders spoke briefly about the activities of this year's Garden Party held in July at the home of Miss Sally Holt of Pasadena. Many prospective students for the Seven Colleges attended.

Jessie Brown reported on the luncheon meeting of the representatives of the Seven College Conference which was held in September at the Assistance League. New officers for the Conference were elected as follows: Mrs. Frederick W. Hanson (Eva Glassbrook '22) Barnard, President; Mrs. George M. Guild, Bryn Mawr, Vice-President; Miss Margaret Ray, Vassar, Secretary; Mrs. Harold Birnbaum, Radcliffe, Treasurer. The Conference accepted with regret the resignation of Jessie Brown, who so ably acted as president for the past two years.

BROOKLYN

Barnard-in-Brooklyn held its annual Hallowe'en party and first business meeting of the year on October 30 at the home of its president, Adelaide Paterno '36. Those present were Dorothy Barta '22, Marie Ward Doty '36, Amalia Gianella Hamilton '16, Edith Hardwick '15, Elise M. Hinkson '44, Florence M. Hoagland '37, Margaret M. Jennings '29, Lucie A. Petri '14, Esther Davison Reichner '25, Helen Meehan Riley '22, Winifred L. Sheridan '34, Dorothy Krier Thelander '15, Lucy I. Thompson '09, Clara Udey Watts '30, and Adelaide Whitehill '30.

The guest speaker was Ramona Thelander, Barnard '48, who furnished us with interesting highlights on her six weeks study at Laval University, Quebec, this past summer on a scholarship from La Societe des Professeurs Français en Amerique.

Plans were made for a festive and active year.

NEW YORK

This year's Club Christmas Party will be held on Friday, December 20, with Helen Murphy '15, and Ruth Bedford McDaniel '35, as the senior and junior Chairmen. Child patients of the New York Orthopedic Hospital will receive our annual collection of toys. Serving on the committee are Margaret Terriberry Thomas '15, Louise Barling Wiedhopf '13, Mildred Uhrbrock '22, Ruth Evans '15, Millicent Bridegroom '39, Emma Louise Smith Rainwater '39, Electra Guizot Demas '36, and Regina Cropsey '40.

The tea chairmen for this year are Yvonne Moen Cumerford '24, and Mary Shields '37. Under their supervision a tea for the Teens Classes, 1910-1919, will be held on December 9, with Mary Vora Jacques '10, Sabina Rogers '17, and Rosalie Nathan Hendricks '16, as hostesses. On January 27, the Twenties Classes, 1920-1929, will be the special guests, and will be received by Marie Uhrbrock '20, Elva French Hale '25, and Alice Ittner Macaulay '28. On January 13, our non-business-and-professional members will have their day, with an afternoon party and early tea for Stay-at-Homes. Their hostesses will be Mary Kenny Allen '14, Emma Henry '27, Lucy Welch '35, and Suzanne Cole '44.

The annual Bridge Party will be held in January, under the chairmanship of Helena Archibald Waller '24 and Jane Merrill '41.

PHILADELPHIA

Barnard-in-Philadelphia had its first meeting of the season on October 17 in the Club Women's Center of Gimbel Brothers, Philadelphia. There were about twenty present including Florence Sanville '01, Sari Fenyo Kalish ex'29, Carolyn Whipple Phillips '19, Virginia

Brown Kreuzer '29, Mary Barber '18, Alice Newman Anderson '22, Katharine Browne Steble '25, Elaine Kennard Geiger '20, and Eugenia Wilson McCutcheon '29. There were three tables of bridge, and others came in later for tea.

The new quarters were found so pleasant and agreeable, and the center-city location so convenient to everyone, that we decided to have another meeting at the same place on Wednesday, January 15, 1947. All Barnard alumnae in the Philadelphia area are cordially invited to join the group. Send your name to Mrs. Thomas McCutcheon, Smoke-house Farm, Downingtown, Penn.

PITTSBURGH

The Barnard Club of Pittsburgh had its first meeting of the season at the College Club where we met for luncheon. We were pleased to have as our guests Nancy Cameron, a senior at Barnard, and Dorothy, a junior. As active undergraduates the girls informed us of recent developments at Barnard.

We agreed to send the total amount of the funds which we raised last year to the Barnard Alumnae Fund.

Those present at the meeting were: Hazel Burkholder '12, Margaret Hatfield Breckenridge '26, Lucille Fiske Cuntz '30, Mary Pyle Fleck '24, Lillian Friedman '20, M. E. Lester ex'35, Maxine Rothschild Male '31, and Hattie Sondheim '15.

WESTCHESTER

The Barnard College Club in Westchester awarded its scholarships this year to two New Rochelle girls: Muriel Magnusson of the Isaac Young High School and Irma Meincke of the New Rochelle High School. Both girls participated in school activities and will major in chemistry and English, respectively. The scholarship committee which made the final decision was under the chairmanship of Natalie Shinn Smith '06.

The first general meeting of the club took place Saturday, September 28, at the Bronxville Library, where Mr. Dana Caulkins, superintendent of recreation in Westchester, spoke on community responsibility for young people after school hours.

The season's big event, our annual scholarship card party, took place Saturday afternoon, October 19, at the Contemporary Club in White Plains. Helen McBride Schucker ex'28 was in charge and arranged a fur fashion show with club members as models. In addition to table prizes there were special prizes, and a fur-piece was donated for a door prize. Local chairmen were: Dorothy Kattenhorn '44, Helen Appel '32, Helen Phillips '33, Adele Vorhees Norton Hubbell ex'38, Barbra Thompson '44, Marilyn Haggerty '43, Natalie Sperling Prudden '30, Josephine Jacquin Penn '31, Helga Gaarder '22, and Mary Fleming Jerace '39.

Mr. William E. Haskell, Executive Vice-President of the Herald Tribune, spoke on current problems, or in his own words, "What's Doing" at the November 19 meeting at the New Rochelle Y.M.C.A. The chairman of the evening was Irma Habn Schuster '17 and refreshments were served under the direction of Gretchen Torek Stein '20.

CLASS NOTES

1901

ELIZABETH ROBERTS COMPTON

The class announces with sorrow the death on October 8 of Elizabeth C. Roberts Compton, wife of Alfred D. Compton, former professor of English at the City College. Her classmates send their sincere sympathy to him and to their sons Alfred D. and George Compton, and to her sister, Miss Mathilda Roberts and her brother, Martin H. Roberts.

Elizabeth Compton's life was spent in thoughtful service for others—family, friends, class and college. During summers at Woods Hole, she was one of the organizers and directors of the children's summer school of science. For many years as class chairman of the Barnard Alumnae Fund she wrote delightful friendly letters to her classmates, and graciously acknowledged their gifts. Equally whole-heartedly she worked for the Barnard Thrift Shop; and her services to that cause are difficult to estimate and impossible to replace.

Both the class of 1901 and Barnard have lost a devoted friend.

Pauline H. Dederer '01.

1903

Elsa Naumberg Herzfeld was admitted to limited partnership in the firm of Herzfeld and Stern on November 1.

1904

Florence Hubbard has retired from the secretaryship of Adelphi Academy, and is spending this winter in Florida.

1907

Sophie Woodman, who battled with pneumonia for ten weeks last winter, is now on sabbatical leave and has moved to Greenfield, Mass. She expects to teach next spring, and then retire.

FRENCH HONOR AWARD

Hélène Harvitt '07 Editor-in-Chief of the French Review, received the Award of Honor from the Faculty of Brooklyn College at Honors Day, October 10, 1946. The award reads:

Your scholarly devotion to the humanities has helped broaden the spiritual horizon of our students by acquainting them with the great cultural contributions of France. As a skilful interpreter of the civilizations of both countries, you have drawn closer the bonds of amity of their peoples. Honored by your eminence in the field of Franco-American cultural relations, the Faculty of Brooklyn College confers upon you this Award of Honor.

1908

Mary Murtha Webb is now principal of all the schools on the great sugar plantation in La Romana, Santo Domingo. Preparing students for colleges in the United States and England has been especially difficult during recent years, with transportation so curtailed.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

. . . Bessie Beers Carman, for five years president of the Woman's Society of Christian Service in her church in Jamaica, L. I., has now been elected president of the district U.S.C.S.

1913

Mary Stewart Colley is in the school and camp information service of the Child Study Association of America.

1914

Sarah Sturges has resigned as superintendent of the Woods Haven School for Girls at Claymont, Del., to become superintendent of the Baptist Home for the Aged.

1918

Helen R. Brown is superintendent of nurses at the Fitkin Memorial Hospital in Neptune, N. J. . . . Mary Welleck Garretson is now teaching in the Columbia School of Mines, in a laboratory, and tells us that she is the first woman instructor in the School of Mines.

1919

Lucy Hayner has been promoted to the rank of assistant professor in the Department of Physics at Columbia.

1922

Edith Mendel Stern spoke on "Mental Hospitals, 1946" at the recent annual meeting of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene. . . . Eva Hutchison Dirkes is working at the New York headquarters of the Girl Scouts. . . . Noreen Labiff has been teaching mathematics in the Forest Hills High School since 1942.

Louise Emerson Ronnebeck has won acclaim as a muralist in Denver, Colorado, where she and her husband, a well-known sculptor, have their home. Notable among her works is a series of four large murals, depicting the United Nations, in the United Service Men's center. Others decorate the Morey Junior High School, the Denver General Hospital, and several western in post offices. While she is best known for her murals, she has also done many fine portraits and other small paintings.

1923

Dorothy Shatz Rosenberg is a credit interviewer at Abraham and Straus. . . . Georgene Hoffman Seward is an assistant professor of psychology and a supervisor in the psychological service center at U. S. C. Her daughter Barbara is a sophomore at Barnard.

1926

We have learned with regret of the death on August 30, 1946, of our classmate Marian Paschal.

Ruth Coleman Bilchick is back in New York, where here husband has resumed his medical practice after Army service. Her daughter, Amelia Caldor, is starting her freshman year at Barnard.

1927

Christine Sealy is copy-writing for Noma Products, Inc. . . . Winifred Little is secretary and administrative assistant to the director of the junior college division at Danbury (Conn.) State Teachers College.

1928

Harriet M. Tyng is now director of the Lower School at the Emma Willard School in Troy, N. Y. . . . Born to Dr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Pfeiffer (Gertrude Smith), their fourth child, a son, on October 11.

1929

Dorothy Schaefer Genghof is an assistant to Dr. Vincent Vigneau, a biochemist, at Cornell Medical College. . . . Amy Gene, the second child of Edith Spivak Goldstein, was born on October 31. . . . Winifred E. Cullen, who was separated from the WAC as a major, was married on November 24 to Richard J. Brandt. They will live in Curitiba, Brazil.

Do you S A G Like an s

When You'd Rather TAPER Like a T?

Or Are You Just SPORTS-HUNGRY?

Either Way . . .

TUESDAY SPORT NIGHTS

Barnard Gymnasium 7.30 - 9.30 P.M.

February 4 - May 20, 1947

For Barnard Alumnae and Friends

. . . Are For You

You'll Get

Basic Rhythmics
Badminton
Swimming
Deck Tennis
Volley-ball and Basket-ball

You'll Need

Sports outfit and sneakers
Bathing cap (suit and towel free)
Badminton equipment
Sturdy padlock for locker
$5.00 for the fee

(Registration slips will be mailed in January)

1930

Mr. and Mrs. Donald B. Woodward (Joan Davis) are the proud parents of their first child, Penelope Ann, born July 26, 1946.

Mary Dublin Keyserling continues a notable career in government service as chief of the special programs division of the Department of Commerce. This division analyzes applications from foreign nations for U. S. government loans. Before joining the Commerce Department, she was in the liberated areas division of the Foreign Economics Administration, and prior to that worked for the Tolan Committee, studying the problems of migratory workers and war-boom towns. She was American delegate to the UNRRA conference in London last summer.

1931

Marjorie Bahouth Smiley is an instructor in English at New York University.

1932

A daughter, Anna Elizabeth, was born on September 25, 1945 to Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fincke (Betty Jervis). The Finckes are now living in Austin, Texas. . . . John Wilton was born in August to the George Dieters (Isabel Nelson) of Spokane, Wash. . . . Also in August, William and Caroline Atz Hastorf became the parents of Peter William.

Gertrude Clarke Featherstone was married on July 21, 1946 to Enoch Brown. . . . Another wedding reported is that of Hilda Markwood to Leon Lucas. . . . Kathleen Smith (ex '32), recently a lieutenant in the WAVES, is secretary to Mr. William Golden, New York.

1933

1933 gets around! . . . Gena Tenney Phenix is in Northfield, Minnesota where her husband is teaching philosophy. . . . Ruth Conklin Syer may be found in Boston where her husband has an appointment at the Boston University School of Education. . . . Marjorie Pariser Koppman and her two sons are now living in Dallas, Texas. . . . Ruth Lasalle is news editor of Mining World 'way out in Arizona. . . . Katherine Bush, returned from four years Red Cross hospital work in England, on the continent and in the Philippines, is now chief of social service at the Shreveport (La.) regional office of the V. A. . . . Evelyn Abrend Feltenstein, who was one of the founders of the Downtown Community School, is one of its trustees and a teacher in its Adult Workshop. . . . Following her return from London where she was with the Red Cross as assistant director of the Hans Crescent Club, Jean Ware was married in October to Joseph F. Sharp. . . . A second daughter, Nancy Harriet, was born on November 7 to Edith Ogur Reisner.

1934

On July 23, Alice Kendikian became Mrs. John H. Carskaden. . . . Fayette Smith was a senior staff assistant and acting club director with the American Red

Winter Fun

In The Poconos

Only 3 Hours Away

Enjoy the maximum of Winter Sports with the minimum of travel plus the comforts of this 300-room, modern fireproof hotel.

OUTDOORS • Skiing, Tobogganing, Skating, Sleighing, Riding, Hiking. Sports facilities reserved for overnight guests.

INDOORS • Dancing, Movies, Concerts, Bridge, Cozy Fireplaces, Meals to match mountain appetites.

Advance Reservations Necessary

The Inn

New York Office
630 Fifth Avenue
Tel. Circle 5-5620

BUCK HILL FALLS • PA.

Styles & Cash, Inc.

17 West 45th Street

New York, N. Y.

BRyant 9-3522

Diaries and Calendars

for 1947

Printers and Stationers

John A. Eckert & Co.

99 John Street

New York

N. Y.

COrtland 7-9300

●
Insurance

Specialists

●
REQUEST OUR RATES

BEFORE

PLACING YOUR

INSURANCE ELSEWHERE

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

Cross from 1943-1946. . . . Marjorie Hirsch Kavey rescues herself from the lost list by writing that she is living in Port Chester and has two children, Madelon Ilene, 7 and Neil Barton, 3.

1935

Kathryn Heavey, student nurse at Kingston Hospital where she expects to finish early next year, was in New York this fall studying pediatrics at Bellevue.

1936

Recent marriages are those of Elizabeth Dew to A. Langley Searles . . . and Charlotte Haverly to Frederick A. Braucher, Jr. The Brauchers are living in Oak Park, Illinois.

1937

The new assistant to the Dean of the School of Philosophy and Liberal Arts at the New School for Social Research is Ursula Reinhardt Freimarck. . . . Frances Bingham Dale is an assistant in the publicity

BOYD AND MANNING

Agency

OFFICE PERSONNEL

MARION BOYD '09, JANE MANNING, Owners
489 Fifth Avenue, New York, N. Y. MU 2-1810

Rose Mae

DRESSES FOR YOU

2177 Broadway at 77th St. New York 24

TRafalgar 4-9899

Store Hours: 10 A.M. to 6:30 P.M.

Monday Eve. to 10 P.M.

DISTINCTIVE HATS for the INDIVIDUAL WOMAN

Fashionable expressions of your personality in town, resort and travel hats selected by you from a collection of irresistible materials.

Elizabeth Schuler

58 East 53rd Street, New York
PLaza 3-5789

department of the New York office of the French Line. . . . Anne V. McLaren was married in September to John Stevens, former lieutenant-colonel and historian with the 10th Army.

Gertrude Graff Herrstadt is vocational adviser with the Veterans Advisory Center of the University of Pennsylvania. . . . Mr. and Mrs. William Wyman Mallory (June Smith, ex '37) have announced the birth of Richard Smith Mallory.

1938

Audrey Snyder is psychological research assistant to Dr. Kelly while studying for her Ph.D. in psychology at the University of Michigan. . . . Ruth Insko Buchanan is a librarian on TIME magazine. . . . Felicia Deyrup teaches economics at Brooklyn College. . . . Jane Block is an assistant in the export department at Pal Blade Co. . . . Married—Mary Mesier to George Dimock, Jr. in July.

1939

Esther Larash Gruber reports the arrival of Wilbur Joseph, Jr. . . . Martha Ankeney is now Mrs. Elwood J. Schaffer. . . . Janet Younker was married on November 9 to Dr. Samuel E. Haskel. . . . Toni Vaughn Wagner announces her return to this vicinity from five years of wandering and varied experience. She has two children, Carol, four and Charles, two. At present she is engaged in Girl Scout work in Leonia where the Wagners are living.

1940

Rose Eitingon Field writes that her second daughter, Lauren W. was born on July 26. . . . Marian Riley Beggs announced the arrival of a daughter on September 13. . . . And another future Barnardite was born to Jane Hoyt Lamb on November 9.

Caryl Reeve Granttham has been working with the Republican State Committee in promotion and public relations. . . . Catherine Donna Vint is assisting Professor Clifford B. Upton in the writing of 8th grade mathematics books for the American Book Company. . . . Marianna Norris has her own radio program on WNYC—"Around New York Today." She is also giving a course in radio acting at Finch Junior College.

1941

Chester Arthur Bain Jr., whose mother is June Wilson Bain, arrived September 19. . . . Ronald Parrish Wells was born to Elizabeth Throop Wells on October 7.

Bettina Boynton is a teacher-in-training at Arthur Murray's. . . . Adeline Bostelman is an assistant field director with the American Red Cross in the Veterans Hospital at Canandaigua, N. Y. . . . Anne Connolly Carroll has been home on furlough from the American Embassy in Rome, where she is in the office of the State Department representative on the Allied Commission. She reports that she has a house in the suburbs, a car, and two maids!!!!

Antoinette Loézère is doing graduate work at Georgetown University. . . . Dorothy Pierce is an accountant with the Claydon Printing Co. . . . Emily Schoonover is an analytical chemist in the Stamford Research Laboratories of American Cyanamid Co., Stamford, Conn. She recently returned from Red Cross work as a staff assistant in the European theatre of operations.

BARNARD COLLEGE ALUMNAE MAGAZINE

1942

Glafyra Fernandez married Patrick John Ennis on November 9. . . . Anne B. Gibbons recently returned from Ankara, Turkey, where she was administrative assistant at the American Embassy, was married on Thanksgiving Day to William F. Ross. . . . Dorothy Eckley Straub reports that Theresa Elizabeth was born August 19. . . . Eric Walter, the son of Janet Quinn Eichacker, arrived September 15. . . . Madeline Preuss Burston is the mother of Suzanne Helen, born last July. . . . Lucy Pollard Guthe is working for the Social Relations Department at Harvard University on a project supported by the Social Science Research Council.

1943

In Paris on September 17, Viviane de Charrière (Mme Gérard Fougères) became the mother of Jean-Marc. . . . Paul Ambrose is the very new son of the Theodore deBarys (Fanny Brett) Ottolie Glennon and Robert E. Johnson are the parents of Suzanne, born October 17.

Frances Donnellan is now Mrs. Archibald R. Updike, Jr. . . . Elaine Ascher was married to Warren B. Kohn on October 27. . . . Edith Kingdon Gould, released from the WAVES in January, was married in October to Guy Martin.

Helen Sweeney Tynan is living in Turin, Italy, where her husband is vice-consul. . . . Allison Forbes is a social worker for the Children's Aid Society of Connecticut. . . . Betty Haithwaite teaches photography in the training department of the Eastman Kodak Company in Rochester. . . . Deborah Burstein Karp commutes from Paterson, N. J. to the wilds of Long Island, where she is an assistant in English at Hofstra College. . . . Enid Belding is studying public law and government at Columbia.

1944

Rolande Redon, released from the WAVES in June, is studying at the University of Wisconsin with her new husband, James N. Purse, II. . . . Bertha Guilhempe was married in June to James Vincent Modica. They are living in Los Angeles, where he is continuing his studies for the doctorate. . . . Nancy Eberly, who as a lieutenant (j.g.) in the WAVES worked in confidential communications, was married on September 20 to Lieut. Comm. Stuart MacClintock, U. S. N. R. She has returned to the campus as an assistant in the Barnard Library. . . . Other marriages include that of Edna Fredericks to Malcom W. Engeron; Eleanor Dun to William Wolf; and Sibyl Herzog to Joseph F. Grubstein; Gloria Glaston to Alan Y. Cole; and Joelyn Littauer to Samuel F. Pogue.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph P. Holohan (Marilyn Collyer) are the proud parents of a son, born September 23.

Mary Pensyl works in Philadelphia as a promotional secretary for the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. . . . Dolores Pember writes copy in the advertising department of John Wanamaker.

"Green Shadows"

LYME, CONNECTICUT

A New England farm house with comfortable, steam-heated rooms, coal heat and open fireplaces. Modern conveniences and restful atmosphere. Cottages. Skating when there's ice. For information and reservations write to—

MISS MARGUERITE SLAWSON
Green Shadows, Old Lyme, Connecticut

Unusual Gifts

MEXICAN POTTERY AND GLASS
TOYS AND NOVELTIES
JEWELRY, TRAYS, FOREIGN DOLLS
BABY GIFTS

D. V. BAZINET, Inc.

1228 AMSTERDAM AVENUE NEW YORK

DIRECT FROM FASHION SHOW

Magnificent Genuine

FUR COATS $95

(Show room samples slightly higher)

LARGE ASSORTMENT

OF VARIOUS FURS

made of finest quality pelts, beautifully lined, latest styles.

LEONA STUDIO

Hotel Breslin Suite 610

Broadway at 29 Street

New York 1, N. Y. MURRAY HILL 5-9601

HOURS: 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

(later by appointment)

. . . Helen Cahn is a section manager in the better millinery department of Saks Fifth Avenue. . . . Mary Sue Reed is working in the housing bureau at the University of Vermont, in Burlington. . . . Evinda Hinrichson is a student at the Fordham University Law School. . . . Charlotte McKenzie has entered the novitiate of the Maryknoll Convent at Ossining, N. Y., preparatory to foreign missionary work.

1945

The activities of the class of '45 are spreading rapidly in every direction. . . . Ruth Bischoff is doing computations for the engineering division at the Jet Propulsion lab, which is supervised by the California Institute of Technology . . . while Mary Louise Barrett represents John C. Winston, book and Bible publishers, in England.

June Wals juggles figures for H. Charles Kwasha, Consulting Actuary. . . . Jane Vaughan is a junior executive at Macy's. . . . Hope Simon, with an M.A. from the Foreign Service Education Foundation, assists the director of the Institute of Studies of Comparative Government in Education at Teachers College. . . . Maud Wellman is a receptionist in the personnel office of Montgomery Ward in New York. . . . Schocken Books, Inc., has a new secretary in Betty Sachs. . . . Muriel

The Barnard Camp

They seem to be doing all right!

Why don't You try it one of these Week-Ends?

Dec. 20-22	Jan. 3- 5
Dec. 27-29	Jan. 17-19
Jan. 24-26

Alumnae may invite non-Barnard women friends as guests. Make plans in good time through:

Cosette Utech, 410 Riverside Drive

New York 25, N. Y. MOnument 2-1163

Combs Yeakey is a stenographer at Gilman, Nicoll and Ruthman, publishers' representatives. . . .

Tatiana Khmel received a $500 fellowship for graduate study in social work, the second of ten awarded by the Borden Company Foundation, Inc. through the Girl Scouts of America. She will complete work for her M.S. degree at the New York School of Social Work and will then be appointed to the professional Scouting staff. . . . Helen Seibert Martin is a junior psychiatric social worker in the Mental Hygiene Bureau of the New Jersey State Hospital in Trenton. . . . Margaret M. Greene teaches English at the Ellenville (N. Y.) High School. . . . Marjorie Quackenbos Adams has taken over primary grades and music appreciation classes at the Riverdale School. . . . Sally Mather is a secretary at the Metropolitan Museum of Art . . . and Aida Villafane Hines is a bacteriological assistant at Warner Laboratories.

And how could the class of '45 hold its own without a few additional husbands? Marcia Barishman became Dr. Arnold Polonsky's wife on August 20. . . . Lillian Tassini is now Mrs. Walter Kyle. . . . Jean Neel married Dr. Eli Karnoff on July .

1946

Two '46 grads represent Barnard in the air—Rosemary Sullivan is an interviewer in the personnel office of American Airlines and Zelma Jane Smith is secretary to the chief pilot of the American Airlines. . . . On the ground but far away is Claudia Marck, who is at the Sorbonne in Paris, busy with comparative literature and Slavonic studies.

The rest of the class of '46 is sticking close to home territory, more or less, with several still loyal to the Columbia campus. . . . Barbara H. Fox is a part time assistant in the Social Affairs Office at Barnard. . . . Bettina Liebowitz is librarian at the university's French House. . . . Winifred Drackett Schumacher does secretarial work at the Union Theological Seminary. . . . and Gloria Strauss is a library assistant at Ella Weed.

There are secretaries and teachers and assistants galore. . . . Doris Kearney is a secretary with the UN. . . . Barbara Klar is a statistical assistant with the National Bureau of Economic Research. . . . Doris Clark, Polly Conklin and Marjorie Honig are statistical assistants for the Milbank Memorial Fund. . . . Arolyn Hodgkins is a field worker with the same organization. At present, she is concentrating on a study of respiratory diseases in two Westchester County communities. . . . Hedva Hadas is a research assistant to the educational director of the Women's Division of the American Jewish Congress. . . . Eleanor Aliesky has the same title at Fuller, Smith and Ross, New York advertising agency. . . . Jean Wenk is a laboratory assistant at P and S. . . . Charlotte Byer is the same at the New York Post Graduate Medical School and Hospital. . . . Joan Leff is a research assistant to Rabbi Louis Finkelstein, President of the Jewish Theological Seminary. . . . Eleanor Eckles assists the head of the job evaluation department of Dun and Bradstreet. . . . Gloria Siff Levien is editorial assistant at Town and Country magazine. . . . Doris Carrington directs teen-age programs at the Summit (N. J.) Y.W.C.A.

Teachers include Virginia Sarafianos McCrory, who has been appointed teacher of mathematics and science at the Emma Willard school. . . . Susan Weaver spreads knowledge at the Meredith Country School in New Hampshire. . . . And Dorothy Florence Iseman at the Washington Seminary Junior College. . . . Audrey Middlebrook teaches American history at Dumont High (N. J.) School.

Helen Doherty is testing milk at Muller Dairies. . . . Nancy Beal does membership, organizing and publicity work for the American Automobile Association. . . . Barbara Goodrich Schulberg sells cameras at Dowling's, Inc. . . . Joan Emmerich is a receptionist at Arthur Murray's. . . . Wedding bells for Isabel Griffin, now Mrs. William Webb . . . And the stork for Mr. and Mrs. George C. O'Neill, nee Betty Dross, proud parents of September-born Michael Gonzalo.

Do You Know Where They Are?

The resemblance between members of the Alumnae Office staff and bloodhounds has recently become alarming—well, alarming to us and our families. Before we take on any more canine characteristics, won't you volunteer some clues about the alumnae listed below whom the Alumnae Office has lost or temporarily mislaid? If you don't know directly of their whereabouts, perhaps you can suggest to us the names of other classmates who can help us find them.

Through your help about half of the lost alumnae whose names appeared in the June issue were found. We are republishing here the other half, as well as the names of "long lost"; and we have added those whose Alumnae Register questionnaires have been the first piece of mail returned to us by the Post Office and whom we have not been able to track down yet. How about it, fellow sleuths?

1901 Olive Kellogg Edith Berry Schimmel	1916 Estelle Albert Bertha Albrecht Bernd Caroline R. Fajans Mary Nathanson Hartill Susanne Weinstein Loeb Miriam Campbell White	Margaret Whitehead Hoge Frances Alexander Jacobs Katharine H. Norris Elvira Costa Plager Sadie Sender Helen F. Williams	1933 Isabel Lewis Alvarez Elsa Nilsson Foster Elsie E. King Ruth Heitzman Murray Mary Pohl Sheahan Mary Shoaf Slayton Ragnild S. E. Sonnenberg
1902 Anne Seward	1917 Lillian Wilson	1927 Isabella Smith Hansen Lillian Schwartzman Jellinger Carmen Garwood Little Elizabeth McKay Janet Kellicott Nelson Ethel Diamond Schonwald Rita Goldsmith Simpson Gertrude H. Stern	1934 Mary K. Dunham Olga Haller Rose Fleischer Lawn Mary K. Roys Helen K. Schneider Lidie C. Venn
1903 Louise Toscano McKenna Florence Rauh	1918 Miriam Seadler Polowe Elizabeth Sluth Erika Willrich	1928 Pearl Friedman Church Rosalie R. Conard Lucy Edelberg Helen Greenblat Ruth J. Guild Fanny Cahn Jacobson Dorothy Lenke Maria T. Romero Vivian C. Steiner Josephine Firor Wyman	1935 Helen Horine Bertha Korn Margery McClintock
1904 Grace Leigh Roger-de Bruyn	1919 Grace M. Kerr Margaret Gillespie	1929 Felice Harris Bauml Evelyn Snyder Boulton Mabel J. Freeman Marion Ress Lachman Margaret J. Marks Marie Norton Florence Oppikofer Elizabeth Laing Stewart Helen Wood	1936 Jean Marks Barron Margaret Hoover Eckhardt Eileen Egan George Nora Lourie Gund Alice Walz Mossner
1905 Marguerite Donnelly	1920 Marion Rosenberg Friedman Ethel Harris Elizabeth A. Schellhase Dorothy Silbert Sprague	1930 Rose Marcus Coe Esther Efimoff Ellen Benson Leach Mildred Sur Lock Minnie Condy Smith Aurora McCaleb Stanley Beatrice Thorne Libbie Weinstein Harriet Meyer Wilson	1937 Louise Nosenger Belva Offenbergh Paine Ruth M. Weitz
1906 Florence L. McMillen	1921 Josephine Bell	1931 Margaret March Batchelder Gerda Halgreen Carroll Erika Horwitz Catherine Lawlor Ida L. Levine Florence P. Margolies Eva Saper Anne I. Williams	1938 Dorothy Colodny Deinum Betty Sargent Hammack Gladys Hobson Lamb Ruth Frankfurter Lehr Elizabeth Stiefel Meyer Janice Hoerr Schmitt
1907 Ethel M. Rosemon	1922 Lisa D'Azevedo Noreen Lahiff Gruber Lillian Segal Root Eva Daniels Weber	1932 Betty Comer Burgin Nancy Hunter Crosby Anne Wells Margolin Marie R. Schorr Helen Gould Vlases	1939 Constance Floro Mary E. Robertson M. Kathleen Sawyer Dorothy Harmon Sonnenberg
1908 Elsie R. Clapp Mary Axt McComb Esther Morehouse	1923 Frances Brink Brice Myrtle Hemstreet Fish Vera Danchakoff Grozdorff Sylvia Havre Edna Kroman Lylias Allen Johnstone Nadine Sinclair Norton	1940 Jean Neel Karnoff Dorothy Whittier Novotny	1941 Beatrice Perez Sassen Jeanne Siegel Emily Foresman Tibby
1909 Margaret H. Frink Vera Kloster	1924 Florence Stoll Bloomey Dorothea Smith Buick Christine Einert Mary P. Hubbard Adele Alexander Parker	1942 Marion R. Blum	1943 Patricia Carroll O'Connor
1910 Beatrice Ritch Cowell Virginia M. Mollenhauer Edna A. Palmer	1925 Lillian Thompson Biggs Bernice Leavitt Bowes Gladys Ball Commer Olive Johnston Hayes Constance R. v D. Murray Helen Stutz Rosseau Corinne A. Rowe	1945 Sylvia Anderson Miller
1911 Estelle Ellison Elizabeth English Mildred K. Messing Elizabeth Gray Rutherford	1926 Marian Gallagher Chappell Mildred E. Curran Sara L. Davis Elizabeth Fullagar Mary Monahan Hennessy
1912 Irene L. Berkowitz Mildred Dodge Caroline Sandal Salit
1913 Gertrude Campion Gould Etta Fox Markham Elsa H. D. Schubert Ruth Osterberg Young
1914 Helen R. Bloom Aline A. Fink Pauline Werner
1915 Kathryn Ashbrook Anna G. Jordan Mabel Geraty Phelan Alice Jones Robertson

ALWAYS BRING CHESTERFIELD

A Always milder
B Better tasting
C Cooler smoking
ALL THE BENEFITS OF SMOKING PLEASURE

Top off your gift bundles with these cheery cartons of Christmas Chesterfields... They Satisfy.

A Always
B Buy
C CHESTERFIELD

RIGHT COMBINATION - WORLD'S BEST TOBACCOS - Properly Aged